Go Forward

Brother, up to the breach for Christ's freedom and truth;
Let us act as we teach, with the strong faith of age, and the bright hope of youth.

Hear not their battle cry, ask not who stands or falls,
Grasp the sword of the Lord, and forward!

Brother, strong in the faith that the right will come light, Never tremble at death, never think of thyself 'mid the roar of the fight.

Hark to the battle cry sounding from yonder sky,
Grasp the sword of the Lord, and forward!

Brother, sing a loud psalm, our hopes not forlorn,
After storm comes the calm, after darkness and twilight comes forth the new morn.

Let the mad foe get madder, never quail up the ladder,
Grasp the sword of the Lord, and forward!

Brother, up to the breach for Christ's freedom and truth;
As we live, we shall teach with the strong faith of age and the bright hope of youth;

If we perish, then o'er us will ring the loud chorus,
Grasp the sword of the Lord, and forward!

—Selected.

A Few Words by Way of Introduction

WE TAKE pleasure in introducing to the public THE CENTRAL ADVANCE which is published by the Central Union Conference in the interest of the Everlasting Gospel as set forth in Rev. 14:6-19. We desire that it shall faithfully accomplish its mission, and be instrumental in preparing a people for the coming of the Son of Man. We further hope that, like a true sentinel, it may clearly sound forth warning notes, showing that we are near the close of earth's long night of sin, and say to all its readers, "Prepare to meet thy God." As a faithful herald, to prepare a people for the end of the world (Matt. 24:14), we earnestly desire that it shall arouse the people to greater activity in the work of the Master. We also hope that it will sound the call to service so faithfully that the sleeping saints may be awakened to do thorough missionary work. In order to promote a healthy growth in all the branches of the work, it will be necessary for these different branches to be considered in its columns from time to time.

Eld. W. A. Colcord has been chosen as managing editor, and I am convinced that we have been fortunate in securing his service for this work, as he has had quite an experience as an editor and writer. For the past nine years he has been engaged largely in this line of work in Australia.

He will have associated with him in the work, Prof. L. A. Hoopes, Dr. Lyra H. George, and Katie Coleman. Prof. Hoopes will have charge of the Educational Department, for which he is well fitted; Dr. L. H. George will conduct the Health Department; and Miss Coleman the Missionary Department.

Though a paper may be ably edited, in order for it to contain fresh, live matter, it must have a good corps of contributors from among those who are coming in touch with the different lines of gospel work through actual field service. Thus it will be filled with thoughts gained from real experience in the field, and this will bring life and courage to the hearts of its readers.

I earnestly request that our workers stay up the hands of the editors by reporting all items of interest from the field, as they will need your co-operation in making the paper a success. We will be pleased to receive articles on educational, health, and missionary lines. In the publication of this paper we desire to better come in touch with our people throughout the Central Union Conference in order that we may have concerted action in important undertakings for the spread of the truth for these last days, and do with dispatch the work given us to do.

The Central Union Conference and Union College have united in this work. The Practical Educator, which has been published by Union College, is now merged into THE CENTRAL ADVANCE, and also the Nebraska Reporter, the state paper of the Nebraska Conference. Instead of bringing more papers into the field, therefore, there will be one less than formerly.

We ask the hearty co-operation of all in this good enterprise, that the work may be carried forward more expeditiously and effectually throughout the Union Conference.

E. T. RUSSELL.

A Specific Work

As a people we are in the world for a definite and specific purpose. Others have done their part in preaching the gospel and preparing the way for the proclamation of the message which has been committed to us for this time. Explorers, inventors, translators, Bible Societies, missionaries have all done a work preparatory to the work God has given us to do. What they have done is not to be ignored nor despised.

At the same time their work is not our work. What they have done, though necessary and good in itself, is not what we are to do. The special work committed to them is not the special work committed to us.

We should never lose sight of the fact that to us has been given a definite and specific work. That work is to proclaim to the world that Christ is soon coming, and to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

Others in other ages have preached the gospel, and God has blessed the preaching. Thousands have been converted and will be saved as the result of it.

We, too, are to preach the gospel; but we are to preach it in the light of Christ's soon coming, in the light of the judgement in session, in the light of the end of the world and the day of the Lord near at hand.

Peter preached the gospel on the day of Pentecost; but it would not have been correct to have preached that they were then living in the last generation. Paul preached the gospel also; but it would not have been proper for him to have preached that the hour of God's judgment had come. But we have reached the time when these very things are to be proclaimed, and that, too, with a loud voice.

But because God has committed to us this most solemn, important, and definite work, let us be careful not to despise nor disparage any other work which has for its object the uplifting or betterment of mankind. The rather let us encourage, wish well, and bid God-speed to every gospel, humane and philanthropic work, wherever and by whomsoever carried on.

At the same time we must never lose sight of the fact, the great and inspiring thought, that to us has been committed a definite and a specific work—the work of giving to the world the last and closing warning message of the gospel. This is our work.

And to this work let every thought be directed, every energy bent. A greater, a more solemn, a more important, a more inspiring work was never committed to any people. When we have done our work, think of it! when we have completed the task committed to us as individuals and as a people, the mystery of God will be finished, the reign of Satan will be over, and the end will come. When we have proclaimed in all the world, as a witness to all nations, this gospel of the soon coming reign of Christ in his kingdom, the end will come. Then brother, sister, haste to thy work.

The Central Union Conference

THE Central Union Conference was organized at Topeka, Kansas, April 17, 1902. I will briefly state what led to this organization.

At the last General Conference it was decided to do away with District Superintendents, and in the different districts that had been operated by such, organize Union Conferences.

At this time what was known as District Five was organized into the Southwestern Union Conference, and shortly after General Conference, District Four was organized into the Northern Union Conference. This division was not satisfactory to all, as the conferences comprising the Union College school district thought it would be better if they could be organized into a separate Union Conference.

This sentiment seemed to gain favor until the time of the Annual Session of the Northwestern Union Conference, held at Des Moines, Iowa, the beginning of April, 1902. At that time dellegates were chosen from the Nebraska and Iowa Conferences to attend the Southwestern Union Conference held in Topeka, Kans., the latter part of that month. After a thorough discussion by the delegates present on the proposal that some of the Northwestern and Southwestern territory be cut off from said Conferences, in order to form a Central Union Conference comprising the Union College District, it was moved and unanimously carried that the Missouri, Kansas and Colorado Conferences be cut off from the Southwestern Union Conference, and that Iowa and Nebraska be cut off from the Northwestern Union Conference, and form what is now known as the Central Union Conference. The reason why I have felt called upon to write this article defining the territory of the Central Union, is because I find that there are many of our people living within this territory who are ignorant in regard to its boundaries and what it comprises. I hope that this explanation will be satisfactory to all.

Object Lessons

I HOPE that all Conference officers and workers will, to the utmost of their ability, encourage the sale of Christ's Object Lessons, so that the quota of all the Conferences may be disposed of. Since we have this work to do, since this is required of us, why not, as soon as possible, see that it is completed? The figures below will show what each Conference in the Central Union Conference has remitted to Union College from the sale of Christ's Object Lessons:

Iowa	$11,830.00
Nebraska	11,000.00
Kansas	5,034.50
Colorado	3,300.00
Missouri	900.00
Total	$32,064.50

We are thankful to see that so much has been done by the different States, and why not during this winter, while money is plenty and people have time to read, close out our entire quota?

E. T. RUSSELL.

The Week of Prayer

THE week of prayer season will be held December 20-27, and all of our people should plan to be present at every service if possible. This will be a season of prayer and confession, a time in which to draw near to God. The people of God need more power, and this can be obtained only by seeking for it. Why not draw fresh draughts from the well of salvation? A great crisis is before us, and we need help from God to pass through these trying times and at last stand before the Son of Man. We need with one accord to seek God as did the disciples before Pentecost. A people never needed power more than does that people who are looking for the Saviour in this generation. Shall we not count on all our brethren to join us in seeking him for a Pentecostal out-pour?

Object Lessons and Church School Work in Missouri

SINCE our camp-meeting, I have been very busy starting church schools and working up the sale of Christ's Object Lessons. We have at present church schools in successful operation at Enyart, Tarsney, Utica, Joplin, Carthage, Beaman and St. Louis. Others will start soon. If all parents knew what lies but a little way in the future, we would have many more church schools. However, we will operate this year about all we are prepared to supply with efficient teachers.

All the churches I have visited in the interest of Object Lessons have taken hold of the matter with commendable interest. This is the last call for this excellent book. Other work will soon demand our time and effort. Let us push this work to a finish between this and holidays. What better book could be placed in the hands of the people for their holiday gifts?

R. C. PORTER.

Nevada and El Dorado Springs, Missouri

SINCE closing the meetings at Joplin, I have visited Nevada and El Dorado Springs in the interest of Christ's Object Lessons. These companies have done something toward selling Object Lessons, and many of the members are willing to do all they can to circulate the book and advance the work.

W. S. CRUZAN.

St. Louis, Missouri

I AM located in St. Louis. While this is a great field, it is by no means receptive. The people are slow to accept anything new, especially if it is unpopular. But nevertheless some do take hold and respond to God's call.

I do not give all my time to the missionary work as such. On an average I have eight Bible readings per week, and am at present canvassing some besides for Object Lessons. I am having some success with the book, and at the same time meeting with people, thus having an opportunity to present the truth in a measure.

Sometimes I feel rather discouraged, but I have not arrived at a stopping place as yet.

CORA A. RAPP.

Object Lesson Work in Kansas

At the close of the conference and camp-meeting held at Junction City, Kans., I was asked to visit Burlington, Le Roy, and Yates Center in behalf of the Object Lessons work. At these different places I have found the brethren of good courage. When the book work was laid before them, they expressed a willingness to do their part, and are zealously doing what they can to sell the book. The Lord has given me freedom in presenting this line of work to my brethren, and we have good reason to believe that these little companies will sell their quota of books.

N. T. SUTTON.

SINCE the Junction City camp-meeting our time has been divided among the following churches in the interest of the Object Lessons work: Clay Center, Miltonvale, Abilene, Salina, Beverly, and Ellsworth. The Lord has been blessing the efforts at most of these places, and the brethren seem inclined to move out into the work for this time. They are taking hold nobly to push the book work to completion by January 1st, and the Lord is blessing their efforts. One brother, newly converted to the faith, went out one morning, and in a short time sold nearly double his quota of books.

Quarterly meetings were held with the Clay Center, Beverly, and Salina churches. At the latter place one individual went forward with the Lord in baptism.

We trust we have the prayers of the brethren.

T. GODFREY and C. E. PECKHAM.

Wichita, Kansas

AFTER the camp-meeting held at Junction City, Kans., it was decided that I work in Wichita and vicinity for Christ's Object Lessons. I have worked in Wichita and Newton, finding the brethren and sisters glad that they can have a part in this good work.

I find that the Lord leads the way when we go from house to house presenting the book, and blesses us in our efforts. I realize that when one of these books is sold, the person purchasing it will not be prejudiced, and hence the way will be opened for other books.

FRANK J. OGDEN.

Burlington, Iowa

THE work in this place is on the onward move. We have much to praise the Lord for. I have been here but a short time, most of which has been spent in selling C.O.L. The Lord has wonderfully blessed in the work. Since the campaign has been on, I have sold about four hundred books. Seven persons have joined the church here recently, and have been baptized by the writer. Many more are waiting patiently for me to come and hold meetings with them. My time in this line of work has been quite limited, but I am expecting soon to take it up.

Missionary

Conducted by Miss Katie Coleman

The Importance of Circulating Our Publications

The message of truth is to go to all nations, tongues, and people; his publications, printed in many different languages, are to be scattered abroad like the leaves of autumn.

If there is one work more important than any other, it is that of placing our publications before the public, suggesting them to search the Scriptures. Missionary work—introducing our publications to individuals, conversing and praying with, and for, all—is a good work, and one which will educate men and women to the presentance.

Christians in every place should feel the deepest interest in the truth and missionary work. God has caused precious light to be brought out in publications and every church should be owned and read by every family. Children, your children are in danger of going into error by the light given of Heaven, and you should both purchase and read the books, for they will be a blessing to you and yours. You should lend them to your neighbors, and suggest upon them to buy copies for themselves.

Books and periodicals containing error are traveling all over the country. Skepticism and infidelity are increasing everywhere. Light so precious, coming from the throne of God, is hid under a bushel. God will make his people responsible for this neglect. We now have great facilities for spreading the truth; but our people are not coming up to the privileges given them. They do not realize their duty to obtain subscribers for our periodicals, including our health journals, and to introduce our books and pamphlets.

The wider the circulation of our publications, the greater will be the demand for books that make plain the Scriptures of truth. If our papers, tracts, and books, expressing the truth in plain Bible language, could be widely circulated, many would find that they are just what they want. But many of our brethren act as though the people were to come to them, or send to our offices to obtain publications, when thousands do not know that they exist.

God calls upon His people to act like living men, and not to be indolent, sluggish, and indifferent. We must carry the publications to the people, and urge them to accept, showing them that they will receive much more than their money's worth. Exalt the value of the books you offer. You cannot regard them too highly.

Mrs. E. G. White.

Down is Breaking

The most striking signs of the times are to be found not alone in the daily record of increasing wickedness and disaster. "God's truth is marching on." There is "a sound of going in the tops of the mulberry trees," and God has gone forth before His people to give them victory. The going down is breaking over the earth. It is time to heed messages. Those who believe are called on for us to be up and doing, like men watching for the break of day.

What a Tract Did

In 1785 Dr. Coke gave a tract to a family in Virginia. The family numbered fourteen, and that tract was the instrumentality used in the conversion of the whole family.

A tract distributor passing through a sparsely settled country district in Canada, gave away many tracts. One of them, entitled, "Repent or Perish," was found floating in the Frazer river. A man saw it, took it out, dried it, and by it was converted to God.

A preacher invited a man to attend a meeting. The man refused, but he consented to take a tract. A few weeks later that same man stood up in meeting, and confessed that that tract had led him to Jesus.

During the secession war of America, a chaplain was passing through a hospital, and left in an empty bed a tract which was a copy of the hymn, "Will You Go?" The soldier came to his bed, picked it up and read the title, and dropped it. A second time he picked it up, and read,—

"We are traveling home to the heaven above;
Will you go?"

and then threw it down again. Soon afterward he picked it up and read it through. Then, after deliberating over the matter in his quiet hours, he finally wrote on it, "By the grace of God I will go," and signed his name. Some months later he was killed in battle in Virginia, but he was saved by the tract.

It is often the case that a man who will not enter a church or listen to the preaching of the gospel, will read, when alone, a tract or a paper which may be more instrumental for his salvation than a sermon.

There are many cases where a tract has been the instrumentality which has restored from despair a precious soul. Passing through Switzerland, a tract distributor presented a tract to a man in a town notorious for gambling. On his return, some days later, he met the man, who exclaimed, "Oh thank you for saving my soul and body." He then explained that on that day when he received the tract, he had just been in gambling, and was contemplating suicide, but the tract arrested his attention, and led him to Christ.

Instances of this sort could be multiplied, for these little printed missives have been known to prevent epidemics, to save lives, to heal the broken hearted, and to bring discouraged, disheartened, and despairing ones to Jesus. We never know, nor can we realize, the good we are doing in distributing tracts.

"Let those who have charge of the work of Christ awake to their duty, and set many souls to work."

"This is a grand age with grand opportunities, and he who is willing to work with an honest purpose for honest results, will make life a success."

Educational

Conducted by L. A. Hoopes

Union College

UNION College has been the leading institution in this great central portion of the United States since its establishment in 1891. At the present time it is the largest educational institution in the denomination. This is due largely to the fact that Battle Creek College, which has stood in the lead for many years, has lately undergone a transition, and is now known as the Immanuel Missionary College, located at Berrien Springs, Mich. We are glad to know that that institution is in a prosperous condition.

In this district, however, we shall naturally look to Union College as taking the lead on all points of educational reform. It should stand for the intellectual and spiritual advancement of all within its circle of influence. Its policy and its plans should be so broad and so well laid that every part of the field should feel the uplifting influence of the institution. Its field of operation should be much more extensive than the few hundreds of students who take a training within its halls each year. Every church, every church school, every intermediate school, and every industrial school, within the range of the territory of Union College, should feel that strong pulse-beat from the mother institution.

It is just such an institution as this that the managers desire to make Union College. Their highest ambition is that those who receive a training at this school as ministers or missionaries may go out fully equipped intellectually and spiritually to do the highest kind of missionary work; that those who go out as teachers, whether in the family, church, or intermediate school, may go with unmistakable credentials of their qualifications for the work entrusted to their charge; that those who go forth from the school to take up work as reporters or editors, may go giving the clearest evidence that the training they have received at Union College has been such as will be of the greatest benefit to the work they have in hand; that those who go forth as candidates for the nurse's or the medical course may go having just such a knowledge of the sciences and that which pertains to this wonderful organism, the human body, as will enable them to deal intelligently and faithfully with every line of work entrusted to their care.

In addition to this, there are two other leading departments in the school which have been given special attention at Union College as at no other institution in America. We speak particularly of the German and Scandinavian departments. These departments have been established for the express purpose of giving a training to the Germans and Scandinavians of this country that will prepare them to labor intelligently with the many people of these nationalities who have entered the leading businesses of the country, such as farmers, merchants, mechanics, and artisans in general. It has been found that many of the western cities in this country have many thousands of these nationalities, and that their business is largely carried on in their own mother tongue. In order to reach these with the message it is necessary that workers, who can speak these languages, be trained especially for this work.

In view of all these considerations the co-operation of the patrons of the school is earnestly solicited.

L. A. HOOPES.

Missionary Work in Union College

AT the opening of school this year it was decided, after prayerful consideration, that since Union College was founded for the training of Christian burden-bearers, an arrangement should be effected by which the greatest amount of practical missionary work should be done with the least amount of machinery.

Accordingly it was decided to merge the Missionary Society into the Young People's Society, making missionary work the principal purpose for which the Young People's Society should exist. A student president was chosen, and teachers and students took up work side by side, where duty called.

The first move was to secure means to obtain one thousand Scandinavian papers for distribution. This met a ready response. Letters were also sent out by the students to the home churches, asking them to take up the work and to send their surplus of addresses to the College. There is evidence that this has been a source of encouragement to the little bands out in the Conferences.

Committees were formed to carry different departments of missionary work as interest developed in those lines, the members of each committee being chosen from those who had a special interest in that particular work.

Tract work in the city has already been taken up under the leadership of an experienced Bible worker. A little later it is planned to have a number of young men hold meetings in the country around College View.

The periodical committee are planning a vigorous campaign with our literature. Work will be done by communities, and at points recommended by the Conferences as suitable places for future work by Conference laborers. Attention will also be given to corresponding with, and sending reading matter to, soldiers in the regular army, especially in the Philippines.

It is also intended to continue the work begun last year of supplying the libraries, reading-rooms of the city, and various schools located here, with some of our leading periodicals.

A Dorcas committee has been organized to assist those who are in need of such things as can be prepared here. At present they are assisting the church society in preparing supplies of bedding, clothing, etc., for the Huntsville school.

Cottage meetings are held weekly with several who, because of ill health, are not able to attend public service.

A class in the History of Missions was organized at the beginning of the year, and an effort is being made to assist our young people in becoming intelligent on missionary subjects.

To deepen the interest in regions beyond is also one of the purposes which the Young People's Society has ever in mind.

We feel that God has greatly blessed in starting the work along practical lines, and believe that our young people will be stronger and better fitted for service because of their experience in bearing responsibilities here.

M. E. KERN.

Intermediate Schools

We are pleased to announce that the work of education is on the advance in the district. Iowa has begun with an Industrial School at Stuart, Iowa, with T. H. Jeys as principal. The school opened with an enrollment of forty. It was not the design of the management to admit any more than that number.

South Dakota has begun an Industrial School at Elk Point, with J. W. Beach in charge. Minnesota is following with a proposition to establish a school as soon as the funds are in sight to do so. In all these enterprises the intention is to go no faster than the funds provided will warrant. We can only bid these institutions "God-speed," as they may be instrumental in reaching a large number of young people who could never come to Union College.

Health Department

Conducted by Mrs. Lyla B. George, M. D.

"Prosper and be in Health"

THE Health Department aims to briefly report the work of the Sanitariums, and their branch Treatment Rooms, in the Central Union Conference; also to give instruction on topics relating to the proper care of the body both in health and disease. Questions of general interest sent to this department will be answered through its columns.

THE Sanitariums of this Conference are located at Boulder, Colo., Des Moines, Ia., and College View, Nebr. The Treatment Rooms are at Wichita, Kans., Council Bluffs and Cedar Rapids, Ia. In our next number we hope to have interesting reports from all these places.

Nebraska Sanitarium Items

ABOUT 325 treatments are given each week in the Bath Rooms.

DR. CARRIE S. STAINES is at her home in Fenwick, Mich., enjoying a well-earned vacation.

ELD. N. P. NELSON, now a patient in our Surgical Ward, is making a speedy recovery, and in another week will, we trust, be walking about again.

THERE are forty-three young men and women in our Nurses' Training School at present. A new class began Oct. 1st, with twenty-five members.

THE number of patients at the Nebraska Sanitarium is unusually large for this time of the year. As the result of the earnest, faithful efforts of the nurses and helpers, coupled with the rich blessing of the Lord, many are finding relief from physical sufferings, and at the same time are learning how to preserve their health when once it is regained.

ABOUT fifteen surgical operations have been performed during the last month. Good results have followed in these cases. In one instance, just before a very serious operation, both the patient and her husband gave themselves to the Lord. Another poor woman, who has been raised from death's door, has found the Saviour very precious during her severe suffering, and her sickness has resulted in the conversion of her husband. "For he maketh sore, and bindeth up; he woundeth, and his hands make whole."

News and Notes

FRIENDLY greetings to all.

WE hope to have more reports from Nebraska by the next issue.

THE week of prayer is appointed to be held December 20-27.

IT has been decided to hold the next General Conference in California, March 25 to April 15.

IN future numbers we expect to publish condensed reports of the canvassing work in the Central Union Conference.

FRANK J. OGDEN, of Wichita, Kans., has been spending a few days with his sister, Miss Maggie Ogden, at College View, Nebr.

THERE are fifteen church schools and one family school in Iowa at present. Another is expected to open in two or three weeks.

ELD. E. T. RUSSELL spent last Sabbath with the church at Pontiac, Kans., participating in the dedication services. From there he will go to Colorado and be in attendance at the State Conference.

MISS CHRISTINE OWENS, of Burlington, Ia., who has been at the Haskell Home for some time and also attended the Summer School at Berrien Springs, Mich., is to open the Church School at Providence, Iowa, soon.

ELD. B. E. FULLMER, Will Johnson, and Paul Curtis have begun a series of meetings at Storm Lake, Iowa. On account of a heavy fall of snow the attendance has not been as large as could be desired, but better things are looked for.

It makes a difference whether we go after men with an argument, or with the Spirit of Christ. An incident related by Mr. Moody illustrates this. A man came to him, and wanted to argue with him. But Mr. Moody said to him, "Let us get down and pray." They did so, and that man gave his heart to God. The truth will go to the heart when the Spirit of God is given an opportunity to work. Prayer is better than pugilism.

A VIGOROUS campaign in tract work is urged by the President of the General Conference. To assist in this, the General Conference Committee has arranged for the preparation of four new, live, well written, stirring tracts on "What Do These Things Mean?" "Signs of Our Times," "The Second Advent of Our Lord," and "The Gospel Remedy for Present Day Isms: Spiritualism, Hypnotism, Christian Science, Higher Criticism."

College Items

THE outlook for the winter term is good.

THE Fall term of Union College for 1902, closed December 9.

THERE were more students at the opening of the school this year than at the same time last year.

THERE are in all departments, three hundred and twenty-one students. Fifty of these are in the Church School, thirty-five in the German department, thirty-three are in the Normal department, and ten in the Scandinavian department.

Special Course

THE Board of Managers have provided a special training course for workers to be held in connection with Union College, beginning January 5, 1903, and closing March 2, 1903. The courses of study will be conducted in the English, German, Danish, and Swedish languages.

This Course is provided for the express purpose of giving a brief training to workers who can spend only a few of the winter weeks in school.

The training that is to be given will be along the lines of their immediate needs in field work. Special instruction will be given in Bible, History, and Language; in such Mathematics as are needed; in the study of Missions; and in Reading, Speaking, Spelling, Writing, Singing, and Hydrotherapy.

The tuition has been placed at fifty cents a study per month.

Should any one of these Special Course students desire to take the regular work of the College, they will be permitted to enter any regular class which they can that will not be to the inconvenience of that class; otherwise special classes will be organized for the benefit of special students.

Should any one desire any further information relative to this course, please send in your name and address, and a Special Announcement, giving all the particulars of the course of study, together with tuition and expenses, will be sent you.

Address all requests for announcements to President of College, College View, Nebr.

UNEMPLOYED MEN AND WOMEN

WE are prepared to offer agents for our Magic Pocket Vaporizers liberal terms. The season for colds and catarrh is here. Write for particulars to the Modern Medicine Co., 242 Champion St., Battle Creek, Mich., naming your choice of territory.
