Inspiration Says...

This love cherished in the soul sweetens the entire life and sheds a refining influence on all around. Possessing it, we cannot but be happy, let fortune smile or frown. If we love God with all the heart, we must love His children also. This love is the Spirit of God. It is the heavenly adorning that gives true nobility and dignity to the soul and assimilates our lives to that of the Master. No matter how many good qualities we may have, however honorable and refined we may consider ourselves, if the soul is not baptized with the heavenly grace of love to God and one another, we are deficient in true goodness and unfit for heaven, where all is love and unity. 4 Testimonies 224

Love

You don't pin love on Like a carnation Of delicately tinted hue. Love grows up From the roots Of your life. And its color and smell Come from the soil. You have to live Before you can love Real love. by Dan Day

Literature Sales Reflect Slight Gain

Pacific Union literature evangelists have marked a two percent gain for the first three quarters of 1975 over the same period in 1974.

While this is not a great percentage, it is encouraging de-spite financial trends of the times. Moreover, two conferences show tremendous gain strides during this periodizona, 69% and Southeastern, 53%

Reforms' Threaten Charitable Contributions

"Tax reform" hearings, presently being heard in the United States House Ways and Means Committee, contain provisions which, if adopted, would seriously affect the income of our church and institutions.

Religious contributions are periodically attacked by special interest groups. Only continued heavy response from citizens will help to secure this long-standing provision.

Holbrook Sends Thanks

Students and staff at Holbrook's Adventist Indian Mission School are extremely grateful for the response to appeals for scholarship support.

During the month of October alone, Pacific Union members contributed $5,100 toward tuition fees. These gifts have made it possible for many to stay in school—and have given courage to teachers, both paid and volunteer, who labor untiringly and lovingly for Indian youth seeking an education.

Please send letters to members of the committee, stating your opposition to any change in the IRS code affecting religious contributions, including the 50% limit. Also seek continued inclusion of contributions for charitable institutions.

Christians should not be caught sleeping, especially Seventh-day Adventist Christians.

"As God has given to every one his measure of influence, he should exert it to the glory of God and for the good of his associates. Not one of the faithful stewards of Christ will be idle in such a time as this, or will be content to live simply for self." SD 269.

Surely God will be pleased if we do all we can to maintain laws in this land which have historically contributed to religious freedom and the very survival of religious organizations.

Send letters to the following Congressmen: Al Ullman, chairman of the committee, and the two from our Pacific Union territory, James C. Corman and Fortney H. (Pete) Stark, both of California. Address all correspondence to United States House of Representatives, Washington, DC 20515.

Leoni Meadows Center Plans Are Developed

The Leoni Meadows Development Committee met on the site of the new Adventist Retreat Center Monday, October 27, and planned for the future of the facility.

The committee, chaired by R. W. Simons, conference secretary, walked over the grounds and reviewed previous studies on the location of various buildings that are planned.

A decision was made to survey for the new road to be built on the edge of the camp. The committee hopes this road can be built during the next nine months.

The committee also hopes construction can begin soon on the rest-room facilities, making it possible for camping groups to use the property.

The old ranch house could serve as temporary housing for the caretaker, and plans were mentioned regarding its repair. It is planned to eventually make this building a museum, since it once was a stage stop. Enthusiastic for the future

COMPASSIs Explained

Late in 1973 a group of La Sierra alumni living in the greater Los Angeles area began talking about their alma mater. The concern of COM-PASS was the future of the college and its base of support.

Since then 150 alumni have attended a series of dinners and seminars planned by the group.

Although financial support of the La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University is essential to COMPASS, fellowship and communication are of equal importance. An alumni forum has been organized and plans for 1976 include six "informal but informative" events.

Run for Fun' Club Emphasizes Fitness

Coach Larry Ballew of Newbury Park Academy has organized a personal fitness program called "Run for Fun Club."

On a Sunday in mid-September, 73 community individuals attended an organizational meeting in the academy gym.

Run for Fun clubbers glorify Christ by "witnessing for fitness."

By Thursday a total of 136 people-young and old alike-had signed up for the program.

The whole campus is now buzzing 24 hours a day with walkers, joggers and cyclists. The community is wondering what's going on at NPA. A local sporting goods store, caught up with the enthusiasm, is providing jogging shoes to club members at a 10% discount. Some 71 members have taken part in Dr. Kenneth Cooper's aerobic fitness categorization test. Times ranged from 8:30 minutes to 25:45 minutes to cover the 11/2-mile course. Each is now on his own weekly fitness program. Among the 41 Newbury Park Church members who have joined up, 14 are over 50 years old.

The goal of the Run for Fun Club is to glorify Christ by "witnessing for fitness."

'This is KLLU, Good News Radio, coming to you from Riverside, California and bringing you sacred music. ABC news. public affairs, educational programs, commentaries and weather reports 18 hours a day on your FM dial at 89.7. Lee McIntyre is your announcer."

For 16 years KLLU-FM has beamed its radio waves across the Inland Empire for 30 miles in almost every direction. It started rather small at La Sierra College in 1958, later to become a part of Loma Linda University.

Today the transmitting tower stands on the side of a mountain at the La Sierra campus and is about 1,000 feet above sea level.

Another tower is atop the University church in Loma Linda. It is registered as KEMR and serves as a booster station. The two transmitters are 21 miles apart. Special programs and church services are broadcast from KEMR on Sabbath.

Linda University Broadcasting Company associated with the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Starting November 16, KLLU converted to stereophonic broadcasting, at a cost of about $20,000. Gifts from listeners made it possible to make the change so that the sounds will provide listening for both ears.

Seventh-day Adventists have a radio network of 15 stations around the world. 11 in the United States, WGTS in Washington, D.C. has the largest potential listening audience. The most powerful one with 100,000 watts is WSMC near Chattanooga, Tenn.

KLLU operates on a power of 1,400 watts, KEMR on 10 watts.

It takes a staff to 12 to operate KLLU and costs about $80,000 yearly, according to Lee McIntyre, the general manager. The Adventist church has a large investment in this radio venture.

Youth Conduct Sabbath Services

tro.

The earliteen and youth divisions of the Yucaipa Sabbath school planned and gave the entire Sabbath school and 11 o'clock programs of the Forest Falls Company on October 25.

In addition to participating in the program, they also fur-nished half of the congregation-for the Forest Falls Company usually numbers less than 20 individuals.

Instrumental music formed a large part of the program, since many of the Yucaipa youth play a variety of instruments.

Harold Hopp served as Sabbath school superintendent, Sidney Whiting as pianist and Delbe Thomas as song leader. Even the Sabbath school classes were taught by the youth.

Kevin Pires led the younger children on a nature walk after their lesson study. Randy Pires met with the older youth in an outdoors Sabbath school class. Pastor Del Andrus assisted the youth by giving the sermon in the church service.

"A welcome treat from our visitors," pronounced Dick Schaeffer, leader of the Forest Falls Company, as he invited the youth to return soon.

"I watch your program every Sunday. I enjoy it more than any program on TV."

Youth Counselor Workshop Scheduled

"The Whole Pathfinder" is the theme of this year's Junior/ Teen Counselor Institute being held November 21-23 at Camp Cedar Falls.

Special guest will be Dr. Dan Burrow, professor of education at Pacific Union College.

Southeastern is proud of the nearly 300 junior/teen counselors involved in the Pathfinder organization. These are young people ages 13-19 who have achieved Explorer Class status and above and are hand selected by the Pathfinder Club and Conference to be enrolled in the Strengthening the ability of these young leaders will be our aim as Dr. Burrow explains nine age-level characteristics of the 10-to-12-year-old-why this age child behaves as he does, how to handle him and how to teach him. This will be done in a workshop type format which will be involvement, participation in nature. Youth-reachingyouth is the heart of the junior/ teen counselor program.

To understand better those in their mission field will be the thrust of this Institute.

Maintaining their record for being first, the Yucca Valley Church is now over its Ingathering goal. Congratulations to all those at Yucca Valley who helped make this achievement possible.

'Chance' Meeting Results in Baptism

A year and a half ago, two men, total strangers, happened to meet in Chehalis, Washington. Morvel Klause, an active layman in the Delta, British Columbia, Adventist Church, experienced a feeling of urgenwhen he first met Capt. W. C. Cripe. Here was a retired man who had been captain of several ships in the Naval service, traveling from the arctic ice pack to the tropical jungles during his 32-year career. But more important than his career he was searching and longing for precious Bible truths.

The acquaintance was brief; the two men parted, Morvel Klause to Canada and Captain Cripe to Reno, Nevada. Immediately they began corresponding and like a nail in a sure place. Morvel knew that a Bible course was the answer to his new friend's desires. Lessons were sent back and forth by mail from Delta, B.C. to Reno regularly. Captain Cripe liked what he learned from the lessons each week.

Last August Morvel visited his friend in Reno and together they worshiped in the Reno church on a Sabbath day, the first time for W. C. Cripe.

Capt. Cripe and Mrs. Matar

Captain Cripe came on the opening night of the evangelistic meetings in Reno and was there every night. The Holy Spirit was able to shine through and the truths the captain heard became beautiful and meaningful to him. He took his stand for Christ and on October 18 was baptized and accepted into the church.

Tithing Precedes Baptism, Spiritual Growth

What an inspiration to speak to newly baptized members whose souls are filled with the Spirit of God! Robert and Mitsuko Nagaishi and their daughter Debra were baptized by Elder Harold Kuno at the Japanese church,

Masaichi Yafuso, Mitsi's
brother, returned to Hawaii and visited the family regularly. Soon study and research of the Bible became a weekly occurrence. The family began tithing even before attending church. Bible studies made such an impact on the children that they began to attend church. Soon the parents joined them because they felt the family should be together worshiping in the same church.

The Holy Spirit has really filled their hearts. The biggest move that was made was Robert's giving up his job of five years as a salesman for a tobac-co company and attending the University of Hawaii, majoring in business. Debra is now enrolled at the Hawaiian Mission Elementary School where Mr. Yafuso is a teacher. Mildred Yamashita.

He will also be the speaker Saturday evening at 6 in the Community Center Hall, 851 East Williams Street, Carson

Numbers Retires

Elder Ray W. Numbers, pastor of the Las Vegas Church for the past two and a half years, has retired from active service after 40 years in the ministry.

To honor Elder and Mrs. Numbers a farewell program and fellowship dinner was given by the church members Sunday, October 19, prior to their leaving for their new home in sunny Florida. Mr. Calvin Harkey related the accomplishments in Las Vegas under the leadership of Elder Numbers, and Tim Allred presented a gift from the members.

Elder and Mrs. Numbers are dedicated workers and have given strong spiritual leader-ship to the church. The Las Vegas Church members wish them well in their new home.

Before coming to Las Vegas, Elder and Mrs. Numbers served the denomination in various states including Idaho, Georgia and Florida, and in Canada.

Although retired from active services, Elder Numbers will be preaching in various churches throughout the Florida Conference.

K. Wilber, Associate Pastor.

Practical Religion

"God's Word is our standard, but how few follow it! Our religion will be of but little worth to our fellow men if it is only theoretical and not practical. The influence of the world and of selfishness is carried about by many who profess to be following the Bible. They are like a cloud, chilling the atmosphere in which others move,"

Valley Pathfinders Collect for Holiday Baskets

Nearly 2,500 cans and packages of food were received, along with clothing and small cash donations. Learning about the campaign from a newspaper article, one lady had 10 cans ready when Phoenix Central Pathfinders rang her doorbell.

Several clubs did their own "advance publicity." They visited homes a day or two beforehand with an explanatory letter or pamphlet and a grocery bag, promising to return later. The Tempe club printed its message right on the grocery bags they left with people.

Paradise Valley Pathfinders who followed this plan were top collectors, bringing in a total of 915 cans.

Other clubs participating included Phoenix Camelback, East Mesa, Glendale and Thunderbird.

More holiday food baskets for needy families will be fuller this year, thanks to Pathfinders who shared their time, and to the community which re-sponded so generously.

Tree Dwellers Join

The first tree dwellers of Indonesia have joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church, re-ports A. Waworoendeng, president of the denomination's East Indonesian Union Mission.

From a recent report, the church has 22 new converts from the remote mountain area of Wawujai, Central Celebes. The unique trait of these people is that they build their homes atop long poles reaching up into the treetops. There seems to be no particular reason for it, except that's the way they've always done it.

During the six months prior to the baptism, a young man, Lucas Dasingan, from Torajaland, Indonesia, worked among the tree dwellers, learning their customs and dialect, and preparing them for church membership.

The people are so poor that many of them do not have clothes, and the mountain areas get very cool, especially at night. However, an Adventist welfare society has provided some clothing, which has helped a little.

Dasingan built a crude chapel, in which the people can meet for religious services, and he hopes to begin an elementary school in the near future for approximately 40 students.

Retreat is Held

The spiritual retreat held each fall by Campus Ministries, the religious arm of the Associated Students of Loma Linda University, met November 7-8 at Pine Springs Ranch. About 100 students attended.

The theme of the retreat, God's Transparency, was devel-oped by the two off-campus guests, Elder John Hancock, director of the youth depart-ment of the General Conference, and Elder Haysmer Cox. associate pastor of Loma Linda University Church.

LA SIETTA CAMPUS_ Biology Department Expands; Center, Classrooms Added

man who came from Union College during the summer as associate chairman. As such, he is in charge of graduate pro-

the under-

He and the department's chairman, Dr. Leonard Brand, whose responsibilities involve LLU's graduate program in biology (offered on both the master's and doctor of philosophy levels), have an academically and professionally qualified staff of nine faculty members plus at least 12 collaborating faculty from the School of Medicine.

Eddleman points out that being able to draw on such persons for seminars and having available to both students and faculty the library facilities on the Loma Linda campus add much strength to the depart-

"We hope to increase this exchange even more in the months to come," says Eddle-

"We believe that the most viable type of instruction we can give to our students is to achieve a balance between classroom and laboratory teaching and research," he says. 'Here at La Sierra, undergraduates can see and become involved in research."

Pressing Problem
One of the department's pressing problems is, frankly, packed classes and labs. Conservative figures place the number of biology majors at 185, making it the largest department on the campus. This summer an addition in what was the empty horseshoe of Palmer Hall (which houses both the biology and chemistry departments) provided three lecture rooms and 14 badly needed offices for teachers.

Any time of the day or evening, there is activity in the department. Labs run from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. with classes throughout the day and until 10 p.m.

Along with the newly built area in Palmer Hall, the older area has been newly painted and rugs have been laid-cutting down greatly the noise of the heavy hallway traffic.

One of the brightest areas was until this fall a rather dark classroom in Palmer Hall's daylight basement. Neither teachers nor students liked its drabness and the support poles positioned throughout the room which cut down on visability. Now the room has been turned into a student learning center and is extremely cheerful with bright, modern-style colors and furniture.

Learning Center

The learning center is used this quarter by six sections of labs in general biology. But not labs in the conventional sense. One La Sierra teacher continues to use the traditional method but two others now use an audio-tutorial system.

Thanksgiving Chapel Is Scheduled

"A Thanksgiving Celebration" is the title of next week's Tuesday morning chapel on the La Sierra campus. And an apt title it is.

Enrollment Up-Again

Final enrollment figures for fall quarter show that La Sierra's student body numbers 2,378, the fifth consecutive year there has been a substantial increase in enrollment over the year before.

Other totals given on computer printouts point out that 16.7 per cent of La Sierra's students come from other countries. These include 50 from Vietnam (other Vietnamese are enrolled in special language programs for this quarter), 35 from Canada, 29 from Japan, 26 from both Hong Kong and the Philippines, 22 from Korea and 19 from Mexico.

In total, 390 students from 62 countries are studying at La Sierra this fall.

Zip Code

Several musical groups will take part, including the Trombone Choir, directed by Don Thurber, instructor. The latter group will sing "Thanks Be to Thee, O God," a composition written by Uthe in honor of the Bicentennial.

The non-musical sections of the program will be given by Dr. V. Norskov LLU Olsen, president, and a 12 - minute presentation on "the spirit of Thanksgiving from Adam to Loma Linda University," according to one of its co-authors, Dr. Lynn Mallery, assistant professor of ap-plied theology. The "Spirit of Thanksgiving" will include 23
