THE SANITARIUM.

A few days after the camp-meeting equipment had been cleared from the camp-ground, a surveyor staked out the location of the new building, and plows and scrapers soon followed excavating for the basement. That work is now done; the trenches were finished last week, and Wednesday, the 23rd, if nothing unexpected prevents, the cement foundations will be started upon which solid walls will soon be reared to enclose the new main building of the Iowa Sanitarium. A steady procession of teams is hauling the material onto the grounds. Ten carloads of sand and two carloads of gravel from Des Moines, a carload of cement from Mason City, 6 carloads of lumber from the South, and several hundred thousand brick and hollow clay building blocks are on the move toward the Sanitarium grounds to form a part of the institution which, under the blessing of God, is to prove a Bethel to many a sin-sick soul; a place where hundreds of consecrated young people will learn how to minister to the needs of suffering humanity, and who later will utilize this knowledge in far distant fields.

The material thus far ordered, which comprises the most of the material for enclosing the building, amounts to about $15,000.00. We desire to establish a record of meeting all bills promptly as they fall due—and a little sooner if possible—that our credit may be the best, and we now call upon our people who have subscribed to the building fund to come to the front with the money that those in charge may not be embarrassed for lack of funds. If our brethren will make a special effort at this time to send in the funds, it will be much appreciated as most of this fifteen thousand dollars falls due within 30 days.

It may be that some have money which they would be willing to loan the Association at a reasonable rate of interest until money comes in on the pledges.

Let us not put off arranging to pay Sanitarium pledges until sometime in the future, but let us begin at once to plan on making payments on them. This will bring in the means as it is needed.

The Subscription List.

We publish in this number of the Bulletin the subscription list as it stands to date. All who have paid their subscriptions in full will find a star preceding their names. Those who have partially paid will find a dagger before their names. It is possible that a few mistakes may have crept in in so long a list and should any of our people discover an error we would be pleased to have our attention called to it. any names have been ommitted, it has been unintentional and we will gladly add them upon notification. We invite those of our people who have not yet contributed toward this worthy object to send in their subscriptions and join the rest in a covenant by sacrifice.

SOME THINGS THAT HELP.

To make the Sabbath school interesting, begin on time, and let nothing drag. There should be life and enthusiasm in every part of the program. Have everything ready. Do not keep the school waiting while you decide which song will be the most appropriate. Educate the school to move along with you—the singing should be in different meter from that of a funeral dirge.

Have a good lively review of the lesson for the previous week; a few pointed questions will do more good than a full outline. Just a few questions really bringing out more clearly interesting historical facts, and practical lessons to be gained, will do much to make the lesson a power for good in the lives of the members of your school. Do not neglect this opportunity for making the Sabbath school more effective.

Do not allow too much of the time of class recitation to be taken up in the discussion of some side issue or you will probably lose the best part of the lesson—the practical application.

Close on time. Do not prolong the service to give Bro. A and Bro. B an opportunity to discuss knotty problems upon which they do not agree. All such discussions should be carried on outside the Sabbath school.

Workers' Bulletin.

Nevada, Iowa - - Sept. 22, 1908.

—Wanted. A man to work on the farm. Must understand farming.—N. P. Olsen, Newell, Iowa.

—Bro. G. C. Hoskin came to Nevada last week to take up his duties as Assistant Tract Society Secretary. He expects to move his family here at an early date.

—Bro. W. E. Perrin and family expected to leave Des Moines, Monday, for Palisades, Colo., where they will visit with Sister Perrin's relatives for a short time before leaving for Washington, D. C.

"Outlines of Mission Fields" mentioned in this paper could very profitably be used by Sabbath school superintendents to increase the interest in missions.

In a recent letter from C. M. Jones, manager of the circulation department of the "Signs of the Times," he says: was obliged to go to San Francisco today on business, and just as I was leaving the office a copy of the Otcober number of the Signs of the Times Monthly Special was placed in my hands, just from the press. On the train I read it through from beginning to end, and have become so profoundly impressed with the important matter which it contains that I feel constrained to write you once more and appeal to you to do all you can to give this number a wide circulation. The leading theme is on the subject of Finance, and the main article is entitled, "Concentrated and Concentrating Wealth," showing what has been and is now being done in the matter of forming combines and trusts to control the various productions and the money of our country. The subject is handled in a masterly manner, and facts and figures are given which will no doubt startle many. These facts and figures are not taken from Socialistic papers or unreliable sources, but from documents issued or endorsed by the trusts and financiers themselves. Both of the great political parties are making this question one of the leading issues in the campaign. It is a subject in which all are interested, and it is certainly timely. But this article forms only a small part of the journal. "Notes on Current Topics," occupying the first few pages of the magazine, are especially interesting this month. Among other important questions, attention is called to the new scheme being promulgated by Thomas W. Lawson with which to fight the "System". In the "Outlook Department," or "Watch-Tower," we have an article from Elder Wilcox on "The American Federation of Catholic Societies." Brother Wilcox attended the annual meeting of the Society recently held in Boston, Mass., hence speaks from actual knowledge and observation.

"OUTLINE OF MISSION FIELDS."

Great progress is being made in the mission fields where this truth is being proclaimed. No subject should receive more careful study than that of quickly finishing the work out in these fields, where really the "big end" of our work lies.

Just recently a new edition of "Outlines of Mission Fields" was published, bringing our mission story down to the close of 1907. This booklet gives the facts, interestingly told, going to make up the history of the message in the different fields like China, India, Japan, Africa, the islands of the sea, etc. Why not spend some time during the coming winter in becoming familiar with this mission history? If each church elder would spend a little time occasionally in study with the church upon this topic, it would be very profitable, indeed.

The elder, by writing to the State conference office for a copy of "Outline of Mission Fields," will be supplied with one. These are furnished free by the Mission Board. No better use can be made of the booklet than for every church elder to procure one, and from it prepare live, interesting stories for the church, upon the subject of missions. A missionary map of the world ought to be in every church, to use in connection with the studies. A large sized one will be furnished at cost—only $2.25. Order of the Iowa Tract Society, Nevada, Ia.

THE REVIEW SPECIAL.

We would call attention to the article entitled "An Ingathering for Missions." At our recent conference it was voted to order 25,000 copies of the special Thanksgiving number of the "Review" so that each of our people could have at least 10 copies. These are to be furnished to our people free that they may give them out to their neighbors. Each person who accepts a copy is to be invited to contribute something toward the cause of foreign missions. This plan is to bring a liberal response from the world which means a mighty impetus to our foreign mission work. We hope all our members will take hold of this plan and do their best to roll up a large fund for foreign missions. Let each church decide as soon as possible how many of these special "Reviews" they can use and send their orders in to the Tract Society at as early a date as possible.

M. N. Campbell.

THE INGATHERING FOR MISSIONS.

We trust all of our readers have seen the announcement of the Thanksgiving Ingathering plan, which provides for all the members of our churches in the United States to solicit for donations for missions during next Thanksgiving week. If any are not familiar with this plan, we would be pleased to send them circulars containing the full details.

There is manifested a commendable interest in this plan in all parts of the field. Everybody seems to think it just the thing to do, and many are beginning now to plan so they can spend all of Thanksgiving week, gathering in money for our needy missions. Elder S. N. Haskell thinks it is time to claim the promise of the Prophet Isaiah. He says:

"I am glad the Thanksgiving plan is meeting with favor. We read in the Bible that the wealth of the Gentiles shall flow into the work of God, and I have always been a firm believer in getting help from the outside. Every meeting house that we ever built, if I remember correctly, and I have built many, we have always received plenty of money from the outside. I have thought that sinners are under obligation to the righteous. You remember that God could not destroy Sodom until he had gotten the righteous out of the city, so sinners have much to be thankful for through the influence of the righteous around them. The time was that the Religious Liberty movement was carried so far that it was thought a sin to accept a favor from the Government. I wrote to our Religious Liberty brethren at the time, citing the example of Cyrus, and how God used him to accomplish His work in the earth. I hope this plan will be a great success and that a large sum of money will be received to advance the cause."

Let all begin to plan now so they can have at least the greater part of Thanks-giving week to solicit for donations to missions.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

Hawkeye, October 3, 1908. Chris Kilcher, Elder.
