Information About Our Brethren and Sisters In the Flood Stricken Region

J. K. Jones

Information is beginning to come through from some of our workers in the flood stricken region which presents a very serious situation indeed. We are told from our minister in Louisville, Elder Griffin, that 50 percent of our brethren and sisters in Louisville live in the western part of the city that is covered by the flood waters. We do not know just what has happened to them individually, but doubtless there will be great suffering, loss of property and personal belongings. Whether any one has lost his life in the flood, we do not know at this time. We can only hope and pray that God has been gracious to our people, and that the losses will not be as great as we anticipate, but the situation there is most serious. Our brethren have not been permitted to enter Louisville to learn how our people are getting along. The city is under martial law.

The latest word is that while boats are going up and down Fourth Street past our beautiful church building in Louisville, the water has not gotten into the church as yet, not even the basement. With furnaces out, due to high water, no electricity, no telephone service, no newspaper service, no mail service, you can see what our people are passing through in the flood zone in Louisville and probably other places. Three-fourths of that city is under water from two to twenty feet in depth. While the water is subsiding, it is going down only at the rate of six inches a day. It will be weeks, perhaps months, before our people can get together in public worship.

Now, from one of our other ministers, Brother All of Covington, we have word that the water there had reached 80 feet. The loss in property is tremendous, running into many millions, and he says many of our brethren and sisters there have lost everything, even their clothing. Houses were seen going down the river with people clinging to the tops and sides. Many persons were found clinging to trees awaiting deliverance. Our people there have opened a free soup kitchen in the basement of the church, and are providing clothing for the needy.

Now these are just a few statements from some of our brethren in the larger churches. We have not heard from other regions. We have no word from Memphis or other large centers. There are also many smaller places that have been affected by this flood.

The General Conference brethren at Washington have talked this flood situation over, and have decided to request that a call be made in all of our churches in this country for a liberal offering to take care of the needs of our own Seventh-day Adventist people. They are suggesting that this offering be taken Sabbath, February 20.

Now, Brethren and Sisters, if you can not take it up at this time, by all means it should be taken not later than February 27. When the money comes on through to the Union, it will be disbursed for the relief of our own people in the flood zone. The need is great. In fact, the need later on will be greater than now, because we are just beginning to learn of the suffering.

So, let every Seventh-day Adventist in the Southern Union give liberally at this time that we might take proper care of our brethren and sisters of the household of faith. Let us do unto them as we would want them to do unto us if we were suffering like they are. Remember, the Lord loveth a cheerful giver.

Money sent through your church and conference will come to the Union and be sent on promptly to take care of the needs. Some churches have also donated to the Red Cross work. We appreciate this very much, and later on hope other churches will do something for the Red Cross if they have not done so already.

We are in the midst of troublous times. The Spirit of prophecy tells us that these calamities will increase more and more as we near the end. May the Lord prepare us all for these trying times, and make us ready for His coming.

"WIN ONE"—AMONG THE YOUTH

There is a record in 1 Kings 20:20 which has been an inspiration to me many times in the past and which I believe has some help and counsel for us at the present time. It reads: "And they slew every one his man: and the Syrians fled, and Israel pursued them." Here is a case of definiteness, aim, concentration, and persistence—and its result. Here is a sample of what we need and must have if we are to "win one" for Christ this year.

How well I remember a picture that used to hang in my grandmother's store room. A cat is pictured just after the spring as he tried to catch two mice at once. If a cat's face has expression, there was wonder, chagrin, and disappointment well mixed as he saw both of his intended victims disappearing safely through holes in opposite corners of the room. It teaches its own lesson of 'one at a time.'

The slogan of this movement of "Win One"—at a time, is most practical and especially so for our young people who are not experienced evangelists. Do not attempt too much at first. Center your interest and work for and upon one young person for the purpose of bringing him to Christ and this Seventh-day Adventist message. Choose a friend, neighbor, or schoolmate and win him, or her as it may be, to Jesus. As an opening wedge invite him to your Missionary Volunteer social if it is properly conducted, then to the regular M. V. meetings, then to Sabbath school and if possible to the camp meeting or the conference academy for a Saturday night or Friday evening Students' Meeting. The greatest needs of all young people today are spiritual and social and we must recognize and provide both. As his interest grows encourage him to spend time reading elevating and inspirational books. Loan him the Youth's Instructor, "Steps to Christ," or "Desire of Ages" and the reading course books. There is a special blessing and guidance that comes with reading the Spirit of prophecy and a gift of the little volume "Messages to Young People" will prove a special blessing to him. Interest him in Christian education and a definite aim and goal in life. Secure for him a catalog of the conference academy, the college, and nurses' training school and encourage him to plan to attend one as soon as practical or possible.

The Holy Spirit will guide you as you work for his soul. Pray and pray earnestly for right and timely words and presentation as you lead him onward and upward. Ask others to pray for him; it is not necessary to mention his name if there is reason for not doing so, for God knows the request of your heart, but there is definite power in concerted prayers of God-fearing Christians. Read often the following found on page 258 of "Gospel Workers."

"Ask, then; ask, and ye shall receive. Ask for humility, wisdom, courage, increase of faith. To every sincere prayer an answer will come. It may not come just as you desire, or at the time you look for it; but it will come in the way and at the time that will best meet your need. The prayers you offer in loneliness, in weariness, in trial, God answers, not always according to your expectations, but always for your good."

Our opening text savors of the results of definiteness and perseverance and truly they must be our watchword if we are to win one for eternity during 1937. However, it will be well to remember the counsel of Joshua as found in Joshua 3:5, "And Joshua said unto the people sanctify yourselves; for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you." How truly it may be said, "You can lead no farther than you have been yourself!" Kenneth A. Wright.

ALABAMA-MISSISSIPPI NEWS/NOTES

The first Lay Preachers' Institute ever held in the Alabama-Mississippi Conference convened in Meridian Friday night, January 29, and continued until Sunday noon.

Besides the church members, and members from the Alabama-Mississippi Academy, there were 24 workers present, 21 of whom were lay preachers. Practically all of those present have demonstrated in times past their missionary spirit and some of their ability. Elders W. H. Bergherm, R. G. Strickland, R. I. Keate, and C. F. Graves were present as instructors. The institute was very practical, as well as inspirational. All felt that it had been a very profitable meeting and left the place declaring that they were going away to put into practice what they had learned. We believe that if this body of workers goes zealously to work, as we believe they will, we will see a marked advance in the work in the Alabama-Mississippi Conference during 1937.

Sabbath and Sunday, January 23 and 24, a very successful Colored Church Officers' Convention was held here in Meridian. About 45 church officers were present. Much enthusiasm was manifested; the Spirit of the Lord came very near; and those who attended and gave their testimony said they felt it was the best convention they had ever attended. We are expecting that we will see the fruit of this convention in the work being done by our colored churches.

We were glad to have a visit from Elder J. K. Jones. He came to attend the conference committee meeting that was held on Thursday, January 21. He stayed through the colored committee meeting that was held on Friday. On Friday night he spoke at the Colored Church Officers' Convention. He preached at the white church at the Sabbath school hour Sabbath and then spoke at the colored convention at the 11 o'clock hour. Every one was deeply impressed with the message that Elder Jones delivered.

For the next several weeks your orders may be delayed somewhat, owing to the operations of railroad and bus facilities. All operations are being greatly curtailed because of the heavy floods existing in the regions of the Ohio, Cumberland, and Mississippi rivers. We trust our people will bear with us in any delay. Kindly allow us as much time as you can on your orders so as to cover any delays that may be necessary. If you feel you will be needing supplies for yourself or church in the near future, it would be well to place your orders early. We will endeavor to give as prompt service as possible under existing conditions.

WORKERS AND STUDENTS LEAD THE WAY

All of the Conference workers met together in Orlando a few days ago for a Workers' Meeting. Plans for the Forest Lake Academy building were carefully presented to the workers at this meeting.

The great need of our own Florida Academy was earnestly outlined before the group and an urgent appeal was made which called for the raising of $12,000 to supply the present demands of the institution. Our workers are truly leaders. When the call was made and the appeal for help was given, the Florida workers and committee members responded with pledges to the amount of $960. We sincerely believe in leading the way for our people in every enterprise for God. The next morning a rally service was held in the Academy chapel and the faculty and student body responded with pledges which amounted to over $500. A very fine spirit was manifested and we can confidently depend upon the teachers and students to set the pace in Florida as the Forest Lake Academy building program continues to gather momentum.

We thank God for loyal workers, teachers, and students and earnestly appeal to all the believers in the Florida Conference to join the band of workers in this most worthy endeavor.

Lewis E. Lenheim.

AN ABLE ASSISTANT IN MISSIONARY ENDEAVOR

As you plan for your personal missionary work this year, do not forget that the Signs of the Times is one of the best assistants in soul-winning work. Send your friends and neighbors this truth-filled paper and thus invite them to share the blessings of the gospel with you. Shall we not send Signs, give Signs, use Signs in our missionary work for the Master this year? Lewis E. Lenheim.

FLORIDA NEWS NOTES

Elder Lenheim visited the Miami No. 2 church last Sabbath and preached the dedicatory sermon. The church was well filled and many of the brethren and sisters from nearby churches attended the service. Elder J. A. Bookhart is pastor of this church.

Elder J. G. Thomas, Union Colored Evangelist, is spending this week with our Tampa and St. Petersburg colored churches.

Brother C. A. Wilhelm, one of our lay preachers of Orlando is conducting meetings at Union Park, Florida, a small community just out of Orlando. He reports a good attendance and good interest.

ANOTHER NEW CHURCH

Some two or three years ago Brother W. A. Philpott and family moved from Forest Lake Academy to Creston, Tennessee, to work with Brother B. F. Wrenn in improving a raw piece of land there owned by Brother Wrenn. Later Brother Wrenn's wife and children located on the place and Brother Philpott secured another piece of land for himself. Brother William Victry and family were also located at Creston and Brother W. H. Harbolt and family moved into the community a few months ago. Brother H. Halvorsen and daughter have just recently located near Creston.

A school building has already been erected on Brother Wrenn's place and Sister Wrenn is conducting a full-fledged church school.

The thirteen charter members of the church which was organized Sabbath, January 9, were all members of the conference or other churches, but Sister Wrenn has been giving Bible studies in the community and a number are interested, and with Brother J. S. Jameson now located at Crossville, six miles from Creston, we look for new additions to the Creston church in the near future.

H. E. Lysinger.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND NEWS NOTES

The office family was happy to have Dr. M. E. Olsen, of the Home Study Institute, as a visitor this week. Brother Olsen spent two days in Atlanta and spoke at the 11 o'clock hour Sabbath morning. The Knoxville church was also fortunate in having him pay them a visit while in our field.

Elder Bergherm, of the General Conference Home Missionary Department, arrived at the office today to consult with Brother Crawford and Brother Schneider regarding the Bible Study League. He was very enthusiastic over the program. Elder Bergherm spoke in Columbus, Georgia, Tuesday evening and was assisted by Brethren Schneider and Crawford. We are glad that he could come to our field for a short visit.

Elder Lysinger spoke at the Chattanooga No. 1 church last Sabbath.

South Georgia again has claimed Brother Deyo, for he is down in that part of the conference starting out new colporteurs and assisting those already there.

The Colored Colporteur Institute closed Sabbath, and Sunday found the colporteurs returning to their respective fields of labor with new inspiration. Elder Weeks, who assisted Elder Kirk with the Institute spoke at the Atlanta No. 2 church Sabbath.

ATTENTION! CHURCH ELDERS AND LEADERS OF THE CAROLINA CONFERENCE

The General Conference committee has requested that a special offering be taken on Sabbath, February 20, in all our churches in North America for the purpose of meeting the personal needs of Seventh-day Adventists who have suffered losses during the recent terrible floods. We are putting this notice in the Tidings to request that each minister, elder, and church leader be sure to make an announcement in each church on Sabbath, February 13, about this offering which will be taken on February 20.

Surely, the need of these sufferers will appeal to the heart of every member in our conference, and we feel sure that our people will be glad to cooperate in bringing relief to our fellow believers who have suffered such great losses in these floods. We know not how soon some similar calamity may come to some of the rest of us. Shall we not give on February 20 as we would want other people to give if we were in the place of the flood sufferers of our own household of faith? J. L. Shuler.

CAROLINA NEWS NOTES

The conference committee was in session at the conference office on Wednesday, February 3, and we were glad to greet Elder J. K. Jones and Brother C. G. Ortnier from the Union Conference also Elder Bender, Brother Veach, and Brother Jasperson.

From February 3-6, a very interesting and profitable convention was held for the colored church officers at the Charlotte colored church. There were in attendance all the colored workers of the Carolina Conference and also Elders J. K. Jones, R. G. Strickland, J. G. Thomas, Sister Anna Knight from the Union Conference, and Elder W. H. Bergherm from the General Conference.

Elder J. L. Shuler plans to meet with the Salisbury church Sabbath morning, February 13.

KENTUCKY-TENNESSEE NEWS NOTES

The great item of interest and anxiety naturally during the past two weeks has been the flood condition of the northern and western part of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference. For one full week we were unable to secure any news by mail, telephone, or telegraph from any of our people in Louisville. We are thankful, however, that word brought to us just before this writing, February 2, indicates that, as yet, at least there is no knowledge of any of our people being lost, and we know definitely of a goodly number who are safe and being cared for. However, heavy property loss is experienced in all of the points where we have churches touching the flood area. Elder G. W. Holman reports safe at Ashland, Kentucky. Elder All reports for Covington with word that ten families have lost everything. At Louisville the information is not as definite on account of the quarantine. We know, however, of a considerable number of families whose homes were in the deepest part of the flood, which means that their entire homes were submerged. The white church apparently has not been damaged to any great extent; but without doubt, the flood did considerable damage to the colored church of Louisville. Coming down the line to Paducah: From all we can learn both churches must have been entirely covered; while, as the newspapers have told us, all of the inhabitants of Paducah were moved to other points. Brother Banks, pastor of the Paducah No. 1 church, is in Murray, Ky.; while Brother Hastings, pastor of the Paducah No. 2 church, recently reached Nashville. They, of course, together with the members had to leave all of their belongings, books, clothes, and furniture to the mercy of the flood waters. We feel to thank our Heavenly Father for His protecting care of the life of workers and membership of the churches along the river, as over 1,100 Seventh-day Adventists make their homes in these river towns in the Kentucky-Tennessee territory.

As is being announced in another section of this issue of the Tidings, a special collection will be taken throughout North America to aid those in distress. The date set for this offering is February 20, but in many of the churches of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference this offering will be taken up on the thirteenth of February in order to make funds available more quickly for those in distress. Those who have clothing, shoes, etc. which they wish to give for the benefit of others in need, should write to the Conference office, 2001 24th Ave. N., Nashville, Tenn., and directions will be given as to where the need is greatest and to whom to mail, or ship, such supplies.

At the time of the Teachers' Institute here in Nashville last October, some one left a nearly new copy of "Counsels to Teachers" in the home of Sister Mary Moore. If any one has missed his copy, or remembers having borrowed some one else's and left it at this home, kindly notify Brother Dart at the Conference office.

Sometimes the question is asked in regard to mission goals as to whether our churches ever reach the 40 cent average per member mission goal which is set by the General Conference. In looking over the report for the entire year 1936 we were glad to notice a number of churches in this conference who have reached and passed this goal. The highest average is Pewee Valley with 65 cents per member per week for mission funds. Jackson, Tennessee, comes next with 59 cents; then Murray, Kentucky, with 50 cents; then Bordeaux with 45 cents; and then the large church of Memphis with 42 cents. We are indeed thankful for both the prosperity which has attended these churches and the spirit of giving which has prompted them to so liberally support the missions' program. Naturally it is recognized that at some points and in the country territory not as much cash is handled as at other places. The Master knows every condition, and blesses every sacrifice both great and small in proportion to the amount left and not in proportion to the amount given. We are truly grateful for the liberal part which the nearly 3,300 members of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference have had in supporting the work of carrying this last message to the ends of the earth.

West—Joan West, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas West, was born Oct. 31, 1935, and died December 29, 1936. She is survived by her parents, and one brother. The funeral services were in charge of the writer.

W. W. Westermeyer.

Alexander—Samuel F. Alexander was born in Charlotte, N. C., November 15, 1881, and fell asleep in Jesus at his home in Winston-Salem, December 19, 1936. He accepted the Adventist message in 1926 in a tent meeting conducted by Elder J. S. Green, and was a faithful member of the church, serving in many capacities until a few months ago when he was taken ill. A wife, one son, and a grandson are left to mourn their loss. Brother Alexander was laid to rest in Odd Fellows cemetery to await the call of the Life-giver. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer. P. M. Boyd.

Bates—George W. Bates was born May 21, 1875, in Asheville, N. C., and died at his home at Sugar Hill, near Marion, Dec. 14, 1936. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lona Baker Gates, and five children: Carl and Ruth of Paradise Valley, Calif., Rebecca and Ethel, students at Pisgah, and George Jr. Funeral services were held at the Sugar Hill Methodist church where words of comfort were spoken by the writer. J. Elmer Whelpley.

Gilman—Mrs. Eula McCurdy Gilman was born at Jackson, Michigan, Oct. 17, 1872. Thirty-five years ago she united with the Seventh-day Adventist church and as long as her health permitted was an active missionary worker. In 1920 Brother and Sister Gilman connected with the work at Pisgah where she quietly passed away at the hospital on Dec. 22, 1936. For about twelve years she has been an invalid. Her bright smile during her years of patient suffering was an inspiration. Her husband, Raymond Gilman, mourns his loss, as does also her stepson, Floyd Gilman, of Fletcher, N. C. J. Elmer Whelpley.

Sapp—At the age of fifty-six years, Mrs. George W. Sapp, charter member of the Seventh-day Adventist church in Savannah, Georgia, fell asleep in Jesus. Sister Sapp went to her rest in full confidence that the blast of that great day will awaken her to life with Him whom she faithfully served upon this earth. Those who remain to mourn this passing are the husband, George W. Sapp; sons, Joseph F., Walter M., Leonard R., and David; daughters, Mrs. Maude Cannady and Ester Ruth; as well as sisters and other relatives with hosts of friends as was attested by the numerous floral offerings and the attendance at the funeral. Words of comfort were spoken in the home and the service conducted in the Seventh-day Adventist church of Savannah by Elder R. G. Strickland. Interment at beautiful Bonaventure cemetery overlooking Marshes of Savannah River places our sister's remains in a peaceful and attractive resting place.

Hargis—Thomas L. Hargis, of Knoxville was born June 16, 1856, in Granger county, Tennessee, and died January 12, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Pollard. Our brother embraced the advent message only 7 years ago. It was a source of encouragement to visit him in his declining days and listen to his testimonies about the joy that this truth had brought to his heart. His survivors are: one daughter, three sons, one brother, four sisters, ten grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Our brother was laid to rest in the Rosebury cemetery near Knoxville with the assurance that he will have part in the first resurrection. The funeral services were held in the Seventh-day Adventist church by the writer assisted by J. R. Perkins.

W. H. Westermeyer.

Ayers—Mrs. Sarah L. Ayers, a native of Nebraska, fell asleep in Jesus on January 17, 1937, at the age of 68. Sister Ayers spent most of her life in Memphis, Tennessee, and though in declining health for some years, she was not confined to her bed until two days before her death, at which time she was staying with her daughter, Mrs. William Church. She leaves to mourn eight children, three of these standing firm in the message which she loved so well.

It was the writer's privilege to send off an order for tracts recently for this dear one. She placed these in her letters as she seldom felt well enough to do any walking, but she wished to be found faithful in that which she was able to do. She was laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery, Brother E. Wendell Wolfe officiating in the absence of his father, Elder E. W. Wolfe.

Mrs. M. Rohrbaugh.

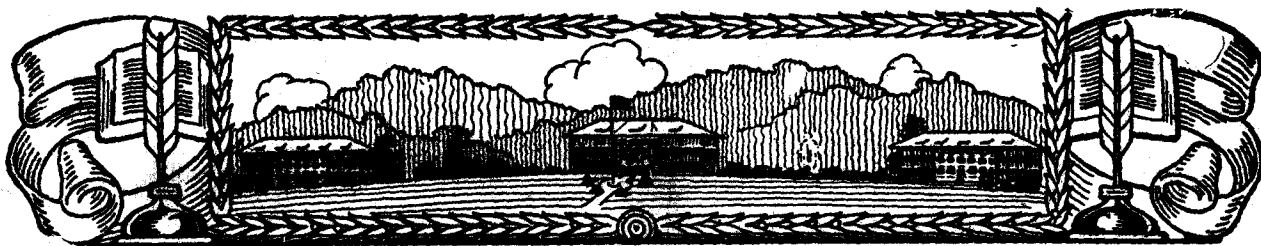

All—Mrs. Theodosia Gertrude Bowers All was born near Allendale, South Carolina, July 15, 1859, and passed from this life at her home in that city, January 14, 1937. July 6, 1873, she was married to Jones H. C. All, who is still living at the age of 84 years, as are also nine children, twenty-one grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren who with a host of friends mourn the loss of a wonderful wife, mother, and friend. Sister All was a gentle and gracious lady of the old South, and her long life was filled with such unselfish and loving service to her family and friends, and her hands were so busy in ministering to the needy and suffering that she was loved by every one. One who was truly "a mother in Israel" has been taken from us, but she rests in Jesus, awaiting His call in the glad morning of the resurrection. A very large group of relatives and friends gathered at the home to show their love and sympathy, and the 52 floral pieces banked around the casket bore silent witness of the affection of her neighbors. Mrs. All was a charter member of the Allendale Baptist church, the pastor of which, the Reverend Mr. McKinnin, together with the Reverend Mr. Wimberly of the Episcopal church assisted the writer in the funeral service. Mrs. All accepted the Seventh-day Adventist faith in 1912, largely through the efforts of her son, Elder John E. All, who is now pastor of the Covington, Kentucky, Seventh-day Adventist church, and who, with his wife and daughter, was present as we laid mother away to rest a little while till we can see her again in that land where there is no parting.

"Tarry with me, O my Saviour,
Lay my head upon Thy breast
Till the morning. Then awake me
Morning of eternal rest."

Rogers—Mrs. Annie J. Rogers was born in Durham, North Carolina, in the year 1879, and departed this life Thursday morning, December 31, 1936. She was converted in early childhood and connected with the Presbyterian Church. Six years ago she attended a tent effort conducted by Elder J. G. Thomas at Durham, taking the Bible as her guide, she believed the teaching and accepted the advent message connecting with the Durham No. 2 church. She remained a loyal and faithful member to the end, taking an active part in all its endeavors and serving willingly wherever duty called her. At the time of her death she was home missionary secretary, and teacher of the primary class of the Sabbath school. We surely miss her in our church work. She leaves to mourn their loss, a husband, one brother, two sisters, a nephew and niece, and a host of friends, but not as others which have no hope.

COLLEGEDALE NEWS NOTES

The school family enjoyed having Elder Kirk speak at the chapel hour last Monday. Since his visit a Colporteur band has been organized with Paul Boynton leader and Evelyn Hammond secretary. Enthusiasm is running quite high and no doubt a number of students will avail themselves of this opportunity for training, preparatory to active participation in this noble line of work.

Three of the students from Collegedale, Daisy Terry, Carl Romans, and Robin Simmons, answered the call of the Red Cross for nurses and first-aid workers to assist in caring for the flood refugees who have been brought to Chattanooga from Arkansas. We are glad for the privilege of helping in this time of calamity.

Louise Shearer, Annette Barrow, and Flora Dodd spent a few days at their homes in Atlanta last week. Young people enjoy being in school but how happy they are for the privilege of seeing the home folks.

William Ramsey has returned to school from his home in Asheville, N. C.

Curtis Kindgren of St. Paul, Minn., recently joined the school family. We are glad to welcome him, and trust that he will enjoy his work at the "School of Standards."

WEDDING BELLS

Duff-Trammel—At the conclusion of a very pretty Christmas program held in the Atlanta church school on Tuesday evening, December twenty-two, scores of persons there gathered were surprised by a simple wedding which united the lives of two well-known and highly esteemed members of the church in that city.

At this time Miss Edna Mae Trammel, so popular in our school circles all over the Georgia-Cumberland Conference, became the bride of Mr. Harry Carl Duff. Mrs. Gerald Mitchell's beautiful voice prepared the assembly for what was shortly to follow as she sang that sweet song, "I Love You Truly." The thrilling notes of "Here Comes the Bride" skilfully played by Mr. George Waters, Jr. introduced both the bride and groom who marching side by side down the aisle slowly approached their waiting minister. With a simple ceremony Elder R. G. Strickland united the couple in the bonds of holy wedlock.

Friends of the bride and groom wish them much happiness and every blessing from above.
