Kneeling

S. A. Ruskjer

There seems to be a growing tendency among us as Seventh-day Adventists to get away from the habit of kneeling while engaged in public worship in the house of God. We recognize that in some of our churches the pews of necessity are crowded so close together that it affords very little opportunity for the congregation to kneel. But that does not do away with the fact that we have scores of churches where members could kneel with comfort, but where kneeling is not the general practice.

When the one who is called upon to offer the public prayer steps forward and says, "Let us kneel reverently in prayer," and perhaps three fourths of the congregation instead of kneeling are sitting during prayer, it does not present a picture that can bring delight to the angels as they look on. It is possible that if we put forth a greater effort to kneel in prayer, we would also be able to concentrate upon the prayer in the spirit of prayer; whereas if we sit comfortably in a seat without making any effort to kneel in God's presence, it is much easier for the mind to wander and for Satan to snatch the spirit of worship away from us.

The Good Book makes it very plain that as a general rule we ought to kneel whenever we come into the house of God for the purpose of worship. This same thing is true with reference to our general gatherings, such as camp meetings. Those occupying the rostrum during public prayer should kneel facing the altar; and as far as possible, the congregation should likewise kneel facing forward, looking to the special place—the pulpit—where God has promised to meet His worshippers in rich blessings.

Shall we not pay more attention to how we enter the house of God, and to how we appear before God in the hour of worship? Would it not be a splendid plan for each worshiper, as they enter the sanctuary of God to take their seats, to bow their heads in a moment of silent prayer, asking God to make the service of the hour real spiritual food for their individual souls, and asking God to forgive every sin so that they are ready for the outpouring of His Spirit? Having entered the house of God, should not all unnecessary whispering or even talking be eliminated entirely? Ought we not to spend that hour concentrating an undivided attention upon the purpose for which we have entered the house of worship?

When the congregation is requested to arise and join in singing the hymn announced, why should not all worshipers arise together as one man, quietly but reverently, and then enter into the worship of song? Whenever the leader suggests to the congregation to be seated, let all be seated together. If the leader suggests kneeling in prayer, then why should not all unitedly kneel in prayer?

During the preaching service, it is necessary to pay the closest of attention and concentrate earnestly lest some of the blessings that God has in store for us slip away. At the close of the service, would it not be well to meditate upon the instruction of the hour, and earnestly and individually invite the Holy Spirit to go with us as we leave the house of worship, helping us to make the instruction of the hour a part of our daily living?

While we do not believe in formalism to the exclusion of spirituality, yet we do believe there is a proper decorum that ought to characterize our public worship, and we believe that kneeling reverently in the presence of God while the public prayer is offered is a part of Christian decorum.

LOVE OF THE BEAUTIFUL

"Even the great God is a lover of the beautiful. He has given us unmistakable evidence of this in the work of His hands. He planted for our parents a beautiful garden in Eden. Stately trees were caused to grow out of the ground, of every description, for usefulness and ornament. Beautiful flowers were formed."

God, who made the Eden home so lovely, has given wonderful trees, beautiful flowers, and all the other lovely things of nature for us to enjoy. How fortunate we are to have one of these spots, a reminder of Eden, in which to hold our Youth's Congress this year.

I fancy that as God looks down upon that scene, to Him the most beautiful of all will be loyal, energetic young people gathered there. Just as we look for the beautiful in the great creation of God, just so are we to look for the beautiful in our recreation. If we look, we shall find it. We are told, "It is the privilege and duty of Christians to seek to refresh their spirits and invigorate their bodies by innocent recreation."

Inextricably interwoven in the very nature of God's creatures is that divine instinct to mingle and associate with others. In order to gain the greatest degree of benefit from the forthcoming Youth's Congress, the social phase of the gathering will be given proper consideration. One of the four evenings will be dedicated to properly conducted social gatherings. This feature, added to our congress this year, has met with widespread approval.

In addition to the social evening, one hour each day will be devoted to some active outdoor games.

One of Nature's Beauty Spots at Blue Ridge

Hiking, swimming, volley ball, baseball, tennis, and other forms of healthful, outdoor exercises will come in for their share of the time to aid in making our congress a real help in every particular.

Let each one help to perfect this marvelous picture and present to the Lord a group of one thousand strong, vigorous, energetic youth assembled at Blue Ridge in the "Land of the Sky," in a worshipful attitude toward Him who made the eternal hills, the singing birds, the fragrant flowers, the rushing cataract, and the placid lake.

Come, young people, for the best time of your lives. Come, young people, with a definite determination to get better acquainted with your God.

SOUL-WINNING COLPORTEURS

During the summer of 1919, Paul Quimby and Cyril Courville, students of Emmanuel Missionary College, sold "Bible Readings for the Home Circle" in Copiah County, Miss. They both did well in delivering their books, and returned to college the following fall. No doubt they have wondered many times what the actual results of their work will be. Just recently, one of our colporteurs who is canvassing in this same territory, found a man who has been keeping the Sabbath for over ten years. This man bought a book from one of these students.

Lawrence Hewitt and George Murrell, students of Southern Junior College, canvassed in Newton County, Miss., in the summer of 1929. They sold "Our Times and Their Meaning." Last week we received word that a school teacher to whom one of these young men sold a book, is now keeping the Sabbath and is teaching it to the people in his neighborhood.

"When young men enter the canvassing field with an intense longing to save their fellow men, a harvest for the Lord will be reaped as a result of their efforts."—"Gospel Workers," p. 96. Surely as these young men went forth as student-colporteurs years ago, they longed to see some accept the Master as a result of their labors. Now we see the

ALABAMA-MISSISSIPPI NEWS NOTES

On May 27 the Montgomery church had a farewell party for Mrs. Mattie Lucas, the union Bible worker, who has now spent more than a year in Montgomery. The members there presented her with a very nice fitted suit case. On June 3 she left for Atlanta, where she will spend some time in the Bible work. We are all sorry to see Sister Lucas go. She is a very fine Bible worker, and is greatly beloved by all.

Have you noticed the excellent colporteur reports lately? Please remember to pray for the colporteurs.

Elder Krum reports one new member added to the Panama City church by baptism, and one on profession of faith. He has recently visited Marianna and some new believers in the country from Marianna, and also Malone. Elder Krum has secured seventeen new subscriptions to the Review and Herald in the Panama City and Malone churches. Brother Baldwin of Selma has succeeded in placing the Review and Herald in every home in his church.

Elder Walker's effort at Lumberton is still attracting good crowds, and the prospects for additions to the church continue to increase.

CAROLINA NEWS NOTES

Brother Atherly has been very busy for the past few days, getting his new crew of student colporteurs stationed in the field. He assisted six young men from Pisgah at Orrum, N. C. They were Elbert Young, Fenton Mizelle, Earl Williams, Pete Crestakos, Jonathan McConnell, Miles Newberg. Wilbur Smith and Woodrow Wilson will also work in Orrum. They are two of our regular colporteurs.

Miss Pearl Rogers and Miss Willie Holloway, students from Fletcher, have recently started out in the magazine work. Others will join them in the near future.

Do you remember that Pete Crestakos won a half scholarship to the Pisgah school in just a short time last summer? You will notice that his name is among the student colporteurs, and we expect a good record from him again this year. We are counting on everyone of the student colporteurs to follow his example this year.

We were very glad to have Prof. A. W. Spalding as a visitor in our conference recently. He gave the commencement address at the Fletcher school on Sunday night, May 19.

Elder Shuler conducted the consecration service at the Fletcher school on Friday night, May 17, and also preached the baccalaureate sermon to the Pisgah school on Sabbath, May 18.

Elder and Mrs. B. F. Kneeland have taken up their post of duty in the Carolina Conference. He is the new pastor of the Charlotte church. We extend them a most hearty welcome.

Elder Woods has been spending several days in the field, arranging for investiture services in some of the churches.

We are happy to welcome Miss Nannie May Smith to the Carolina Conference. She is our new educational and Sabbath school secretary. She comes to us from the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, where she held the same two departments.

FOREST LAKE ACADEMY NOTES

Twelve students deserve honorable mention for their scholarship record at the close of the school year, with no grade lower than B: Robert Bowen, Everett Franz, Rachel Griffin, Alyse Klose, Daylee Lowe, Irma Osteen, Charles Plyer, Alpharetta Potts, Eva Sammer, Marie Stover, Olive Tietsema, Pauline Underwood.

Monday morning, May 27, the work of breaking up the camp began. At the same time the organization of the summer family in the Academy was perfected. There will be a much larger number of students with us than heretofore. Mrs. C. R. Magoon will be in charge of the girls, and Mr. L. J. Larson in charge of the boys.

The teachers will be scattered this summer. Miss Hayton is leaving for South Africa. Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Larson are leaving for Washington, D. C. Mr. Rembold, Mr. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. McClure will remain at the school.

Miss Irma Osteen has been awarded the fifty dollar scholarship to Southern Junior College. This is awarded on the basis of scholarship, conduct, and general ability.

The latest addition to the school family is Mr. Walter Rembold, Jr. He was born on Monday, May 27.

Among those who have arrived recently to begin working up credit for the school year are Miss Susie Goodman from Daytona Beach, and Miss Mattie Mae Carter from Miami, Florida. Fred Spencer and James Sellers have returned from their vacation.

The office force is busy as this goes to press, closing the books of the school for the fiscal period, which ended June first. As soon as this work is completed, Miss Clarice Baum plans to leave for Collegedale, where she will begin work in the office.

We are happy to announce to the friends of the Academy that the Annual Improvement campaign this year was a complete success. The total amount to date is $520. More than $130 was raised on the "tag day" at camp meeting. We wish to thank the readers of the Tidings for their loyal support in this endeavor.

The entire school family attended the commencement exercises of the Florida Sanitarium, which were held Sunday evening, June second, on the lawn at the Sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bradley accompanied their daughter Ercel to Collegedale, after she returned from a brief vacation.

Friends of the school will regret to learn of the accident suffered by the group of teachers and students accompanying Mrs. Skinner on the trip to Washington. While driving on a stretch of slippery pavement, the car was overturned, with the result that Mrs. Larson sustained some very painful injuries, and the other occupants suffered from minor injuries. Recent reports advise that Mrs. Larson is making a speedy recovery.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND NEWS NOTES

Brother D. L. Dortch, with his wife, son, and daughter, Mrs. Mary Dildy, recently visited his sister, Mrs. Wilhelmina Dortch-Jones of Plymouth, Penn., who is very ill. Mrs. Jones is a former resident of Nashville.

Miss Lois Bruce, formerly of Nashville, who has been ill the past six months, has recovered sufficiently to be about.

Brother J. C. Thames, of the Anniston, Alabama, church, was a visitor in Atlanta over the week-end of May 26.

Brother Owen of the California Conference was in Atlanta a few days during the week of May 20. He is interested in establishing an industrial center somewhere in the Southland.

Camp meeting is over, and we are back in the office, working hard in an effort to get caught up with our mail and work. If you ordered something on the camp ground or turned in money and are expecting a receipt, be a little patient with us, for we will get around to it as quickly as possible.

The conference truck is very busy now, getting out tent equipment for the eleven tent efforts that will be held in the field this summer.

Brother Deyo has just left for south Georgia with three colporteurs. We are glad to report that we have a large number of students in the field this year, and are expecting much to be accomplished. Pray for these colporteurs.

The following articles have been brought into the conference office. These were turned in to the book stand on the camp ground; if you who own these articles will let us hear from you, we shall be glad to mail these articles to you: 1 pink baby blanket; 1 small Collins Bible; 1 brown belt; 1 handkerchief with 5 cents in it; 1 pair sun glasses to clip over regular glasses; 1 pair of glasses; 1 yellow belt buckle.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Draper, of Bristol, Tenn., are receiving congratulations over the birth of a daughter, Martha Jane, on Tuesday, May 21.

GRAYSVILLE ACADEMY STUDENTS BUSY!

The students of the Graysville Academy are busy folk these days, not only with their school work, but they are also doing much to give this message to the people in that vicinity. Under the able leadership of Prof. L. A. Jacobs and Prof. and Mrs. C. A. Schutt, the students have been carrying on some fine field work. They have distributed several thousand "Good News" systematically, and now are following up that interest with Bible studies. When the writer visited the school recently, they had calls for ten more new Bible studies. There seems to be a good live interest in these studies, and already a little Sabbath school has been organized in a nearby town.

Besides this work, some of the young ladies along with Mrs. Schutt have sold over 700 copies of the Watchman Magazine within the last two months. They plan to use the profits to purchase a stereopticon machine for the school. They have had many interesting experiences in this work of scattering these truth-filled magazines. Our hats are off to Graysville and what they have done. It seems that others could and should be doing the same.

RADIO WORK IN AUGUSTA

On Sunday night, May 12, there was a large attendance at the Augusta Seventh-day Adventist church. The sermon text for the evening was, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." Ps. 127:1. At the close of the service, an invitation was extended to those who wished to unite with the remnant people. We were happy to see seventeen come forward. Fifteen of these were baptized "that same hour of the night."

This was a partial reaping of the harvest of a five weeks' radio campaign. There is a very attractive auditorium at the radio station. This we used as a public assembly place, and in addition to the members of the church, others attended the services there. We opened each service at 7:30 p. m. with song and prayer just as we would have done at the church. A great interest was awakened, and we are sure many more will come in with us. This campaign was of no expense to the conference, as the interested people of the city readily contributed to the expenses.

Allen Walker.

SPECIAL NOTICE

We have just sent out a letter enclosing an envelope and new seal to those who signed pledge cards and are using the "Penny-a-meal" boxes in their homes. It may be that some have one of these boxes in their home but did not receive a letter from the conference about it. If this is the case, will you please drop us a card so that we may put you on our list?

The conference committee voted eleven efforts for the summer. We do not at present have the money in sight to pay for these efforts, but are going out in faith, hoping and praying that the members of the conference will be faithful with the "Penny-a-meal" boxes, and that those who are not using these boxes will place some money through the church each month for our evangelistic fund. We promised to report our receipts 10 you each month. For the month of April our receipts, both white and colored, for the evangelistic fund amounted to $61.05.

PLAN TO ATTEND CAMP MEETING
 JUNE 14 to 23

KENTUCKY-TENNESSEE NEWS NOTES

Every indication points to a large attendance at the coming camp meeting. Every mail brings orders for rooms. Over half of the rooms have already been assigned. However, don't let the fear of not having a room deter you from coming, as arrangements will be made for additional rooms when the present supply is exhausted. The first meeting will be held Friday evening at 7:30. Let all plan to be there and settled well before the Sabbath. We shall not, however, be able to accommodate anyone on Thursday, as another convention is closing on that day. Please be sure to bring your "Christ in Song" as well as your Bible. Those of our people who play any musical instrument are invited to bring them and assist in the musical program.

An encouraging letter from Elder G. W. Holman, pastor of the Paducah church, states that the work there is on the increase, two having been baptized last Sabbath, and several more being in preparation. The Sabbath school attendance is growing, as well as the offerings, and 14 visitors were present at the last service. Elder Holman is desirous of conducting a tent effort at Paducah some time in the near future.

Brother Mulholland has been busy the past week assisting new colporteurs in the northern part of the field. He has visited Lexington, Covington, Louisville, as well as assisting Brother Sommerville in a delivery.

Elder M. R. Garrett baptized two at Dickson last Sabbath, following a short series of meetings. A real interest there is being followed up by Brother Paul Dysinger, the local elder. From Dickson, Elder Garrett went to Leach, where three others were baptized.

Brother J. C. Taft of Lexington started out in the colporteur work last week, and in the first eleven hours—one day's work—in connection with Brother Mulholland, orders amounting to $42.75 were received for "Bible Readings."

Sister Sadie Self, another of our new recruits, who is staying with Brother and Sister Dart of Nashville, is having encouraging success in the sale of "Our Day" and the Watchman Magazine.

THE WORK AT COVINGTON

The three years we have been privileged to spend at Covington, Kentucky, have brought us many most blessed experiences. While in some respects the field has been a difficult one, yet we have greatly enjoyed our work there, and leave with many regrets the very dear friends in that church. Never in my experience have I found a church with so large a proportion of members who so willingly work beyond their strength to make the program of the church a success.

We have passed through some trying experiences healthwise and otherwise during this time, but we are very thankful that the many earnest prayers offered in our behalf have been heard and answered, and our hopes for the future are very bright. The Christian affection shown by the members of the church during this time of stress and change, and their expressions and gifts of love, greatly cheered our hearts.

We feel that we should take this occasion to thank the Lord for the wonderful spiritual and physical blessings He has given during the past years. There have been times when the way seemed dark and uncertain, but the light of the blessed word and its precious promises brighten the darkest parts of our road. What unaided human skill cannot do, the divine hand of the Great Physician does in physical and spiritual restoration. Thanks, and willingness to serve, are the only return we can make for His goodness.

The church has made generous responses to the many calls which have come for funds. The depression hit our little company with more than average force. Many of those who were cut off from giving money, because of unemployment and other causes, rolled up their sleeves and earned money through various activities, turning every cent of profit into the Lord's treasury. This combination of work and unselfish sacrifice, and the special blessing of the Lord which goes with it, brought results. It made possible the meeting of the church expenses, which included the maintenance of a three-teacher school. With the cooperation of the conference, we were able to reduce our church debt by the amount of over one thousand dollars. The efforts of the church during the Harvest Ingathering enabled us to reach our goal for the first time in several years. We have greatly appreciated the fine cooperation and support which have been given us by the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference workers.

We have been cheered during the past few weeks by some quite remarkable instances of answer to prayer, and an awakening spiritual life in some cases for whom many prayers have been offered. Several were baptized just before we left. Others had asked for, and were preparing for, baptism; and several were just taking their stand with God's people. The Spirit of God is manifestly working in the church.

Our most earnest prayers will go with the Covington church and the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference as we go to our new field of labor in Charlotte, North Carolina. We especially pray that the Lord will bless the labors of the new pastor and his coworkers in the church, that a large harvest of souls may be gathered during the days to come.

B. F. Kneeland.

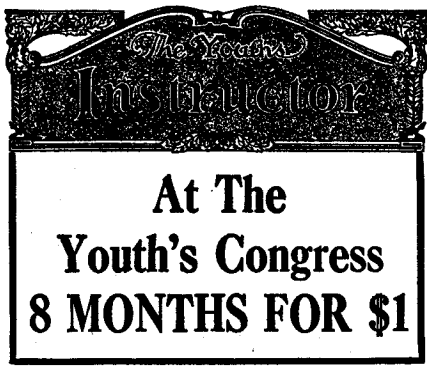

CLOSE OF SCHOOL AT COVINGTON

The church school commencement exercises at Covington, Ky., May 23, were a wonderful demonstration of the attainments that Adventist youth acquire in our church schools. The program was of such a varied character that it expressed the achievement of memory, skill, ability, and discipline. Any parent who may have thought that their children were suffering a disadvantage by attending the church school, found to their surprise a higher degree of efficiency than their neighbors' children possessed who spent the same period in public school.

The musical attainments were especially marked by solos, duets, and quartets; and by piano, cornet, trombone, saxophones, and baritone. As a further expression of gratitude to our teachers, Mr. Carl Jacobs and Miss Ruth Kneeland, a farewell social was held later, with gifts and refreshments. And checks in full to cover teachers' salaries to date were given them by the church treasurer. The church school orchestra has been invited to play at the coming Youth's Congress.

We are planning on a ten-grade school next year, and we are looking forward to a good session, under competent teachers.

J. E. All.

Obituary

Wrenn—Nora Ethel Coyle was born in Madison County, Ky., September 2, 1891. She was joined in wedlock to Jesse B. Wrenn 28 years ago, and to this union were born eleven children. At the age of sixteen, she joined the Baptist church, but eleven years ago she became interested in the teachings of Seventh-day Adventists, later taking her stand for the truth, to which she remained faithful until death. She passed away May 21, 1935, leaving to mourn their loss, her husband, nine children, her mother, other relatives, and a host of friends. We expect to meet her in the morning of the first resurrection. Words of comfort were read from the Book of Revelation. H. R. Stearns.

COLLEGEDALE NEWS NOTES

The closing Sabbath of the Georgia-Cumberland camp meeting was a day long to be remembered. Elder F. L. Perry spoke at the service on Friday evening; at the forenoon service on Sabbath, Elder G. W. Wells delivered a message calling for a deeper consecration on the part of God's people; at the afternoon hour, Elder H. E. Lysinger spoke on the sealing work and the latter rain; Elder W. R. French spoke at the closing service that evening, his subject being the two covenants. The attendance on this last day of the camp taxed the capacity of the new tabernacle; during the forenoon service, an overflow meeting for the young people was held in the College chapel. Following the afternoon sermon, a baptismal service was held at the College baptistry, Elder P. E. Scoggins officiating; candidates from various parts of the conference were baptized.

At the four o'clock hour on Sabbath afternoon, a meeting was called for the alumni of Southern Junior College present at the camp meeting. T. R. Huxtable, president of the alumni association, presided at the meeting. A program of music and short addresses had been arranged; several old students spoke, recalling incidents in the early days of the school.

On Sunday evening, June 2, an impressive and beautiful wedding service was held in the College chapel, when Mr. Clyde O. Franz and Miss Lois Mae Clark were united in marriage, Elder F. W. Field officiating. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the "Yellow House" lawn. These young people are both former students of S. J. C., so spent several years at Collegedale. For the present their home will be in Nashville, where Mr. Franz is employed in the office of the Watchman Magazine.

Among the guests present at the Franz-Clark wedding were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. Franz, parents of the groom; Mrs. M. J. Clark, the bride's mother; Prof. and Mrs. A. N. Atteberry, former teachers at S. J. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Burton Castle; and from Savannah, Ga., where Miss Clark taught the church school this past year, came Mrs.

Douglas, Mrs. Banks, and Mrs. Pichler and her two sons and little daughter.

The editor recently received a letter from Donald W. Hunter, dated Narsapur, India, April 24. Brother Hunter graduated from S. J. C. ten years ago. Writing of the work in his field he says: "This is a large field, and the workers are few. We are blessed with three hospitals, however, and believe that they will break down prejudice. We no longer have to press our way in, but are asked to come and teach the people. Our S. S. membership has grown from 600 to 1100 within the last eighteen months. Baptisms last year were 83. Prospects even brighter for this year."

Summers school opened on Monday, June 3. Prof. R. W. Woods is in direct charge. Other teachers are: Miss Grace Butler, Miss Myrtle Maxwell, Miss Ruby McGee, D. C. Ludington, D. R. Edwards, and F. W. Field. With this number of teachers, a good line of subjects is being offered.

Registration at this writing includes practically fifty names, as follows: Jack McCaughan, from Alabama; Robin Simmons, California; Gerald Dunham, Canada; Mrs. Lee Anderman, Mrs. Irva Baessler, Richard Cleaves, Mrs. J. R. Conger, Henderson Crowder, Leslie Pitton, Grace Rogers, Mrs. Mabel Smith, Mrs. Clyde Stover, from Florida; Vivian Boyd, Ann Brooke, Peirce Lysinger, Irma Storey, Lynne Sudduth, from Georgia; Robert Lukat, Roger Thomas, from Kentucky; Lillian McIver, Clarence Frawick, from Louisiana; Doris Davis, Hoyt Hendershot, Carolyn Louis, Grantham Oakes, Mrs. Rhoda Speed, from Mississippi; Roger Mae Maiden, from New York; Blanche Black, Mrs. Edna Gray, Faith Potter, from North Carolina; G. Elaine Giddings, from N. Dakota; Theodore Collins, Mrs. Lettie Collins, Dorothy Dye, Grace Fields, Ruth Ingram, Lucile Kirstein, Mrs. Ollie Lockamy, Emil Messinger, Joe Rainwater, Aubrey Reiber, Marion Reiber, Verlie Reiber, Martin Shain, Mrs. Myrtle Strickland, Shirley Strickland, Russel Williams, from Tennessee; Jay B. Clymer, from Washington, D. C. Several others have not completed their registration.

The manufacture of puffed wheat and puffed rice is now in full operation at the College, in the building now known as the food factory. It is expected that orders for these food products may be filled from the first of the present week.
