ANNUAL APPEAL

INGATHERING TIME IN

Dear Friends,

Recently it was my privilege to meet with a group of young people representing our academies in the Mid-America Union. Our Union Youth Director, John Thurber, the conference youth leaders and school administrators met at Camp Arrowhead with approximately 250 young people from throughout the union territory. Camp Arrowhead, one of the Kansas-Nebraska Conference's youth camps, is located in south central Nebraska near Lexington. How beautiful it was to hear these young people sing and pray. What a thrill it was to see them studying God's Word.

E. S. Reile

Immediately following the Bible Conference, the academy Bible teachers together with those from Union College, met with school and conference administrators to review the principles of teaching Bible in our schools. This special discussion and instruction was conducted by Randall Fox and Melvin Northrup of our Union Education Department. We were honored to have as special guests for the Bible Conference, Dr. Roy Graham of Andrews University, and Dr. Roger Coon of the White Estates. I was impressed with the fact that we have an outstanding group of dedicated workers in the teaching ministry. It gives one a satisfied feeling to know that our youth are being taught by faithful teachers who are loyal to the basic doctrines of the church.

It is most important that we make whatever effort and sacrifice necessary to see that our sons and daughters have the blessing of a Christian education. Church schools provide more than just Bible teaching. In a Christian school our youth are shown the joy of a consecrated life in His service.

Please pray for our dedicated teachers who are leading our youth. They need your encouragement and support.

Yours for more of our youth in God's schools,

Ellsworth S. Reile, President
Mid-America Union Conference

Hastening His Return

By W. E. Peeke

One way to hasten the soon return of our Saviour is Ingathering. One way to know the joy and happiness that comes from answered prayer and being used of the Holy Spirit to find a soul for God's kingdom is Ingathering. This experience can be yours during this coming Ingathering season.

Hope Clausen, the wife of Roger Clausen, pastor of the Hastings, Nebraska district, follows the custom of praying for God to bless her Ingathering contacts. Last December, though she felt the need for a special prayer, Hope had begun making Ingathering visits in the afternoon and now it was after dark. She was working alone and she was so weary she felt she could hardly go another step. It was then she prayed a special prayer! "Lord, please help me to be a special blessing to someone tonight."

Hope's prayer was answered at the very next house. After responding to the question "Who's there?" Mrs. Leone Stewart opened the door, put her arms around Hope, gave her a big hug, and practically dragged her into the house. Then pointing to a rocking chair Leone said "I was just sitting in that chair ten minutes ago asking the Lord to show me what to do with the tithe that I have for Him." She proceeded to explain how she had gone to Gem State Academy as a girl. But somehow through the years Leone had lost contact with Adventists, and because her husband so strongly opposed anything she might wish to do for the church, she took the easy way out. Then her husband had been involved in an accident at work and again the Lord impressed her to become involved with His people, but she did not know how to make the first step. Now the Lord had answered her prayer and Hope's prayer and after a most inspiring visit, Mrs. Leone Stewart sat down and wrote out a check for $105 for tithe and $5 for Ingathering. Again she was in contact with God's church, God's people.

W. E. Peeke

Pastor Clausen visited Leone from time to time, and then when Evangelist Bill Zima held a series of meetings at Hastings she attended and was baptized. In writing of this experience, Hope Clausen said, "Never should we neglect to call on even one home when Ingathering. There may be someone behind the door whose prayer we can help answer. This year I look forward to Ingathering as I never have before. I may be a blessing to some other dear soul."

It's Ingathering time again around the world. With it comes the opportunity to be involved and experience the joy and happiness which comes from being an instrument in God's hands to touch others for Him that they too may be in His eternal kingdom.

The idea of not only looking for, but hastening the coming of the Lord is presented in 2 Peter 3:12. It is in giving the gospel to others that we can hasten our Lord's return. There are many ways of giving the gospel. Ingathering is one way.

Ingathering is different things to different people, but no one can deny that it is the greatest annual evangelistic crusade of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. During the Ingathering crusade each year there are the following:

1. The greatest number of members involved in missionary work.
2. The greatest number of missionary contacts made.
3. The greatest response in the way of requests for free booklets and free Bible reading guides.
4. The greatest number of pieces of literature distributed.
5. The greatest number of dollars raised in the shortest amount of time - about 14 million dollars for the world field.
6. A great harvest of souls - hundreds are gathered in every year - the initial contact being from Ingathering.

What are the objectives of the annual Ingathering program?

1. To visit every home, leaving the Ingathering magazine.
2. To have prayer with as many people as possible.
3. To encourage Bible study by enrolling people in a Bible correspondence course.
4. To open doors for personal Bible studies and future visits.
5. To give every person an opportunity to support our world-wide mission work.

What motivates church members to go Ingathering each year?

1. We love the Lord, and "The love of Christ constraineth us."
2. We are homesick for heaven and want to finish the work and hasten Jesus' return.
3. We want to send the gospel of love, of healing, of hope, of health, of salvation to people and nations who are waiting on us.
4. We want to sponsor and support missionaries on the front lines around the world.
5. We want to win souls for there are so many on the verge of the kingdom waiting only to be gathered in.

LET'S GO INGATHERING

Let's go Ingathering this year and have a real adventure in power, bearing witness for our Savior. Let's go and be drawn closer to Jesus. Let's go and gain a new experience in answered prayer and claiming the promise of God. Let's go and make contacts for Christ, seeing in every individual a candidate for heaven. Let's go and hasten Christ's return. Jesus gave the promise "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, . . . I am with you alway." Matthew 28:18-20.

Let's go Ingathering. Let's give the gospel to the world. Let's get Jesus' message of salvation and His soon return out to others. Let's go with a prayer in our heart, a smile on our face, and enthusiasm in our voice. Let's hasten Jesus' return by Ingathering.

Baptism at Hinckley

By Pansy Long

August 8 was a very special day in the Hinckley Church. Pastor Bill Cook conducted a beautiful and inspiring baptismal service during the worship hour. It was harvest time out in the fields, which reminded the congregation that many precious souls are waiting to be harvested for God's soon-coming kingdom.

This special baptismal service was conducted for Pam Chaffee, who had received studies and instruction from the pastor. The members pledged themselves in loving service to support and nurture Pam as she continues her spiritual walk to maturity.

Vacation Bible School In Pipestone

By Judy Forde

Vacation Bible School was a highlight this summer for 21 children at Pipestone, Minnesota, under the leadership of Barb Christensen and her helpers. Fifteen of the 21 children who attended were non-Adventists.

The Bible School was held July 27-31 with a special program and craft display on Friday night. Church members welcomed the opportunity to acquaint themselves with the parents of non-members.

On November 21, 1981, Bonnie Casey and Day Star will be featured at a 4 p.m. gathering at Maplewood Academy. Bonnie Casey has been a singer, songwriter, and recording artist since 1970, first as a member of the gospel/folk trio, "Take Three", and now as a solo performer.

Bonnie Casey and Day Star

Greg Evans of Daystar lives in Sonoma, California, where he is working as a pharmacy technician as well as completing his education. He has had considerable musical experience. Lauren Smith and Ron Evans are also members of the group, both are song writers and performers.

All Minnesota young people are urged to attend this concert and also the film "Joni" to be shown at 7:30 p.m. that same day.

Minnesota State Fair

By Beverly Dickinson

The Minnesota State Fair was held in St. Paul from August 17 through September 7. The Adventists for Better Living Education booth had as its theme "Tender Loving Care for Your Heart." The large backdrop featured a heart replica and eleven tips for better heart care.

The fair booth backdrop.

Large chest X-rays of diseased lungs were posted on another wall next to an X-ray of a healthy one. The Vitalograph machine was the drawing card which caused long lines to form as individuals waited to have their lung capacity measured. Approximately 8,000 people went through the ABLE booth during the ten days of the fair. Besides taking the time to counsel each person concerning the results of the test, various types of literature were given to each one.

Alice Noren, R.N., explaining the appearance of actual lung tissue.

Many individuals in the Twin City area helped out at the booth. People from as far away as Red Wing and Cambridge worked during a four-hour shift. The Fair committee consisted of Alice Noren, R.N.; Harry Buckley; Gene Ewer; R. A. Olson, M.D.; and Duane Ytredal, M.D. Even though many hours were put in before and during the fair, the people who helped felt the time and energy were well spent, especially when so many expressed appreciation for the help they had received.

Fair Booth personnel explaining the graph after the individuals had taken the breathing test.

The results were very positive: far more people are interested in their health than previously, many have quit smoking, and more are conscious of their diet. People are searching for ways to better health. Are we willing to give of ourselves to help fill their needs?

Dedications at Hutchinson

By Clara Hansen

Two child and baby dedications were held recently in the Hutchinson Church by Pastor Richard Coston. Precious children were brought before the church congregation for a loving service of prayer and blessing.

The children and parents receiving special recognition were Christy Faith, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Charles A. Anderson; Aaron Neal, son of Mr. & Mrs. Terry Christensen; Justin Lamoine, son of Mr. & Mrs. David Hacker; Brian William, son of Mr. & Mrs. Bruce Haugen; Tricia Lynn, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Darrell Haugen; and Matthew James, son of Mr. & Mrs. E. J. Limvere.

KOA-Denver Gives VOP Better Time

The Voice of Prophecy has been given a better time Sunday nights by 50,000-watt KOA in Denver. The station recently changed its program lineup, moving the VOP to 9:30 p.m. Such an improvement in time usually results in a higher charge, but the present contract of $270 per program is being continued. KOA is at 850 on the dial.

The small 25-member, Upton, Wyoming church rejoiced when the local elder's son, Brian Shuck, was baptized by Pastor Richard Holmes into the membership of the church. The admonition and training of loving parents and the example of church members are two of the most important factors in the dedication of this young life to God.

Sixty-three Baptized At Arvada

By Willard Christensen

Dale Brusett, Mid-America Union Evangelist, has recently completed a Revelation Lecture series in Arvada, Colorado, a suburb of Denver. Sixty-three persons have thus far become members of the church.

The usual methods of advertising were used to make the community aware of the meetings that were conducted in the large gymnasium of the church school that is adjacent to the church building. The most productive, and therefore most important, "advertising" was done by the members of the church family when they personally extended the invitation to attend the meetings. Church members who were giving Bible studies brought their "students" to the meetings and rejoiced as these fine interests were brought to decision and baptized.

Invitations sometimes come in strange and interesting ways. A young man of the Catholic faith heard about the meetings and invited an Adventist lady with whom he worked to attend with him. She willingly did so! And she was filled with awe as she witnessed the working of the Spirit of God leading him to joyfully accept Christ and His message, and accept baptism.

Sometimes we feel that if a person has not responded to the invitation to attend the evangelistic meetings from the very beginning we should not urge them to come at a later time. The fallacy of this thinking was demonstrated graphically in this series. Several of those persons baptized in the first group were instrumental in bringing friends or relatives from that time on and these were baptized in the second and third baptisms. One husband was baptized, then a week later his wife who had not attended prior to his baptism took her stand and was baptized. After this his mother, who was visiting from Pennsylvania, also followed her Lord in baptism!

The newly-baptized members of the Arvada, Colorado church are pictured with the members of the visitation team that played an important part in the Dale Brusett REVELATION LECTURE series of evangelistic meetings.

A young Nazarene couple who had been very active in their church with parents and friends faced great opposition when they made known their desire to join the Adventist church. With God's help they are standing firm in their new faith.

Another young man who is an electrical engineer was baptized when he learned of the extensive mission work of the church. He expressed interest in using his talent in mission service. This is amazing, for only a few weeks ago he knew nothing of God's last message.

We praise God for His mercy in bringing these souls the opportunity to learn, follow and join the Arvada Adventist family in giving the gospel message to others.

Two Become Members At Torrington

By Lana Peterson

Two new members were added to the church at Torrington, Wyoming. Mrs. Kathy Walker was introduced to the message by Roger Schlager, a faithful layman who believes in giving Bible studies. The studies began with Mrs. Walker's daughter, and as they progressed, Mrs. Walker requested baptism. "We never know when a Bible study begins who will hear and accept the message," comments Roger.

We are happy to extend a warm welcome to Pastor and Mrs. Myron D. Beltz. The Beltzes come to us from the Montana Conference, with a background in pastoral evangelism and as a Bible teacher at Mount Ellis Academy. They entered the ministry in 1973 after receiving their education at Andrews University. Judy received her degree in Home Economics and Myron received a master of divinity with emphasis in counselling and speech.

The Beltzes are associated with John Goley in the pastorate of the Denver First Church.

Pastor and Mrs. Myron D. Beltz have joined the pastoral staff of the Denver First Church.

We are glad that these fine young people have accepted the invitation of the executive committee of the Rocky Mountain Conference and have joined us in laboring together for our Saviour in this pleasant part of His vineyard.

News Notes From Emmanuel Church, St. Joseph

By Julia M. Williams

NEW PASTOR

After being without a pastor for a period of about three years, you can somewhat imagine the elation of the members of Emmanuel Seventh-day Adventist Church when their new pastor preached his first powerful and dynamic sermon.

Pastor Ruben Roundtree, Jr., just recently graduated from Oakwood College, came to St. Joseph to pastor the Emmanuel Church. To put it in his own words, he said, "I wanted a challenge to further develop myself." This is why he accepted locating in St. Joseph. He is also co-pastor of the church in Leavenworth, Kansas.

Pastor Roundtree's wife, Shirley, has a degree in Home Economics. They have a four-year-old daughter, Shirleetra.

TWENTY-FIVE YEAR CELEBRATION

A celebration honoring Lester A. Williams' 25 years of service as head deacon, lay activities leader and custodian was held in the fellowship hall of Emmanuel Church. Lester was forced to retire from his duties due to ill health. He received many gifts from the members in appreciation, and his services will be missed. A dinner was served, and a mini-program was presented.

During the program, Pastor E. F. Carter, Community Services Director of the conference, presented Cora Jean Taylor a check for $500 from the Inner City funds to be used for health, education and welfare purposes in our community.

cess this year. An outstanding attendance of 43 children attended every day for two weeks to learn about the Bible and participate in arts and crafts.

Some of the crafts, such as lap quilts, were given to a nearby nursing home, Stovall Care Center. The children were excited about their creations and readily displayed them to visitors, friends, and family.

Crafts made by the children at Vacation Bible School.

The closing program was designed with love. After the flags were brought in, allegiance was pledged to God and country. Memorized Bible verses were recited by many of the children.

The two-week school was headed by Reneta Hoard, Hilda Dean, Gena Evans, Lula Rhyan and Martha Johnson. Melba Pride, Sabbath School superintendent, extended a standing invitation to the children and their parents to continue their study of the Bible by attending the Branch Sabbath School. Melba explained that Branch Sabbath School could be attended every week, and that there would be further announcements as to location. Pastor W. D. Felder welcomed the parents to the program, and asked them all to come again soon and to come often.

Many thanks are due to the outstanding staff for such a wonderful Vacation Bible School.

Youth Day in Charleston, Missouri

By Paul M. Turner

History was made at the Grand Avenue Church when the youth presented "Youth Day" in Charleston, Missouri.

Pastor Paul M. Turner assisted Vere-line Johnson, AY leader, and the other young people as they planned the day's activities. The church invited the First SDA Church of Kinloch, Missouri and their pastor, B. T. Rice, to share the day with them. However, other friends from the St. Louis and other areas came to join the festivities. Members from the Northside, Park Avenue, Sikeston, Caruthersville and Howardville churches were there, representing seven of the 33 churches in the Central States Conference.

To highlight the occasion, Pastor Rice introduced Pastor S. T. Lewis (who delivered the morning sermon) and his family visiting from Columbus, Ohio. Pastor Lewis was the founder, builder and pastor of the Charleston church; therefore, he holds a very special place in the members' hearts.

First Fruits From Bible Studies

By Lorene Bissenden

Three ladies gave the mission story a touch of authenticity recently in the Rapid City Church. Patsy Johnson and Ann Wills narrated a story about two Indonesian students who were serving their Lord despite deprivations and hardships. Mae Pedersen, whose homeland is Indonesia, furnished the national costumes for Patsy and Ann to wear. Patsy and her husband, Alexander Johnson, stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base, have been conducting Bible studies in their home for several months with Elder Gary Oliver. Ann Wills, one of the first fruits from those Bible studies, was participating in Sabbath School activities, and attended camp meeting in June, before her bap-

Bismarck Youth Hold Car Wash for Investment

By Sandy Lambert

The teenagers of the Bismarck Seventh-day Adventist Church discovered that working for the Lord can be fun as well as profitable. Ten youth turned out to help wash cars in the church parking lot one Sunday. The church donated the water, and sponsors Ruby and Orville Wetzel provided the cleaning agents. The youth washed, rinsed, chamoised and vacuumed vans, pick-ups and cars of varying sizes.

Fourteen-year-old Jama Lambert drew large cartoon posters which caught the attention of many passers-by. Over half of the business came from non-Adventists. Many people were so impressed with the good job done on their vehicles that they left large tips.

Dr. Diehl has done a vast amount of research on cardiovascular disease and has become known as an authority on Life Style Intervention Programs.

Various topics presented included "Approach to Healing the Whole Man", "Reversing Atherosclerosis", "Hypertension", "Infections", "Psychosomatic Disorders", "Cardiovascular Diseases", "Physiology of Rest", "Life Style Modification Programs", and "Appetite Control."

Vegetarian Diner

By Mrs. Carl Sewell

The combined efforts of the two Topeka Seventh-day Adventist churches introduced vegetarian food to the public at the State Expo Fair held in Topeka in September. Food and literature were available daily from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. except on Sabbath. Vegeburgers, vejalinks and sloppy joes with apple juice were the main fare.

The Holy Spirit planted the idea of a vegetarian diner when Earl Gepford, chairman of the Personal Ministries Council, shared his vision with other members. The idea evolved into a joint project and representatives of each church met prior to the fair to prepare the food.

Mrs. Patsy Casper and Mrs. Maxine Ballusek of the Topeka Church, and Lucille Griffiee and Mrs. Kathy Sawyer of the College Avenue Church directed the food committee. This endeavor could not have taken place without the cooperation and hard work of these leaders.

The atmosphere was cheerful and clean, and was accented with beautiful floral centerpieces on the tables. Vegetarian cooking classes, to be taught by Mrs. Gail Shadduck, were advertised on one of many signs painted by Pastor Earl Heslop. Considerable interest was shown in the classes, and in the literature that was offered.

Several members from both churches worked in the diner and furnished supplies. This was one of the first combined efforts of these two churches in Topeka, and one of many more which they hope to share in the future.

Baptism

By Mrs. Carl Sewell

Robert and Charlene Mashlan were recently baptized in the Topeka SDA Church by Pastor Dick Shadduck. Three of their children were interested witnesses, along with the congregation. Robert had previously been an Adventist, but after his marriage to Charlene he began attending her church. A few months ago they became interested in a vegetarian diet and attended a class taught by Pastor and Mrs. Shadduck.

Robert Mashlan, Pastor Shadduck, and Charlene Mashlan at their recent baptism.

Mrs. Shadduck, recognizing Robert's name from a former church membership list, surprised the Mashlan's when she told them she knew where they lived. One thing led to another and soon Charlene was taking a Bible study with Pastor Shadduck, with Robert sitting in. The result was their recent baptism and both of them are now quite actively involved in the health program of the church, as well as other areas. Certainly the Holy Spirit is working through this couple.

Spanish Camp-out

By Philip Marino

The Spanish members of the Capitol View Church attended a week-end of spiritual emphasis at Camp Arrowhead. The guest speakers were: Pastor Chaviano from Cuba, and Dr. Valarde from Kansas City, Missouri. Pastor Arthur Andreas, Capitol View Church pastor, organized the activities.

Jose Martinez and Thomas Escobar, lay members of Capitol View, assisted by leading in vesper programs and morning devotionals.

The week-end sessions encouraged members to be more faithful in Sabbath observance and more aware of diet and health concepts. Pastor Chaviano gave a report of the Adventist work in Cuba.

HOSPITALS

SMMC Receives Accreditation

Shawnee Mission Medical Center has received a two-year accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. SMMC's alcoholism recovery and mental health units also received the same accreditation.

The accreditation was given after a thorough review of the hospital in June. Two years is the longest period for which a hospital can be accredited.

Hospital Urges Planning Before Emergencies

Emergency care services are an important reason for a community the size of Brighton to have its own hospital when nearby Denver has so many large, specialized medical centers.

Local residents should be familiar with the hospital's location and access routes. Brighton Community Hospital provides 24-hour a day emergency room coverage 365 days a year. In addition, the hospital works closely with Platte Valley Ambulance Service, providing skilled paramedics that travel with the ambulance to an emergency site.

Phone numbers for the fire department, ambulance, police or sheriff, family doctor and nearest emergency room (with the address) should be kept beside each telephone in homes.

For legal reasons, hospitals cannot provide treatment to children under age 18 without written consent of an actual parent except in life-threatening emergencies. Parents who must leave their children under the supervision of a babysitter, teacher or even a foster parent should sign a consent form ahead of time permitting the child to be brought to the emergency room by the temporary guardian. The release forms are available through the hospital medical records office or emergency room clerk.

Emergency departments are for emergencies. Proper use of the community's medical system saves money and permits the best possible care. Preventive maintenance is most cost effective for people just the same as it is for other things.

Successful Bible Studies At Ankeny

By Vera Ness

Does it pay to yield one's life completely to Christ and spend time in giving Bible studies? Vernon Miller of the Ankeny, Iowa, Church can testify that it does, and he gives all the credit to the working of the Holy Spirit.

In 1980, he gave Bible studies to Frank and Robin Lester, with a brother, Clifford, attending occasionally. Frank began attending Sabbath services, and Clifford came a few times. However, they were both very interested in the evangelistic services held by former pastor, Lester Jones.

Frank and his wife, Robin, made their decision to follow Christ and were baptized into the Ankeny Church in December, 1980 by Elder Richard Judson.

Clifford and his wife, Deborah, started having Bible studies with Vernon Miller in January, 1981 almost every week. The subjects discussed were Revelation and Bible doctrine. They, too, accepted this message of truth and were both baptized on August 15 by Pastor Jim Conran.

Some literature had been sold to both Frank and Clifford by literature evangelist Mitch Bane, including The Great Controversy.

Many years ago, Vernon Miller was also doing literature work. Now he has had the blessing of seeing the result of this and other evangelistic endeavors.

Eight-Year Old Tries Evangelism

By Ron Gladden

A very unusual evangelistic meeting was conducted in the Crestview Seventh-day Adventist Church at Farmington, Missouri, on Sabbath, September 12. What made it so unusual? The evangelist was an 8-year-old boy, Tod Spanos!

Tod, a second-grader, attended every night of Pastor Gladden's evangelistic meetings last June. He persuaded his parents to buy a complete set of the sermon tapes. According to his parents, Jon and Darlene Spanos, Tod listened to all of the tapes many, many times, practically memorizing them.

One night after prayer meeting, Tod asked Pastor Gladden if he could use Gladden's evangelistic slides, projector, and screen and present one of the sermons publicly. The pastor gladly agreed. Together they chose the topic, "Reunion Day in Heaven" and set a date.

Tod worked hard for over a month, listening to the tape while going through the slides. When the big day came, he was ready.

Nearly all of the Crestview and Fredericktown members attended the Sabbath evening vespers when the presentation was given. Although not advertised publicly, several non-Adventists were also in attendance. Tod used only the slides without notes and delivered an accurate, convincing, and inspiring sermon regarding heaven. Everyone present was astounded at the young boy's knowledge of the Bible, his amazing memory, and his poise on the platform.

Tod had the whole program organized with his father as announcer, Pastor Gladden as song leader, and Mrs. McFaddin as pianist. At the conclusion, the audience gave a large offering, which will be used in local evangelism.

Surely it was children like Tod to whom Ellen White was referring when she wrote: "In the closing scenes of this earth's history many of these children and youth will astonish people by their witness to the truth, which will be borne in simplicity, yet with spirit and power." Adventist Home, page 489.

Tod's parents now face the problem of deciding how to answer his request for $1,500 to buy his own evangelistic equipment like Pastor Gladden's!

UTE HOLDS VBS

The Ute Seventh-day Adventist Church held the first VBS they have had for a number of years. Ute only has four small children who attend worship service. However, 25 children showed up for VBS. The program was a genuine success. Mrs. Leo Campbell served as leader and literally all the ladies of the church helped her.

To celebrate the remodeling, the members at Ute decided to invite everyone who had ever been a member of the church and the entire community to attend the rededication. This meant going back through 80 years of records and finding people.

UNION COLLEGE

Union To Hold Annual Music Festival

By Tom Seibold

Union College's annual Music Festival, November 4 to 7, will bring together over 200 of the finest musicians from eight Mid-America academies. Several weekend concerts will climax the two days of intensive rehearsal.

Mr. Charles Forque

A new festival orchestra will be organized for players of stringed instruments, as well as the traditional band and choir. The festival band will be under the direction of guest conductor Charles E. Forque.

Mr. Forque presently serves as band director at Plano High School of Plano, Texas, and as band music editor for Neil Kjos Music Publishing.

Each academy may submit as many auditions for festival participants as desired, but the number selected from each school may not exceed ten percent of the academy's enrollment. Since there are few orchestra programs in Mid-America academies, Dr. Robert Walters, Division of Musical Arts Chairman and orchestra director, has announced that all string players will automatically be accepted, even if the ten percent quota is exceeded.

On Friday evening, the festival chorus and orchestra will present a sacred concert in the College View Church sanctuary, directed respectively by Mr. Lynn Wickham, UC vocal department director, and Dr. Robert Walters. In addition, the Lincoln Civic Orchestra will be performing.

At a Saturday afternoon program, scheduled appropriately for festival weekend, Dr. Melvin West of Union College will be at the organ keyboard of Lincoln's First-Plymouth Congregational Church for "Hymnfest." The audience will be invited to sing hymns of many styles and from the hymnals of many churches.

Saturday evening, all three groups will perform in a secular concert at the college auditorium. The auditorium is located at 49th and Prescott, and the church at 4855 Prescott. All are invited.

Enrollment Increases

By Doug Morgan

Final registration at Union College for the 1981-82 academic year is 979 students, according to Leona Murray, Admissions Director. The figure represents an increase of 71 over last year's total of 908.

Mrs. Murray attributes the increase to a greater general awareness of Union College and what it has to offer. Surveys of incoming freshmen indicate that perceptions of Union College are more positive now than they have been at times in the past.

The current increase is particularly pleasing, comments Mrs. Murray, in view of the fact that the pool of academy seniors from the Mid-America Union has been shrinking for several years. There are actually less freshmen this year than last at Union so the enrollment increase is due to a greater number of transfer and returning students.

Doug Morgan is Union College Public Information Officer.

BRUSH

Classes were cancelled, and more than 500 students and staff members were out in the College View neighborhood painting houses and cleaning up litter for BRUSH (Beautification of Residences Using Student Help), part of the college's 90th birthday celebration. Teams of 20 students worked in two shifts - 40 students per house - to paint 12 houses by 6:30 p.m.

Tom Cowin touches up a weathered eave, and Laura Mason, Polly Prosser, and Wendi Waterhouse work together on one of the houses.

Lutheran Bishop Lauds Seminar

Bishop Cecil Johnson of the American Lutheran Church had nothing but praise for the Professional Growth Seminar in Fargo, North Dakota. The seminar was one of three such seminars sponsored jointly by Ministry magazine, the Minnesota Conference, the Dakota Conference, and Mid-America Union. Bishop Johnson directs the work of his church in northern Minnesota with some 280 churches under his charge. Pastor Johnson was quite complimentary of the seminar, and expressed regret that more of his ministers had not taken advantage of this learning experience.

Dr. Rex Edwards, Field Representative for Ministry magazine, and Elder Bill Liversidge, Ministerial Director for the Southwestern Union Conference, were guest lecturers for professional growth seminars in Minneapolis, Duluth and Fargo during the week of September 28. Elder Bill Quigley, Ministry's seminar director, was in charge of the Minneapolis seminar which was held in the Central Lutheran Church. Art Carlson, Ministerial Director for Minnesota, and Halle Crowson, P.R.E.A.C.H. coordinator for the Mid-America Union, coordinated the programs each day. Topics included: "Every Member A Minister", "Church Growth", and "The Dead Sea Scrolls."

Dr. Rex Edwards, Ministry magazine field representative, illustrates a point during his lecture.

The seminars were very well attended. The ministers from various denominations mentioned how much they appreciated what Ministry and the Seventh-day Adventist Church are doing through the seminars. Other seminars are planned for Moberly and St. Louis, Missouri, and Denver, Colorado during the month of November. Seminars are also being planned for North and South Dakota.

ASI MEETS IN COLORADO SPRINGS

Harold Lance, president of Adventist-Laymen's Services and Industries, center, thanks J. J. Aitken, right, for his service to ASI during the past six years as Executive Secretary, as Kenneth H. Livesay, left, newly elected executive secretary of ASI looks on.

Caris Lauda, past Executive Secretary of ASI, now residing in the Denver area, relates an interesting experience to those at his table. Mrs. Lauda listens attentively. They are attired in brilliant colored island costumes for the banquet that culminated the ASI convention on Saturday night.

Three hundred delegates to the ASI convention in Colorado Springs, September 23-25, kneel in prayer as J. J. Aitken asks God's blessing on the organized work of the church around the world.

Ralph Owens has joined Christian Record Braille Foundation as coordinator of Computer Services.

Owens, while recently teaching math, science and assisting with the computer system at Enterprise Academy, Kansas, received his master's degree in mathematics with an emphasis in information systems from Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan.

"I consider it a privilege to work with this humanitarian organization in this capacity," Owens says. "The service output from the organization is commendable."

Owens and wife, Becky, have three children: Wendy, 5; Chip, 4; and Nicky, 2.

Attending the Basic Trust Seminar at Andrews University from the Mid-America Union were Howard Voss, director of Trust Services for the Mid-America Union; Duane Rollins, director of Trust Services for the Rocky Mountain Conference; Keith Heinrich of Sunnydale Academy in Missouri; and George Mowry, director of Trust Services for the Iowa-Missouri Conference. The seminar involved tax and trust law.

HIGHLIGHTS

Daily Devotionals Now Available on Tape

Beginning January 1, 1982, a special devotional message on cassette tape can be enjoyed by listeners every day of the year. Each devotional contains a hymn by a Chapel Records artist, an appropriate text of scripture with a related spiritual thought for the day, and a prayer.

Prepared by Chapel Records, the taped worship series is for people with impaired vision, those who are ill, busy people who want to listen while driving or working, or for use at any quiet time during the day.

Six 60-minute cassettes cover each three-month period. Sets for the first quarter of 1982 will be available at Adventist Book Centers in October. Cassettes for succeeding quarters will be available two months prior to the beginning of the quarter.

The price per quarter for the six hours of devotionals is $39.98.

Quantity Vegetarian Recipes Available

The last cookbook in a three-volume set entitled Quantity Vegetarian Recipes has been published by Andrews University, according to George W. Cummings, editor of the volumes.

The cookbooks contain a total of 431 quantity recipes developed for the lacto-ovo-vegetarian diet. Each recipe yields enough for 100, 300 or 500 people standardized to the needs of an institutional food service.

The recipes were taken from the seven-week cycle used in food preparation at Andrews. They have been approved by the SDA Dietetic Association.

The 716-page three-volume set can be purchased from Andrews University Food Service.

Two New Master of Science Degrees Offered

Andrews University now offers two new master of science degrees, one in nursing administration and the other in medical technology, according to Dr. Richard W. Schwarz, vice-president of academic administration.

The medical technology degree consists of four quarters of full-time work, the nursing degree five.

Both degrees have been approved by the Board of Higher Education of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Andrews currently offers 32 graduate-level degree programs.

NOT FOR TWENTY-ONE YEARS?

"Not once since we were married twenty-one years ago has my husband told me he loved me."

At first I could scarcely believe what I was hearing. Yet, as I considered the personality and the disposition of the man concerned, I could be persuaded that the words just might be true. It was not surprising when the marriage ended in divorce a short time later.

Love cannot thrive for long where it is seldom expressed.

The Lord's messenger reminds us that if we desire to have "a home where love dwells," that love must be expressed "in words" (Counsels to Teachers, p. 115).

Wives need to be told they are loved. Husbands' hearts likewise are cheered to know they are loved. Children need to be assured frequently that their parents love them.

I know one couple, still very much in love after a long and happy marriage, whose last words to each other before they fall asleep at night are, "I love you, dear."

"I love you"—three small words, but, oh, so important to a happy marriage.

Hasel Is New Dean Of Theological Seminary

Gerhard F. Hasel has been named dean of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary at Andrews University. The action was taken as the board of trustees met on campus September 1.

Former dean of the seminary, Thomas H. Blincoe, has returned to the classroom as professor of theology.

Hasel is professor of Old Testament and Biblical Theology and serves as chairman of the seminary's Old Testament Department and as director of the school's doctor of theology program.

The Theological Seminary at Andrews has nearly 400 students and serves as the primary school for the training of ministers on the graduate level in the church.

A native of Germany, Hasel came to the United States in 1958 and was awarded a bachelor of arts degree in theology and German from Atlantic Union College in Massachusetts in 1959. He received two graduate degrees at Andrews: a master of arts in Systematic Theology in 1960 and a master of divinity in 1962. In 1970 he received a doctor of philosophy degree from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn.

He is a member of the Society of Biblical Literature, the American Academy of Religion, the American Schools of Oriental Research, the Chicago Society of Biblical Research, the International Organization for the Study of the Old Testament and the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters.

For Your Health

"It is as truly a sin to violate the laws of our being as it is to break the ten commandments. To do either is to break God's laws. Those who transgress the law of God in their physical organism, will be inclined to violate the law of God spoken from Sinai." Counsels on Diet and Foods, page 17.

"Only when we are intelligent in regard to the principles of healthful living, can we be fully aroused to see the evils resulting from improper diet. Those who, after seeing their mistakes, have courage to change their habits will find that the reformatory process requires a struggle and much perseverance; but when correct tastes are once formed, they will realize that the use of the food which they formerly regarded as harmless, was slowly but surely the foundation for dyspepsia and other diseases." Counsels on Diet and Foods, page 24.

For Your Schools

By Melvin Northrup

How are textbooks and materials selected for our schools? Some subject areas are not yet covered by basic textbooks published by the denomination.

HIGHLIGHTS

Some larger schools have appointed teachers to their own curriculum committees. Each local conference also has its curriculum committee. Ideas and suggestions are discussed and experimented with at those levels, and recommendations are made to the union conference curriculum committee. This last group has representatives from the local conference groups and appoints several sub-committees to examine programs and materials.

Materials are examined in the light of frameworks written by committees at the North American Division level. Those books and materials that come closest to the criteria of those frameworks are adopted and listed in the union conference textbook list. A teacher may use a basic pupil text not in the list only after obtaining special permission and filing reports. This is true of both elementary and secondary levels.

Your prayers are solicited by members of all these committees that the best, purest materials available might be found and placed in the hands of our young people.

Melvin Northrup is director of curriculum and development, Mid-America Union.

Students To Fund Junior Bible Courses

By Kim Peckham

Dad considers them too young to use his power tools and Mom makes them go to bed early, but members of the Voice of Prophecy Children's Christmas Club have several grown-up accomplishments to their credit.

Two years ago, the Adventist elementary school students who constitute the club membership, gathered $25,000 for erecting a new antenna at the Adventist World Radio facilities in Guatemala, Central America.

Last year, they funded the updating of radio station DXCR at Mountain View College in the Philippines - the only church-operated station in the Orient. The children amassed over $28,000 for that project.

This year the club is tackling the financial obstacles in producing a Spanish and an English course for juniors.

The elementary students typically show ingenuity in earning the funds for these projects. They pick up aluminum cans, wash cars, enlist for chores around the house, throw benefit parties, and hold bake sales.

Sharon Weed, a teacher at the elementary school in Hutchinson, Minnesota, writes, "The children very much enjoyed bringing the money for the Christmas Club. One third-grade boy filled three of the coin folders with quarters by himself."

Think what they could accomplish if their bedtime wasn't so early.

Kim Peckham is Public Information Intern for the Voice of Prophecy.

The 54th plane provided by "The Quiet Hour," is a Beechcraft Twin Bonanza. This one is for the Philippines. Charting the course are Pastor LaVerne Tucker and the "Flying Nurse," Dorothy Nelson. Nelson will fly it between the islands as a medical missionary service.

The Missionary Magazine Planning Council met at the Pacific Press for the purpose of planning the best use of our missionary journals in 1982. These journals include These Times, Message, Signs of the Times and El Centinela. Special emphasis was focused on These Times and Signs.

The directors related experiences showing the progress of These Times and Signs in their respective unions and conferences, and told of the plans being formulated for wider distribution and use of the journals in the year to come.

Special Broadcasts For American Forces Radio

The Voice of Prophecy produced four half-hour programs for broadcast on the 1100 American Forces Radio stations.

Kenneth Richards, researcher/producer of the VOP Sunday broadcast, produced this set of programs. "These differ from our standard programs in that book and Bible course offers are not permitted, so there is more time for speaking," he says. "As in everything we do, these programs give the listener an opportunity to accept Christ."

The Chaplains Board distributes the programs to the 1100 American Forces Radio Stations, which outnumber by 380 the North American stations airing the Voice of Prophecy. Not only servicemen, but natives in the various countries who understand English, will hear the message of God's love.

In a letter requesting the Voice's participation, Colonel Harold C. Lamm, executive director of the Armed Forces Chaplains Board, said: "We have been privileged to hear your programs and deeply appreciate your great efforts to provide the best possible religious broadcasts for use on American Forces Radio."

The Voice of Prophecy reaches people up close through evangelism. Joe Melashenko (left) has held VOP crusades for 10 years because his chief joy is sharing God's love person-to-person. "The hardest part of a series," he says, "is leaving new Christian friends when the meetings come to a close."
