Footnotes, Accompanying Table No. 1

1. The population in the United States is generally based on the Twelfth Census, taken in 1900.

2. The tithe per capita is based upon the total Sabbath-keepers, rather than upon the membership of churches, for the reason that the persons included in total Sabbath-keepers are the ones who pay the tithe. If the tithe per capita were based upon the membership of churches alone, the result in most conferences would be somewhat different; but the plan followed, as stated above, is doubtless as fair to all conferences as any that could be adopted.

The tithe per capita of union conferences is based on the total Sabbath-keepers and the total tithe for the union, and not upon the average tithe per capita of the local conferences, for the reason that the latter basis would represent only the average for the conferences in the union, while the totals represent the correct average per member for the union. The discrepancy in these two bases increases with the difference between the tithe per capita of local conferences.

3. By "total laborers" is meant the number of persons employed in the conference or mission field, including not only the four classes named, but all other persons not specified.

4. Under the line of union conferences, in the column of Book Sales, is given approximately the retail value of book sales by the publishing house or houses operating in that union, direct to individuals, and is in addition to sales by tract society departments, as given in the table.

5. This being the first report giving information regarding intermediate schools, academies, and colleges as in this table, it is impossible to carry out the comparisons for these items.

6. Acting as a separate organization from Oct. 19, 1903, the tithe per capita being thereby somewhat decreased.

7. The amount of funds paid to the Pennsylvania Conference as a whole, to May 31, 1903, when the conference was divided into the Eastern and Western Pennsylvania Conferences. The per capita tithe of these conferences includes their pro rata share paid previous to May 31.

8. Acting as a separate conference for the last quarter of 1903. The amount of tithe per capita is thereby decreased in corresponding ratio.

9. In the report of Book Sales for 1902; namely, $11,000, the sales of the publishing house were added to those reported by the local conferences, making the sales for that year too large, since the sales of the publishing house were all made to conferences. No such duplication appears for 1903.

10. Includes Battle Creek church and membership, also tithe paid by workers connected with the Battle Creek Sanitarium. The tithe of the churches in the West Michigan Conference, excluding the Battle Creek church, was $17,904.76; of the helpers connected with the Battle Creek Sanitarium, $4,098.76; of the Battle Creek church, $12,611.28, thus making the total as given, $34,514.80.

11. Annual and weekly offerings are included in miscellaneous offerings to foreign missions.

12. The amount of funds for the Alberta Mission field is included in the Manitoba report until the time of the organization of the Manitoba Conference in July; hence the small amount for the Alberta field, which is for only one half of the year.

13. The area of the North and Middle Russian Missions includes also the South Russian Conference. The division is not dependent upon territory, but upon the languages spoken in the fields named.

14. The compiler of these tables assumes no responsibility whatever for the figures given. There are doubtless some inaccuracies; but the information is given as submitted by the secretaries of the various conferences and missions.

15. The tithe for Bermuda of $308.19 does not all belong to the year 1903; but had been accumulating for two or three years.

16. The decrease in the totals under "Miscellaneous" for 1903 may be accounted for by the fact that some of the mission fields which have formerly been reported under the head of "Miscellaneous," have, during the year, been organized as conferences, while others have been incorporated into union conference territory, and hence both are reported elsewhere in Table No. 1.

Offerings to Missions

Table No. 1 gives definite amounts of offerings appropriated as follows: To fields outside of conferences, and annual, weekly, miscellaneous, and Sabbath-school offerings to foreign missions. The total amount for all these purposes is $216,342.98. This is the total amount raised in all the world, and much of it is used locally in the fields where it is raised.

In addition to this, however, there is a large amount given for other purposes, such as to the Southern field, to orphanages, to homes for the aged, for endowed beds, home mission work, and various special enterprises, the funds for which pass through regular conference channels, but, for lack of space, are not incorporated in the report given above. And there is also a considerable amount sent directly by individuals to various missionary enterprises, which can not be accounted for in any conference report.

The aggregate amount of the offerings for all the objects enumerated above, made by the denomination annually, may be safely estimated to be about $225,000. If to this is added the grand total of tithe; namely, $684,030.54, and of Sabbath-school contributions not included above, the total amount of funds raised in tithes and offerings during 1903 is brought to over $930,000, or a per capita of approximately twelve dollars.

Sabbath-school Contributions

From Table No. 1 it will appear that the total Sabbath-school contributions for the year 1903 was $55,823.85; of this amount $34,779.85 was donated to missions. The remainder was expended, approximately, as follows: expense of maintaining local schools, $14,374.46; donations to the Haskell Home, $4,669.54; leaving a balance of $2,000 as the amount of tithe and expenses of all the State Sabbath-school Departments.

Offerings to Foreign Missions

The offerings to foreign missions from all the conferences and missions throughout the world, from the year 1888 to 1903, are presented in Table No. 4.

Book Sales

From the accompanying tables various features of interest may be noted, and comparisons made regarding the progress in different departments of work. For instance, a study of the book sales in the various union conferences will indicate a per capita sale, based on total Sabbath-keepers, as follows:—

Educational Work

Since the work of denominational colleges and academies is but briefly referred to in Table No. 1, the accompanying supplementary table (No. 5) covering this feature of work, may prove of interest.

This report is the first that bears so fully upon the educational features of our work; for it is only during the recent past that so much attention has been given to church and intermediate school work. From Table No. 1 it will be seen that 8,159 students are enrolled in church-schools; 889 in intermediate schools; and 2,097 in colleges and academies; making a grand total enrolment of 11,145 students in attendance upon denominational schools. Of the number attending colleges and academies, 153, or 7.30 per cent, completed their preparation at the close of the 1903-04 school year, ready to enter upon active duties in connection with some department of the work.

The large number of over 11,000 young people receiving a preparation and a training for service in behalf of the message in various parts of the world, is, if consecrated, but a prophecy of the more rapid proclamation of the gospel message to the world, the fulfilment of which will be realized in the sheaves garnered for the heavenly kingdom.

H. E. ROGERS,
Statistical Secretary.

Study Our Statistical Report

We are printing in this week's REVIEW, the statistical report of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1903. A careful study of this report will show that it is the most comprehensive and thoroughly systematized report we have ever made.

The statistical secretary has worked a long time with great patience to make this report so complete and so thoroughly reliable that it will be a true representation of our cause, as far as figures can represent it; and also that it may be of value to ministers and to all occupying official positions.

Some find little that is of interest in statistical reports. But they have a purpose. The Lord saw wisdom in placing genealogical tables, statistics, and historical records of various kinds in the Bible.

As I have glanced over this report from time to time during its preparation, I have found facts worthy of careful study. In some respects, this report presents some truly serious facts. In other respects, it gives every lover of this cause abundant reason to rejoice.

It is not the purpose of this note to touch the details of this report. The reader is referred to the notes of explanation and comparisons submitted by the secretary. Read these, study the report, and make a wise, profitable use of the facts.

While we truly appreciate the assistance rendered by the army of secretaries who have helped to supply the data for this report, we venture to express the hope that the report for 1904 can be brought out earlier in the year.

A. G. DANIELLS.

Uganda Then and Now

On a hill near the cathedral, a quarter of a century ago, "thousands of innocent victims of the wrath and cruelty of former kings of Uganda would be slaughtered at a time. To this day, their bleached bones are to be seen in quantities all over the hill. There are many other similar old execution places to be seen in Uganda. It used to be the boast of the king and of all great chiefs that they had absolute power of life and death over their subjects, and that they could use it with unbridled license. To the rulers of Uganda the glory of their country consisted in the quantity of blood they were able to shed."

The contrast seen to-day is certainly marvelous. The British Commissioner in Uganda has recently had a census taken of all the Church Missionary Society schools and churches within the protectorate; the enumeration covers 1,070 church buildings, having a seating capacity of 126,851, with an average Sunday attendance of 52,471. Let it be remembered that the first Christian baptism in this country took place only twenty years ago.—C. M. S. Gleaner.

From an Aged Sister

DEAR REVIEW: I have known and read you since July, 1856. Each week I hail you as a friend bringing good news from all parts of the world.

I knew the first pioneers,—Brother Bates, Elders White, Waggoner, and Cornell. The two latter brought the truth to Hanover, Mich. Elder J. N. Loughborough organized the first church near Jackson city, at the home of Brother Dan R. Palmer.

I am glad to hear of the prosperity of the cause of present truth. Looking back over forty-eight years, I can say, Surely God is in the work of the third angel's message.

I was made glad to read the good articles written by Brother Butler, having known him at the time of his first public work, also Brother Haskell. May God bless Sister White. I am reading Volume VIII of the Testimonies. Surely God is dealing in mercy with us as a people.

Many of our aged soldiers are now resting in hope, awaiting the call of the Life-giver. My former husband was William R. Carpenter, of Hanover, Mich.

IN a recent report of work in New York, Elder A. O. Burrill says: "The first and the second Sabbath were days of special interest in Buffalo and Jeddo. Three were added to the Jeddo church; the church mortgage was cleared off; and the educational work was much encouraged. That church, which all thought would die out, is reviving, and now numbers twenty-eight. At Buffalo we left them out of debt in everything but the sanitarium, and on that they owe but $75.73."
