

Week of Prayer

IN VIEW of world conditions, and the recognized need on the part of all of us for a speedy preparation to meet the Lord, the General Conference committee, in addition to setting apart the week of December 7 to 14 for the Week of Prayer, voted at the time of the Autumn Council in St. Paul to make the first Sabbath, December 7, a day of fasting and prayer. We are to center cur prayers upon the needy fields of the world, particularly those who are in distress because of war, and upon our own needs for such help as will have us ready for the speedy return of Jesus.

Surely as we think of our own short comings, the many perplexities with which we are faced, and then the needs of our dear brethren in the war torn sections of the world, we will find it in our hearts to join heartily in this solemn institution of

One Tells Ten; Ten Tell One Hundred

AMONG the first group baptized at Chaoho, Kirin Province, Manchuria, was a former fortune teller. As he entered the water, his joy was evident. He had forsaken a lucrative but unchristian business in exchange for the treasure of great price, the gospel, and he presented his entire paraphernalia to me as a token of his complete break with his former life: This new believer in Christ, Mr. Giang, is now joyously witnessing for his Saviour, Instead of guessing men's future for them, he is telling them the true story of salvation in Christ Jea day of prayer and fasting. Throughout the day may we have our hearts uplifted to God in prayer, and in our contacts with others impress upon them the fact that we are deeply conscious of our great need, and are uniting with others the world around during this week to ask God for a special outpouring of His spirit.

The workers of the union conference are distributed throughout the union, and the local conference workers will cover the various districts, and 'give leadership and help to as many of our churches as possible. The church officers themselves will have this matter well in hand, and arrangements will be made in all our churches for both old and young to receive the benefits that come from a careful observance of this annual Week of Prayer.

sus. He has been successful in interesting several in the truth, some of whom are now definitely preparing for baptism.

Mr. Giang's first contact with Seventh-day Adventists was on the occasion when two of our colporteurs called upon him while canvassing in Chaoho. These two young men only a year previous had been in the darkness of heathenism. One of them, Wang Sho-shan, had accepted the truth in spite of severe persecution by his mother. At that time Brother Wang was working in a printing shop and was well liked by his employer. He had already been granted the Sabbath off; but when this came to the ears of his mother, persecution began. She first beat him when he returned from work, and then went to his employer demanding that her son be dismissed if he refused to work on Sabbath,—and this in spite of the fact that he was her only means of support.

In order to avoid further trouble, his employer dismissed him. Before a week had passed, however, Brother Wang had obtained a better position at higher wages, with the privilege of observing the Sabbath and attending other meetings during the week.

His mother continued persecuting him. Then one night she had a dream in which she saw Christ coming in the clouds of heaven. This greatly frightened her. The next morning she told her son the dream, and added that she would put no further hindrance in the way of his being a Christian.

Brother Wang later entered the colporteur work and has enjoyed good success in distributing our truthfilled literature. He has been able to lead several souls to a knowledge of Christ, besides Mr. Giang, the fortune teller, and his wife. Again the old Chinese saying is fulfilled, "Ih chuan shih, shih chuan pai,"—one tells ten, and ten tell one hundred.

Dasent Published weekly by the Southwestern Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. Entered October 24, 1902, at the post office at Keene, Texas, as second-class matter under the act of Congress of March 3, 1897.

120 feet long, and 8 feet high at the walls, with a very neat framework prepared to hold up the canvass top which is well made, having the pitch of an ordinary house roof. The Temple will seat better than a thousand people. It seemed to me there must have been from seven to eight hundred the night I was present.

"Who Elder Leiske spoke on Changed the Observance of the Sabbath." The meeting was very interesting from start to finish. Brother Turner, in charge of the music, has a choir of some sixty or more voices, and with the aid of two pianos played by Miss Leiske and Mrs. Turner they render most beautiful music. The night I was there Brother and Sister Turner sang a duet, and also Brother Turner sang a solo. Brother P. E. Van Landingham, a former worker of the Texas Conference, illustrated the duet with pastel work. This was very impressive.

When time came for the offering, Elder Leiske told of the great need for finances and asked how many would give a dollar. A large number of hands went up. Then the ushers were told to come forward and receive the offering. The ushers are young ladies whose dresses are black with white collars and cuffs. They are well organized, and do their work in a fine way. Elder and Sister Westbrook are cooperating in a wonderful way with Elder Leiske's company. Elder Leiske introduced me to his audience and asked me to speak a few words which I was pleased to do.

It was a fine looking audience to whom Elder Leiske spoke on the change of the observance of the Sabbath. When it was over, the congregation was asked how many believed they had heard the truth of God. It seemed as if the entire congregation arose. Then when they were asked, while standing, to raise their hands if they expected to be faithful to the message they had heard, it seemed as if 90 per cent of those standing raised their hands. Every indication is that a large number of people will accept the truth as a result of this effort.

I hope, in the near future, to visit Elder Hassenpflug's effort which is being held in the Silver Dome in Denison. A number of our evangelists throughout the union are now in the midst of efforts, and we wish that we could have from 25 to 50 going on in each local conference. Truly we are in the hour for the finishing of the work. May the Lord bless these men who are leading out in evangelistic efforts.

ROY L. BENTON.

His Final Address

THE Rev. J. Howard Williams of Amarillo, Texas, president of the Bantists' General Convention of Texas, on November 13, 1940, in Houston, delivered his retiring address. He voiced his sentiments concerning President Roosevelt's sending an ambassador to the Vatican. He went on to say that the Baptists, Lutherans, Methodists, and others had opposed this appointment, and he, the speaker, asks the recall of Myron G. Taylor. How heartening it is that others see the danger of a union of church and state threatening our land. Seventhday Adventists for more than 40 years have publicly and privately pointed out the dangers of such a union.

Like conditions produce like results. The Dark Ages of persecution brought untold suffering to millions who would not consent to have the church-dominated state dictate their religion. Will history repeat itself? It will unless the trend of events is changed. Is it not time that we as Seventh-day Adventists awake to the situation? Prayer and work may put off the evil day.

Just now we have truth-filled litcrature that should have a wide circulation. Elder Maxwell in his latest book, Power and Prophecy, devotes many pages to this subject. What a golden opportunity to take this book to the thousands who belong to denominations that, in assemblies, have protested this Vatican appointment. Millions now want to know what the Bible teaches on this subject and others.

There should be a general movement in every church to circulate quickly far and near the literature answering the question, "What Do These Things Mean?"

"It is our duty to do all in our power to avert the threatened danger. We should endeavor to disarm prejudice by placing ourselves in a proper light before the people. We should bring before them the real question at issue, thus interposing the most effectual protest against measures to restrict liberty of conscience."

"When God has given us light showing the dangers before us, how can we stand clear in His sight if we neglect to put forth every effort in our power to bring it before the people? Can we be content to leave them to meet this momentous issue unwarned?" "Christian Service," p. 162.

Camp Meeting Pledges

DID you make one this year? and is it paid? If not, perhaps you gave yourself until the end of the year to take care of the obligation. The purpose of this note is to remind all who have made camp meeting pledges that the end of the year is approaching, and for the sake of a clear record when the year closes, some thought should be given to this now so that the funds can be in hand by the time promised.

Why are we urging our people to pay their camp meeting pledges? Is it because the funds are needed for the finishing of the work? Yes, but what is more important, our brethren need the satisfaction and blessings that come from fulfilling sacred obligations—and that is what camp meeting pledges, and, in fact, all pledges are.

If you do not remember the amount you pledged, speak to your church treasurer, who has been furnished with a list of the pledges made by members of your church. If you are an isolated member and do not recall what you pledged, write to the conference treasurer and he will gladly furnish you with the information.

O. J. BELL.

• District No. 8

THE new company at DeWitt, Arkansas, now has seven members, with a regular Sabbath school attendance of fifteen or more. These are the result of the effort held there in May by Elder Pound. Much seed has been sown and there is a widespread interest, which we hope will bear more fruit with further labor. The members are earnestly laboring with literature distribution.

The young people's Sabbath school class in Searcy is enthusiastically engaged in laymen's evangelistic work. The members have purchased a projector and, using the films belonging to the conference home missionary department, are holding a series of Sunday night meetings in a suburban community. They report a good attendance and interest.

From October 27 to November 2 we held a series of meetings in the schoolhouse in which the Mt. Pleasant church has met for years, and on November 3 work was begun on the new church building there. The church members have responded very liberally with funds pledged for that purpose, and business people have indicated that they intend to help. Most of the labor will be furnished by the members and their neighbors.

Word has come to us that the laymen of the Memphis, Tennessee, church have been conducting evangelistic meetings every Saturday night at Truman, Arkansas. Since this is in the Arkansas-Louisiana Conference, they expect to turn the results over to us. Elder Pound visited their meeting recently, and reports that they have a good interest. This help from our brethren is appreciated. Very little effort has been put forth in that section of the field, and we have no church near.

We understand that a Sabbath school has been added to District 8 at Pocahontas since Elder Geo. T. Vore, a retired minister, has moved near there. We trust that Elder Vore's presence in that community will eventually result, with God's blessing, in developing the work in that section of the district, which also is quite a distance from any of our churches. Young People's Number of Réview

ELDER F. M. Wilcox, editor of the Review and Herald, is planning to make the December 5 issue a youth's edition. The articles will cover a wide range of topics of special interest to the youth, and the writers are leading men in the denomination. The influence of these articles will be far reaching in the lives of our young people, and the results will be evident in greater loyalty in upholding denominational standards and increased activity in burden bearing.

We want this special issue of the Review and Herald available to every youth in the conference. We have asked Brother Lee to order a supply and copies can be secured from the Book and Bible House, Box 528, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, for the small sum of five cents. Doubtless some parents will wish to have copies sent to their boys and girls who are away from home. Some churches will want a copy for each one of their young people.

With such attractive titles as the following: "The World's Challenge to our Youth," "The Missionary Volunteer," "Beckoning Avenues of Service," "Answering the call of the Wild," "Heroism in the Hour of Crisis," with more than six other articles of equal interest, surely it will be a nickle well spent.

This is a real opportunity for parents and churches to place in the hands of their youth material that may be as lasting in its influence as eternity. R. A. NESMITH.

News Notes

Elder Wittenberg returned from the eastern part of the state where he assisted one or two churches in the Harvest Ingathering this past week. He visited Muskogee, Tulsa, and Bartlesville.

Brother and Sister G. D. O'Brien, who have been canvassing in the vicinity of Wynnewood, are now located at Muskogee and will do colporteur work there.

Brother L. R. Reiswig is attending the Medical Cadet Training Camp at Union College this week. He expects to be back in his district in time for the Week of Prayer.

Professor and Mrs. Nesmith, accompanied by the church school teachers of the conference, are attending an institute at Keene, Texas.

Miss Anna Draper, one of our office stenographers, is spending a two weeks' vacation at her home in Claremore, Oklahoma.

One more month remains before the year 1940 will close. You still have an opportunity to close the year with a clean record with heaven. Let us check up on our income for the past year and see if we have been loyal in returning to the Lord that which is His. Every true follower of the Master will see that his tithe is paid before the year closes.

Seventh-day Adventists and Speculation

WE ARE told that Satan plans to tie up, if possible, all the means that Seventh-day Adventists possess, so that it may not be used to advance the cause of God. Early Writings, pp. 366, 367. His agents are at work constantly to lead them to invest means which they may need in support of their families, or in the cause of God, in some visionary or worldly enterprise which he knows will fail. Here is a list of references warning Seventh-day Adventists to beware of men who use their influence as members of our churches to get our people to invest in "patent rights," "various inventions," etc. Testimonies, Vol. I pp. 304, 305, 255, 256, 455, 481, 551; Vol. 2, p. 622; Vol. 4, pp. 616, 617: Gospel Workers, pp. 341, 342.

These will illustrate the way Satan carries out his plans as shown by the reference in Early Writings. On page 617 of Vol. 4, we read, "I was shown that it is a dangerous experiment for our people to engage in speculation. They thereby place themselves on the enemy's ground, subject to great temptations, disappointments, trials, and losses."

I have given these numerous references that we may arouse and not allow Satan to carry out his plans. Some years ago a man who was a member of the church, though far from being in good standing, was urging the people to invest all they could gather together in an oil well that was to be put down nearby. They were "sure to win." I then urged our people to seriously consider the warning referred to above. Many invested anyway. It proved to be a "sure investment"! What they invested is there to "stay." A number of our people in Texas are now making the same mistake.

We all know the cause of God is sure. It cannot fail. Yet how hard it is to put that $50 or $100, which we might need any time, into the bank of heaven! We know that there is absolutely nothing in this world that is safe today, but we will let most anybody lead us to invest in something that we know would be risky in normal times. If you have means that you do not immediately need, invest it in the bank of heaven. If you keep it, you may be made to invest it for war rather than for the gospel of I. A. CRANE. peace.

Radio

WE ARE happy to know that many of our people are able to get our broadcast every Thursday at 4 p.m. over station KXYZ. Our sponsor, Dr. Chas. Hard, is giving us an extra broadcast again over station KPRC on Sunday, 3 p.m., December 22. This is a special courtesy extended to us by Dr. Hard, and we are informed that during this hookup we reach a million people.

I wish that our people would drop a post card or letter to Dr. Hard, care station KXYZ, telling him how much you do enjoy the Leiske Evangelistic Party over "The Family Worship Hour." This would help us considerably in getting extra favors in our radio work. It will not be necessary for you to inform him that you are a Seventh-day Adventist, but let him know that there is a demand for such programs in the field.

We are having a wonderful time here in Houston, and we enjoy our work with Brother Westbrook and the church. A. A. LEISKE.

San Antonio Colored Church

WE ARE glad to report that the San Antonio colored church has reached its Harvest Ingathering goal. Even though we had a late start, it was accomplished in a short time. Among those who helped to make this goal possible were eight minutemen. All are of good courage, and are glad to have had a part in God's work.

Texico Young People of Draft Age

FROM December 18 to January 7 there is to be given at Keene, Texas, a very intensive course in military medical work for our young men of draft age and those who will be of draft age during the next five years. We feel that every young man in the Texico Conference should take advantage of this opportunity.

The cost of this course is going to be very reasonable, probably around $30. Those who take this course will stand an excellent chance of being placed in the Medical Corps when they are finally drafted into service. This will automatically eliminate the problem of bearing arms and also very largely solve the problem of Sabbathkeeping, as most of this work is legitimate Sabbath work.

We urge our young men of draft age to arrange to take this course. Your application blanks should be filled out and one copy sent to Elder Roy at the union office, and the other to your Missionary Volunteer secretary at Clovis. If you plan to take this course, please let us know at once. LEE CARTER.

News Notes

Surely all of our young people and many others will wish a copy of the December 5 issue of the Review and Herald. This will be an unusual issue of the Review in that it will be a young people's number. Leaders in our denominational work are writing for this special number, and their counsel and instruction will be of untold value to our youth. The price is 5 cents for single copies mailed to any address, or 31/2 cents per copy in clubs of 50 or more mailed to one address. Turn in your order to your church missionary secretary or send direct to the Book and Bible House.

Beginning November 22 and running through Sunday, the 24th, our church school teachers were attending the institute at Keene.

A recent action of the Southern Publishing Association board recommends publishing ten issues of the Message magazine during 1941. The first two issues will be bi-monthly and the remaining issues, May to December, will be monthly. Our colored believers throughout the Southland will welcome this development in the Message magazine, and we naturally anticipate a larger circulation of this missionary journal for the colored race during the coming year.

We are glad to note that with the circulation of 75,000 copies of the December Watchman we will reach a record-breaking circulation of threequarters of a million for 1940. This will be the largest circulation of the Watchman magazine in any one year since 1917. Prospects for the coming year are bright, and we anticipate a circulation of the Watchman in 1941 that will approximate the million mark.

If God is able to save anyone who comes to Him "to the uttermost," He is cetrainly able to save from the uttermost.

DR. S. LAIRD.

The December Watchman presents one of the most attractive and appealing issues of the entire year. The accompanying illustration is suggestive of the appropriate artistic cover for the holiday season. This feature, with an unusual array of articles, provides a most delightful introduction of the Watchman to your relatives, friends, and others in whom you are interested.

And at this season, when we are thinking about others in terms of gifts, your gift of a missionary subscription to Watchman for yourself and your friends will include 14 months for only 60 cents. This provides a most inexpensive missionary investment of a most effective type, because Watchman does present the dramatic story of world events in the light of rapidly fulfilling prophecy, and also the great fundamental truths of the third angel's me^ssage. May we urge that you endeavor to "Win One" in '41 with Watchman.

Order your missionary subscriptions for Watchman at this special holiday offer through your church missionary secretary, or from The Watchman Magazine, Nashville, Tennessee.

Ten Minutes to Spare?

Have you ten minutes to spare for some missionary work that might save a life, and possibly a soul? Our denominational medical and health work has been called the right arm of the message, and the entering wedge which frequently gains entrance to homes when all other efforts fail. The work of the Master included a work of healing. Our sanitariums and doctors are winning souls the world around. What is being done in this line in the Southwest?

The Boulder Sanitarium in Colorado has established a department in Dallas, called Health Food Center, for the promotion of our health educational work A monthly magazine, the Dallas Health Heraid, is circulated free to those homes having sick people, which is the place where the most good can be accomplished. How can ten minutes of your time help in this good work?

You can help by sending us the names and addresses of your friends, neighbors, and relatives who are sick, so that they will receive the magazine and our health literature. Tell us what is wrong with them so that we may be guided in giving the information that will help them most. The editor of this magazine is Miss Myrtle Barker, dietitian at the Porter Sanitarium in Denver, Colorado.

A stranger said to me recently, "You Adventists know more about diet than anyone else. You are the pioneers in eating for health?" Should we not spread the light to more people? It is a part of our message. If the Health Herald circulating in your community wins new friends to the message, or starts even one on the road to health, you will have been amply rewarded.

To each person sending us the names and addresses of eight people who are sick, we will send a copy of the Boulder Sanitarium Health Cook Book as a token of our appreciation. Those sending in four names will receive a copy of the book, Health via the Carrot and Other Vegetables. If you send two names, you will receive a copy of Dr. Jackson's How to Keep Weil and a health candy bar. Just write the names; addresses, et cetera, on a postal card.

Health Food Center, 214 North St. Paul St., Dallas, Texas.

• ATTENTION!

Authorities now affirm that not only are 62 per cent of American youth using alcohol in some form, but also that the tobacco habit is well-nigh universal among both boys and girls! Yes, these are cruel, jarring facts, but we must face them squarely for they are true. The question comes as to what we can do about it. It is a challenge to every Seventh-day Adventist youth and adult, for we possess the very best temperance and educational literature on this subject. Young people, and brethren and sisters of the advent truth, let us USE it. Here is a most excellent way:

Educate the youth of America by placing the Facts for Youth set in Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. institutions, reform schools, jails, police stations, hotels, hospitals, and public libraries in your community. This is a plan that every Missionary Voiunteer Society can carry out successfully with funds provided from M. V. offerings and from other sources. Let us educate the young people of America by lending the Facts for Youth sets to CCC Camps, military training camps, and all public institutions of our community. Here are the books in the Facts for Youth set, all cloth bound:

Facts First on Narcotics _____$.95 A Clear Case Against Narcotics____.95 Straight Thinking on Narcotics__ 1.25 The Cigarette As a Physician Sees

Plain Facts for Young Women _ .75 Science Speaks to Young Men _ .75 Regular Retail Price__$5.50 Special Low Price on Set, only $4.00 Postpaid

Write your M.V. secretary for full details so that your society may begin this very worthy plan at once. Invite older members of the church and the Society of Missionary Men to join in providing sets for this purpose. Place all orders with your Book and Bible House.

News Notes

The annual teachers' institute for the church school teachers of the Southwestern Union met in Keene, November 21 to 24. Many graduates of the school and other former students were in attendance.

Professor H. A. Morrison, secretary of the educational department of the General Conference, who was assisting in the institute, conducted the Friday night vesper service and preached at the church Sabbath morning.

Professor and Mrs. Frederick Griggs, en route to their home in Los Angeles after an extended trip among our schools, spent a few days in Keene. Professor Griggs is a wellknown educator in the denomination and is now serving as the chairman of the board of the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, California. His former students and friends appreciated hearing him sing, Sabbath morning, his old favorite, "How Can I Keep From Singing."

The first lyceum number of the season was given in the chapel last Saturday night. Mr. Glenn L. Morris gave a popularized science demonstration on electricity. Among other things he made artificial lightning, used the radio for remote control, and by a means of light frequency current lighted a candle with his tongue.

At the supper hour Sabbath evening there was a Texico reunion attended by the workers present in Keene, the teachers in attendance at the institute, and the students at the college. After supper in the dining room, there was a brief program and reception in the North Hall worship room. Three rolls of moving picture films, depicting Texico scenes—nature, junior camp, and church school groups—were shown.

Spirit of Prophecy Day

SABBATH, November 30, has been designated by General Conference action as Spirit of Prophecy Day. A special program has been prepared which appears in the December issue of the Gazette. During 1940, two books, Great Controversy and Ministry of Healing have constituted a reading program.

For 1941, two other volumes have been recommended, Messages to Young People and Patriarchs and Prophets. Assignments for weekly and daily reading will appear in due time in various periodicals.

Do You Enjoy the Long Winter Evenings?

Many look forward with pleasure to the long evenings at home during the winter months. How much they expect to accomplish! And yet, for lack of wise planning, how often many precious hours are wasted! What a fine opportunity the winter evenings give us for study of w(rth-while subjects.

Students unable for various reasons to return to college or academy may enroll for one or two favorite subjects on the completion of which they will receive full credit, thus making definite progress toward their educational goal. Others may take a practical course, such as home nursing, first aid, et cetera. Church officers may greatly increase their efficiency by taking the course in spiritual leadership. Those interested in lay preaching and the giving of Bible readings may prepare themselves for larger service in those fields.

Why not write now for information concerning the more than one hundred courses that we offer? We will gladly send you our catalog, and give further particulars as needed. Address
