37 Baptized in Rio Grande Spanish Church

by D. K. Sullivan

D. K. Sullivan

Carlos Montana

Working toward the accomplishment of the second Harvest 90 DOable of doubling the number of member accessions reached during the Thousand Days of Reaping, Carlos Montana, pastor of the Albuquerque Rio Grande Spanish church recently baptized 37 persons. These resulted from eight Revelation Seminars, all but one of which were presented by laypersons.

Montana organized the participants into teams of two—one to serve as leader and the other as learner. The next time, the learner becomes a leader training another learner.

The total cost of the seminars was only $2,000, as friends and relatives were invited to attend without the use of handbills.

Five new seminars are now beginning. God is blessing with baptisms, and the members are growing as they labor for others.

Pastor Carlos Montana presents some of his concepts of Harvest 90 in the following article. ●

D. K. Sullivan is president of the Texico Conference.

Harvest 90 Double the

by Carlos Montana

Harvest 90 has a double meaning in its basic project to reach the unreached: 1) to deliver the three angels' messages to those who have not been reached by the gospel, and 2) to care for the spiritual needs of church members, including those not now attending.

What vital problems do we confront, as a church, as we seek to double the number of accessions that were achieved during the Thousand Days of Reaping in these five years from 1985 to 1990, and double the number of members equipped for soul-winning activities according to their spiritual gifts. We must take three outstanding needs into account:

- ★ The world is in need of Christ.
- ★ The home is in need of Christ.
- ★ We need to prepare ourselves to serve Christ better.

The response of the church to these needs must include:

- ★ Doubled efforts in evangelism in all its forms.
- ★ Ministry to the family.
- ★ True discipleship.

EVANGELISM

This is the fundamental mission of the church. Jesus said to the disciples, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men." Matthew 4:19.

A great work is to be accomplished in setting before men the saving truths of the gospel...To present these truths is the work of the third angel's message.

The Lord designs that the presentation of this message shall be the highest, greatest work carried on in the world at this time. Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 11.

Necessary elements for this task include prayer, interest in people, Bible studies, organized work, and personal and public evangelism.

Prayer. A personal program of prayer and devotion will create renewal and revival for the church at large.

Interest in all people. To cultivate friends in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ is one of the greatest privileges of Christian testimony, within our own environment as well as outside of it. "And ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and in Samaria and unto the uttermost part of the earth." Acts 1:8.

A definite plan of Bible study, making ourselves capable of rightly handling the Word of truth. 2 Timothy 2:15. The Holy Spirit uses the Word to convince us of sin, and to help us to grow unto the measure and fullness of Christ.

Organize the church to spread the gospel. Bringing together their talents and capabilities, both clergy and laity can experience a geometric progression in their evangelistic success.

Evangelism, personal and public.

Personal, by means of Bible studies.

In groups, by means of seminars.

Public, by means of evangelistic crusades.

Family Ministry

If there is something that is being shattered during this decade, it is the delicate cell of the family as a group. The Adventist church has the obligation to preserve this sacred institution and offer help and guidance to a society which is headed toward ruin. The family is important to God.

In the home the foundation is laid for the prosperity of the church. The influences that rule in the home life are carried into the church life; therefore church duties should first begin in the home. Adventist Home, p. 318.

CHRISTIAN DISCIPLESHIP

In great measure, the life of the church depends upon the spiritual condition of its members. Growing in faith is the key foundation of all spiritual development. A disciple is one who permits Jesus to be the Lord and Master of his life and who lives a Christian life with a disciplined study of the Scriptures. Discipleship and the preaching of the gospel should be understood in the context of the great commission, "Make disciples." Matthew 28:19.

The world needs today what it needed nineteen hundred years ago—a revelation of Christ. Ministry of Healing, p. 143.

As we move forward in the spirit and with the motivation of Harvest 90, hundreds and thousands of people will come in contact with us—souls that need the help of the Master.

Christ's method alone will give true success in reaching the people. The Saviour mingled with men as one who desired their good. He showed His sympathy for them, ministered to their needs, and won their confidence. Then he bade them, "Follow Me." Ministry of Healing, p. 143.

What a tremendous opportunity! What a privilege! What a potential in our hands to hasten the return of our Lord and Saviour! ●

PRESIDENT'S BULLETIN BOARD

Strange Fire Upon God's Altar (Part II)

Relating to Independent Ministries

Giving tithe directly to independent ministries is similar to Cain's self-annointed offering of fruit and vegetables. Cain's offering was abhorrent to God because it was contrary to His direction. Consequently, God did not honor Cain's sacrifice with divine fire from Heaven. Gen. 4:3-7.

In matters of religion and worship, God has not left everyone "to do what is right in his own eyes." Judges 17:6. He has a prescribed path for us to follow. Any misdirection of tithe is placing "strange fire" upon God's altar. It makes something appear acceptable to God when it is not. Lev. 10:1.

All of God's tithe is to be returned to His storehouse for proper distribution. Mal. 3:10. Anything less is far more than minor unfaithfulness. Such a procedure is subversive to God's work and will inevitably produce organizational anarchy.

Satan would soon triumph over the church if each member pursued a separate course of action. The great strength of God's remnant church is found in its spiritual, doctrinal, and organizational unity. As in other areas of society, united we stand and divided we fall. I Cor. 1:10.

God's "storehouse" system for tithe distribution is the only method endorsed by God for His church. We must uphold and strengthen the church and not fracture or divide it. If a preaching, teaching, or evangelistic ministry is appropriate and helpful to the whole "body of Christ," then it should be supported by the body.

Ministries that build up and strengthen the church should be recognized and endorsed and not function separately or independently outside the church. They should be fully connected and become an official part of church organization. This is Biblical. Eph. 4:4, 11-13.

What good or benefit is there in establishing ministries outside the church? If a ministry is ordained of God, then it should serve from the inside and not outside of church organization. This is what the Apostle Paul taught in I Cor. 12.

When a ministry cannot do this, then obviously something is wrong with that particular ministry. God, speaking through the prophet Amos, asks the question, "Can two walk together, except they be agreed?" Amos 3:3. Let us not be guilty of placing "strange fire" upon God's altar by supporting any ministry that is out of step with Christ and His church.

Discipleship & Service

"Doors of service are open everywhere. All around us are those who need our help. The widow, the orphan, the sick and the dying, the heartsick, the discouraged, the ignorant and the outcast are on every hand.

"We should feel it our special duty to work for those living in our neighborhood ... As you visit your friends and neighbors, show an interest in their spiritual as well as in their temporal welfare." Ministry of Healing, p. 152.

ASI Institutions— The General Conference coordinates a lay association of privately-owned, self-supporting institutions and services. The local conference must review and recommend all individuals or organizations that become members of this association, which is called ASI (Adventist laymen's Services and Industries).

These officially endorsed, privately-owned ASI medical and educational institutions, or service organizations, are genuinely self-supporting. They do not seek tithe support from church members. If they do, then they should lose their ASI accreditation.

ASI organizations must formally state that they are in full harmony with the Seventh-day Adventist Church's doctrinal message and evangelistic mission. They enthusiastically support the church and do not condemn or oppose it. We encourage this type of self-supporting activity.

If you personally own, or plan for the development of, an institution or service which would supplement and strengthen the work of the church, then apply through your local conference to become a fully recognized member of Adventist laymen's Services and Industries.

However, those independent organizations or ministries which cannot fully identify with the aims and objectives of ASI and the official church body should be recognized for what they are and be religiously avoided. This is sound counsel for everyone who wishes to be a loyal member and supporter of God's remnant church.

Australian Report II

In Australia three years ago, we conducted a meeting at Avondale College where Ted Arthur was trained for Revelation Seminars. Later Ted conducted a Revelation Seminar in his home. He said, "I followed the teacher's manual to the letter and got two baptisms from my first seminar, one a hippie named Collin Renfro. A young lady came to me and asked, "May I buy the Revelation Seminar lessons?" I answered, "No," and asked, "Why do you want them?" She said, "I want to see what it is that has changed Collin so much." Brother Arthur said, "I won't sell you any, but if you will get a group together for a Revelation Seminar, I will give you all some."

Collin's mother and father were living apart in separate towns and considering divorce. When they heard of his baptism, they came for the event and Collin was greatly excited. He came running in saying, "They're out there together!" Later they were reunited. The father has been baptized and the mother is attending church on Sabbath.

The Southwestern Union Conference has several major building projects that will begin shortly which will require (borrowing) very large sums from the Southwestern Union Revolving Fund.

Here is an opportunity for you to put your funds to work erecting churches, schools and other buildings for God's great church and still earn 7 percent. For details call: Max Trevino at 817/295-0476 or write the Southwestern Union Revolving Fund at Box 4000, Burleson, Texas 76028.

ASI Convention Comes To the Southwest

The 1987 convention of ASI (Adventist Laymen's Services and Industries) will be held at the Glorieta Conference Center, Glorieta, New Mexico, September 9-13, 1987. All self-employed Adventists from all over the Southwestern Union Conference are urged to attend.

The 1986 convention was described by Robert Spangler of the General Conference Ministerial Association as follows:

Conversations during recess, in the hallways, and at the dining room tables centered on Christ, the church, and soul winning. The attractive displays of booths filling rooms and hallways, the four well-attended seminars and the youth program created an atmosphere of a mini General Conference session.

Ministry, February, 1987

"Sharing Christ in the Marketplace" is the motto of ASI members.

The denomination is greatly pleased by these dedicated people as they serve in their local churches and beyond. Some of their Christian programs have included church building projects both at home and overseas.

Describing the final meetings at Williamsburg last year, Spangler says:

The closing evening was spent at a banquet featuring Roy Drusky, a Grand Ole Opry regular who recently joined our church. His testimony of conversion involving keeping the seventh-day Sabbath, along with his sweet mellow voice singing spiritual and secular songs, was truly a blessing to everyone.

Plans are underway to make the 1987 convention at Glorieta one of the best ever held. You, the great laypeople of the Southwest are urged to attend. You will be blessed and inspired to do your part in finishing the work.

Alumni Homecoming Set April 9-12

Southwestern Adventist College's annual Alumni Homecoming Weekend begins Thursday, April 9, with the usual banquet at 6:45 p.m. Four inductees to the Alumni Hall of Fame, the Alumnus and Alumna of the Year, and several honor classes will be honored at that time.

A letter announcing the Homecoming to all SAC alumni included an erroneous price for the banquet tickets. The correct price is $7.50. The tickets may be purchased at registration on Thursday afternoon or at the Committee of 100 Cafeteria at banquet time.

The Homecoming events continue through the weekend, concluding with the traditional pancake breakfast on Sunday, April 12.

Time to Prepare for SAC-Race

Time is running out for those wanting to prepare for Southwestern Adventist College's April 5 triathlon.

The triathlon consists of three different sports coordinated into one event. The course will consist of swimming 300 meters in the college's junior olympic-sized pool, ten miles of bicycling in the surrounding countryside, and five kilometers of running.

The SAC-Race will be Sunday, April 5, at 8 a.m. Entrants will be started at 30-second intervals and will be timed from their starting points. Entry blanks can be obtained at most running clubs in the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex or by calling Southwestern Adventist College's Physical Education department at 817/645-3921, ext. 500.

Perfect for the recreational athlete, the race is intended for those just getting acquainted with triathlons. The race takes approximately one hour to complete.

According to Barbara Harsany, assistant professor of health and physical education at the college, the SAC-Race will be limited to the first 300 entrants.

College Sets Enrollment Record

Southwestern Adventist College continues to buck a trend. Despite lower college enrollment figures nationwide, SAC has the largest spring enrollment in its 93-year history.

According to Dallas Kindopp, director of admissions, 763 students enrolled this spring, the college's second highest enrollment — fall or spring — ever. The enrollment high of 795 was set last fall.

Victor Brown, assistant to the president for recruitment, says the record spring enrollment speaks well of efforts to retain current students as well as to recruit new ones.

"The special efforts of Beth Lowry in the financial aid office have made it feasible for many students to return this semester who otherwise wouldn't have been able to," he says.

Although it is difficult to determine whether the current enrollment records will be repeated next year, Brown is optimistic. "If present applications hold up, the upcoming fall semester should be a good one for the college," he adds. "And that would be a remarkable achievement, especially since high school enrollments are on the decrease."

As Brown says, "We don't know if we are starting a trend with these record enrollments, but we certainly want to."

Former Registrar Establishes Scholarship

With a gift of $20,000, Irene Black of Keene has established a new scholarship at Southwestern Adventist College.

Mrs. Black came to Keene in 1921 to attend Southwestern Junior College. After graduation, she left Keene to work in Oklahoma, but returned several years later when the college president offered her a job as his secretary. She also served as college registrar.

She left in 1927 to continue her education in Michigan and later in Maryland. She then worked as registrar at Walla Walla (Washington) College for over 20 years before returning to Keene after her retirement in 1965.

Mrs. Black quickly says the most important part of her career has been her "missionary project." Over 40 years ago she took in her first "boarder," and since then has provided a home for almost 60 women while they attended college.

Keene Camerata Schedules Concert

The Keene Camerata, a 20-member string orchestra, will perform its spring concert on April 25, at 8:30 p.m. in the Cleburne High School Performing Arts Center. There is no admission charge.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mugar Doroftei, will perform works by Leroy Anderson, Johann Strauss, Antonio Vivaldi and other composers.

Seven Stop Smoking In Jonesboro

The Jonesboro, Arkansas, church recently awarded graduation diplomas to seven persons who successfully completed an eight-day stop-smoking clinic. For the closing session, friends and relatives were invited to a special program.

William McCall, pastor, and Debbie Fairchild, a nurse, showed films, gave a lecture, and offered encouragement. Refreshments were served, and the pastor invited the seven to return at a later date for a reunion.

A second clinic was planned sometime in March to aid the few who were unsuccessful the first time, and others desiring to break the smoking habit.

OAA Honor Roll Shows Students' Success

Over a third of the students of Ozark Adventist Academy listed on the first semester's honor roll and honorable mention are in the choir and/or band, according to Bruce Kuist, music director of the academy.

"This is amazing," Kuist says, "when you consider the schedule these students follow even without the extracurricular activities."

A typical student's daily schedule includes four hours of work, four hours of classes, two hours of study hall, and one hour of recreation, besides chapels, worships, and meals.

"It seems to prove that those students who have extremely hectic schedules know how to manage their time so as to get the best results," Kuist adds.

Maranatha to Assist Edmond Church

Maranatha Flights International will be building a sanctuary wing on the Edmond church, April 12-24. Oklahoma volunteers are urgently needed to assist with this project. Please let Maranatha know that you plan to participate by sending your name and address to them at Box 68, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49103-0068. You will be welcome for the full time or whatever days you can help.

Hollis and Alice Scarbrough of Gentry, Arkansas, will coordinate the project. There is adequate parking for RV's; a kitchen is available in the church; and housing with local church members is also an option. The sanctuary will be a frame structure with masonry facing; so bring appropriate tools.

An Oklahoma Chapter of Maranatha Flights International will be organized during the time members are working on the Edmond project and we encourage many Oklahomans to join and experience the joy and satisfaction of assisting in very needy areas as your time permits.

Stillwater School Sponsors Dinner

The Home and School Association of the Stillwater Adventist School, under the direction of Connie Hartzo, sponsored a Mystery Dinner and Talent Program on Sunday, February 22, 1987. More than 40 persons attended as the church school students served a four-course dinner.

The dinner was a mystery in that guests had to select code names for each course, not knowing what they would actually receive. Some, for example, ended up with a fork, spoon, toothpick, and pickle for the first course. Of course, everyone eventually was served everything on the menu.

During the meal, students and preschoolers entertained the guests with musical numbers, poem recitations, and interesting dialogues. Participating students were Joseph Gates (first grade), Danny Spoonemore (second), Justin Spoonemore and Aaron Gates (third), Rosalea Todd (fourth), Jeremy Orcutt (fifth), David Baker (seventh), Scott Baker, Joe Todd, and Lloyd Todd (eighth).

Parkview Announces Homecoming

On April 18, the second annual Parkview Adventist Academy Alumni Sabbath will be held on the PAA campus. This year's guest speaker will be Gary Ivey, a 1968 graduate of Parkview. Gary is a graduate of Southwestern Adventist College, and has served as a pastor in the Alabama-Mississippi Conference. He is now associate communication director for the Southern Union Conference.

Registration begins at 9:00 a.m., followed by Sabbath School and the worship service. Potluck dinner will be served at 12:30. A business meeting will follow the Saturday evening vespers program. Names and addresses of graduates, students, and teachers from the former church school or Parkview Junior Academy are needed. Send them to Parkview Adventist Academy, 4201 Martin Luther King Drive, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73111.

It is a wonderful complement to the conferencewide Arm-in-Arm plan to form a crew of at least five people in every congregation to be organized and trained for disaster relief work.

The conference executive committee has approved the concept to construct a building that will replace the former inadequate, two-story facility which is now occupied by Seminars Unlimited. The new 10,800-square-foot energy-efficient structure will be used to receive, stockpile, and distribute clothing, bedding, food supplies, health screening materials, and other items needed in times of emergency.

"This facility will become a central depot from which many items can be supplied to our local church Community Services Centers and from which supplies will be distributed in the event of a disaster," stated George Schram, conference director of Community Services.

Funding for this depot, which will be the largest in Texas for any disaster relief organization, will come largely from foundations, corporations, and other sources not connected with the Adventist Church. Of the $300,000 cost of the project, $50,000 will be raised from Adventist churches and members. This funding is essential before these other sources can be expected to donate.

"This is a wonderful way to get many business and civic leaders interested in the work of our church," observed Bill May, conference president. "It is a great way to display the concerns of a caring church," he added. The fund effort is now underway. Donations may be sent to the Community Services Resource Depot, P.O. Box 35, Keene, Texas 76059.

Trust Department Offers Services

Central in the phrase administering trusts is the key word minister. We never forget that the exclusive use of and the raison d'être of the Trust Department is the advancement of the Church's mission—to take the Good News into all the world.

Our field representatives are trained to offer a multitude of options for wills and trust funds as well as give counsel relative to ongoing programs needing immediate-use gifts. All monies or wills entrusted to specific areas of church work are legal documents in which the wishes of the donors are carefully followed.

The Trust Department personnel are: Cecil May, director; and Jeanne Barron, Joe Ray, Ramon Astacio, John Herr, and Gaston Wallace, field representatives.

Meet Cecil May, director.

Born in Michigan

Married to Darlene Martin.

Children: daughters, Maylene Jeffress and Teresa Sonne.

Educational background:

Adelphian Academy and Emmanuel Missionary College.

Military Service: Korean War.

Denominational Service:

1966-1978 assistant treasurer and auditor, Potomac Conference; associate treasurer and assistant treasurer, Chesapeake Conference.

1978-1987: associate treasurer, and assistant treasurer; director of Trust Services, Texas Conference.

FAST FACTS

- On February 7, John Grosboll, new director of health services for the Texas Conference, presented the revised Best Weigh weight control program to the members of the Corpus Christi Annville church. He was the featured guest at a special fellowship dinner where the food had been prepared from recipes from the Life Style Design Clinic. Complimentary recipes of all the foods were given to all members. "Interest is high to conduct a Best Weigh program in the church. Plans are in place to begin the program in mid-March," said Pastor Jim Graves.
- From C. D. Brooks — "When non-Christians accuse Christians of using the church as a crutch, are they refusing to admit their own limp?"
- Enrollment at Burton Adventist Academy is now 320. New students are arriving faster than the builders can build. Monies for the building program were available through Texas Partners. This two-percent fund supports three ministries: Academy development, evangelism, and new church buildings. It would be hard to disavow these goals. Maybe you'd like to be a Partner, too.

- There will not be an Old-Fashioned Camp Meeting at Nameless Valley Ranch this year. There will be one-day camp meetings in three geographical areas: Valley, Dallas, and San Antonio. Regular full-length camp meetings will be held at Keene and Jefferson, and the Houston and Spanish meetings will be three- or four-day events. Check the schedule for exact times.

Midland Welcomes New Pastor, Teacher

On January 24, the Midland, Texas, church welcomed their new pastor, Eddie Card and his wife, Jane, with an evening of rejoicing and fellowship. The Cards came from Ireland where they served for three years in the Londonderry and Coleraine churches.

Elder Card served in the U.S. Army in Texas, Illinois, Korea, and Japan from 1945 to 1953. For years he had a burning desire to understand the meaning of the mark of the beast. He questioned every person he thought might have the answer. When a literature evangelist called on him and presented Bible Readings for the Home, Eddie thought, "Here's my chance," and plied his questions. With heavenly wisdom the literature evangelist answered, "It's in the book." Eddie bought it, and he and Jane found all of the answers. They were baptized in 1950, and for three years he was lay Bible worker while continuing his military service.

Elder and Mrs. Card told of the delights and difficulties of work in Ireland, and of God's blessing on their work there. They have two married sons and one grandchild living in California. They both enjoy gardening and outdoor life. Jane finds pleasure in oil painting.

Elder and Mrs. Eddie Card.

Also welcomed was Joanna Herr, teacher of grade 1-4 in the Midland-Odessa school. Before coming to Midland, Joanna taught in Roswell, New Mexico, and Pecos, Texas. A graduate of the University of New Mexico, she took Bible classes at Southwestern Adventist College and Union College after she became an Adventist.

Joanna Herr

When Joanna was living in Flagstaff, Arizona, in 1974, a lady came to her door and invited her to classes on healthful living. Learning that the lady was a Seventh-day Adventist, she diligently studied the Bible for texts to prove the sacredness of Sunday. As she studied, she found Bible truth and Jesus as her personal Saviour, and was baptized in 1976.

Joanna's daughter, Krista, is an eighth grader with a zest for gymnastics. Joanna and Krista find special delight in exploring nature.

Member Celebrates 101st Birthday

Bessie Essex, a member of the Santa Fe English church celebrated her 101st birthday on November 26, 1986. Several friends in the community of Stanley, where Bessie lives, gave her a birthday party and showered her with gifts.

Even at the age of 101, Bessie is very alert. She still loves to read, loves her faith, and enjoys sharing it with all who visit her. The hope that burns brightest in her heart is the soon return of her Lord.

New Church Building in Taos

Texico Expansion helps the Taos Company enjoy their new building. This last summer they began to build what will be the wing of the church. It provides the Sabbath School rooms, a kitchen and the multipurpose room which is now being used for church services.

It is nicely finished and an honor to God. Of course, they will rejoice even more when the sanctuary is completed.

Thank you for contributing to Texico Expansion. Only two percent of income from each member makes many things happen in Texico with God's blessings.

Pathfinders Enjoy Day of Fun

On the morning of January 25, the Maranatha Pathfinders of the Saragosa, Texas, church, arrived at the Saragosa Mission farm for a day of fun.

The boys and the girls each made their own fire to cook potatoes. The girls wrapped their potatoes in layers of foil for baking and the boys dug a pit and placed a grill on top to fry their potatoes.

While the food was cooking, the Pathfinders enjoyed games. The two youngest girls, Pricilla Pallan and Yesenia Garcia, took first place in the one-mile walk-run.

Other activities included a three-legged race, with Elisa and Michele Garcia winning for the girls, and Ramiro Ramos and Junior Garcia winning for the boys. There was a tire roll of two hundred yards. Yese-nia Garcia and Benjamin Ramos won by not letting their tires fall.

After the games the Pathfinders enjoyed their potatoes, then headed for home. The club is looking forward to a campout the last of March.

There are many top-quality publications on the market today. But only Signs of the Times contains the special message our church has been given for today's world.

What is Signs of the Times? It is visually appealing, credible, personable, and interesting, while maintaining very high standards.

What does Signs contain? Doctrinal articles, articles on current issues, health articles, plus articles on the home/family, human interest, and seasonal articles, as well as regular columns.

Does Signs reach people? Yes. Since 1983 the Adventist Information Ministries at Andrews University has received more than 2,500 calls from readers of Signs. Fourteen hundred asked for more information on SDA beliefs. About the same number have asked for a Bible correspondence course, and nearly 350 have asked for a personal visit or Bible studies in their homes! Signs is also reaching thousands each month with its exciting, new ministry—the Signs airport program. Countless others are also being reached.

What are people saying about Signs?

"Signs of the Times is a credit to the Adventist Church, to religious journalism and, in fact, to American journalism in general."
E. A., Illinois

"I never read any publication from cover to cover except yours! I am an elected officer of my Presbyterian church."

K. S., Mississippi

"It is refreshing to know that there are still some people who are not ashamed of the straight testimony concerning the book of Revelation."
M. B., Massachusetts

"Your magazine has greatly changed my life. . . . [I] am now an Adventist."
H. K., New York

You too can join the Signs army! It costs only US $7.49* to send a full year's subscription. Don't delay.

You can order Signs through your church personal ministries secretary or local ABC.

Signs of the Times is published monthly by Pacific Press.

* Price effective until July 31, 1987.
