Good, BETTER, BEST

R. CURTIS BARGER,
*Associate Secretary,
GC Sabbath School Department*

Good things have been happening in the Sabbath schools of the North American Division; in fact, better than ever before. But the best things, we believe, are yet to take place in the future. In the words of the familiar lines, we must "never let it rest, till our good is better, and our better best."

It is good to note: that in the past 85 years the Sabbath schools of North America have given $132,179,196.25 for missions, thus providing a substantial share of the total mission budget; that in 1963 two union conferences took in nearly three million dollars in Sabbath school offerings; that Sabbath schools of this great division contributed $422,537.74 on the last thirteenth Sabbath of 1963, making possible a record overflow to help provide homes for South African workers. It is also very good to see a whole union, North Pacific, reach an average of $6.78 per week per member, and the division as a whole reach an average per capita of $.51.

What has been the pattern of Sabbath school mission giving during recent years? It appears we have tended to give essentially the same amount each week that we gave ten or fifteen years ago; the quarter, or the fifty cents, or the dollar. At the same time the income of church members, as indicated by tithe returns, almost tripled. We have sought to justify the status quo of our giving by the rise in the cost of living, but the average consumer price index rose less than one-fifth as much as did the tithe in the same period.

True, there are some who have been consistent and systematic in proportionate giving, and thus the average per capita rose to a new high by the close of 1963. Yet many must not have given according to income, for the percentage of offering in relation to tithe has continued to decline. While tithe almost tripled in amount, total Sabbath school offerings only doubled. Every member ought to recheck his pattern of giving.

When applied to Christian stewardship, there is a false philosophy which ministers and laymen alike must combat. That is, "Charity begins at home." The world is our field, and the Lord wants His people to have the broad view of responsibility. Through His messenger He has told us that "the prosperity of the home work depends largely, under God, upon the reflex influence of the evangelical work done in countries afar." Gospel Workers, p. 645. The church will be poorer spiritually and materially which allows its springs of Sabbath school mission giving to be dried up by a local building project, or any other local effort. It is a serious mistake to adopt the Sabbath school Birthday-Thank Offering to meet some current local need, or to discourage (Continued on page 7)

Dollars - Not Cents - For Oakwood

One Sabbath out of each year a special offering is taken in all our churches for Oakwood College. August 8 is the date chosen this year for us to bring our gifts for this worthy cause.

On the surface, the offering of $2,380.86 received last year seems quite a nice offering, but when one takes into consideration that our Union membership last year was nearly 22,000, this averages out less than 11c per member. Can we, who know what a Christian education can do for our youth, miss the blessing which would be ours in making a real sacrifice toward an offering of this nature?

The majority of our Regional workers and ministers have received their education at Oakwood College, and we are proud of the finished product. They are working faithfully, along with you, to win souls for the kingdom, and will you not give a sacrificial offering to help educate other young people, that the day of the Lord might be hastened. The need and challenge of this offering for Oakwood College is tremendous. As we kneel for prayer before the God who is the Father of us all, may He speak to each of our hearts. In this challenging opportunity to help prepare workers for the speedy finishing of God's work in the earth, surely we should more than double our offering of last year. —L. C. EVANS, President, Southwestern Union.

Ingathering Contact Wins Soul

Through an Ingathering contact, made by Brother and Sister Lee Thomas and followed up by Elder J. D. Nichols, Mrs. Ethel Clouse of Blackwell, Oklahoma, was baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church on April 13, 1963.

Mrs. Clouse was reared by a Christian mother, who was a member of a

Mrs. Ethel Clouse

Seventh-day Adventist church out west. Though she left the church and later moved to Oklahoma, she felt that she should be a Christian, and so united with the Baptist Church at Blackwell. But in her heart she could not get away from her early training.

During the Christmas season of 1962, while caroling one night, Brother and Sister Lee Thomas called at the home of Mrs. Clouse. They stepped inside and found that she had been studying. "Preparing a lesson?" asked Mrs. Thomas. "Yes, a Sunday School lesson for my adult class. But I believe Saturday is the Sabbath," answered Mrs. Clouse. "You do?" said Mrs. Thomas. And so this information was given to Elder Nichols, at that time pastor of the Stillwater district. He made a visit, and soon Bible studies followed. However, Mrs. Clouse did not respond immediately, but seemed to hold back, though she could not understand why.

She relates the story that finally led to her decision: "One Sunday morning in the Baptist Fellowship Hall, with all the adult classes present, a very special service was held in honor of the men of the church. A visiting speaker gave the devotion and spoke on the subject 'Man's Obligation to God After He Becomes a Christian.' At the close, he had a small pamphlet from which he read. 'I quote from Mrs. E. G. White,' he said. At the sound of those words my heart was stirred! Something burned within me. Here was a preacher of another denomination quoting from Sister White, whose writings had become so familiar to me.

"Why had I hesitated so long to take that step of decision? No longer would I wait! This was the day for which I had been waiting. My mind was made up. I would join God's remnant church. After the devotion, I asked for a little time to speak to the group. I told them of my early childhood training in the Seventh-day Adventist Church, but how I had wandered away. Then I related how this unexplainable urgency had suddenly gushed up within me and how I had come to the decision to return to this church of my childhood. There was hardly a dry eye in that congregation. On Sabbath, April 13 (1963), I was baptized by Elder J. D. Nichols into the Ponca City Seventh-day Adventist Church."

Mrs. Clouse is very happy and ac-

Advance in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

The Oklahoma City church has just purchased a tract of land in the south part of the city as a building site for a second church.

Measured by area, Oklahoma City is now the largest city in the United States, sprawling some 50 miles from east to west and 45 miles from north to south. In this area live 450,000 people, about one-fifth of the population of the state. With the continued trend of movement from farms and small towns into the large cities, the city's population is increasing very rapidly.

At present there is only one church to serve the 400,000 white citizens of Oklahoma City. It is located in the central business district.

That part of the city which lies south of North Canadian River is known as Capitol Hill. It has a population of more than 150,000. The southwestern part of this area lies adjacent to extensive airport facilities and is growing rapidly. For a number of years the believers in Capitol Hill have been looking forward to having a church in their part of the city.

During the past winter the board of the Central Church appointed a committee to search for a suitable site for a church in this area. A very attractive five-acre tract was located on S. W. 74th Street, which is an eight-lane expressway leading to the newly-opened turnpike to Lawton and Wichita Falls. The property faces this freeway for 327 feet.

The church has purchased this tract and is raising funds to pay for it as well as the erection of a building. A unique feature of the project is that the Central Church is taking the initiative and actively sponsoring it. This is a true "home missionary" project.

The new church will witness to thousands of people passing by. Engineers estimate that within six years traffic will increase to the point where a million people will pass the church each week.

Elder George W. Reid, minister of the Oklahoma City church, stands on the site purchased for the new church to be erected in the south part of the city.

A pleasant, substantial home is located on the property, which will provide income to assist with the project. It will serve as residence for one of the ministers in Oklahoma City.

The church building will be designed to care for approximately 275 to 300 members and will provide adequate facilities for the Sabbath school and Dorcas departments. It will feature central air conditioning and sufficient off-street parking.

Enthusiasm is running high, and an ambitious fund-raising program will begin soon.

Excited About Camp Meeting!

I am excited about this year's camp meeting in Oklahoma. Really, I am excited because I have been hearing from the different departments about some of the plans they have for this year. I have been hearing from Elder Dessain about the fine speakers he has obtained for this spiritual feast. They are men like Elder H. M. S. Richards, Elder W. A. Fagal, Elder O. O. Mattison of the General Conference, Elder Archa O. Dart from the General Conference, Elder J. H. Hancock of the General Conference MV Department, Elder R. J. Christian from our publishing house, leaders from our colleges, and from our Union office. Then, I have been making some plans, too, and one is always excited to see just how they work out.

The Panorama of Oklahoma Progress will be a meeting no one will want to miss. You know that when Elder Don Aalborg directs a program, it is always interesting, inspiring, and alive. You will hear a great deal of music from the King's Heralds Quartet and our evangelistic teams that Sabbath afternoon — August 8. "Warn Oklahoma Now" projects, past and future, will be presented. You will want to be there and witness every moment of it.

I am excited, too, because we have had so many requests from our brethren, far and near, who want to attend this year's camp meeting. People say, "I have heard that Oklahoma always has a good, old-fashioned camp meeting, and I want to be there."

I am praying for another good camp meeting and feel sure that the Lord is going to give us one. Come and join us!

Texas

Welcome to Texas

We are happy to welcome to the Texas Conference, Elder and Mrs. Robert Gibson and their two sons, to be pastor of the Austin church.

Elder Gibson comes to us with a rich background of experience. He attended Washington Missionary College, now Columbia Union College, and graduated from that institution in 1943. He later attended our seminary when it was located in Washington. His first official service in the denomination was as district pastor in the Chesapeake Conference. Following that he was called to the Inter-American Division where he acted as business manager of our large hospital in Jamaica. In 1949 he was elected mission president in the Bahama Islands and in 1954 as mission president in Curacao. Later he served as president of the Netherlands Antilles Mission. In 1959 he returned to the North American Division and served as pastor of the Greensboro, North Carolina, church for the past five years.

The Lord has greatly blessed Elder Gibson in his pastoral and evangelistic work and as an administrative leader. We feel most fortunate in securing his services in Texas. We feel confident that the Lord has given us the right man to lead the work in our capital city. Already Elder Gibson and his family have arrived and he has begun an aggressive, soul-winning program. Let us pray for Elder and Mrs. Gibson and their family that God will abundantly bless their ministry in Austin, Texas.

Menard Hospital Completes Sixth Year

ALTUS HAYES,
Conference Medical Secretary

In August the Menard Hospital and Retirement Home will complete its sixth year of service to the central Texas county of Menard. During this time, this conference-operated facility has provided over $850,000 in medical services to people living in the area.

Of primary interest to the church is the observation that there was not a single Seventh-day Adventist in the county prior to the beginnings of the medical work. As a result of the six years of work, we have at the present time a dedicated staff of medical personnel providing excellent service under the leadership of Merle M. Roller, administrator, and Dr. Herbert Westphal, staff physician. In the city there is a beautiful new Seventh-day Adventist church building and a conference - accredited elementary school.

The hospital is known throughout the area as a Seventh-day Adventist institution, even though the building and facilities are owned by the county. This is another dark county that has recently been lighted by the Medical work.

"New Binding" Added

A new binding has been added to the Texico Publishing Department. Son Larry (pictured on page 7 with his trick glasses) could not resist the camera eye when asked if he were pleased. "Sure," he said. Daddy, Wilford Anglin, Texico's new Assistant Publishing Secretary; Mom, Winnie, have moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico, together with son, Larry, age seven, and daughters, Sherry and Debbie, ages sixteen and twelve respectively.

The ink on the title page of Brother Anglin's Oklahoma colporteur experience is wet with success. His last year's deliveries were well over $10,000.00. Scarcely less than five years ago he felt God calling him, and thereby he stepped out in faith from a high-paying civil service employment at Oklahoma City, into the realm of literature ministry. His dogged determination; his conviction that the Lord had a work for him; and a winning faith brought

Investment projects while a local drive is on. This will certainly erect a barrier against heaven's rich blessings.

Let us pray for a Spirit-directed stewardship. Two things are suggested: first, the General Conference in autumn council session, charged with world-wide responsibility, and in view of world conditions, has appealed to Sabbath school members to double the amount they have been accustomed to giving for missions. "Give more in '64" is to be our slogan. The second suggestion is to enter into a special covenant relationship with God for the support of His work by having a definite investment project. There is something every one can do for investment, if he will. This is the "miracle plan" for increasing the total resources available for world missions, for God marvelously multiplies slender funds of time, effort, or money invested for Him.

Heaven's abundant blessing and eternal reward awaits those who will consecrate themselves to the challenging task of ever making their better the best possible.

OBITUARIES

DAYTON, Mrs. Leona Pearl, was born in Iowa in 1877; passed away in Palestine, Texas, June 28, 1964, after a prolonged illness. She became a charter member of the Palestine Seventh-day Adventist Church when it was organized on May 16, 1962, which relationship she retained to the end. Sister Dayton always manifested an interest in the progress of the church and gave liberally of her meager funds to carry it forward. She showed her faith by her works.
