Orlando Youth Rally

By LEE CARTER, M. V. Secretary, Florida Conference

At least twelve hundred people were packed into the Winter Park High School auditorium on Sabbath morning, February 18, to listen to the stirring message presented by Elder R. R. Bietz, president of the Southern New England Conference. Every young person present was made more conscious than ever that Seventh-day Adventist youth do face a crisis. Elder Bietz pointed out to us how this might be a real blessing if we relate ourselves to it properly. For many a young person, the crisis in his life is an open door into a future of wider service for his Master.

In response to a definite call by Elder Bietz for those who had never given their hearts to the Lord or who had strayed from the way, scores of young people stood. As the call was made more general for all who wanted to consecrate their lives to the Lord for service, the entire congregation stood. Truly, this service was a real spiritual feast.

The rally began on Friday evening as Elder F. E. Froom led the packed auditorium in an inspiring song service. A number of beautiful musical numbers were presented just before

New Plans in the Preparation of Secondary Teachers

By THOMAS W. STEEN, Chairman, Division of Education, S. M. C.

A WIDESPREAD interest in secondary teaching as a profession has been rapidly developing at Southern Missionary College for a year or more. The department of education has been reorganizing and extending its offerings and facilities to meet this need. The Collegedale Academy is being developed and strengthened for its new role as a "laboratory school," where Elder Bietz spoke on the importance of life's intrinsic values. Elder Will, our conference Sabbath school secretary, was Sabbath school superintendent for the day. Following Elder H. S. Hanson's review of the previous Sabbath's lesson, Elder R. H. Nightingale took charge of the lesson study in the main auditorium, while the children and youth divisions met in the various rooms of the high school.

Many words of appreciation were heard concerning the interesting and unusual program presented by our union M. V. secretary, Elder L. M. Nelson, in the Sabbath afternoon service. Among the interesting features of this program were a number of M. V. quizzes, beautifully rendered musical numbers, and reports on "Operation Doorbell." Elder F. W. Avery, chairman of the committee who planned the entire day's activities, brought the Sabbath to an appropriate close by reading some touching statements from the Spirit of prophecy.

That evening we suddenly discovered that our Youth Center was almost too small for the hundreds of youth who had gathered to participate in the march and other activities that had been planned by our youth council under the leadership of Elder D. P. Herbert and Max Tindall. It was a full day, but thoroughly enjoyed by all.

the best and most modern methods in education will be demonstrated.

Various course modifications are being made in order to strengthen this work, and of course the teaching staff is being continuously strengthened. The new 1950-51 catalog, which is now in preparation, will reveal another far-reaching modification of the plan: the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nearly $20,000 has come in for Ingathering during the past two weeks. Alabama-Mississippi reports that they expect to have their full Minuteman goal by the time of next week's report. That will be splendid. Some of the other conferences had their Ingathering scheduled to begin later, so they will be in full swing during the next few weeks. While the conference totals appear large, remember that each individual goal is $18.23. We hope that as individuals we recognize our privilege and responsibility. May the Lord give you success as you contact your neighbors and friends, telling them the story of Jesus' soon coming. Remember, the missionary contacts really count. We are looking forward to you as an individual and to your church to reach the Minuteman goal.

★ Elder Allen Walker, who is conducting a fifteen-minute radio program each day in Dothan, received in the first ten days of his program over 600 letters and cards. Ministers and radio executives cannot understand so many returns coming in from the radio broadcast. Pray for a fruitful harvest as Elder Walker continues. By the close of the month there will no doubt be around one thousand taking the Bible correspondence course.

★ The Twentieth Century Bible school had during February over fifteen hundred active students. This exceeds all previous records. During the same month contributions totaled $346.08. For this achievement we are grateful to God and our faithful secretaries.

"THE REMNANT CHURCH"

It is a pleasure for me to recommend to our Carolina believers a new booklet that has just reached my desk from the Pacific Press, entitled "The Remnant Church." This booklet is a compilation from the writings of Ellen G. White. It is "sent forth for the purpose of bringing confidence and courage to the hearts of all those who love God and who believe that He has set in the world a movement that is to proclaim His truth in these last days."

The section titles are, "God's Love for His People," "The Remnant Church Not Babylon," "The Church Triumphant." My friend, you and I want to be members of the remnant church and prepare for the soon coming of our Lord. This booklet will be of real inspiration to us all.

GUEST SPEAKER'S SCHEDULE IN CAROLINA

We are indeed happy to announce that Elder H. K. Christman, of Mountain View, California, will come to the Carolinas for a week and will speak in nine of our churches. An outstandingly capable and colorful public speaker, he draws large audiences wherever he is scheduled, and our members like to bring their non-Adventist friends to hear him. We trust that a large attendance will be present at each of the churches on his itinerary. A motion picture will be part of the evening meetings, which begin at 7:30, and there will be special music at several of the churches. His itinerary is as follows:

Columbia, South Carolina, Monday, April 10; Spartanburg, South Carolina, Tuesday, April 11; Greenville, South Carolina, Wednesday, April 12; Hendersonville, North Carolina, Thursday, April 13; Fletcher, North Carolina, Friday, April 14; Asheville, North Carolina, Sabbath, April 15; Pisgah, (3:00 P.M.) Sabbath, April 15; Marion, (7:30 P.M.) Saturday

DEDICATION OF THE MALABAR SCHOOL BUILDING

Sabbath, March 4, was a high day for our church members at Melbourne. Some months ago they decided that they must have a church school for their children. As we do not own our church building in Melbourne, it was finally decided to erect a small one-teacher school building near Malabar, which is closer to where many of the families with children of school age live.

Brother and Sister Boskind offered to give the land and put up the school building. Another member who is a well driller offered to put down the well. Still others have helped in buying the new desks, encyclopedias, maps, globe, and other equipment such as is needed in a new school.

Last Sabbath morning, Sabbath school and church services were held in the school building. In the afternoon service Elder Nightingale spoke words of appreciation concerning the excellent work our Melbourne people have done in planning for Christian education in their community. Elder Ludwig, the district leader, gave a brief history of the educational program that finally led to the erection of this new building. Mrs. Ricks, the church school teacher, has nine students this first year of school at Malabar. We know that the Lord is going to continue to bless in the educational work in this section of our field.

LEE CARTER

STUDENT COLPORTEUR INSTITUTE

From March 3 to 8 the students of Southern Missionary College had the opportunity of attending a successful colporteur institute. It was most inspiring to notice the great interest among the students as they attended the colporteur classes. Fourteen students have signed up to come to the Florida Conference this summer to scatter the printed page. We believe we shall see a new day when the students enter the field.

Throughout the Florida Conference there are others who are starting now to earn scholarships in order to return to college next fall. We trust that you will pray for these new workers as they go into the field only a few weeks from now.

It may be that you know of someone who ought to be in our college but who does not have the funds to pay expenses. These young people would do well to enter the literature ministry and earn a scholarship in order that they may continue their education. If you know of anyone who you feel might be interested in this, be sure to write your Publishing Department, Box 1313, Orlando, Florida.

NEWS

★ Sabbath, March 11, was a high day for the believers at the Okeechobee church when the building was dedicated. Elder R. H. Nightingale preached at the eleven o'clock hour and at the dedicatory service in the afternoon. A further report concerning this will appear in a later issue of SOUTHERN TIDINGS.

★ Elder M. R. Garrett, pastor of the Tampa church, is conducting a short evangelistic revival in Jacksonville. This will be followed with meetings by Elder L. O. Coon.

★ Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Coffey recently joined the staff of workers in the Florida Conference. They are located in Jacksonville, where they will be associated with Elder L. O. Coon in pastoral-evangelistic work. Since coming to our field, Brother Coffey has been helping in the Ingathering work in Tampa and Sarasota.

★ Elder W. C. Hatch started a series of meetings on Sunday night, March 11, in Riviera, just north of West Palm Beach.

★ Mr. and Mrs. Jack Just have moved to West Palm Beach to be associated with Elder W. C. Hatch in the evangelistic program.

★ Mrs. Lucy Gattis, who has been connected with the work in Perry for some months, has returned to the West Palm Beach district to labor in that section of our field.

★ Elder George Carter is planning to conduct an evangelistic revival in the St. Cloud church.

★ The Daytona Beach church is securing a beautiful lot and enthusiastically laying plans for a new church building.

★ On Monday night, March 13, Elder R. H. Nightingale and W. F. Miller attended a business meeting of the Gainesville church, at which the location for a new church home was discussed. The Gainesville church recently sold their old church property and are looking forward to erecting a new house of worship.

church their new pastor, Elder Fenton E. Froom, son of Elder and Mrs. L. E. Froom of Washington, D. C. Elder Froom was born in Wilmington, Delaware. He received his high school education at the Takoma Academy and was graduated from Washington Missionary College in 1941. Since then he has labored in the Potomac, Ohio, and Florida conferences, having come to our field from Orlando, Florida, where he served as pastor of the city church during the past two and a half years.

Mrs. Froom is the former Elsie Sundstrom, who received her training at Plainfield Academy, Washington Missionary College, and the Washington Sanitarium School of Nursing.

We welcome Elder and Mrs. Froom and their three children, Margarete, Marilyn, and Fenton, Jr., to our field and are confident that they will successfully carry forward the good work done by Elder and Mrs. H. B. Taylor, who have accepted a call to work with the Florida Sanitarium. Elder Froom has been well received by the Atlanta believers and is already actively engaged in the Atlanta evangelistic effort.

TRAINING FOR LEADERSHIP

Sabbath, February 25, marked the last of four regional M. V. and temperance officers' meetings in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference. These conventions were held in Savannah, Chattanooga, Pine Mountain Valley, and Knoxville.

The importance of trained leadership was emphasized at each of these conventions. On Friday evening preceding the final meeting at Knoxville, it was my privilege to organize a Master Comrade Club with a membership of fourteen. We believe this is in line with training leaders for our youth throughout the conference.

On Sabbath, March 4, I had the pleasure of participating in the home visitation program at Altamont, Tennessee. There was a very heartening response on the part of the membership.

On this same afternoon a Master Comrade Club of fifteen members was organized at Altamont. I urge every young people's society in the conference to organize a Master Comrade class to train the young people to become leaders.

The M. V. program of the Georgia-Cumberland Conference is on the forward march, and we believe the spring Week of Prayer will see real results in the salvation of our youth. We urge the young people of the conference to accept the challenge of sharing their faith through the activities of the M. V. department.

THE WELFARE APPROACH

The "Every Home Visitation Crusade" idea or, as it is more recently called, "Operation Doorbell," continues to spread from church to church. A new day is upon us, and surely we can testify that Psalm 110:3 is being fulfilled, "Thy people shall be willing in the day of Thy power."

This judicious approach is very simple and is proving effective in breaking down prejudice, creating good will, and winning the confidence of the people we visit. Our conference home missionary secretary has provided cards giving a report of the welfare work done by the churches in our conference territory during the past year. There is one line on these cards for the church address and one line for the phone number of your local Dorcas welfare leader.

As we ring the doorbells we pleasantly greet the people by saying, "Good morning (afternoon, evening). We are making a few friendly calls, and we shall be glad to step in and visit with you. We are taking a census for our Seventh-day Adventist Dorcas welfare work." Then give them the report and call attention to a few important items, saying, "There are two items we would like to find out from you. First, we want the names of any worthy families you know of who are in need of clothing, so that our welfare workers can call upon them. Then, we are gathering good used clothing in your neighborhood (give a definite time or date), and we would like to find out if you have any garments our ladies could use in their work of mercy for the needy. You may be interested to know that none of our welfare workers receive any remuneration for their work. It is a labor of love."

As you end this phase of your visit and make signs that you are getting ready to leave, tactfully suggest that you would be happy if the individual you are visiting would join you in a word of prayer for those who are honest in heart but are in need of help. (Kneel, remain seated or standing, as circumstances suggest.)

After praying an appropriate prayer, thank them for their interest, then say, "It is wonderful to fellowship with individuals who love God and believe in prayer. Today people do not study the Bible as they should. We do not seem to take time to read and study like our fathers did. There has been prepared a free Bible course to be made available to all who are interested. It takes only about fifteen minutes a day, and surely fifteen minutes a day is not too much time to devote to God and Bible study. I have taken the course and found it to be very good indeed." Show them the enrollment card and read a few of the headings. Offer to mail the card for them, and procure the enrollment if at all possible. However, use no pressure. Leave the home in a pleasant, friendly manner, saying appropriate words and wishing them well.

This type of work is opening new avenues of service. It brings us face to face with those who are in need and those who are in a position to contribute. It also emphasizes the fact that in every one of our churches there should be adequate storage space provided so that the clothing can be stored and arranged in proper order, and we can speedily answer the calls for help that come to us.

1950 INGATHERING CAMPAIGN

Yes, it is now getting into full swing. Some churches began as much as two months ago, and several of these are already over the top. A number of our churches are located in the northern portion of our conference and do not have much mild weather during the early part of the year as we find here in Nashville and points south; yet they, too, are getting under way, and the prospects are that we will have the most profitable Ingathering endeavor this year that we have ever had. One reason for this, it seems, is that not only the conference workers and pastors are placing it upon a missionary basis primarily, making the financial angle secondary, but our members are catching the vision of what the Lord can do through them in making friendly contacts that will ultimately bear fruit in the kingdom.

We have received word that the Memphis church has good prospects for receiving a permit to ingather there. In the past few years they have been delayed somewhat in obtaining this permit. Elder Carman has made a good impression on the officials, and we are certainly happy that they may now be able to go right ahead without further hindrances.

The mission fields, and our local conferences as well, need the funds that will be collected during the Ingathering campaign. We want to encourage churches and individuals to make a complete coverage of their territory. If this is done, there will be little doubt that the goal will be reached in every church. Let us be known as a people of good works, as well as having the truth, and the funds necessary to carry on the work will come pouring into the treasury. We have been given a part to perform, and let us each one be faithful in fulfilling his duty.

C. W. HIGGINS,

INGATHERING

★ Elder Calvin Osborn reports that the Louisville, Kentucky, church is well started toward the Minuteman goal. They are organized and going. One young man in house-to-house work visited four homes and received $25. They plan to raise at least a thousand dollars a week until the goal is reached.

★ Elder G. A. Coon's Madison College church has passed the half-way mark and is on the home stretch. We expect to see them reach and pass the goal soon.

★ Highland Academy and the Fountain Head church are busy. The academy plans another field day for the students and hopes to be over the top at that time.

★ Paul Felt writes that the coal strike was hard on the people in his east Kentucky district, but that now it is over, they expect to make a quick work of Ingathering.

★ Mayfield, Kentucky, joined the victory parade last week. Congratulations, Mayfield! We rejoice with you over a task well done.

★ Despite the fact that their pastor left them just as the campaign was getting well started, the Lexington, Kentucky, church is well past the half-way mark to a Minuteman goal and are pressing on. We hope that they will be over the top soon and surprise their new pastor.

★ At this writing we have no new reports from Covington, Newport, Nashville, Bordeaux, Bowling Green, Paducah, Leach, Jackson, Dyersburg, and a number of others. Maybe they are planning a surprise.

★ Elder J. O. Marsh is busy as can be these days lending a helping hand here and there, and we all admire his enthusiasm. He wants to make a quick thing of Ingathering. Let's all help.

★ Isolated and conference church members should send their Ingathering funds to the conference treasurer, C. W. Higgins. You can have a part in this great work also. Don't ask to be excused.

NEWS

★ Elder L. M. Nelson, of the Southern Union, and Elder Teddric Mohr of our local conference, have been visiting M. V. societies and church schools during the past ten days. Their itinerary included the churches at Madison College, Gallatin Road, Madison, Highland Academy, Sand Hill, Bowling Green, Stearns, Lexington, Pewee Valley, Louisville, and Covington. An M. V. rally was held at Gallatin Road on March 4, and another at Covington on March 11. Further details will appear in a later issue.

★ Elder L. M. Nelson, union Missionary Volunteer secretary, is conducting Week of Prayer services for the young people in Stearns, Kentucky, from March 12 to 18.

★ Elder and Mrs. W. E. Strickland visited the church at Columbia, Tennessee, on Sabbath, March 11.

★ The Kentucky-Tennessee Conference has called Phaize J. Salhany, from Southern Missionary College, as a ministerial intern. He will take over his duties at the close of school.

DISTRICT CHANGES

In the recent meeting of the conference committee many important matters were taken up and decisions made. Among these was the shifting of leaders in some of our larger districts. Elder F. S. Keitts, who for about four years served as pastor of the Jacksonville, Florida, church, was asked to locate in Tampa, Florida. The committee also voted to purchase a parsonage in Tampa, in which Elder Keitts and his family will reside. Elder W. M. Starks, who for nearly five years has been pastor of the Tampa, Florida, district, has been asked to locate in Miami, Florida, as district leader for that area. Over three years ago, Elder J. F. Street came to the conference from Arizona and located in Miami, Florida. He and Mrs. Street will transfer to the Jacksonville, Florida, district.

While in their former districts, these brethren have been exceptionally blessed of the Lord. We are certain that their new districts will accept their leadership wholeheartedly and give them their finest cooperation. These moves became effective on March 11. H. D. SINGLETON

PROGRESS AT NASHVILLE

For the last two and a half years P. C. Winley has served as pastor of the Meharry Boulevard church. Recently Brother Winley was relieved of this work that he might devote his entire time to managing the Book and Bible House of the conference. Although carrying a dual responsibility, Brother Winley greatly strengthened the work of the church and much progress was made.

Among the things added to the physical plant was the installation of an automatic gas heating system. The schoolrooms were remodeled and electric lighting supplied, and new school equipment was purchased for two classrooms. During the past summer the church was completely redecorated in the main auditorium. On the outside guttering was installed and the building repainted.

Brother Winley will now have more time to visit our churches in the field with book displays of the wonderful literature published by Seventh-day Adventists. Already he has had opportunity to visit several of our churches. We appreciate the good work that is being done in this department.

RECENT VISIT TO COVINGTON

Early Sabbath morning, February 25, I journeyed to Covington, Kentucky, to help with the Ingathering campaign. Arriving there I found the city covered with snow; however, the group of believers had assembled for Sabbath service. At the eleven o'clock hour I spoke to the group on the subject, "Study, Pray, and Work." The members were refreshed by the sermon. On Sunday, although the ground was covered with snow, some of the faithful members went out to do Ingathering, working for several hours. In the section we worked, the people were quite receptive and asked us to come and organize a Sunday school for their children, as there is no church located in that vicinity. The Covington church has made plans to open one immediately, a branch Sabbath school on Sunday morning. The Covington members are very missionary-conscious and are all of good courage.

NOTES ABOUT NASHVILLE

Since the first of the year the Nashville churches, Meharry Boulevard and Riverside, have had a change of pastors. Elder E. F. Carter, who was already pastor and chaplain at Riverside, has had the added responsibility of the Meharry Boulevard church. N. A. Lindsay, a recent graduate of Oakwood College, who assisted in the Louisville, Kentucky, evangelistic campaign last summer, is working along with Elder Carter as his assistant. Together they have been doing very nicely in their work. At the present time both of these churches are in the midst of their Ingathering campaign. The Riverside church has reached its Minuteman goal and gone beyond the mark, having raised $24.98 per member. The Meharry Boulevard church as yet has not reached its Minuteman goal but is working toward that end, as the campaign was recently launched in that church.

Since the close of the evangelistic effort in October, 1949, regular Sunday night services have been held in the Meharry Boulevard church, which has aided in holding the attention of people who are interested as a result of the tent effort. Several have taken their stand as a direct result of these continued meetings, three of them only this past Sabbath.

This church has been blessed with a number of guest speakers, which always adds to the pleasantness of the church service. On Sabbath, March 11, Elder F. L. Bland, president of the Central States Mission, spoke to the congregation. On Sunday night, March 13, Elder R. L. Woodfork, pastor of the Kansas City, Kansas, church, addressed the church. A number of visitors were present, also. Both of these speakers were very much appreciated. Elder T. M. Fountain, who was once pastor of this church and is now president of the Lake Region Conference, surprised the members with a visit on Wednesday night at the mid-week prayer meeting and had a very interesting message to give.

Brother Lindsay, who assists a great deal in the chaplaincy at the Riverside Sanitarium, recently related an interesting experience regarding one of the hospital patients. He said that as he was on his regular rounds visiting the patients he stopped in the room of a woman who at the time was unable to rest, having just come from under an operation. He read a few verses from the Bible to her and had prayer, then left the room. The next day the doctor told him that this woman said that the previous day had been her best one since her stay in the hospital, which she believed to be a direct result of the prayer offered in her behalf.

The spirit of carrying the gospel to others is predominant at Riverside. Although each worker at the sanitarium has a full load, all find time to do missionary work. Two of our best lay evangelists are workers at the sanitarium, Dr. Rayfield Lewis, staff physician, and Lowell Benson, X-ray and laboratory technician. Both of these workers systematically give Bible studies in several places in the city, and some people in these classes are reaching the crisis point of deciding for the right or continuing in iniquity.

There is a great work to be done in Nashville, although the work has been going forward here for many years. It is to this end—getting the message to the people—that we are working.

EVANGELICISM—Continued

ADVENTURING FOR GOD

the homes and signed up four for the Twentieth Century Bible Course.

When the twenty-one adventurers had returned to the church and prayer had been offered, each told his experience. It was indeed an hour of spiritual guidance. Some of the adventurers had enrolled as many as ten in the Twentieth Century Bible Course. Others found men and women longing for the Word of God. It was a thrill for all to see how God goes before and prepares the way. With sixty-five enrolled in the Bible Course, and fifty homes that had been prayed in, we all felt that God had been leading our group.

I think this is a wonderful way to do missionary work, and I am happy to have a small part in helping to finish the work that is to be done before Jesus comes.

The Journey's End

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord." Revelation 14:13.

HALBERT:—Nellie Domena Hayden was born on August 8, 1870, at Sandusky, Wisconsin, and passed away on February 3, 1950, at the home of her niece, Mrs. W. A. Philpot, in Graysville, Tennessee. Her love for the message was reflected in her enthusiasm when she said that the "Review and Herald" was in her father's home when he was married, and they had never since (1864) been without its comforting messages and timely warnings. "Aunt Nellie," as everyone knew her, was baptized at the age of sixteen and was among the first students to enroll in the old Graysville Academy. On June 28, 1899, she was united in marriage to Curtis Gordon Halbert of Georgetown, New York, but he was taken from her by death in less than three years. Through the years Aunt Nellie has remained young through her love for the young people wherever she has been and in turn was loved by them. In a note written shortly before her death she expressed her appreciation of the privilege of belonging to the great family on earth who keep the commandments of God and have the faith of Jesus.

A. L. DICKERSON

JOHNSON:—Mable Straw was born in Louisville, Kentucky, on November 28, 1886, and fell asleep at the Wildwood Sanitarium on February 26, 1950. She was united in marriage to Horace Hush Johnson when twenty-nine years of age, and to this union were born three children, Howard, Lawrence, and Eleanor, Howard having preceded her in death. In 1927 she accepted the Advent Message and became an earnest, active member of the Louisville, Kentucky, church. This hope so dear to her heart when her son and husband left her to mourn, cheered her heart to the last. Her life was closely bound up with her children, and there was one longing hope which always gave her courage—that of seeing them and having them with her in the better world. Sister Johnson leaves to mourn her two children, Lawrence Johnson and Eleanor Bennett of Washington, D.C.; one brother, William Cecil Straw, of San Marino, California, and four grandchildren.

A. L. DICKERSON

DAVIS:—Charles Henry Davis, Jr., was born in Thomston, Alabama. He departed this life on Sunday, February 12, 1950, in Birmingham, Alabama. In 1944 he attended evangelistic meetings conducted by Elder H. R. Murphy, and after attending regularly and learning more of the wonderful truths of the Bible and God's will for man, he was baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church. He lived a consistent Christian life until his passing. He was a faithful worker in the church. In 1945 he was united in wedlock to Francis Hortense Price, to which union were born three children. Surviving him are: a devoted wife; one son and daughter, Artie Joel and Charesa; a brother, three sisters, and a host of relatives and friends.

H. R. MURPHY

PATRICK:—Edgar Lee Patrick was born on August 1, 1904, at Doerun, Georgia, and died quietly in the Monroe Memorial Hospital, Ocala, Florida, on February 7, 1950, after an illness of five weeks. He moved to Archer from west Florida in 1927. He was employed by the Brice Lumber Company at the time of his death. Those left to meet him in the resurrection are: his sister, Miss Mamie Patrick; a brother, William I. Patrick of Dunnellon; and a nephew, Thomas Patrick. Members of the Gainesville church assisted in the services.

MILLER:—Sister D. I. Winn was born in Ellsworth, Wisconsin, on July 3, 1867, and died at her home in Graysville, Tennessee, on March 1, 1950. At the age of twenty-three she was united in marriage to Harry H. Miller, to which union three boys were born. In 1896 they were both baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church at a camp meeting in Winoka, Minnesota. In 1901 Brother and Sister Miller moved to Graysville, where she has held various offices in the church and zealously labored for the salvation of friends and neighbors. One son, Clint B. Miller, died in the first World War, and Sister Miller was the last Gold Star Mother in Rhea County. She is survived by her husband, Harry H. Miller; two sons, Eldon R. of Graysville, Tennessee, and Clyde W. of Pendleton, Oregon; and five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A. L. DICKERSON

WILSON:—Rosa Lee Hamilton Wilson was born near Charlotte, North Carolina, on December 6, 1885, and passed away on February 13, 1950, in the Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, Florida. Her parents moved to Seville, Florida, when she was small, and later to Daytona Beach, where she was married to Ben Wilson. They lived in Miami and Apopka until his death about twenty years ago. Sister Wilson has been a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist church about thirty years. She leaves to mourn: three daughters, Mrs. Louise Shuts, Mrs. Alice McDade, and Mrs. Dorothy Garry, all of Miami. One son passed away three years ago at Fletcher, North Carolina. She also leaves eleven grandchildren, three brothers, and one sister, besides many friends. Following the funeral at Orlando, she was placed beside her husband in the old Apopka Cemetery.

SCHMIDT:—Roy Schmidt was born at Mt. Vernon, Illinois, on August 1, 1877, and died at Sanford, Florida, on January 25, 1950. Brother Schmidt accepted the message in 1934 and has been a faithful member of the Sanford church since that time. His smiling face will be missed by all who knew him. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War, and it can be said of him that he was loyal to both God and his country. He leaves to mourn: his wife, Mrs. Maude Schmidt of Sanford, one sister in California; and two brothers, one in Illinois and one in California. A. E. DEYO

The Voice of Prophecy Wins a Soul

By M. E. MOORE

As we look over the field and see the hundreds of cities, towns, and communities where the message has not yet penetrated, it is only natural that our hearts quake at the task that lies before us. But God knows where the honest in heart live, and He has ways and means that we know not of by which He will bring to a triumphant completion the plan of salvation. On the occasion when He was making His entry into Jerusalem, He replied when asked to still the voices of those who did Him homage, "I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out." Luke 19:40.

Out in the highways and byways the Holy Spirit is rapidly searching out those who "hunger and thirst" for truth. Elder Evans and I heard a thrilling story of the way "radio's slim fingers" had reached out into a dark county and touched the heart of one of His jewels.

Eight miles from town, and two miles from the main highway, lived a lady whose parents had recently died, so she found herself the sole occupant of the farm and its lovely home. One Sunday morning as she idly twirled the dial of her radio, she heard for the first time the appealing Voice of Prophecy. As she listened further, the announcer offered the free correspondence course. The offer was accepted and this fine lady soon finished the first course.

On completion of the last lessons, she was asked if she would like to talk to a representative of the Bible school. Of course she would, for she wanted to straighten out those folks on the matter of the Sabbath. But no one came. She then decided, as she continued to listen to the weekly broadcast, that she would take the second course offered. After taking the lessons on Daniel and Revelation, she became convinced that the Sabbath was Bible truth. When asked again if she would like to see a representative, she said "yes." But she wondered what she could talk about, now that she couldn't straighten him out on the Seventh-day Sabbath.

The sequel to the story is that Sister Troy Caddell has been a member of the remnant church for two years now and is rejoicing in her new-found faith, even though she is the only Seventh-day Adventist in her county. She is holding high the torch of truth and takes every opportunity to share her faith as she goes about her duties as a case worker in the county welfare department. Beginning her second year as a successful superintendent of the Selma Sabbath school, Sister Caddell has missed only one Sabbath since her baptism, though she must drive forty-two miles each way to attend.

Surely God is searching out by various means those whose hearts are turned toward Him. The message hastens on, and we must be alert, lest we be found unprepared as Satan tries to dupe us into thinking that the end is afar because the laborers are few and the field of labor so large. The work will be cut short, for the last movements will be rapid. This is but another token of the working of the Spirit on the hearts of men. Let us take courage and press the battle hard until the church triumphant marches victoriously into the Holy City, as Christ claims His own.

Adventuring for God

By Mrs. R. L. SIMMONS

ON Sabbath afternoon, March 4, twenty-one adventurers in Ashland Kentucky, took their Bibles and necessary literature and started out on their missionary adventure of ringing door-bells.

As I am a little timid, I wondered just how I would find the words to talk with people that I didn't know; but somehow God has a way of supplying them. In the first home I visited the lady was glad to learn of the station where she could get the Voice of Prophecy. Her mother-in-law, who listens to the program, had told her about it, but she failed to get the time and station. Before I left I had prayer asking God's blessing upon her home. I visited ten homes, receiving a cordial welcome in all and an invitation to come back. I had prayer in nine of
