Open Doors of Divine Providence.

Our heavenly Father has always gone before His people who loved His truth, to prepare the soil and ripen some seed, that His messengers might be encouraged as they reaped here and opening in Western Germany. Elder E. followed up the work for a year and baptized January 8, 1876, the first eight souls there, which, with some twenty others formed the first nucleus of our work there precious sheaves without having first sown. Remnants of ancient believers in the blessed hope and of old Sabbath-keepers were waiting for the dawn of the perfect day to form with others, newly raised up, the first nucleus of the final message. When Elder Andrews reached Europe there were Sabbath-keepers unknown to our people in Western, Eastern and Southern Germany. Quite a company of French Sabbath-keepers had been raised up in Switzerland, among them Elder Erzberger, who was ordained in America in 1870 and Brother A. Vuilleumier who, after four years of study in the United States accompanied Elder Andrews when coming to Europe in 1874.

During his visit to Germany 1875, Elder Andrews became acquainted with the providential there. In view of these openings, Elder A. urged our brethren in the United States to be on the look-out for some promising Germans to be educated for the European field and his urgent call influenced Elder McCoy in the winter of 1878 to encourage the writer to attend Battle Creek College. In 1879 the writer met Elder A. during his stay in Battle Creek. As from 1882 onward quite a number of German-speaking churches were raised up by the writer among the colonists from Russia; they not only began to send papers and letters to Russia, but two laymembers returned at their own expense to plant the truth in their homeland. What might be accomplished by the living preacher in Europe, knowing the language and the ways of the homeland, was meanwhile demonstrated by Elder

J. N. Andrews.

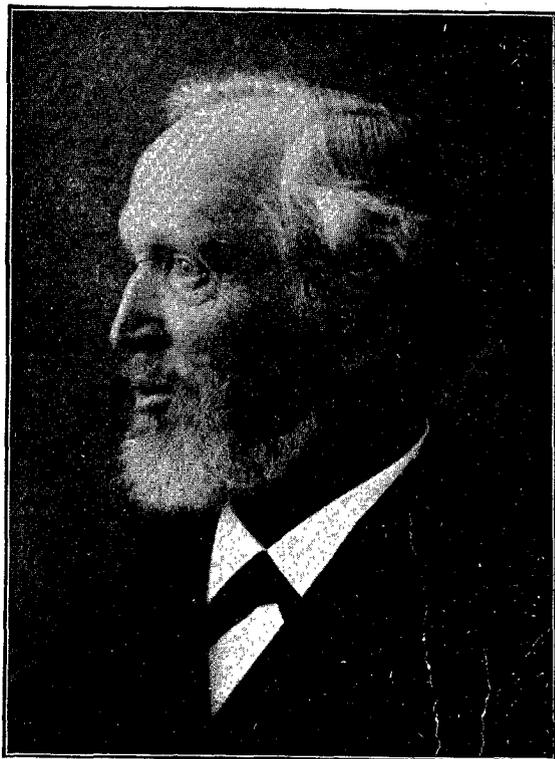

Matteson who, from 1878-1886 raised up over 600 Sabbath-keepers in the largest cities of Scandinavia. Work was also begun 1878 in Great Britain by Elders Loughborough and Ings. After the death of Elder Andrews, Elder B. L. Whitney took his place July 1883. Brethren Haskell and Butler visited Europe, and in 1885 Sister E. G. White. In September 1885 the Swiss Conference was organized with 224 members in ten churches and at the end of this time there were about 900 Sabbath-keepers in all Europe.

In view of urgent calls the writer reached Bâle in January 1886; where we had a large printing plant, but no real canvassers; there were a number of workers, but the growth had been very slow. Elder Butler charged the writer to give his principal attention to the preaching of the word, as he had heretofore done in the States. Though already in February his visit to Russia had been decided, he was urged to conduct a German effort with Elder Erzberger at Lausanne, where a long effort in French had yielded but few souls. By May a good church of nearly 30 members was raised up, brother E. Frauchiger being among their number.

In June the writer visited the Sabbath-keepers in Western Germany, who had not had any ministerial work for ten years and who now decided to send their tithe and offerings again to Bâle. On the way to Russia the writer visited the few Sabbath-keepers in Rumania. Elder Aslan decided to come to Bâle, but somehow the work there had to be built up later on an entirely new foundation elsewhere. The writer found quite a company of Sabbath-keepers in the Crimea, held well attended public meetings through harvest time and, after a baptismal service organized, July 30, our first church in Russia. The same day the sheriff took our passports and forty days were spent in the Perekop prison, until Mr. Lathrope of Detroit, the United States ambassador, who was well acquainted with our people, liberated us through his earnest efforts with the Russian minister at St. Petersburg. Visiting the Volga colonies, we found a company of eight Sabbath-keepers won by Brother Laubhan.

After our return, German churches were raised up at Bâle and Zürich. Western Germany and Hamburg were visited and already February 1887 the first donations were collected to establish the Hamburg mission. The writer was anxious to begin the work permanently in Germany in March, and rented a dwelling in Stuttgart; but the sickness of Elder Whitney changed the plan. In July 1887 Elder Laubhan was ordained at Bâle. The writer then devoted some of his time to the publishing work and the training of canvassers. In August, the first copies of "Life of Christ" were sold in Bâle and after great difficulties successful canvassing work was begun in Southern and Western Germany.

J. Erzberger.

In September the writer held large meetings in Holland and the first five Sabbath-keepers united with us. October 13, Elder Whitney left for America, Elder Holser finally taking his place. In April 1889 the writer with Brother J. Boettcher and others came to Hamburg. An institute was held and by November a church was organized. The Lord in His providence had led us to the only state in Germany where we as a denomination could secure corporative rights and many other privileges as a mission society denied elsewhere. In 1890 the writer learned of ancient Sabbath-keepers in Hungary and while visiting the last one remaining, was able to win the oldest German Baptist who formed the nucleus of our first church in that country. During his visit to Russia in October the first Russian elder was ordained at midnight and Brother Anthony was visited in Constantinople, who had come all the way from California at his own expense and, while working at his trade, gained the first souls in Turkey, among them being Elder Baharian. For the first time I also visited Sabbath-keepers in Eastern Prussia.

Of the 1600 members in Europe there were now 400 speaking the German language. After another visit to Russia as far as Transcaucasia the writer organized the first church in the Rumanian Dobrudscha. The first mission property was bought in Hamburg 1893, the first general meeting held 1894, the publishing work transferred from Bâle to Hamburg, the work begun in Bohemia and a number of churches were won in Eastern Prussia. Up to 1900 there was a steady growth in membership; churches were organized in the chief cities of Europe and of the 7000 members over 3000 were in the German-Russian field. The school and sanitarium at Friedensau were established.

In 1904 Palestine was visited, a church organized at Cairo and at the invitation of the German governor of East Africa the first mission was established there. At the second visit the work was extended to the Victoria Nyanza and South Africa was visited. From 1908 onward the European Division became self-supporting and from year to year new mission fields could be entered in Asia and Africa, so in Eritrea among the Abyssinians, in Mauritius, Persia and finally West Africa, where, during the visit in 1913-14 the mission work was extended to the hinterland of Sierra Leone, to the Gold-Coast and Nigeria.

At the outbreak of the war all the fields had just been visited. The work everywhere was well manned and growing. The institutions throughout Europe were in a good financial condition and the membership had increased to some 35,000, of whom over 25,000 were in the German-Russian field. Though the world-war suddenly broke in upon us and lasted five years it has been a means of increasing our membership rather than to weaken or shatter our work. The Gospel of the Kingdom had actually reached every nation of Europe. Strong conferences and Unions were established in all the leading countries. The attention of the rulers of mighty influence had been attracted to our work and favourable decrees were issued by them. Our successful work in the heathen world gave us a standing even among the old mission societies of Europe. The Lord had done great things for His people. He had gone before them in a wonderful manner, protected and kept them in the most terrible war; no institution had to be closed, and united as one body in Christ, they could move forward to new victories. To Him alone be the praise.

L. R. Conradi.

A Visit to Our East African Missions.

Early in January I left for the land of Egypt where we had a general meeting with our native believers. At Port Said I met Brother Christian and we journeyed together down to Mombasa. From thence we went up country, the railway carrying us as far as Kisumu on the North-east corner of the Lake Victoria Nyanza. After a short journey down the lake we began our "sefari" visiting the various mission stations in Mwanza and Kavirondo. On arriving at Gendia we had a general meeting with all our missionaries which proved to be a time of real blessing and spiritual help. Brother Christian then returned to Europe and I went on to Pare. About the middle of April I sailed from Mombasa, went across to Madagascar and Mauritius. After having a general meeting in this small island in the Indian Ocean, I returned to Europe via South Africa where I was able to spend a week with our brethren at the Cape.

Egypt.

The work is developing very encouragingly in this old land of the Pharaohs. While it is uphill work, yet souls are being won to the truth. At the time of our annual meeting at Tetaliah which is about two hundred miles down the line, several were led forward in baptism. The colporteur work is also making splendid progress. Brother Samuel Farag, one of the native canvassers, is meeting with good success. Not long ago when canvassing some of the offices in the city of Cairo he met with quite a unique experience. After obtaining the necessary permission he went into the building and began visiting the various rooms, presenting his book. He soon found that a colporteur from another mission publishing house had gotten in before him. This colporteur had quite an assortment of tracts in a carpet bag so that all that Samuel could do was to follow this man, going to the same people to whom he had presented his tracts. The Lord gave him splendid success, for he sold twenty-five copies of the new book in Arabic,

"The Sure Word of Prophecy". When he came out he found the other colporteur waiting for him on the steps of the building. The colporteur remarked that it was very difficult to work in such an office as that, that all he had sold was to the amount of five piastres. He wanted to know how much Samuel had sold, but Samuel didn't tell him. Altogether Samuel had sold 125 piastres worth of books.

Kavirondo, Mwanza, and Pare.

The Lord is certainly blessing Brother Bartlett and all his coworkers in the East African Mission field. During the last few years a good deal of reconstruction work has had to be done. Ruined stations have had to be rebuilt, educational work established, the sympathy of the natives won. In many places it has been difficult to gain an entrance but now as the result of the prayer and diligent effort of the last few years, places that were then closed, are now throwing open their doors to us.

A case in point is Iramba, not far from Majita. At Iramba in past years we had a mission station but for various reasons it was impossible to open even an out-school in that place. The government would not permit us to do this and the natives certainly were very hostile. Now the word has just come to hand that the natives are anxious for us to come and work amongst them and the government officer has written expressing his pleasure at giving us permission to work in that place.

At the time of the council, plans were laid for reducing the number of mission stations. In Mwanza where, some years ago, there were twelve stations we shall now plan on manning and thoroughly equipping but five. The other stations can be grouped around these five stations and thus the work in Mwanza can be suitably cared for. In Kenya we now have five stations but within two years this number will be reduced to three. The plan provides for two families at each of the mission stations so that the work at the main station will not suffer any set-backs when the missionary has to be away for from four to six weeks at a time, visiting his outschools. In Pare we have but two stations at the present time and it is probable that ere long we shall operate with but one main station in the small strip of territory that bears this name.

It is encouraging to see the progress of the work in these fields. The faithful seed sown in past years in Mwanza and Pare by our German brethren is surely bearing fruit. In the great harvest home both sower and reaper will have the privilege of rejoicing together.

Mauritius and Madagascar.

In Mauritius there are many omens of encouragement. Already in that little island we have 176 believers and others are awaiting baptism. Although they have one missionary family and six native workers, counting their tithes and mission offerings, they come within one hundred pounds sterling of being self-supporting. They are engaging in all the plans for raising funds for our various missions. They have the Big Week, Harvest Ingathering and all the other offerings. They enter heartily into Home Missionary Work and the young people's work is also well developed. The Lord is surely blessing the labours of Brother Raspal in that field.

Madagascar is a field we should soon enter in a very definite way. There are many difficulties to be overcome but the situation seems opportune to-day. Many people are interested in our work and are anxious to learn more of the message we teach. Brother Raspal will spend the last four months of this year in the island and ere long we hope it will be possible for him to find a definite location in that island.

Thus the work is developing. Encouraging signs are seen on every hand. Doors that were once shut are now flung wide open. Calls are pressing in upon us for teachers and missionaries. People who are longing for the truth are turning to us for light and counsel. Now is the time for us to answer these calls, ere the day of opportunity passes. In many places from which these calls come, if we do not press in soon, either the Catholics, Moslems or others will take advantage of the opening. Surely the fields are white unto the harvest.

Our training school in the Latin Union has been likened to a little seed that is tossed about by the wind, which stops in one place for a while and then moves on. Being located in 1893—1894 at Peseux, 1895 at Chaux-de-Fonds, 1901 at Geneva, 1902—1903 at Paris, it became then stationary from 1904—1917 at Gland with but one year's interruption. A Bible Course was held at Nimes in 1919—1920; then the school returned to Gland for the year 1920—1921. Finally, in 1921, a place of its own was secured, where receiving the refreshing breezes of Lake Lemman on one side and the protection of the massive Salève on the other, it has again come to a rest, and we hope until the Lord comes; for the place where it is now located seems to be quite ideal.

Each day, we, who are connected with the school, realize the importance of its work more, and the necessity of training strong and able workers to bear up under heavy responsibilities and discouraging circumstances. Are we not located in France where the Reformation, so nobly begun, was finally crushed out and its fires extinguished, near Geneva, where the work was carried on by Calvin? The school that he founded in Geneva, in 1559 was turned from its original purpose into a worldly educational institution. However, one of his faithful followers, Francois Gausson, established in the year 1836 another school that only closed its doors the year that our school began its work here in 1921. Do we not have placed upon us the responsibility to train workers for Italy, where the papacy has held sway for so many years? Spain, where the inquisition did its most terrible work. As we see the greatness of the task in the countries of our large Latin Union that has a population of 140,000,000, which must be supplied with trained workers mainly from this school, we are led to exclaim: "Who is sufficient for these things?"

Through the years of transition and change our Latin Union School has sent out many valuable workers. Now we feel that, being in a better place and under more favourable conditions, we must do still more. Last year we had an enrolment of 88. Of this number over 50 went out into the canvassing field. We already have a student in the school as a result of a book sold by one of our students last summer. This year we have an enrolment of 124. Of this number 56 expect to canvass this summer. Since the school is here 25 students have been sent out into the work. This year we have twelve who will finish their courses.

We are trying to build up a good course of study. Our teachers, while giving their services to the school, are almost without exception, carrying on some study themselves. We are building up our music and science departments and adding books to our library as fast as our means will permit. We have started a tailor-shop and our farm, which received the first prize for the Haute Savoie last year, is constantly improving and adding to its equipment.

Our students are showing a good missionary spirit. We do not have the facilities for getting our students out as much as we would wish, but every Wednesday afternoon a large number go out for visits and to distribute literature. As all our territory has recently been canvassed with the books we have translated into French, few could go out for the Big Week, but all did what they could; they gave their manual labor. Over 600 hours were given in this way. Some students offered to give one meal a day until the end of the year.

Along with the good things we see Satan at work; but God is at work more mightily and we are of good courage. We believe that the future of the work in the Latin Union depends on this school, and we pray God to give to us much wisdom and the power of the Holy Spirit that the work carried on may be God's work and that the seed which has been tossed about may become a strong tree, producing fruit for the healing of the nations in this union.

Union Sessions in Germany.

Looking back upon the trying experience Germany has been passing through during recent years, we were hardly prepared for the good reports at these various conferences, which are an evidence of the fact that no difficulties, however great, can stop the onward march of the advent movement that is due to-day: "For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth," was the experience of Paul, and this holds good also in our times.

The Conferences convened from May 12 to June 1, beginning with the Central European Union at Stuttgart, to be followed by the East German Union at Berlin and closing with the West German Union at Hamburg. A few figures will show the remarkable growth in these fields in spite of all the difficulties: In Central Europe 3695 members were added as a net gain during a period of a little over four years; in the East German Union 2759, and in the West German Union 3929, or a total for the three Unions in Germany of 10,383, net increase.

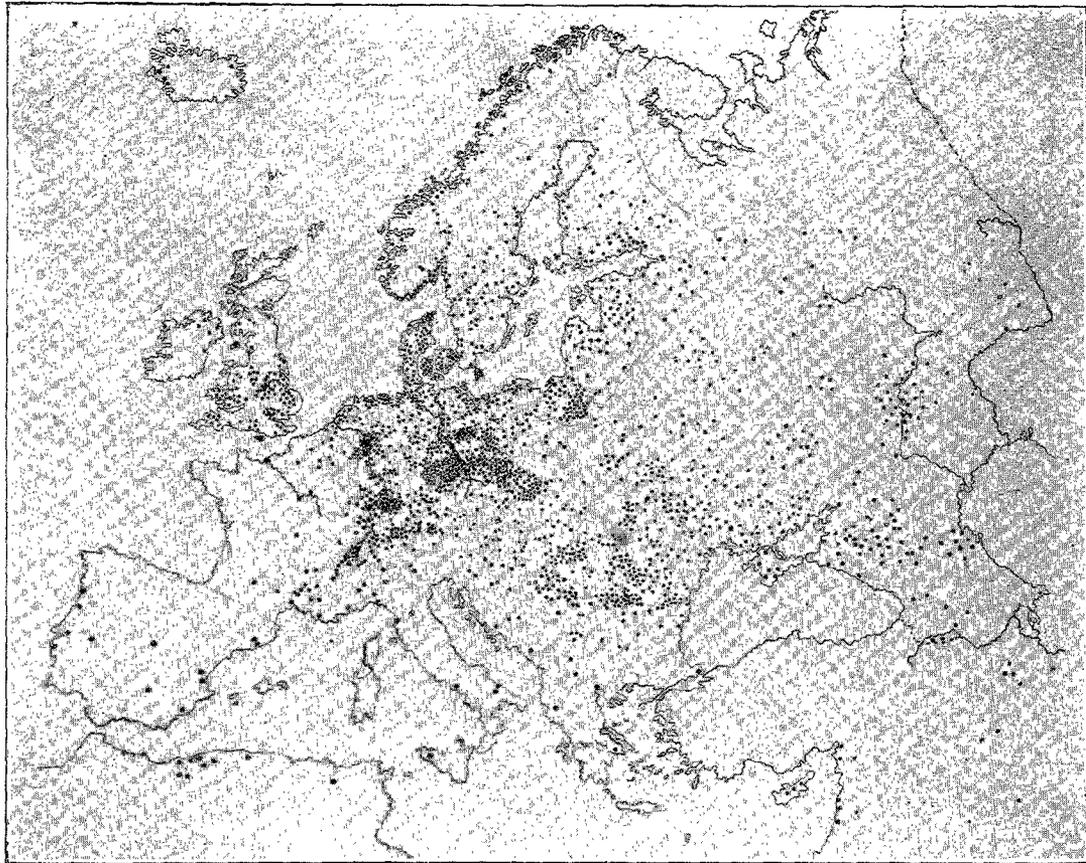

Elder G. W. Schubert was re-elected president of the Central European Union. Their training school at Bad Aibling has an enrolment of 100 students with brother Otto Schuberth in charge. For the East German Union Elder J. H. Schilling was chosen president. The Friedensau school located in this Union has maintained itself under the leadership of its principal Brother W. Müller, though, they have had to wrestle with great difficulties. Their enrolment during 1923—24 was 136. For the West German Union Elder P. Drinhaus was re-elected president. Dr. Michael is in charge of their union school at Neandertal where they have had fully 100 students during the last year.

As we all know, Germany has been suffering severely from the economic and financial situation in the work is the need of suitable meeting halls to cope with the growth of our membership. This problem must be solved without delay as it will be impossible for our brethren in the field itself to provide this need without generous outside help. Every effort along this line will bear abundant fruit. Germany, the Cradle of the Reformation in the sixteenth century is still very fertile soil for the work of reform we are now engaged in.

so that the Division had to help them tide over the time of crisis. January of this year brought the turning point when the German mark became stabilized after its terrible inflation so that the financial situation is now more hopeful. The canvassing work is growing encouragingly in the three unions since the beginning of this year and much attention is being devoted in these unions to the interests of the other departments such as the Sabbath School, Home Missions, Young People and Medical work.

Our Gospel Work in Polyglot Europe.

In the vast stretch of territory of the European Division which includes also Siberia and South Western Asia, North and Central Africa, our denomination has churches and representatives among the following seventy-five different languages and dialects, in all but nineteen of which we publish literature: —

Our Statistical Report.

We would express our appreciation to all those secretaries who, in spite of their manifold and important duties, have done their best to furnish the statistical reports at such an early date. More than half came in about July 20. This made it possible to get out the full report for the first six months of 1924 in time for the Summer Council of the Division Committee in Berne.

At the end of the second quarter the membership of our Division is 72,602, which shows a net gain during the second quarter of 1772. It is a peculiar coincident that this is the same figure as that of the corresponding quarter of 1923. The number of souls added by baptism and vote, being 2759, falls short of that of the second quarter of last year which was 2962.

A comparison of the first six months with the same period of the current year shows an increase however:

In transferring the local currencies into dollars we have followed the same plan as is explained in Vol. 9, Nos. 3 and 4, i. e. that after the local currencies of the three monthly reports of the treasurer have been compared with those in the statistical reports, the treasurer's corresponding figures in dollars are taken.

Another item of interest for some of our readers will be the reports of our various institutions, which are to be found in the pages of this Quarterly.

E. Borm.

Berne, August 10, 1924.

Special Offerings.

In our report for the first quarter it was erroneously stated that the special offerings represented the "Big Week" Fund, whereas $ 11227.34 were European Relief money, and only the balance belonged to the above Fund, as correctly stated in the footnotes.

In this quarter's report the special offerings can be divided and compared thus:

To the Regions Beyond.

In the fear of the Lord we aim to practise the faith we preach in carrying the good tidings of His soon coming into all the corners of the earth. Thus, it will be interesting to note that, during the last ten years beginning with 1914, the outbreak of the great war, our Mission Board has sent out no less than 1429 missionaries to the regions beyond.

In 1923 no less than 158 families were sent abroad to the following fields: Bahama Islands, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, China, Fiji, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawai, India, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, New Hebrides, Nicaragua, Panama, Papua, Philippines, Porto Rico, Solomon Islands, Salvador, South Africa, West Africa.

During the first six months of this year, 1924, missionaries were sent to such countries as these, not to mention many places in Europe itself: Abyssinia, Brazil, China, Egypt, Eritrea, Japan, Korea, Mesopotamia, West Africa.

Such a thing would not have been thought possible fifty years ago, and we certainly have every reason to thank God for what He has wrought.

Administrative building of the European Division at Höheweg, Berne.

Considering the fact that our organized movement in Europe began in 1874, fifty years ago, and that our first paper "Les Signes des Temps" was published at Basle in 1876, this is certainly a remarkable record of what, under God, has been accomplished in so comparatively a short time. Three new languages have been added every two years, and this is certainly a striking illustration, so far as Europe is concerned, of the fulfilment of that prophecy in Rev. 14:6 that the everlasting gospel would be preached "to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people."

Miscellaneous.

The article of Elder L. R. Conradi giving a survey of the work in the European Division in a historical setting during the last fifty years will be read with interest. As we look back upon these five decades and bear in mind that we have now reached a membership of 72 602 — almost our world membership twenty years ago —, we realize something of the divine power that has been operative in this work of preaching the third angel's message in polyglot Europe as will be seen also in a special manner from the list of languages in which work is now being carried on in the Division.

A publishing convention will be held at Berne during the last week of August attended by the union field missionary secretaries, publishing house managers and some others associated with this line of our work under the auspices of brethren H. H. Hall and H. Boex.

Parallel with this convention the Division Committee will hold a council of a few days to consider chiefly questions of the budget for 1925 and such other matters as usually require settlement in a fuller council.

It was planned that Elders L. R. Conradi and W. K. Ising attend the conference at Moscow, Russia, August 16—23, really the first representative gathering in that large field for some years. At this time of writing, August 14, permission had not yet been secured for their journey, but it is hoped that they may succeed even at the eleventh hour now that the Foreign office in Berlin has taken up the case by wire with the Embassy at Moscow. August 16, our Jubilee Sabbath in the Division, is to commemorate also the 40. anniversary of our work in Russia.
