The program is being planned by a committee composed of Wesley Amundsen, W. B. Mohr, R. H. Nightingale, H. S. Hanson, and H. E. Schneider. The latter four are secretaries of the Central, Northern, Southern, and Southwestern Unions, respectively.

All sessions will be held in the Central church of Kansas City, Missouri, located at Lynwood Boulevard and Charlott St., or 3206 Charlott St. Those driving by auto should inquire of direction on arriving at city limits. A REGIONAL convention of the Association of Self-Supporting Institutions for the four union conferences; Northern, Central, Southwestern and Southern, has been scheduled for September 11-13, at the Central Seventh-day Adventist Church in Kansas City, Missouri, reports H. E. Schneider, A.S.I. Secretary for the Southwestern Union Conference.

The convention will be the second of three regional meetings scheduled in strategic areas of the United States. They will take the place of the large annual national convention usually held in Washington, D. C.

All members of the A.S.I. in the Southwestern Union have been invited to attend, Elder Schneider, A.S.I. secretary says. In addition, a special invitation is extended to others who are not members at the present time. This includes directors of nursing, convalescent, and rest homes; missionary industries; food factories; and educational and medical institutions operated by our lay members. Doctors, nurses, and others interested in establishing any type of self-supporting enterprises are also invited to attend.

Wesley Amundsen, A.S.I. secretary for the General Conference, reports that an interesting and fast-moving program has been planned for the Kansas City session. The program includes addresses by leading denominational officials, panel discussions on various phases of A.S.I. members participating, motion pictures, and closing fellowship dinner.

The tentative schedule of speakers includes Wesley Amundsen, general secretary of the A.S.I.; W. B. Ochs, vice-president of the General Conference; Miss Joyce Wilson, associate secretary of the Medical Department; Jere D. Smith, president of the Central Union Conference; Arthur White, secretary of Ellen G.

Missions Extension Offering

W. B. OCHS, Vice-President
North American Division

FOR MANY YEARS our people have loyally supported the Missions Extension projects. This year the General Conference has set aside Sabbath, September 8, for this important offering.

Much has been accomplished throughout the world field through the Missions Extension Offering. The money that has been given by our people has meant a great deal in establishing and maintaining the publishing, educational and medical projects; it has upheld the hands of our faithful workers in foreign lands, and those of us who are in the homeland are happy for the privilege of participating in making these gifts possible.

The Missions Extension Offering builds up the basic needs and equipment of all our evangelistic and missionary endeavor. Schools are established for training the youth in their native lands. Publishing houses are constructed or equipped for turning out the printed page of truth in the languages of the masses. Clinics, dispensaries, and hospitals afford medical relief to the many who are sick and suffering. Without any one of these three lines of extension work, our advance overseas would be greatly handicapped.

As a denomination we have always hoped that we might realize in this offering $1 per member throughout the division. It would be wonderful if this goal could be reached this year, because the needs and the demands of the present time have never been greater. If every member of the church will participate liberally, and if all institutional workers, embracing schools, sanitariums and publishing houses, will do their part, then we should be able to realize our goal.

Many years ago the servant of the Lord said: "Unless there is practical self-sacrifice for the good of others, in the family circle, in the neighborhood, in the church, and wherever we may be, then whatever our profession, we are not Christians." Desire of Ages, p. 504.

We appreciate so much the loyalty of our people and the wonderful way in which they give to advance the cause of truth in all lands.

"I worship Him Who made the heaven and Who beautified them with stars, and Who has enriched the earth with flowers and trees." "Dost thou mean," asked the magistrates, "Him Who was crucified?" "Certainly," replied Pionius, "Him Whom the Father sent for the salvation of the world."

In creation God gave us His hand, but in redemption God gives us His heart.

If we trace back the title deeds of all estates to the original ownership, we find "in the beginning God." He has never renounced His proprietary rights to the things He has created. Across every title deed executed is written in indelible letters, "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." Ps. 24:1. The Most High has never conveyed away His right and title as absolute owner. He has allowed many generations to use His possessions, but has never surrendered His ownership. They are all held at the call of the owner. That is the starting point of stewardship.

Since God is the owner of everything, we can never be more than stewards.

Stewardship in its larger aspects is the all-inclusive principle of the whole life. It is not a theory or a philosophy, but a working program. It is in verity the CHRISTIAN LAW OF LIVING. It forms the Christian appraisal of privilege, opportunity, power and talent. It is necessary to an adequate understanding of life, and essential to a true, vital religious experience. It is not simply a matter of mental assent, but is an act of the will and a definite, decisive transaction touching the whole perimeter of life.

Applied Christianity demands the discussion of the money question. It is often the acid test of all our profession. We might suppose that the greatest Teacher of the ages would confine Himself to discourses on Faith, Hope and Love. It comes as a distinct surprise to many to learn how much Jesus had to say on the right and wrong use of property or money. It was the theme of the majority of His addresses and parables. One verse in every six in Matthew, Mark, and Luke are on money, as are also sixteen of the twenty-nine parables.

The teaching of the Master is applicable to our day. Please note the instruction from the messenger of the Lord: "The sympathies of God's people should be aroused in every church throughout our land, and there should be unselfish action to meet the necessities of different mission fields. Men should testify to their interest in the cause of God by giving of their substance. If such an interest were manifested, the bond of Christian brotherhood would exist and increase in strength between all the members of Christ's family." CS., p. 39.

In a few month's time, we will launch our annual Ingathering campaign. Funds will be gathered from millions of non-Adventist people. These funds will surely help to keep God's work moving forward in a strong way. But, dear reader, would it not be in harmony with the above quotation for every Seventh-day Adventist to give of his substance? Why not start now, laying aside a dollar every week, place it in the Ingathering can, so that when the Ingathering campaign begins, each member could bring in at least $10 of his own substance? This would certainly help to make a short, successful campaign of Ingathering, and would certainly help to advance the work of God.

The Ingathering cans have been shipped out to the various district leaders; you may have yours for the asking.

"All that we do is to be done willingly. We are to bring our offerings with joy and gratitude, saying as we present them, 'Of Thine own we freely give Thee.' The most costly service we can render is but meager compared to the gift of God to our world. Christ is a gift every day. God gave Him to the world, and He graciously takes the gifts entrusted to His human agents for the advancement of His work in the world. Thus we show that we recognize and acknowledge that everything belongs to God, absolutely and entirely." MS, 124, 1898.

"Crowds of People"

Not long ago as I attended the evangelistic meeting conducted by L. B. Baker, in the city of Elgin, Texas, I was reminded of the scripture which says: "Crowds of people with one accord gave attention to what they heard." Acts 8:6, Weymouth.

Elgin has a population of a little over 3000. Approximately 1500 people came out and listened attentively to the commandment of God and the faith of Jesus.

The tent, which is located one mile outside of the city limits, was packed solidly. Hundreds of people sat outside the tent, which crowds of people stood, eager to hear the Word of God.

Evangelistic meetings being conducted by L. B. Baker in Elgin, Texas. Other workers assisting in this effort are: Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bailey, Mrs. G. M. Walker, Mrs. Rosie Lee Alexander, Peggy Jean Alexander, Mildred Jean Williams and Mr. H. E. Fenske.

Over two hundred cars packed near the tent. What a sight! The people had come to worship. No police were on hand to maintain order—they were not needed.

During the preliminary exercises, Ralph Jensen and I drove past the four surrounding non-Adventist churches to study their attendance. Two of the churches were locked up. There were two cars in front of the third church, and seven cars in front of the fourth. The people and their preachers came out to the Adventist meeting.

Six meetings are conducted every week. One month of meetings have just ended and the audience continues to grow. Surely, the Spirit of God is being poured out in great measure. We look forward to a rich harvest in Elgin, and to the raising up of a new colored church, where formerly we had only ONE colored Seventh-day Adventist member.

Three non-Adventist preachers attended the meeting last Sunday night. All three took an active part in arranging the chairs,—and stayed after the meeting to help collect the folding chairs which were used outside the tent.

One minister remarked that he had one hundred and fifty members in his church, and that he, together with his entire congregation, would like to come over and join the Adventists. Surely, "great crowds with one accord gave attention." This expression of faith reminds us of the statement in Great Controversy, p. 390: "The GREAT MAJORITY of God's true children are still in the other churches."

Time is short. We are nearer the Advent of Jesus than we realize. World conditions, especially in the Middle East, tell us that the end of things is at hand. Last month several planes were shot down over the Israelie border. Egypt has decided to take over the Suez Canal and use the income for building the Assuan Dam. Britian has retaliated by freezing the sterling assets in England of all private Egyptians and of their government. Troops are already on their way to this critical area. "While the angels hold the four winds we are to work with all our capabilities. We must bear our message without any delay." Testimonies, Vol. 6 p. 21, 22.

"For when by God's wise ordinance the world by its wisdom had failed to gain the knowledge of God, God was pleased, by the foolishness of preaching, to save those who believe," I Cor. 1:21, Weymouth.

Valley Grande Academy Newsettes

Paint crews from the various valley churches invaded the campus recently and renovated the chapel, library, and most of the classrooms. The work was directed by Mrs. Robert Kellar, president of the P. T. A.,

and Mr. Bob Harrison and Mr. Everett Seiger, professional painters.

Now a crew of students, Martha Northcutt, Sharon and Susie Potter, and Garry Truitt, are putting things in order for the opening of school.

Registration is August 30, and classes will begin September 4.

A committee appointed by the academy board is working on the purchase of a new school bus.

Because of the death of Mr. Stuyvesant's mother, the Stuyvesants are moving to California. New faculty members will be announced soon.

A number of new families are moving into the valley to take advantage of our twelve-grade school. Prospects for an increased enrollment are good.

H. M. Burwell, auditor for the Southwestern Union Conference, has just completed auditing the academy books.

Principal A. R. Tucker is recovering from surgery. He and Mrs. Tucker are vacationing in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Goodwin are visiting for a month in California.

Olen Gilliam

Echoes of Oklahoma Bookmen

Three and one-half years ago, Olen Gilliam felt that God was calling him to the literature ministry. He pondered this matter in his mind and finally decided that if God was calling him, he could do nothing else but accept that call. He gave up a good job and said as Isaiah did of old, "Here am I, send me."

Brother Gilliam was so successful as a literature evangelist that the conference committee asked him to carry the full responsibility of first assistant in the publishing department. He is still saying, "Lord, here am I, send me." He will soon be moving to Oklahoma City to carry a heavier load in the literature work.

Oklahoma needs many more young men who will follow Brother Gilliam's example and join hands with the other literature workers to finish the work in this great state. Why not write your publishing secretary today for an interview and instructions as to how you can become a full-time worker for God.

Publishing Secretary.

Twin Oaks Evangelistic Meeting

During my visiting in the State of Oklahoma where I have been contacting prospective students for Southwestern Junior College, I happened to visit the community of Twin Oaks, which is in Cyril Miller's district.

There, in all of its enthusiasm and in a new SDA church, was an old-time evangelistic meeting being conducted by laymen from the Tulsa church. Over fifteen were nonmembers.

The song service, special music from Tulsa under the direction of former SWJC-ite, June Robbins, and the sermon of the evening were sincere and eloquent in their Christ-like simplicity.

Tulsa laymen who have planned and carried out the series in Twin Oaks are as follows: Sam Armstrong, Russell Caldwell, Arley Huff, and Wayne Hayes.

Wedding

On Sunday evening June 10, 1956, the Oklahoma City Seventh-day Adventist Church was the scene of a lovely wedding service for Miss Barbara Kinder of Oklahoma City and Mr. Alton LeBlanc of Port Arthur, Texas.

The silent shimmer of candlelight, the masterful arrangement of flowers, the lovely solos of Ed Thomas, June Robbins, and Francis Thomas, and the appropriate organ selections by J. E. Honeycutt, all combined to create an ideal atmosphere in which the young couple took their martial vows and exchanged their pledges of fidelity and affection.

Medical Students in Action

PART I

By C. DUDLEY TOMBLINSON

The eyes of the Mexican children were fixed with keen interest on William Hancock, pastor of the Austin district, as he told a story to a group of children and their parents gathered in an outpost village in Mexico. Mrs. Mascaranhas, a wife of one of the medical students from Monterrey, Mexico was interpreting the story. It was indeed a very interesting sight to observe these children as their eyes glanced back and forth from the storyteller to the interpreter.

William Hancock, pastor of the Austin district, tells a story to a branch Sabbath school in a mission outpost, Garcia Mexico, as Mrs. Mascaranhas (wife of medical student, Monterrey, Mexico) interprets.

This was one of the scenes that remains fresh in our memory from a recent trip to Monterrey for a visit with the 48 Seventh-day Adventist students studying medicine at the Medical School of Universidad de Nuevo Leon. At least 35 of these medical students are from the United States, studying to be doctors in a strange land, taking all of their classes in a foreign language. Since there is such a large group of English-speaking SDA students attending school in Monterrey, a church has been organized under the direction of G. C. Nickle. It was good to note that several of these of students are actively engaged in missionary work. The wives of these students conduct story hours for the children while the medics give free medical care to the poor people of these outpost villages.

The town which Elder Hancock and I were privileged to visit during such an occasion, was Garcia located in the foothills 20 miles from Monterrey. Since the only church in the town of Garcia is Catholic, it takes some time to break down prejudice and win the hearts of these people. Wilbur Schneider, Raul Mascaranhas and Adelio Rocco were the medics busy diagnosing and prescribing for the needy people of Garcia. These medics also make home calls to patients too sick to attend the clinic. We were privileged to go on one such visit and had the opportunity of seeing how these people live. This was a one room dwelling with a dirt floor and the chickens and other animals were allowed to come and go out of the home as they pleased. While they were busily engaged in this medical missionary work, Mrs. Mascaranhas and Mrs. Rocco were in a roofless room adjoining the clinic telling the children about Jesus and His wonderful love for them. Everything was going well until the priest of Garcia decided to put a stop to their endeavors.

Evangelism in Gainesville

The Gainesville church enthusiastically launched into a dual program of evangelism on July 29. On Sunday evening we opened a three-week series of meetings in a new tent. It is located on the grounds of the new Medical and Surgical Hospital, an ideal spot to reach a good class of people. Handbills were distributed announcing the meetings and also beautiful Vacation Bible School announcements were handed out on Sabbath afternoon before the meetings began. The Vacation Bible School started Monday, July 30, and ran all week, ending on Tuesday of the next week. Much earnest effort and prayer went into the planning and conducting of the school and the Lord has surely blessed. There were fifty-seven students enrolled, some of them coming from as far as Valley View and Sanger every day for seven days.

Mrs. Mary Stevens and Mrs. Pansy Cearly led out in the school and were assisted by Mrs. Delores Sanders, Linda and Gail Shaw, and Elder and Mrs. Voss. Mrs. R. R. Johnson and Mrs. Genelle Martin were in charge of providing refreshments each morning which was a very important service in the terrific heat wave which has prevailed all through the school. In spite of the heat, the children came faithfully every day.

The Bible School was conducted in the tent where there was ample room for classes and crafts to be taught. It was also a great blessing to the evangelistic meetings held in the tent in the evenings. A junior choir was organized and rendered our special music on three different nights. You can be sure the fathers and mothers of the children were there on those nights to hear their children sing. This helped increase our attendance at the night evangelistic meetings and people came and heard the advent message preached who would not have come at all otherwise. In this small town of Gainesville with a church membership of 40 members, our average attendance at the evangelistic meetings has been about sixty to seventy. A few times as many as one hundred attended.

On Tuesday evening a graduation service was held in connection with the evangelistic service. Instead of having a song service, the children gave a program of poems and memory verses they had learned at the Bible school. The story of the flood, Noah and the ark was illustrated by the children on flannel board. The children sang three special numbers which they learned during Bible school. There were fifty-seven certificates presented by the pastor, all tied with ribbon resembling real diplomas. Each child wore a beautifully glittered crown with blue stars indicating the number of days attended and a large gold star in the center of the crown for perfect attendance.

were from non-Adventist homes. So you see why each of us feel the Vacation Bible School and the evangelistic meetings were great success and why we are planning for an even better one next year.

Brother and Sister Robert Rider joined us on August 12, which brought another added blessing. Elder and Mrs. H. M. S. Will you remember these in prayer that in every place this message is being preached, a great harvest of souls may be reaped.

It Happened In Texas

★ The following word comes from Brother and Sister Robert McClen-don, regarding the meetings at Kerrville: "Our Kerrville effort closed August 12. Thus far eight have been baptized; four more are studying, and we expect to baptize them this Sabbath before we leave. The Lord has truly blessed."

★ Harold Richards, pastor of the Wichita Falls district, reports an excellent attendance at a special meeting on Tuesday night, August 14, of the Voice of Prophecy radio group. H. M. S. Richards spoke on the "Suez Crisis." Music was furnished by the King's Heralds and Bible school enrollments were obtained from many in attendance.

★ During the past twelve months the Wichita Falls Seventh-day Adventist Church has received 31-3/8 column inches of free news coverage, according to the church press secretary, Mrs. Walter McAbee.

★ D. E. Latham, manager of the Texas Book and Bible House, Mrs. Latham and son David, were visitors in the Denton, Texas, church on Sabbath, August 18. Brother Latham conducted the eleven o'clock hour and reported a good attendance.

★ August 11 was a high-day for colporteurs in the Fort Worth-Dallas area as they met in the Oakcliff church in Dallas for a rally. The eleven o'clock guest speaker was Altus E. Hayes, business manager of Southwestern Junior College. Following the noon meal provided by the membership of the church, an afternoon meeting of colporteur experiences was held. Student and regular colporteurs alike participated and a real challenge was presented to those attending to join the bookman army. Others participating in the program were John T. Mason, B. M. Wickwire, Herbert Morgan, and D. E. Latham.

★ A second Seventh-day Adventist church congregation is being planned for the city of Fort Worth. This group is meeting the northeast section of the city at the Birdwell High School and the official organization of the group into a church was accomplished under the direction of the conference officers on August 25. Leonard Webb, assistant treasurer of the Texas Conference, has been asked to pastor this group on a temporary basis in connection with his regular work.

Texico Regional Meetings

Camp meeting in the Texico Conference for 1956 was held in two sections which are usually called regional meetings.

The first one was held in Albuquerque, New Mexico, August 10-12. The second one was held in Lubbock, Texas, August 15-18. The total attendance at both meetings, we believe, would exceed the number who might have been present at the camp meeting in one place.

M. D. Howard

The Albuquerque Section

The meetings in Albuquerque opened Friday night with a very fine presentation of the subject of prayer by N. F. Brewer, one of the field secretaries of the General Conference. Elder Brewer also brought to us the message at the eleven o'clock hour Sabbath morning, and the preaching service on Sunday morning. His was a series on Christian experience that will long be remembered by those who were there.

Saturday night W. L. Barclay, former Sabbath school and home missionary secretary for the Southern Asia Division, presented a color film of conditions in India under which our missionaries work. He brought a second film Sunday night after the preaching service, showing more of the actual work being done in that section of the mission field. These films, together with Elder Barclay's mission talks during the Sabbath school hour, really brought into our meetings a strong mission atmosphere.

Excellent help was given in various lines of the work by our union conference representatives, R. A. Nesmith and Reuben Schneider.

With a fine attendance at all the meetings in Albuquerque, we would say the Albuquerque regional meeting was very successful. Offerings including pledges for this meeting total $1,135.

The Lubbock Meeting

The opening feature of our Lubbock meetings was the personal appearance of H. M. S. Richards, the Voice of Prophecy speaker, with J. O. Iversen, his announcer, and the King's Heralds. Wednesday night, the sermon Thursday morning, and the meeting Thursday night, the preaching of Elder Richards and the singing of the King's Heralds really thrilled our hearts.

W. P. Bradley, an associate secretary of the General Conference, gave us much thought provoking material in regard to Christian education and also on Sabbath morning in the worship hour on the progress of our work.

Reuben Schneider and Bruce Wickwire were our union representatives at Lubbock, and both brought courage and strength to our believers. J. M. Jackson from the Review and Herald was also present to assist Elders Wickwire and Spiva in special meetings for our literature evangelists.

The attendance at the Lubbock meetings was excellent and the offerings, including pledges, amounted to $1,662.

Departmental

Our departments were well cared for during the hours assigned to the study of soul-winning topics. G. M. Schram presented both Sabbath school and home missionary plans. J. D. Spiva with his district supervisors and literature evangelists brought a very interesting program to both the Albuquerque and Lubbock meetings. F. H. Hewitt was in charge of the Missionary Volunteer meetings and also sponsored the promotion of Christian education. Our Book and Bible House, under the management of H. W. Pritchard, had a fine display of Adventist literature, and many books were purchased and taken home.

School Representatives

Our schools and colleges were represented as follows: For Union College, Dean M. S. Culver and Mrs. Culver and their son Donald, were present at both meetings. Professor and Mrs. H. L. Caviness were also present in both Albuquerque and Lubbock to represent Southwestern Junior College. The new business manager of Southwestern Junior College, Altus Hayes, with his wife, was present at the Lubbock meeting. And our own academy, Sandia View, was represented by its new principal, I. V. Stonebrook, and F. H. Hewitt represented our church schools.

Places of Meeting

On Friday night and Sabbath the Albuquerque meetings were held in the beautiful Central Methodist Church. The hospitality and kindness of the minister and directors of this church were outstanding. The Lubbock meetings all through the week and on Sabbath were held in the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church. This church organization, after a fire, was permitted to use our Seventh-day Adventist Church for a number of months. They in turn very graciously made available for our meetings their beautiful new church, seating over 600.

General

We believe our dear believers took a step ahead in their Christian experience as they sensed the presence of the Holy Spirit during this camp meeting season. The sermons and special musical numbers appealed strongly to our hearts. We realized more than ever that probation's hour is fast drawing to a close, that we are living in a time when by special command the four winds of strife are being held in check until God's servants shall receive His seal. Let us put all sin out of our lives, and get ready for the soon coming Saviour.

M. D. HOWARD,
President.

Sullivan New Pastor

The appointment of Don K. Sullivan as district pastor for the Roswell, Carlsbad, Hagerman district was announced shortly after a recent conference committee meeting. Brother Sullivan has been working in this conference for the past three years as pastor-teacher in Las Cruces. His appointment to the new district is to care for the pastoral work of those churches. He replaces Carl Rose who has been transferred to the Abilene district.

With Ivan Henry, Brother Sullivan has been conducting an evangelistic effort in Hobbs, New Mexico, which is also a part of this new district to which he has been appointed. The seed has been sown and there is evidence that there will be a fruitage from the effort. Our readers surely will pray that the Lord will bless Brother Sullivan and his family in their new district responsibilities.

Pathfinder Camporee in Texico

It's six o'clock Friday morning, July 20, in beautiful Holy Ghost Canyon. The thermometer, nailed to a tall Douglass Fir near our tent, reads exactly 40°, which is a bit chilly in summertime, especially when you have just crawled out of a warm sleeping bag and no one has any fire going yet. It's time for reveille, and there she blows:

"I can't get 'em up, I can't get 'em up,"

But somehow it does get 'em up! Listen!—someone's already dressed and chopping wood. The sound echos through the canyon forest. Then there are voices, and the quiet, sleeping camp suddenly comes to life. Wisps of smoke begin to curl skyward as a dozen campfires smolder and then burst into welcome warm flames. A good hot breakfast is soon on its way as some 100 Pathfinders, including counselors and leaders, bestir themselves for a very busy day.

We cannot tell all the story here—if you want to know more, ask Mrs. Roberts and her Carrizozo Pathfinders about the little fawn that came wandering into their camp, frightened and out of breath; get Elliott Fortner and those who were with him to tell you about the beaver dam they discovered and how those husky lumberjacks fell tall aspens with their sharp axes.

And if you weren't there yourself on Sabbath for Sabbath school out in a most lovely aspen grove where God came so near at Patty Farley and the "Mountain View" Pathfinders conducted the service, you did miss something.

Get Elder Nesmith to tell you about a most interesting MV meeting that afternoon beside the cool, sparkling stream that was our pure water supply for the camp.

But when it comes to fun and excitement, just ask any Pathfinder who was there the Sunday Camporee contests and games which netted the Albuquerque club first, and Amarillo and Sandia View follow-up spots in number of points won. Captain Jack Hardaker did a fine job of engineering this program consisted of relay races, string-burning contest, jumping contests, and others.

The campfire hours were glorious events under a New Mexico moon that shown full through the nights we were there. It is a most beautiful place indeed—this 8500 ft. high canyon, ringed by towering spruce and pine clad mountains, and watered by cold, snow-fed streams.

It is a place where deer and elk feed in its cool, grassy meadows, and little chipmunks steal goodies out of your lunch basket when your back is turned. It is a place where a fine group of Texico Pathfinders had a lot of fun on their 1956 CAMPOREE!

McMurray On Radio

In San Angelo, James O. McMurray, the local elder of our Seventh-day Adventist Church, has been privileged to speak eight times over KPEP radio station on Sunday mornings at 9:30. A number of comments have come in desiring that these radio talks continue. Some have expressed their opinion that these talks are the most wonderful they have heard. Another said they had been encouraged by them to want to live in harmony with God's Word through faith in Christ.

We can understand by these comments that this lay radio effort is accomplishing much for the kingdom of God.

Rose Is New Abilene Pastor

Carl Rose has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the pastorate of the Abilene, San Angelo, Sweetwater district. Our readers will remember that A. J. Stewart was called to mission service, and we have asked Carl Rose, who has served well in the Carlsbad district for some time, to move to Abilene to take charge of the district over there.

Already we have had expressions of appreciation for Elder Rose coming back into that district. He served as an assistant in that district some three or four years ago, and will not come back as a stranger.

May the Lord richly bless him as he takes up his duties in that very important district.

Clayton Vacation Bible School

The program that closed the Vacation Bible School in Clayton was truly inspiring! As the two-week session came to a close on July 26, many were surprised to find that the enrollment totaled 41, especially since there were only six member children in attendance! We were so thankful for interest displayed by both students and teachers.

A special feature was the prayer band that some of the junior class requested. Some asked if Sister Hines, their teacher, would help them learn to pray. Several remained each day, voluntarily giving up a portion of their play period, to learn and practice prayer.

Several of the children were from Catholic homes—the result of groundwork laid by Sister Galvin's Sabbath school held each Sunday afternoon.

Some nonmembers are already showing an interest in our church school, and seven nonmember children were at church the first Sabbath.

The Clayton church is already starting to plan for a bigger and better Vacation Bible School for next year, as we continue to see the workings of God in our first such endeavor.

Roswell District Meeting

It all began with a telephone conversation with Reuben Schneider, Southwestern Union Bible School director.

We refer to the Roswell district meeting which was held in the First Baptist Church of Hageman, New Mexico, the Sabbath of July 21. Actually, the meeting began Friday evening with a service in charge of G. M. Schram, Sabbath school and home missionary secretary for the Texico Conference. In spite of the many miles between the churches of this district, the service was well attended and the message was a call to be more faithful in witnessing for the Lord.

At 9:30 a.m. approximately 175 voices joined in the opening number of a rousing song service. Milton Greer was in charge of the Sabbath school program. The inspiration that was received during the eleven o'clock hour will surely bear fruit for the kingdom of heaven. The Lord came very close to His people through His faithful servant, Reuben Schneider.

Elder Schram led out in the afternoon program, and other participants included Elder Schneider and H. L. Caviness of Southwestern Junior College, who spoke on Christian Education. One of our faithful colporteurs, Kenneth Cox, related an interesting experience and I want to share it with you in his own words.

"I was canvassing in Eunice, New Mexico about 6:15 Sunday evening. I had just knocked at a home when a station wagon came up to the curb. A man stepped out and said, 'That's where I live, can I help you?' By that time the lady of the house was at the door so I told her I would speak to her husband. As I turned and started toward the station wagon, I noticed that it was full of young people. Stepping nearer I said, 'I am Mr. Cox and am working with the Crusade for Youth.'

Looking on are Gilbert Qualls, Clovis, and Sue Weber, Plainview. All three students are planning to enter SWJC this fall.

"Oh, yes, I know!" he said, 'I'm on my way up to the church right now, won't you meet me there?' I said that I would and got in my car and drove up to his church. The church was full of young people, and the minister invited me to be seated. Soon he was saying, 'Young people, Mr. Cox is here, a representative of Crusade for Youth, a world-wide movement for youth, and we will turn the next 45 minutes over to him.'

"I didn't know exactly what was happening, but it has been said, 'Take no thought what you will say, for the Lord will give you words.' So I talked to them for what seemed like a long 45 minutes on the juvenile problems we are having and how they can help by leading other young people to the Lord. Then their pastor talked to them about how they should stand true for what they believe to be right.

"He then turned to me and said, 'Mr. Cox, our Westminster fellowship is a group of young people who have dedicated their lives to the Lord to live for Him day by day. Would you talk to them now about how to live daily Christian lives?' After the meeting he asked me if I would like to talk to him for a few minutes, and I welcomed the opportunity.

"I canvassed him on a set of our books which he purchased. Just before I left he said, 'I don't know why I asked you to speak to these young people. I have never done this before, but I have been richly blessed.'

My prayer is that each Seventh-day Adventist will be as faithful in speaking for the Lord at every opportunity as this colporteur.

The members of the Roswell district are looking forward to that greatest of all meetings when the redeemed of all ages will stand before the throne of the universe and see their God and Saviour face to face. What a day that will be!

"A Great ReBible"

A native, writing to a friend about the great REVIVAL they were having in India said they were having a great "REBIBLE." The Fort Smith, Arkansas Seventh-day Adventist Church has recently had a "Great ReBible," also.

R. B. Thurmon, Little Rock district pastor, conducted a ten-day series of meetings, assisted by the writer and lay members. It was held in the Adventist church auditorium.

This truly was a mountain-top experience (a revival in its truest connotation) for the members of the church. Christ was so vividly transfigured in each fundamental doctrine our people cherish. Hearts of the members literally BURNED within them.

A couple desirous of baptism moved to Arizona just before the meetings terminated. Word has reached us that they are attending an Adventist church where they now reside and continuing to study before their baptism. Another lady who attended during the revival, expressed her desire to join the church back in her home town. Her home town, incidentally, is in Elder Thurmon's district.

Many, many visitors attended and as a result, openings for follow-up work resulted. Studies are being given. Also, a Bible Study Training Class will be terminating soon to follow up this "GREAT REBIBLE."

Georgetown, Louisiana Church Dedication

Sabbath, July 28 the believers of Georgetown saw fulfilled their long-looked for church dedication. Martin Shain held a tent effort here three years ago after which he organized a church of about 25 members and also began to erect a church building on the outskirts of the town on Highway 165. After two years of further hard labor soliciting material and funds and a lot of manual labor, this house of God was ready for dedication July 28.

I. M. Evans, the conference president, gave the dedicatory sermon; Martin Shain gave the history of the church and the writer gave the dedicatory prayer; Ray Stephens, of the Monroe district, and Elder J. J. Millet also assisted in this service. Visitors at this dedication were from Alexandria, Jonesboro and Monroe.

In connection with this dedication, plans had been laid to begin a series of evangelistic services the night after the dedication and a two-pole tent had been pitched beside the church and all was in readiness for this soul-winning effort to begin after the dedication. At this writing, the meetings in the tent have been in progress two weeks; so far we are confident that the Lord led us in forming this plan, for about three or four families have been regular attenders at all of these services. Elder Millet is doing the preaching and Brother and Sister Mark Dickinson are in charge of the music.

Satan has used every possible way to prevent these meetings since they began; twice the tent has been blown down, but every time it was up and in shape for the next service; not one service has been missed because of the rain and storm which we have encountered. We are all of good courage and our eyes are upon the Lord, trusting that He will send legions of heavenly angels to wrest souls from the powers of darkness.

W. H. WESTERMEYER, Pastor

"In the Morning Sow Thy Seed . . ."

"I went to church last Sabbath and had a pleasant time. I met the pastor and heard his message on tithing which was very inspiring to me. Brother Thurmon, I am sending a check for my tithe."

This is an excerpt from a letter received from a man in California who recently took our 20th Century Bible Correspondence Course and is a listener to our daily radio program from Benton, Arkansas. When I visited him a few weeks ago, he informed me that he was interested in becoming a member of our church. He attended a few Sabbath services and then had to make a trip to California. Soon he will be returning.

Thus we see the various mediums that God uses to bring His people to a full decision for present truth — the Bible course, the radio sermon, the pastor's message in a distant state. "In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good." Eccles. 11:6.

Little Rock District Laymen Arise To the Challenge

We had hoped to have thirty people enrolled in the Laymen's Bible Training Course the weekend W. G. Larson, conference home missionary secretary, showed the film "The Living Link," and made an appeal for people to join the training class. Our hopes were more than realized, for more than fifty persons signed for the course.

For the next few weeks, this laymen's training program will take priority in the Little Rock district. On Wednesday and Friday nights the class is being taught in Little Rock by the pastor. On Monday nights in Pine Bluff and Wednesday nights in Benton, George Green, associate pastor, is conducting similar classes.

The interest manifested thus far in the course is a clear indication of the sincere desire that our people have to personally conduct Bible studies with their friends and neighbors.

Certainly it is time for the laymen and ministers to rise up for the finishing of God's work.

R. B. THURMON.

Report from the Little Rock District

"The best thing our church has ever done."—"Better than a Detamore-Turner-Holley series of meetings."—"Just what we've been needing."

These are just a few of the favorable comments coming from the Little Rock district where the "Training Light Bearers" classes are being conducted in the churches of Benton, Little Rock and Pine Bluff. R. B. Thurmon has a large class in the Little Rock church. The whole church attends the meetings in Benton and Pine Bluff.

Literature Evangelist Wilkins is conducting S.A.V.E. studies with our faithful company at Stuttgart. The writer attended one such meeting recently and came away having heard one of the best sermons in his life.

Several non-Adventists are in attendance at each of the churches for these meetings. One good Methodist lady asked the wife of one of the local elders if she could attend the class. Needless to say, she has joined the class.

This writer was invited to assist an "Andrew" type church brother with giving Bible studies to one of his long-time acquaintances. "You know," our brother commented, "I've been wanting to do this for a long time, and I feel it is now or never." I want you to know he has quite a fire burning in the hearts of his friend and the wife and daughter.

The Pine Bluff members are rejoicing over the interest created from good works. It all came about this way—a Christmas basket with food and literature to a needy widow and her two teenage boys. Results? Voice of Prophecy course completed and real interest being followed up by the church and pastor.

God has his jewels all over this conference but we must get out the "broom and sweep diligently to find these precious coins." And when we do, our joy will become contagious.

The Stuttgart group is begging for meetings to be held there. Pine Bluff is asking for the same. Benton fills the church every meeting with few exceptions, hoping for a great influx of souls so they will be forced to enlarge their "tents." And the young people! Thank God for them! Their zeal and enthusiasm to hasten that Great Glad Day is spurring the older ones on to do a little more than has been done in the past.

Little Rock is fast approaching the completion of its new church auditorium so meetings can begin soon in this capital city.

Great issues are before us. The time is ripe! The harvest is ready, but the laborers are few. Join us brethren, even if it interferes with "other business," because we're on the homeward trail!

Keep our district in your prayers, please.

GEORGE GREEN, Asst. Pastor.

Report From Lake Charles District

The work continues to move forward in the Lake Charles district. Recently Ray Stephens from Monroe conducted a two-week series of meetings in our DeRidder church which resulted in four new members being added. Now we are laying plans to begin a series of meetings in Lake Charles Beginning September 16.

Joe L. Ray

Brother Mark Dickinson from Hammond, Louisiana will be our new church school teacher this year. Prospects look bright for a good enrollment. We are happy to welcome several new families who have recently moved here.

Both the DeRidder and Lake Charles churches have voted to place the book, Highways To Heaven in the leading motels of the two cities.

Mrs. Grace Kemmerly, leader of the Dorcas society, reports that plans are under way to have a booth at the county fair in October. Our objective in all our projects and activities is to win souls.

JOE L. RAY, Pastor.

News Notes

◆ J. S. Jameson, pastor of the Gentry district, called the office when passing through Little Rock (Tuesday 8/14/56) enroute to Cleveland, Ohio. His father had suddenly passed away. Soon after the funeral he plans to return to his district. Our sympathy goes out to Brother Jameson at this time.

◆ Visitors in the Little Rock office recently were E. H. Lehnhoff, Shreveport district pastor and P. D. Gerrard, public relations director of the Christian Record Benevolent Association, Lincoln, Nebraska.

◆ I. M. Evans visited the Lake Charles church August 18.

◆ Roy B. Thurmon has kept busy with his radio program heard over KBBA Benton, Arkansas, at 12 o'clock noon five days a week. Every Sabbath he conducts a Sabbath service at Benton, then rushes back to Little Rock for the eleven o'clock hour.

◆ Victor J. Rice, former publishing secretary for the Texico Conference who was called to serve in the Arkansas-Louisiana Conference is now located with his family in their new home at 27 Fairmont Drive, Little Rock. We welcome Elder Rice and his fine family to our conference.

◆ August 11, W. G. Larson, home missionary and Sabbath school secretary for the conference, met with the newly organized Helena Company. Wayne W. Welborn, manager of the Book and Bible House served as visiting minister in the Pine Bluff church. In the afternoon he spoke to the faithful company of believers at Stuttgart.

A Lesson from Elisha

Elisha was very busy trying to get the spring plowing done when Elijah appeared and asked him to come follow him. No doubt Elisha was a successful farmer of his day, enjoying a comfortable living. The Lord didn't call him because he had a better paying job for him, or even a life of ease, but He had a more important place for him to fill.

There is something in this story of the life of Elisha that we, as members of God's remnant church, should think about. He was a busy, successfully doing a good work when God called him. As we read of others God has called, we always find that they were busy and successful in the line of work they were doing. David was in the field with the sheep when Samuel came to anoint him king. Moses was tending his father-in-law's herd when the Lord appeared in the burning bush asking him to deliver His people from Egypt. Peter was carrying on a successful fishing business when Jesus said, "Come and I'll make you fishers of men."

Today God is calling men and women from every walk of life who are successful in their work to come and unite themselves to Him in service. Our call today is given when we look out and see thousands who are perishing in the darkness of this world without a knowledge of God's great love for them. Perhaps God is laying a burden on your heart for them, but you don't know what you can do to help them.

One of the best ways I know of to give the message for this time is through literature evangelism. The canvassing work provides a way for us to work full time giving the message and at the same be self-supporting. Remember Elisha was enjoying a comfortable living and a successful business, but when the call came he killed the oxen and burned the yoke and plow; now, he wouldn't have anything to go back to. Moreover, Elisha's daily needs were taken care of, too.

"Jesus is calling for many missionaries,—for men and women who will consecrate themselves to God, willing to spend and be spent in His service. Oh, can we not remember that here is a world to labor for? Shall we not move forward step by step, letting God use us as His helping hand? Shall we not place ourselves on the altar of service? Then the love of Christ will touch and transform us, make us willing for His sake to do and dare." Review and Herald, January 7, 1903.

Won't you answer the call of the Master and enter the Literature Ministry? There you can work in His Service until the close of probation.

DELMER COOK, Asst. Secretary
Publishing Department.

Why I Am A Colporteur

There are many reasons why I am a colporteur. First of all, I will say that a colporteur carries a message of glad tidings concerning the Lord Jesus Christ. When the Lord calls a person into His church, He calls them for service. According to the Holy Scriptures we are all to be servants of the living God. I do

The Physical Plant

1. Where should the home be located?

"As the location for a home is sought, . . . consider what will tend most to simplicity, purity, health, and real worth. The world over, cities are becoming hotbeds of vice." MH, p. 363.

2. What possession is very desirable?
"Fathers and mothers who possess a piece of land and a comfortable home are kings and queens." F. Ed., p. 327.

3. In what ways is this possession a benefit to the children?

"They (children) should have a garden to cultivate, where they might find both amusement and useful employment. The training of plants and flowers tends to the improvement of taste and judgment." 4T, p. 136.

4. Does God notice the way our homes look on the outside?

"God loves the beautiful. . . . He desires us to surround our homes with the beauty of natural things." MH, p. 370.

5. Where would you suggest that mother be employed?

"There can be no employment more important than that of housework." 3T, p. 158.

6. Can she fulfill her religious duties at home?

"It is a religious duty for those who cook to learn how to prepare healthful food in different ways, so that it may be eaten with enjoyment." 1T, p. 682.

7. Is it wise for mother to work away from home to help provide the "better things of life"?

"Elaborate and expensive furnishings are a waste not only of money, but of that which is a thousandfold more precious. They bring into the home a heavy burden of care and labor and perplexity." MH, p. 367.

8. Should the home have modern conveniences?

"Be sure to provide the facilities that will lighten labor and promote health and comfort. . . . Furnish your home with things plain and simple, things that will bear handling, that can be easily kept clean, and that can be replaced without great expense." MH, 369,370.

9. Who shares in this home work?

"The approval of God rests with loving assurance upon children and youth who cheerfully take their part in the duties of the household, sharing the burdens of father and mother. Such children will go out from the home to be useful members of society." DA, p. 72.

10. Who observes all this work done in our home?

"We are made a theatre unto the world, both to angels and to men."

CHILD GUIDANCE

Good mothers feed their families intelligently. Good health means good dispositions.

Argiope, the Weaver

Come out in the garden, Bobby, I want you to get acquainted with Argiope. There she is right in the middle of that big web. Of course, she is only a spider, but look at those yellow bands she wears! and those long legs, and look again at that wonderful home she has made for herself! Be careful, son, you have shaken the bush that holds her web. See how she vibrates her body and in that way causes her web to spring back and forth like a web of rubber bands. That is a signal to attract our attention. She doesn't want us to spoil her beautiful residence and place of business.

Come a little closer and you can see the winding stairs. It is that heavy, wide, zigzagging band of web radiating out from the center to the lower border of her home. These strands of web coming out from the center like the spokes of a wheel are the foundation structure for her house. There are fifteen of them and the longest one about two feet in length. These spokes are not sticky. Their purpose is to hold up the other part of the net and to provide a highway over which the spider can travel safely to all parts of her domain. Starting in the center of these spokes Argiope spins her sticky web by going around and around in ever increasing spirals making the web fast to each spoke as she passes.

We must come out here with a flashlight some night and watch her work for she does most of her spinning in the dark. Some people call her The Garden Spider, or The Harvest Spider for you can usually find her large, well-made webs in the autumn. Run to the house and get the paint vapor sprayer and that piece of black paper on the back porch. We will spray this web with a very fine spray of white enamel, mount it on the black paper and hang it on the wall of your room where mother, you and I can examine it at leisure. I'm sure our friend Argiope will be glad to weave us another masterpiece this evening for us to admire and learn more about.

not believe that a person can truly be a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ and not be active in the Lord's work in some way.

When I first became a member of God's remnant church, I became active and I prayed much that if God had a place for me that He would lead me into that particular phase of work. I also came to the realization that there can be no higher calling than to be in the colporteur ministry. God has answered my prayer by revealing to me His great love which He manifested by sacrificing His only Son.

When Christ was here on this earth He fulfilled the Law of God, and in doing so, His life was a life of service to others. We must have the same characteristics of our Lord and Saviour in order to fulfill the requirements of loving "thy neighbor as thyself." I now put myself in the other person's place and see that he, too, loves eternal life the same as I do. And when I go as a worker for God and place the living words of God in his hands, I know that as he reads, this word can transform his heart.

In being a colporteur I saw that I could reach those I loved so dearly whom I could not have reached in any other way. When the Lord Jesus Christ comes, I want to be among those to whom He shall say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant: . . . enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Matthew 25:21.

Charles was recently baptized during the Detamore-Turner-Holley meeting in Tulsa, and will be training for the ministry this fall.

★★ Altus Hayes, business manager and H. L. Caviness, head of the commercial department, represented SWJC at the Texico Conference regional meeting in Lubbock, Texas, August 15-18. Caviness has been soliciting for students in west Texas and New Mexico since July 2. To date applications from that field are nearly three times what they were last year. The Texico Conference now has their own academy, so solicitation has been for college students only.

★★ Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gruesbeck and their two boys, Kevin and Keith, have just arrived on the campus. Mr. Gruesbeck is the new pressroom foreman for the College Press. They come from Forest Lake Academy, Maitland, Florida.

★★ Applications received at the registrar's office as of August 15 are the highest in the history of SWJC. To date 461 applications have been processed by the admissions committee. The next highest record is the year 1952 when 409 had been processed as of August 15.

★★ Latest arrival on the campus is L. E. Davis, who is joining SWJC staff as an instructor in the commercial department, and also serve as assistant accountant in the business office. Davis comes to the college from Maplewood Academy where he has been doing similar duties.

★★ The College Store has been completely air conditioned. The building was constructed several years ago with air conditioning in the plans, but the installation was not made until this month because of finances.
