Educational Department Meeting at the General Conference

I AM wondering if the readers of the RECORD would like to sit with me in Room 403 of the Civic Auditorium, to share with me the blessings of the meeting of the representatives of the Educational Department who are in attendance at the General Conference.

Professor H. A. Morrison, our General Conference Educational Leader, is in charge of the meeting. With him on the platform are representatives from the educational work in Europe, Asia, and the United States. One speaker has just told us about the greatest enrollment of its history in a European college that has been in the midst of war for over a year. Then he has told us about other schools of ours which have been closed. Our boys and girls in these places have no way of preparing themselves for our work. They are not able in any way to plan or prepare for their future. Is that a warning for us? How will it be when all the boys and girls of the Southwest find themselves entirely deprived of Christian educational influences? Every Adventist boy and girl ought to be in an Adventist school this year.

Another speaker is telling us about holding schools early in the morning, and then late at night, while during the day they spend the time out in fields and woods to avoid destruction from bombs. They have continued for many months in this way, and yet they have the largest enrollment ever. They prefer to attend school in this way in order to get Christian educational influences, rather than go without. They recognize that only too soon they will lose even these opportunities, and that they must do all possible now to fortify their boys and girls for the trials before them. What are the Seventh-day Adventist fathers and mothers doing to fortify their boys and girls against the unprecedented trials that are before? Will a worldly education, a worldly title, protect your boy or girl from temptation and strengthen in the hour of severe test? Every Adventist boy and girl ought to be in our Adventist schools this year.

In other places some of our schools are entirely destroyed and gone. The boys have disappeared in the war calls. What are you doing to prepare your boy for such an experience?

R. J. Roy.

A Word of Warning

WE HAVE in our possession correspondence that is being sent to the members of our churches throughout the North American Division from a former minister, who, on Bible grounds, has been dismissed from both the ministry and church membership. Contrary to the counsel of his former local and union conference committees, and as a non-church member, this individual is now conducting public meetings and is himself baptizing converts. He has organized his own Sabbath school, and is now writing his former friends and converts appealing for financial assistance.

Inasmuch as the whole procedure is contrary to the teachings of the church, and entirely out of harmony with the counsel of the brethren; and conscious that the result of such wrong procedure will ultimately lead to confusion and distress, we are writing you. As ample opportunity is provided whereby all of our members in the church, or isolated, can join in the support of evangelistic efforts being conducted in the local conferences, we would earnestly appeal to our church members to refuse to lend financial or other support to any appeal or movement of an independent nature.

Arkansas-Louisiana Junior Camp

WE ARE very happy for the enthusiastic response we have received from our Juniors over the conference to the announcement sent out concerning our first Junior camp. We feel fortunate indeed to have secured so desirable a location. The Petti Jean mountains attract thousands of tourists each year and the beautiful Y. M. C. A. grounds called "The Point" have been granted us for our ten day encampment. The State Park commission has recently taken this property over and is making extensive improvements that will make our stay there even more enjoyable. This camp is located just ten miles from Morrilton, Arkansas, on the Petti Jean mountain road about five miles this side of the Petti Jean State Park. Morrilton is on state highway No. 64 and is about fifty miles northwest of Little Rock.

Entered October 24, 1902, at the post office at Keene, Texas, as second-class matter under the act of Congress of March 3, 1897.

The buildings are adequate for our needs and there is a fine swimming pool where our Juniors can have a wonderful time under the supervision of a trained lifeguard. Our camp this year will be for ten days, beginning Friday, June 20, and continuing to Sunday, June 29. The entire charge will be only eight dollars in addition to the transportation. That we may be sure of sufficient accommodation for all who are planning to come, we ask that you send in the application blank at the bottom of this article, together with one dollar deposit. The remaining seven dollars can be paid upon reaching camp.

WHAT TO BRING

As the nights will doubtless be cool, bring at least two blankets, besides sheets for a single bed, suitable clothing for camp and hikes, as well as for Sabbath wear. Bring your raincoat and rubbers, and especially remember to bring comfortable shoes for hiking. Bring Bible, Junior Song Book, notebook and pencil, toilet articles such as: toothbrush, toothpaste, comb, brush, towels, soap, etc., pajamas, several handkerchiefs, flashlight, and if you have them, bring a camera and films, and a field or spy glass for bird study.

We have been cheered to hear how many were earning their own money to pay for the expenses of the camp. Such a program is a double guarantee of having an enjoyable time. A very interesting program has been arranged. Opportunity will be provided for our Juniors to earn several honor tokens in the progressive class work in subjects such as Photography, Leather Craft, Sewing, Weaving, Bird Study, Flower Study, Tree Study, etc. Three programs of educational sound moving pictures have been arranged. No Junior should miss this wonderful opportunity to enjoy such a delightful outing and at the same time receive the strength and help in Christian living that these Junior camps provide. If you are a Junior between the ages of ten and sixteen and have not already made your plans to attend this Camp, go to work on it right now and find some way to be there with us. Don't forget to send in the application blank to our Conference office, 1215 Marshall Street, Little Rock, Ark., so that provision can be made for you.

JAMES B. ROSS.

News from District Seven

THE Ruston Sabbath school last week reported one hundred per cent in attendance and lesson study! This is a good mark at which all Sabbath schools can aim.

The Hodge church is completed outside, except for Cypress shingles which will be put on later this summer. The trim is brown, which harmonizes very well with the surroundings.

At the meeting in Hodge, nearly all present held up their hands on a call to be ready for the coming of Christ. Two ladies are definitely planning to keep the Sabbath.

Most of our isolated members are engaged in giving out literature where they live, and many are reporting a good interest being shown in the papers.

Ozark Junior Academy

"School days, school days,
Dear old golden rule days . . ."

And here we are again at the end of the trail, so far as this school year is concerned, but only long enough to get ready for a bigger and better school year.

Graduation exercises for the class of '41 took place last week when twelve academic seniors presented one of the finest class programs I have ever heard.

The senior consecration service was conducted on Friday night, May 9, with Elder G. T. Vore, of Fort Smith, bringing the challenge to the graduating class. On Sabbath morning Elder I. C. Pound delivered the baccalaureate sermon, building his thoughts around the class motto, "Not Sunset, but Dawn."

During the past year the academy enjoyed the largest enrollment it has ever had. Our total enrollment was 144 students, 91 of whom were academic students, and 53 were elementary pupils. Both dormitories were full throughout the year. Our teaching staff, composed of twelve members, were men and women who have given their lives to the training of the youth for service in the cause of God. While it is true that our salaries are low, we feel quite highly paid when we see a large number of our youth getting some actual experience in soul-winning endeavor even while they are in school getting their training.

As we take a backward glance at our school over the past four or five years, we cannot help feeling that the Lord has been graciously good to us. In His goodness and mercy He has blessed practically every progressive effort we have put forth in the building of this school. May He continue to add His blessings to our work as we endeavor to build according to the divine pattern.

About $3500 was paid to students during the past year for labor. While no student is able to work his entire way, yet the majority of our students did work a portion of their school expenses, thus lightening the load of those who have to bear the burden of educating their youth.

Next year, 1941-42, should be a banner year for every one of our schools. Never has there been a greater need for that type of education which favors Christian character-building than the present time. We are anticipating that this coming year will be the best we have ever had. If your heart is centered in the Ozarks, write immediately for our catalog.

Wedding Bells

BROTHER and Sister Wohlgehegan announce the marriage of their daughter, Jewelle, to Carl Miner of Coffeyville, Kansas, at a ceremony which was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hobson, Tuesday evening, May 20, at eight o'clock, the Rev. J. B. Andrews officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Miner are graduates of the Ozark Junior Academy. Their many friends join in wishing them the best of success and much of God's blessings as they continue their preparation for a place in His service.

MRS. A. T. HOBSON.

News Notes

At this writing Elder Pound and several of our ministers are in San Francisco attending the General Conference. They should be returning to the field in about two weeks.

Be sure to attend camp meeting this year. It will be held August 1-9 in the fine little city of El Dorado, Arkansas. This is the year for the conference session, and at that time officers to serve the conference for the next two years will be chosen. Plans are being laid for making this camp meeting the very best in our history. Begin to lay your plans now to attend.

The Little Rock church has ordered a supply of the new Church Hymnal, and these will be in use about the time this note appears in the RECORD. The plan being followed here is for the church to purchase 60 copies for the pews, and for the members to purchase their own individual copies. That is a fine plan. In the earlier days of the message the believers always took their Bibles and song books with them to the meetings. The new Church Hymnal can be purchased for $1.50 in the brown cloth binding, and any old copy of Christ in Song, regardless of condition, will be accepted in part payment in the amount of 37½ cents. We have received quite a number of orders which were accompanied by remittances of $1.50. Perhaps these individuals did not have an old Christ in Song to trade in on the new book. This note is to inform the reader of the trade-in offer, which will be good until June 30.

Over 90,000 copies of the New Day series of tracts have been ordered by our churches for distribution, and very likely most of these have found their way into the homes of the people. Many requests for additional literature have come in to the office from some of these people, and doubtless many will be in the kingdom as the result of these message-filled pages.

Every conference worker has been asked to send in a news item for the RECORD each week. We trust they will be faithful in doing this, as we wish to make our section of the RECORD interesting.

Elder Williams has just been shipped a 40 x 60 tent for his effort in Bogalusa for the colored people at that place. We believe that we should have a colored church there, and we solicit the prayers of the readers that the Lord will bless Elder Williams in his effort at Bogalusa.

Brother Charles Beeler is in the midst of his effort in Batesville, Arkansas. Here, too, is a very fine little city where we ought to have a thriving church. Perhaps the Lord will make this possible by blessing the efforts of Brother Beeler and those assisting him in this meeting.

Reader, are you up-to-date in your tithes? These are troublous days, and we believe that the things happening in the world today are omens of the soon coming of the Saviour. We want to be faithful and ready to meet Him.

Oklahoma's Colporteurs

MANY will be interested to know that gradually but certainly there is a new influence settling upon the people at last. During this time of national defense people are becoming accustomed to new war psychology. In many respects this attitude creates a deepening interest in the Word of God, and offers opportunity to disclose the truths of our prophetic message. This class deeply appreciates the reading of the three angels' messages. It is the joy of the canvassers to seek out this class of people. They are to be found among the rich and poor.

The other class whom we meet are submitting to the materialistic philosophy of our day and apparently are only living for the immediate present. Some entertain even a very fatalistic view of life leading to what we might designate a religious type of indifference, I say religious because it is the fruits of apostate protestantism. In view of all this our people should pray most earnestly for the truth-loving colporteur who calls from door to door, eager to stir the minds of many to accept present truth as represented by the warning of the three angels' messages. And again let us keep in mind the student colporteurs, many of whom are gaining an initial experience in the promulgation of our message through the printed page.

Oklahoma Conference, at the present time has a very courageous group of young people who are giving of their best as Colporteur Evangelists. Even though we have a very select group, yet our ranks need to be enlarged and replenished from time to time. Should the Lord be calling you to this most fascinating yet humble method of giving the truth, write to the conference office at your earliest convenience. Also if there are those throughout the conference who desire your community to be canvassed, write to the conference office and state the financial conditions of the territory and whether or not you can offer any type of accommodation to faithful workers who will canvass your community.

If all will work together in this great program, we may all have a part in the souls that will be converted during the loud cry. We must first have the literature out before the loud cry can come. Will you do your part?

News Notes

We are happy to report that general conditions throughout the conference are most encouraging. Most of our territory received moisture during the heavy rains of May. We do thank God for these blessings.

We want to remind our people that the Life and Health special offer expires June 15. Only a few days remain in which to take advantage of the present opportunity to enter personal and gift subscriptions at half price. The reduced prices are as follows: 1 year, 60 cents; 2 years to one address, $1.00; 3 or more yearly subscriptions to separate addresses, each 50 cents.

Elder and Mrs. G. A. LaGrone of Amarillo are attending the General Conference session at San Francisco.

The Clovis church was favored with a number of visitors recently as they were making their way to San Francisco and the General Conference session. Among these were: Elder Otto H. Christensen and family; Roger Altman and wife; Miss Edith Shepard, Sabbath school secretary of the Michigan Conference; five nurses from the New England Sanitarium, and Elder W. W. Walker and family from the Florida Conference.

Brother A. T. King started a series of public meetings in the Tularosa High School building recently. He expects to continue for about eight weeks. Let us pray for this effort. Surely there are souls to be saved in Tularosa, New Mexico.

A number of other efforts in the conference are to begin soon. We pray that God will give us a harvest of souls as this last warning message is given to the public.

From the Book and Bible House

Learning to Live, by Lora E. Clement—A fascinating new book for young people. Let's take a glimpse at its contents. "The Measure of a Man" (poem) contains many lines that you will want to underscore and memorize for future use. The first chapter, "Throwing Away Diamonds," shows what you can do with your spare moments—incidents from the lives of Lincoln, Franklin, Schumann-Heink, and others. "Are You Eating From the Garbage Can?" is a most interesting and timely talk on reading. "Only Your Best Is Good Enough" tells how Daniel Webster earned $15,000. "Inner Adorning" is timely for men as well as women. There are thirty-one of these learning-to-live chapters—every one a gem you will prize—every one interesting from the very first word. Cloth, price, $1.

Mother Naomi, Answers to Questions Girls Ask—A new book that will interest every girl. It answers the many questions asked by all normal girls concerning the intimate interests and problems of everyday life in a modern world. The author is a woman of wide experience as a teacher and counselor of young women, and her advice to girls is always appreciated. This new and different kind of book is well worth owning for future reference, Cloth, price, $1.

Let's Talk It Over, by Lora E. Clement—Here is an invitation to talk things over, or, as the Bible says, "Come now, let us reason together." This invitation will be accepted with lasting gratitude by every young person who is anxious to meet the difficulties and the trials of life in a straightforward, conscientious manner. The author, who is the editor of the Youth's Instructor, has already helped thousands of young people through this excellent book. After having read it, many express their appreciation of its worth—"So much to think about," "Has been a wonderful help," "Goes straight to the mind and heart," "Brings out the real values of life," "Helped me to decide the question of life for God or for self." This book will help you. Cloth, price, $1.

Their Word Of Honor And Other Stories—Here's a book that contains the kind of stories young people like—fascinating and exciting—but more than that. "Their Word of Honor" (the first story in the book)—an unexpected reward for service—is well worth a dollar to any young person. Then there is "Pie and Patronage," "The Masterpiece," "Red Mud and an Insect Wing," "The Missing Word"—so many thrilling, ennobling stories that you just can't afford to miss. Cloth, price, $1.

Courtesy Book—Will drive away all doubt and fear and help you to conduct yourself in accordance with the customs of refined people—at the table, in the home, on the street, at social functions, at showers and weddings. Every young person should have the new Courtesy Book, and learn to be gracious at home and in any society. Cloth, price, $1.

Winning With God—by C. Lester Bond—Out of the depths of his own experience, and from his years of helping young people find their way in life, the author presents to youth in this new book the divine plan for victory in the Christian warfare. It is a practical and worth-while book to own for frequent study, and to lend to a friend. Cloth, price, $1.

The Daily Mail

THE daily quota of inquiries that come to our desk, while not of great significance individually, are in the aggregate convincing proof of the part our truth-filled literature is playing in giving the final message of warning to our doomed world. There is a continual flow of letters from men and women desiring a book on the Sabbath, a book on present world conditions, a copy of a book a friend or neighbor has, or a new copy of a book that has been worn out by time and hard use.

A young colporteur writes from an army camp where he is a new recruit that the Lord is with him there and he has already begun to sell books. A Watchman reader in Cleveland, Texas, inquires about books to help him in his study of the Bible. He is convinced that the seventh day is the true Sabbath and he is anxious to learn which is the true church. A woman recently brought into the church through an effort inquires about tracts, stating that she has a large family and many friends for whom she is eager to work.

We pass these on to you as a matter of interest, but much more than that, we hope they will convince you that now is the time for every loyal church member to scatter the precious pages of truth everywhere. Now as never before the written word is becoming living seed watered by the Holy Spirit in the hearts of men and women. As we read these sincere, eager letters day after day, we cannot escape the conviction that there are vast, undreamed of possibilities in this phase of missionary endeavor. And the fact that there are no limits of time or place or personal qualifications to bar anyone from participating places a very definite and inescapable responsibility upon every individual who has been blessed with a knowledge of truth to pass it on to those around him.

It would be a pleasure to place in your hands the slender, Bible paper edition of Messages to Young People in its rich, limp binding, and share with you our delight at its new beauty. But Messages to Young People is more than a beautiful book. It is a storehouse of spiritual treasure as we were forcibly reminded recently by a letter from the Signs Publishing Company in Warburton, Australia. Commenting on their order for 1300 Messages signatures, the letter said:

"A few days ago we sent you a cable requesting you to ship immediately supplies of Messages to Young People, stock, and some other lines. You may be interested to know that our Missionary Volunteer Department of the Union Conference and the officers, generally, place such a high value on this book that they have asked us to obtain a good stock from you to bind up and distribute through this field at a low figure, thus making it available to all of our young folks. We regard it as the best volume we could possibly place in the hands of our young people, as a safeguard against present tendencies towards loose life."

From this conviction which we wholeheartedly share, grew our determination to make it possible for every young person to have a copy. If you are not acquainted with the new maroon bindings in paper, cloth and keratol and the special prices at which they are now being offered, write to your Book and Bible House secretary today for one of the illustrated circulars describing Messages to Young People as well as Fundamentals of Christian Education in matching bindings, and Selections from the Testimonies.

From January 1 to May 19, when the last check-up was made, orders had been received for 4,788 of these Spirit of prophecy volumes in spite of the fact that congested factory conditions have made it impossible up to this time to supply all the new bindings. However, we are happy to announce that we are now able to supply all bindings, and we anticipate that during the next few months thousands of you will take this opportunity to own these invaluable books.
