"Smoke Signals"

M. A. JONES,

General Conference Temperance Department

What is the best motive for quitting smoking? Is smoking an addiction? Should a person quit gradually or all at once? What can you do when that irresistible urge sweeps over your withdrawal-wracked frame?

These questions and many others trying-to-quit smokers are asking themselves following the shattering Surgeon General's Advisory Committee smoking report. The answers appear in the February Smoke Signals, a tobacco information publication published by the American Temperance Society.

Entitled "So You Want to Quit,"

this issue of Smoke Signals shows the smoker how to go about it when he seriously wants to kick the habit. Pointing the way are Elman J. Folkenberg and J. Wayne McFarland, M.D., co-creators of the well-known Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking clinics currently being conducted around the country.

The publication discusses why a smoker begins and continues to smoke. It tells the smoker the best ways to eliminate nicotine from his or her system and how to muster up willpower in a concentrated effort.

Noting some of the benefits of non-smoking, Smoke Signals says: "No more smoker's throat. No chronic bronchial cough. No more palpitation, but a quiet, steady heart, a calm pulse, a sweet breath, a clean mouth, a relaxed body, and a mind in control of itself. You are no longer addicted to a pack of cigarettes and a box of matches."

This is the issue of Smoke Signals that Seventh-day Adventists will have in their churches on February 22 for dissemination to the public. What an opportunity for witnessing with the temperance message at this time of terror for many of the smoking public.

For the present at least, married men will not be drafted. The draft calls still remain high. This means that the age at which young men are called will drop, and a closer look at college students and their status will become more important. Young men in college should keep their draft boards informed to prevent those being drafted who are satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of studies. This applies not only to ministerial students, but to all students. Keep your draft board informed!

Children's interest in Sabbath school is increased by use of effective illustrative material. The Pacific Press in cooperation with the Sabbath School Department has prepared some items that may help the leaders.

Activity Pictures generate this added interest. We have two sets of twenty-four pictures each showing boys and girls performing acts of kindness and developing helpful traits of character. Printed in three colors on sheets 11x14 inches and sold only in sets at $1.95 per set.

Silhouette Stories of Ellen G. White and the Message. The early experiences of the church become more vivid when presented with this set of twelve stories with guide sheets concerning the life of Mrs. White. Sold only in sets. Per set, $11.25.

To add interest regarding the life of Ellen G. White, 4x5 pictures are available at six cents each, or when ordering fifteen or more, they are five cents each.

Miscellaneous pictures. A set of thirty black silhouettes on white sheets 17½x23 inches at $2.25. Why not write us an order for your needs and be right up to date with the times. Be sure to add your sales tax and order through your local book and Bible house.

And, of course, be sure that your folk have plenty of Our Little Friend and Primary Treasure.

TITHERS NONE THE POORER

In Volume 3 of the Testimonies, pages 388 and 389, we are told, "He (God) has given His people a plan for raising sums sufficient to make the enterprise self-sustaining. God's plan in the tithing system is beautiful in its simplicity and equality. All may take hold of it in faith and courage, for it is divine in its origin. . . . All may feel that they can act a part in carrying forward the precious work of salvation. . . . If one and all would accept it, each would be made a vigilant and faithful treasurer for God; and there would be no want of means with which to carry forward the great work of sounding the last message of warning to the world. The treasury will be full if all adopt this system, and the contributors will not be left the poorer."

Arkansas-Louisiana Extends Welcome to the Wardrops

We are happy to introduce the J. H. Wardrop family. Elder Wardrop, who has been serving in the Wyoming Conference, is the new pastor of the Texarkana district. He succeeds Elder J. L. Bowers, who has accepted a call to the Oklahoma Conference.

Elder Wardrop is a native of the state of Michigan. He has served in various fields in the publishing and pastoral work. Elder Wardrop is known to many in Arkansas and Louisiana because of his literature evangelist work here some years ago.

We are happy to have the Wardrops in our conference.

◆ The new Sapulpa church building is in use. It has been occupied since last August. Pearly brick is the decor on the outside. Much remains to be finished inside, but the furnace is operating, and there is temporary seating.

◆ Bartlesville reports a very successful school year thus far. This is the second year that their church school has operated. Miss Leona March is the teacher there.

◆ The church officers' meeting at Ardmore on Sabbath, January 11, was a great success from the standpoint of attendance. Strong representations were evident from Eagletown, Mannsville, Achille, and Davis. Elder Earl Cleek, district leader, gave strong support to the program.

◆ Dr. L. E. C. Joers was guest speaker at the Central church here in Oklahoma City on Sabbath, January 25. He is Medical Secretary for the Oklahoma Conference and takes speaking appointments throughout the field from time to time.

◆ Brother Charles Martin, administrator for the Ardmore Sanitarium and Hospital, reports strong patronage for the month of December. His operating statements show gains all along the line.

◆ Brother Norman Wagness reports progress on the church at Pryor. Gradually the building is being enclosed in spite of winter winds. The new church at Tahlequah is yet farther advanced in construction.

Suburban District Ingathering Victory

Through the invincible combination of the Lord's rich blessing and faithful, hard work, the newly-formed Suburban District achieved the coveted Silver Vanguard status in the recent Ingathering Campaign plus an $800 overflow. To celebrate this wonderful victory, the four churches of the district, Choctaw, Norman, Chickasha, and El Reno, came together for a Victory lunch and program on January 12 at the Oklahoma City church school auditorium.

After a delicious lunch, directed by Sister Vera Wolfe of Choctaw, Elder W. G. Larson was introduced as Master of Ceremonies. Elder W. A. Dessain, our conference president, gave a brief appreciation speech and commemorative poem for the occasion, which he had composed especially for the event.

Receiving comeback checks for local welfare were each of the local church treasurers: Sister Irene Bird for Choctaw; Sister Lillian Vaughn for Norman; Sister Freda Risberg for Chickasha, and Brother Woodrow Baker for El Reno. Brother Ernest Wolfe of Choctaw made some observations and suggestions for next year's Ingathering campaign.

The final part of the day's activities featured Dr. G. M. Risberg from Chickasha. Dr. Risberg brought an interesting and educational lecture on flags of the world.

Branch Sabbath Schools

The Ardmore church conducts a branch Sabbath school at Healdton, Oklahoma, a small town about 25 miles west of Ardmore. Two years ago the former pastor, Elder George Lindquist, held a series of meetings there and as a result the branch

Evangelistic Team for Oklahoma

W. A. DESSAIN, President,
Oklahoma Conference

Sabbath school was organized and meets every Sabbath afternoon at 2:30. Brother J. W. Crews of the Ardmore church leads out and promotes the program there very well. There are about 25 in attendance each week, and the offerings make it self-supporting. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have a branch Sabbath school in every small town of our conference?

The Achille church is located about 50 miles southeast of Ardmore. They are wishing for a branch Sabbath school in Durant, a town of comparative good size. The members are scouting around to find a suitable place in which to meet and are stirring up an interest in that direction.

We have a small branch Sabbath school group meeting in Sopor which is 80 miles east of Ardmore. Brother and Sister Joe Ingle are fostering that program in a fine way in and around that community. Sometimes several people not of our faith meet with us. There are interests there, and the Ingles are watching over that part of the work.

There are several small towns in and around our area where branch Sabbath schools should be established. We are working and praying to that end.

EARL M. CLEEK,

Pastor, Ardmore District.

Monday, January 20, our Conference Executive Committee voted favorably to form an Evangelistic Team for Oklahoma as early in 1964 as is workable and possible. This team will be comprised of a young, inexpensive evangelist and a song leader and assistant (an intern). It is felt that this would give our evangelism a decided thrust here in Oklahoma and would fill a need of long standing.

The personnel of this team is still in the future. Immediate study is being given to calling a man from a list of prospective candidates for the office of state evangelist. The general plan will be for the team to hold from two to four meetings a year in designated spots in our Oklahoma field.

The Courageous Dr. Kate

Kate Lindsay, M.D., written by Kathryn Jensen Nelson, brings a most interesting revelation of the life of a Seventh-day Adventist pioneer and her contribution to the many phases of the humanitarian work of her church.

The story of Catherine Lindsay, commonly known as Dr. Kate, is a story revealing courage, determination, and hope of a woman who dedicated herself to the task of building physical, mental, and spiritual strength in the lives of her fellowmen to aid in overcoming the problems of her day.

Since her death, many have sought to know more about this dominant character, who, inspite of seemingly insurmountable difficulties, gained for herself a name in nursing, who became also a distinguished student in a university where she was one of the first women admitted to its School of Medicine.

Kate Lindsay's life paralleled those stirring years of the last half of the nineteenth century and practically all of the twentieth century. It took courage of an unusual nature in those days to lead out in a new field of thought, but in her veins ran the Scotch blood which contained the necessary ingredients to bring about success.

The author reveals the human-interest side of the life of Dr. Kate in this biographical sketch and brings about a genuine appreciation in the mind of the reader for one who has done so much for the development of the Medical work among Seventh-day Adventists.

The price is only $3.75 plus tax and postage. Order your copy today from the Oklahoma Book and Bible House, Box 528, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73101.

MV Officers' Council - Austin, Texas

It was a thrill to see the response to our conference-wide MV Officers' Council held in the Austin church the first Sabbath of the new year. One hundred twenty-five were in attendance, and almost every district in the conference was represented. We were especially blessed in having Elder Theodore Lucas, our world youth leader, at this Council, and also Elder Frank Sherrill, our own Southwestern Union MV Secretary. They were an inspiration to us all.

There was a wonderful response from our MV officers as MV TARGET 3000 was presented. As our MV officers left the council for their home churches, they did so determined to make 1964 a historic year in youth evangelism.

The youth of Texas now have MV TARGET 3000 off the ground. Watch it go as others join in. Friendship Teams, Branch Sabbath Schools, Operation Fireside, and Voice of Youth

Texico

On the Go With Texico!

▶ W. S. Hancock, pastor of the Lubbock church, was guest speaker at the First Methodist Church of Lubbock, Sunday evening, January 5. At the close of the service a senior student from Texas Tech College asked to visit with Elder Hancock. While discussing Adventist beliefs the student expressed a desire to know more; he was enrolled in the Voice of Prophecy Bible Course. Further visits are planned.

▶ Members of the Midland church were organized into visitation teams during the Sabbath morning Home Missionary program on January 11. Mrs. Clara Summers, Home Missionary leader, reports an enthusiastic response as each group of four received the names and addresses of new Midland residents to call on during the coming week. Our goal is to see each church member active in missionary endeavor during 1964.

▶ Mrs. James Meade and daughter, Margie, family of the Amarillo pastor, were involved in a one-car accident January 6. Mrs. Meade suffered three broken ribs and a fractured clavicle; Margie sustained lacerations to the left leg.

▶ Energetic soul-winning endeavors are in the air for the Alamogordo district, according to Pastor Eugene E. Johnson. His churches pledge their support in helping Texico reach its 3,000-membership goal.

Dedication Services of the Clayton, New Mexico, Church

"We dedicate this sanctuary." The members of the Clayton, New Mexico, church were thrilled to repeat these words on Sabbath, December 21, 1963. Their new church is made of red brick with laminated beams and decking. It has a beautiful stained glass window behind the baptistry at the front of the church. By the day of dedication, the sanctuary, which seats 150, was complete with newly-purchased pews and wall-to-wall carpet. A mother's room, Sabbath school classrooms with roof for a Dorcas room and church school complete the building. This church was started in April, 1962, under the leadership and vision of Elder Kenneth Cox, the present pastor. Practically all the labor for the building of the church was donated by the members.

Dedicatory services began with a vespers service Friday evening, December 20, with Elder R. J. Christian of the Southern Publishing Association bringing the message. Elder Kenneth Cox had the Sabbath morning service which was climaxed with the baptism of two young people from Raton, New Mexico. The program of dedication began at 3:00 p.m., December 21. Several floral offerings had been sent by Clayton merchants and others, and compliments were paid the Clayton congregation by the city attorney, E. K. Stevens. The dedicatory sermon was given by the Union Conference president, Elder L. C. Evans. Elder R. J. Christian led in the act of dedication.

MRS. C. V. COULTER,
Press Secretary,
Clayton Church.

Correction

In error, Meditation Box, Question No. 8, was run in RECORD No. 6. Therefore, Questions Number 6 and 7 appear this week.

MEDITATION BOX

QUESTION No. 6: Why is it that our preachers say so much about tithe paying? Is it a matter that the ministers should feel concerned about or should they remain quiet about it and let the members give or not, just as they choose? Should a minister be criticized by the people for urging them to be faithful in the tithes and offerings?

ANSWER TO MEDITATION BOX, Question No. 5: "Whenever God's people in any period of the world robbed Him in tithes and in offerings, they were made to realize that they were not only robbing Him, but themselves; for He limited His blessings to them, just in proportion as they limited their offerings to Him." Vol. 3, p. 395.

MEDITATION BOX

QUESTION No. 7: While the devil will tempt us to rob the Lord in tithes and offerings, how can we defeat his schemes?

ANSWER TO MEDITATION BOX, Question No. 6: "The overseer of the flock of God should faithfully discharge his duty. If he takes the position that because this is not pleasant to him, he will leave it for someone else to do, he is not a faithful worker. Let him read in Malachi the words of the Lord charging the people with robbery toward God in withholding the tithes. The mighty God declares 'Ye are cursed with a curse.' Mal. 3:9. When one who ministers in word and doctrine sees the people pursuing a course that will bring this curse upon them, how can he neglect his duty to give them instruction and warning? Every church member should be taught to be faithful in paying an honest tithe." T., vol. 9, pp. 250, 251.

FIFTH CONSECUTIVE VICTORY!

On the clear, cool, crisp evening of January 6, 1964, the officers and workers of the Texas Conference celebrated their fifth consecutive Silver Vanguard (minute-man) victory.

This glorious achievement was accomplished in approximately six weeks' time; and was made possible through a labor of love by the laity and by the positive promotion and participation of the munificent ministers. Congratulations!

Let us plan now for a much shorter crusade in 1964 by following the plan of the Apostle Paul found in I Cor. 16:2. Please plan to set aside 15 cents a day for missions.

A. R. MAZAT, Home Missionary Secretary,
