Outlook

Dear Friends,

As I think about the "Thousand Days of Reaping", the vast territory and the millions of people in that territory, the following statement keeps coming to mind: "The work of God in this earth can never be finished until the men and women comprising our church membership rally to the work, and unite their efforts with those of ministers and church officers."

I believe that God has a plan for each one of us. Each of us has a part to play in the final act of the great controversy. No doubt, many of us are willing to do our part if we only knew what to do and how to do it. In checking with the Personal Ministries Department, I find more tools available for our use than I can list and picture on this page.

Most of our churches have Dukane or Elmo machines. Two or three Bible study series are available for use with these machines. Maybe you have heard of the "No Limit" program which is an audio-visual training plan for laymen. Your pastor or conference Personal Ministries director could conduct this training program in your church to help get your seed-sowing project started.

So many of our laymen are beginning to hold evangelistic meetings. The reports that I hear are quite encouraging. Twenty prepared sermons are available for meetings of this kind. The "Lay Evangelist's Handbook" gives very practical help to laymen. The survey in this book is a masterpiece. Those who have used this survey have discovered that they can actually secure a Bible study from every three or four homes surveyed.

Have you read George Knowles' new book, "How to Make Your Church Grow"? This is one of the finest books on church growth available, and it is just off the press. Many other books are available to help the church member; such as, "How to Secure Decisions", "How to Win A Soul", "Witnessing for Christ" and "Winning." If handing out tracts is your talent, get the new "1982 Tract Price List" from your conference Adventist Book Center. This catalog lists all the tracts that are available for use. You will find any or all of the above listed tools at your ABC.

"To every one work has been allotted, and no one can be a substitute for another . . . There is something for every one to do." Ibid., page 10.

Please offer your talents to the Lord and let your pastor and Personal Ministries leader know of your willingness to work for the Lord.

In order for the "Thousand Days of Reaping" to be successful, we must do a great deal of seed sowing. Let's pray for God's blessing on our labors as we all join our hands, hearts and prayers.

Cordially,

Ellsworth S. Reile, President

Tools for Soul Winning

ELMO 35-FT - This is a sound filmstrip projector that utilizes 35-mm single frame filmstrips and cassette audio. The cover to the machine can be used as a small screen, or the image may be projected onto a larger screen for a large audience. It uses cassette for sound track.

DUKANE 28A1B - The A-V Matic unit is a 35-mm single frame filmstrip with cassette for audio. Some have called this little machine the "holy television".

ENCOUNTER Bible Lessons - Printed Bible study guides to be used individually or in connection with filmstrip Bible studies.

Winning - As the title indicates this is the handbook for the lay Bible minister. "Some of the most practical and carefully detailed help I have ever seen in print," George E. Knowles, Director, Department of Personal Ministries, General Conference.

How To Win A Soul - Tells in simple and clear language what a person should follow for greatest success in soul winning. It outlines what to say, why to say it, and how to say it. A must in every soul winner's library.

Sharing Jesus - Usable ideas in witnessing. This book helps overcome the fear of failure. You will be moved and transformed to pursue witnessing as your greatest joy.

Witnessing For Christ - To be used as a training guide book. Gives step by step plan for leading a person to Christ.

Goldsberry Church Observes 100th Anniversary

The congregation at Goldsberry in 1958.

In honor of the 100th year since the founding of the Seventh-day Adventist Church at Goldsberry, Missouri, a diamond anniversary service was held November 7, 1981. During the worship service, the church's history was read by LaVerne Turner Zumbaum. It was written by her father, Herschel G. Turner.

A church of 12 members was organized as the result of evangelistic meetings in 1881, held at New Boston by Pastors C. H. Chaffee and Donell. Services were held in a local school house for several years, and the membership increased. A church building was erected in 1893 on the present location in a country setting about three miles north of Goldsberry. Because of increasing need for more room, the building was enlarged in 1916 to its present proportions. The basement fellowship room and adjoining kitchen were completed in 1978.

In 1909 the church erected a two-story frame school building known as the Goldsberry Intermediate School. This building burned in 1925, and was replaced with a tile building. Because of the conviction that Christian education was ordained of God, dozens of young people have gone from this church to hold responsible positions in the organized work of the denomination.

The church reached its largest membership in the early 1930's. Some families have moved away, and many young people left for school, and then went on to other duties. Though the membership has diminished, the congregation retains its devotion and zeal for support of the gospel work. R. W.

Gepford, pastor of the Marceline District, challenged the church to renew its consecration and dedication to the finishing of the work.

Stop Smoking Seminar Held

By Mrs. Lynn Ahrens

Five participants completed the 5-Day Plan to Stop Smoking held in Guthrie Center, Iowa. The lectures were given by Pastor Keith Hanson, along with Dr. Steve Bascom and Dr. David Ahrens, family practitioners of the Guthrie Family Medicine Center.

Church members took turns registering participants and serving refreshments. Future seminars will be held on a regular basis in the Guthrie County area.

Award Given For Community Service

By Kay Milam

The Community Service Award for 1981 was presented to Mrs. Robert Kemple at the Oak Grove Seventh-day Adventist Church. The honor was given in recognition of Ruth's unselfish devotion in caring for children. More than 175 children received care during the years. Some were orphans, some had only one parent, and many were the children of working parents. Parents of 13 children were members of the Oak Grove Church.

Some of the parents and children that experienced Ruth's Christian influence, and members of Ruth's family were at the service.

Investment Sale

By Marcia Austin

The Valentine and Springview Churches sponsored an Investment sale and auction, November 8, 1981. According to the true meaning of investment, the church members and many friends invested their time, money and talents in making many items for the sale. Some of the handmade items included Christmas decorations, quilts, afghans, pillows, ceramics, kitchen decorations, needlepoint, macrame, baby gifts, photo art, picture frames and fireplace utensils. Members also brought baked goods and a variety of used items which were auctioned at the sale.

The sale and auction raised about $1,600.00, which will be divided between the two churches. Due to the success of the sale, both churches have decided to include this project in their plans for Investment next year.

Evangelism by Lay Members

October 10 and 17 were joyful Sabbaths for the El Dorado Church in Kansas. Eleven people were baptized into membership of the Seventh-day Adventist Church at the close of meetings conducted by Gary Parker of the Iowa-Missouri Conference. All of those baptized were the fruits of soul winning by lay members.

Mark Martens was baptized through the efforts of his friend Melinda Mitchell.

Stanley Williams III was baptized October 17. Mrs. Marvin Dick and her husband have brought Stanley and his brothers to Sabbath School for several years.

Vicki Provorse saw the results of her study and friendship with Clayton Reed as he was baptized October 17.

Alma Partridge, third from left, was responsible for developing an interest in her niece Sharon Martin and great-niece, Lisa, Frances Farthing, far right, was also a Bible study interest of Alma's.

Flora Casper, left, brought her sister and niece, Edna and Laura Dwire, to the meetings.

Pam Provorse is standing between her proud parents after her baptism.

Here is a happy family. The two youngest children, Alan, left, and Jennifer, right, were baptized October 10. Now all the members of the family are members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Jubilee a Success

By Leone Blake

Sunday evening, November 15, 1981, the third Annual Jubilee Dinner was held in the fellowship room of the Albert Lea Seventh-day Adventist Church. Members and friends gathered to enjoy a delicious Italian spaghetti dinner, served by candlelight, and to be entertained by a delightful program.

Throughout the year, many fund-raising projects, combined with sacrificial giving, provided a large offering for this special day. Over $10,000 was added to the building fund. There was much rejoicing as the church treasurer reported the results of the evening's special offering: "The church debt is reduced to only $6,300." The new building has been occupied for four years. Plans for next fall's Jubilee Dinner are already underway. With God's blessings, it will be a real Jubilee with the dedication of our church building.

Pastor Jim Anderson led the people in prayers of praise and gratitude for God's great blessings upon the church.

Mankato Has Investment Sale

By Robert McPherson

Last fall the ladies of the Mankato church had a very successful craft and bake sale for Sabbath School Investment. Whole tables were loaded with ceramics, stuffed animals and baked goods, as well as crocheted items.

Crowds came to the Madison East Mall to look and purchase, and $256 was raised to advance the mission.

Community Function At Albert Lea

By Dorothy Christensen

October 29 and 30 were busy and profitable days for the Albert Lea Seventh-day Adventist Church. The members took part in "Mission Days" at the local Skyline Mall shopping center. This yearly event provides opportunity for area churches to raise money by selling crafts and baked goods for church projects. This was the first year the Seventh-day Adventist church was invited.

On short notice, the church members all rallied around and everything from apple butter to zany zoo stuffed monkeys were sold. The church building fund was boosted by $400 by this project.

Of the approximately 20 churches represented, our booth was one of the most attractive and well-attended. To share our message, a free drawing for a year's subscription to Life & Health magazine was awarded, since literature distribution was prohibited. One lady remarked, "I will buy food from the Adventists, since I know it isn't too loaded with sugar." Cooperation in community functions is a positive way to get close to the public with our lifestyle and beliefs.

Adventists Participate In Food Drive

By Denise Trujillo

In mid-November members of the Leadville Adventist Church joined with members of the Presbyterian Church to solicit donations for the Community Food Bank. In three short hours over $750.00 in food and cash had been collected, which represents nearly ten cents for every person in the county.

Robert and Denise Trujillo with some of the food collected for the Community Food Bank.

The food drive came about after Pastor Dale Forrester had spoken to the director of the Community Action Agency about pressing community needs. Seeing that Adventist expertise in community service and organization could be of real service, the pastor asked the church's youth directors, Robert and Denise Trujillo, to make the food drive a youth project. He then contacted the other pastors in the Clergy Association for their help. Several churches joined and the Clergy Association lent its sponsorship.

The director of the Community Action Agency, a member of the Catholic Church, now calls the Adventist Church, "her favorite church", because of its lead in community service.

Six Baptized at Leadville

By Denise Trujillo

Six were baptized into the membership of the Leadville Church recently as a result of meetings held by Evangelist Edwin G. Brown.

The meetings were held in the church with an excellent response by the community. The church family gave wholehearted support as nearly every member attended most of the meetings. Evangelist Brown's mother became seriously ill and Pastor Dale Forrester substituted the final week with no loss in attendance.

Four fine young people joined the Leadville Church: Beth Berry, Ana Maria Branham, Loretta and Calvin Kennedy.

Many good interests have been generated by the meetings and more baptisms are anticipated in the near future.

The new members are Calvin and Loretta Kennedy, Estefanita Archuleta, Margaret Cisneros, Beth Berry and Ana Maria Branham all of Leadville.

Baptisms at Cortez

By Brian Schafer

"The children of Israel brought a willing offering unto the Lord, every man and woman, whose heart made them willing to bring for all manner of work." Exodus 35:29. This was the experience of the members of the Cortez, Colorado Church as they held a laymen's evangelistic meeting in the first two weeks of November. Ten different laymen presented God's message while others were involved in organizing, greeting, music, prayer, committees, children's programs, audio visual, chairing the platform, health talks, and many other aspects of an evangelistic meeting.

Bill Rea served as platform chairman for the laymen's evangelistic meetings in Cortez, Colorado.

Dr. Everett Lawson, dentist, was one of the ten speakers.

The "Good News Singers" from Durango, Colorado, brought musical inspiration to the laymen's meetings.

God blessed with many guests, some who came regularly, and with four baptisms. Those who were baptized had previous contact with the church through friends and Bible studies. These meetings helped reap some of the interests cultivated in past years.

The members of the Cortez Church praise God for His blessings and look forward to next year and another lay evangelistic meeting.

Evangelist Don Shelton and Pastor Terry Dodge with 13 of the new members.

The Brighton Seventh-day Adventist Church is rejoicing in the addition of 14 new members at the conclusion of Don Shelton's Revelation Lecture series. Though hampered by an opening night snowstorm, the series received good support by the membership with many attending almost every night of the six-week series. It was especially gratifying to church members connected with the Brighton Community Hospital to see two of the hospital staff along with their families take their stand for God's special message for today.

Robbie Higgins had come to know much about the Seventh-day Adventist Church through her fellow employees and employers at the hospital. She received a personal invitation to attend the Revelation Lecture series as did her mother, Peggy Gray, who also is employed at the hospital. Robbie, her husband, Charles, and son, Mark, along with Robbie's parents, Harold and Peggy Gray and her brother, Chris, attended night after night. They found the church to be warm and friendly and began to attend the Sabbath services. On December 12 they became members of God's remnant church. Brighton expects to see many more join the ranks of God's movement through the medical ministry. Public evangelism is just one of the steps in Pastor Terry Dodge's plan of sequence evangelism. With an eye to the future Brighton is laying groundwork for a vast harvest of souls.

Sometimes the harvest comes many years after the seed has been sown. Roberta Graham was baptized December 12 in Brighton. Her uncle is a retired Seventh-day Adventist minister. Many years ago while in Brighton he planted the seed of truth in Roberta's heart and mind. That seed sprang to new life and produced fruit during the Revelation Lecture series. The harvest and the time of the harvest is the work of the Heavenly Father, our work is to sow the seed. Let us each join the Brighton Church in a continuing program of seed-sowing and rejoicing as God gives the harvest!

Faithful Ingathering Pays

By Wanda Paddock

Each year Evan and Ebba Mayberry, senior members of the Aurora Seventh-day Adventist Church, call upon friends and neighbors to help in the Ingathering campaign.

On December 5 Mr. Mayberry came to church alone and returned the unused portion of the Ingathering literature. When asked how he had done, he said, "Mrs. Mayberry is sick and could not go out this year, so she called the neighbors and friends on the telephone, and I went by and handed out the literature and collected the donations." The Mayberrys reported $180.00 for their efforts.

"Target 82"

On Thursday, December 17 at 7:30 p.m., the Conference Committee, in a special telephone conference, voted TARGET 82 to be carried out by each church throughout the length and breadth of the Central States Conference.

TARGET 82 means Sabbath School renewal and reformation. Sabbath schools are being encouraged to have one "high" Sabbath each month with an unusual program to which visitors can be invited. Special emphasis is being given to program improvement to make every division a soul-winning agency of the church. An outstanding goal device should be prepared so that each Sabbath school can chart its progress in four specific areas: attendance, offerings, lesson study and visitors.

TARGET 82 is a call for every church and every member to receive the Spirit of God. Each pastor will lead in an eight-day revival for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit in latter-rain power to be concluded with a day of fasting and prayer, and group prayer meetings will be established in each church.

TARGET 82 means public evangelism. Each pastor is being encouraged to conduct two crusades for each church in his district. Some of these will be conducted by a union evangelist. At least four tent efforts will be held in 1982.

TARGET 82 calls for bringing the principles of church growth as outlined in Faith—Action—Advance to each church. It is our goal to help each member find his particular aptitude in the area of soul winning and put his talents to use.

TARGET 82 calls for each church and its pastor to establish a monthly baptismal objective with a set date, so that the members may be working and praying toward a harvest of souls.

TARGET 82 means an active community services program. Through Five-day Plans, cooking classes, and health screening classes, we are anxious to let those living in our neighborhoods know that we are here by God's grace to help them.

TARGET 82 means that the Central States Conference will win 500 souls to keep pace with "The Thousand Days of Reaping" presented at Autumn Council, 1981.

Our aim is contained in three words: "Energize, Mobilize, and Evangelize." We want to place our lives in such a relationship with God that we may be energized by the Holy Spirit. Through Faith—Action—Advance, and the principles of church growth, we want to mobilize every member of the church for active soul winning. By God's grace, with Jesus as our partner, we want to evangelize and move forward under the direction of the Spirit until the work is finished.

Our motto for TARGET 82 is "Withholding Nothing". In order to reach our soul-winning objective for 1982, we must give our all. The times demand our sacrifice.

Fox on Education Tour In Dakota

By Jack Babshaw

The Dakota Conference felt very appreciative of the ministry of Randall Fox, Director of Education for the Mid-America Union, as he took the time to go from center to center and meet with our teachers, pastors, school board members and others who are interested in Seventh-day Adventist Education. Elder Fox met with the conference administrators and departmental directors for a Regional Meeting in Sioux Falls on November 14, and remained with Elders Ben Liebelt, George Liscombe, Errol Eder, and Jack Babshaw for a meeting there the next day and similar meetings in Aberdeen, Fargo, Jamestown, Minot, Bismarck, and Rapid City.

These meetings were designed to educate all those involved in the K-12 program; how a school is organized, who is responsible for its administration, how it is best financed, how the curriculum is developed, what role the parents and the church members have in the school for its success. All these and many more items were discussed. Organizational lines of responsibility were stressed so the program could be strengthened at all levels.

Sioux Falls Investment Program

By Alice Paulson

Time is running out. We have only a few more weeks to reach our Investment goal of $2,300.00. Carolyn Doss, Investment leader, states that we have $2,012.27 to date.

Evie Weber explained the cradle roll department's goal device. A mother hen is sitting on a nest, and for each $5.00 accumulated they add an egg to the nest. Their goal was $60.00, and they already have $74.00.

The children in the kindergarten department, whose leader is Judy Anderson, are saving pennies to put into their Investment "barrel". They enjoy hearing the tinkling sound as the coins drop. They also collect labels from health foods. The goal was $100.00, and so far they have $120.00.

Betty Dodds, leader for the primary division, states that they have $195.93. They have a very attractive flannel board with frisky lambs on it. For each dime received they glue a piece of macaroni on a lamb to represent wool. It behooves them to work hard so the lambs will keep warm this winter. This department is also coloring animals and birds for a nature scene.

Over 200 Hundred Years of Community Service Work

By Mildred Reiswig

Mrs. Philip Deede, Mrs. A. J. Miller, Mrs. W. H. Miller and Mrs. Ben Miller are all members of the Dorcas Society of the Manfred Church. Together they have given more than 200 hundred years of Community Service work.

Mrs. Philip Deede and Mrs. A. J. Miller (back). Mrs. W. H. Miller and Mrs. Ben Miller (front).

They recall doing Dorcas work before there ever was an organized group in their church. One of the ladies recalls her father looking for his extra coat.

His good wife told him it had been given to someone less fortunate who had none. When the society was organized in their church these four were among the charter members.

Through the years they have donated money, food and clothing. They have packed tons of new and used clothing for the needy, and have made quilts, towels and bedding. They have provided families with food and clothing. They have given generously to the needy of their community: the lonely, the elderly, the ill, the poor, the grief stricken. All were ministered to as best they knew how.

Of the original Dorcas Society charter members, only these four remain. But they are part of a larger group, 24, still doing the same work. Younger ladies now carry the responsibility of leadership, Ellen Kreiter, Elnora Tref, and Genevieve Keson. They are planning helpful and healthful programs for 1982. They are thankful for the veteran workers who have ministered to the needy through the years and continue to do so.

Pierre Church Holds Better Living Seminar

Team effort would be the best way to describe the better living educational process that took place for the church members and their friends in the Pierre area on December 4, 5, and 6. The teaching team included Dr. Glenn Wiltse, Dr. Melvin Beltz, Elder George Timpson, and Elder Lynn Schlisner.

Dr. Glenn Wiltse, Dr. Melvin Beltz, Elder George Timpson and Elder Lynn Schlisner. Not pictured are Mrs. Wiltse, Mrs. Beltz, and Willard Werth who were also on the team.

The meetings were interesting and well attended. The seminar ended with a noon meal which the 37 participants helped to prepare.

Carrington Couple Win Award

By Clarence Small

Mineard and Marcella Stolz won the Foster County, North Dakota, 1981 Soil Conservation Achievement award without trying. Their philosophy of life has led them to take the best of care of their land. They feel "... honored by being made a co-partner in God's firm." Sons and Daughters of God, page 15. Stewardship, in the sense that we are only God's managers of the property that He has allowed us to acquire, has always guided these farmers. The land belongs to God. The Bible says so. Just like Adam and Eve, so long ago, we are to give it the best care we know how. We can selfishly mine the soil, but that would be joining those who are destroying the earth.

"We have planted the trees to protect the land, the birds, the animals, and the people", says Mineard.

They have taught their children the same values of life. And now these two conservationists have joined a good number of other Seventh-day Adventist North Dakota farmers who have been chosen as outstanding farmers, and at the same time protective of their land and its wildlife. Farming with them, but living a couple of miles away, are son Milo and his wife Gail. The farm provides a good living for all of them. Marcella says that they all live by that little sentence found in Testimonies, Volume 3, Page 385, which says: "Every man is a steward of God." "We chose to be faithful stewards."

UNION COLLEGE

Union to Host Art History Tour of Mediterranean Areas

The Union College Humanities Division will sponsor an art history tour of Israel, Egypt, Greece and Italy this spring, hosted by Richard Burton, assistant professor of art.

The tour extends from May 5 to May 29, leaving and returning from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport. After a two-day stopover in London, the group will spend about a week and a half in Israel, to be followed by shorter stays in Cairo, Athens and Rome.

Professor Burton has conducted the same tour before, and plans to tie art and history together in an interesting way for tour members. Cost is approximately $2,500 per person, with an exact price to be set in early February.

The tour is open to the public.

'Prairie Valley' Distributorship Launched

A new development has dramatically multiplied the potential of Union College's already prosperous health food enterprise, Peanut Hill Market. Manager Robert McEndree reports that in mid-June of 1981 the store acquired a health food distributorship previously located in Norfolk, Nebraska. The operation, known as Prairie Valley Distributors, transforms the college's health food operation from retail to wholesale.

As a wholesale distributor, Prairie Valley can buy products directly from growers and manufacturers. A middleman is thus avoided and products are purchased 20 percent more cheaply.

McEndree is highly enthusiastic about the potential of Prairie Valley Distributors. In the few months since the distributorship was acquired, "sales have increased phenomenally," he says, adding that "the potential for future growth is unlimited."

Prairie Valley currently distributes to some 30 stores in Nebraska, Missouri, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana and Texas. International distribution will begin from an agreement to sell foods to Caribbean Union College in Trinidad, Tobago. Prairie Valley is also distributing to stores at Southern Missionary College and Southwestern Adventist College and there are tentative plans to deal with stores at other North American Adventist colleges.

Wholesale foods, such as nuts, dried fruits, grains, flour, beans and carob, are received in huge 40-pound bags. Student employees then bag the products for individual sales in retail outlets. About 35 Union College students are employed by Prairie Valley and Peanut Hill.

ST. LOUIS AREA UNION COLLEGE EMPHASIS WEEKEND FEBRUARY 5-6

HOSPITALS

MRMC X-ray Department Views, Purchases, Improvements

The purchase of two new x-ray machines and the adoption of a new imaging system which reduces the radiation to the patient are recent developments for the x-ray department at Moberly Regional Medical Center, according to Ward Childers, registered x-ray technologist and department chief.

The first new machine is a General Electric AMX portable x-ray unit. Costing approximately $26,955, this instrument will be used to do radiographic studies on patients unable to come to the x-ray department. Approximately 75 patients per month will have x-rays taken by this unit.

The second new x-ray machine is also made by General Electric and is called an RFX Table and Spot Filmer, used for general radiographic and fluoroscopic studies. Ward Childers estimates this machine will be used for about 100 studies per month. Cost of this unit is about $62,000. Funds for both of these machines came from public contributions to the MRMC Progress Fund which totalled more than $790,000 in gifts and pledges to help equip the new medical center.

A third innovation at the MRMC x-ray department is the new radiographic film imaging system. This new system produces an x-ray film of improved quality using approximately one-half the radiation exposure dose of most conventional film-screen imaging systems. The film-screen system can be applied to all aspects of radiographic imaging.

This machine is adaptable and may be updated to accept new technology such as a digital imaging system, or a type of filmless x-ray process, a service the medical center hopes to be offering within the next couple of years. A key benefit will be the ability to do arteriography studies on an out-patient basis, thus saving patients the time and expense of staying in the hospital overnight.

Happenings At Porter Memorial

● Approximately $75,000 was raised for Porter Memorial Hospital's new coronary care unit at the hospital foundation's first annual awards dinner November 21. Denver broadcasting personality Pete Smythe received the foundation's Henry M. Porter Award, represented by a handsome gold medallion struck for the occasion. Steve Allen starred in a music and comedy performance with his wife, Jayne Meadows. Former astronaut Wally Schirra was master of ceremonies for the event. The coronary care unit is now under construction on the hospital's second floor (north wing). When completed it will house 17 beds.

● Porter Memorial Hospital was recently notified that the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) has renewed its accreditation for a term of two years, the maximum now permitted. The decision follows a visit to Porter by a team of inspectors from the JCAH.

● A child development center, which will be available to children of Porter Memorial Hospital employees, will soon be under construction. The 5,500-square-foot facility will be located to the west of the hospital, and will have a capacity of 90 children, infants through school age. A licensed director is to be hired by early 1982, and it is hoped the center will open in late summer or early fall. The center is not envisioned as just a baby-sitting service. It will feature instructional and skill developing programs. Projected hours of operation are 6 a.m. to midnight. The center will be operated by an independent corporation in consultation with the hospital.

New Book

No Seventh-day Adventist should be without this new book recently published—it's The White Truth by Dr. John J. Robertson, a theologian, teacher, minister, and one genuinely interested in questions regarding the authority of Ellen G. White.

To every Adventist puzzled by current questions arising in the church, this book is a must. To every Adventist desiring to keep firmly grounded in truth, this book is for you. It is thoroughly researched and contains documented evidence that Ellen White was truly a prophet. It contains a clear, positive and captivating message.

Whatever you've heard or read about the matter, you'll not know the full story until you've read this remarkable book.

An attorney at law from southern California says, this book is "must reading for the concerned." It is "direct, persuasive, Christian."

The president of one of the North American Division Unions says, "The book constructively deals with issues rather than personalities."

It's truth. It's timely. It's convincing, and it is written for you! Get your copy from your Adventist Book Center. Only $3.95 in U.S.A.

Gift Bible Memorial Named After Cross

The late C. G. Cross, who served as manager and editor of Christian Record Braille Foundation from 1958-1974, devoted his untiring talents to the furtherance of this organization, as well as to countless blind friends and associates throughout the world.

In an effort to honor Cross, who died March 25, 1981, Christian Record has established a C. G. Cross Gift Bible Memorial Fund.

Wendell Carpenter, coordinator of reading services, says, "We hope all who knew Cross will respond in a positive way. Unfortunately, we have had to deny some requests for gift Bibles or postpone sending some because of limited funding. We're confident this memorial will benefit the blind who long to study the Scriptures."

Contributions to the fund can be sent to C. G. Cross Gift Bible Memorial, Christian Record Braille Foundation, 4444 South 52nd St., Lincoln, NE 68506.

LET THEM KNOW!

I am no poet. But today let me put my message to you in verse. Paste this little jingle on your mirror or on the door of your refrigerator. Read it as you pass by, and let it be a reminder.

If your wife has made you happy,
Let her know!

If the meal she cooked was sumptuous,
Don't be slow—

Tell her now while she can hear it,
It will cheer her wearied spirit.
Let her know!

If your hubby's done it special,
Let him know!

If he expressed his love in action,
Don't be slow—

Tell him now, and don't forget it,
It will cheer his heart—I'll bet it.
Let him know!

If your kiddies have really tried,
Let them know!

If they've cleaned their rooms and closets,
Don't be slow—

Speak a word of commendation,
And express appreciation.
Let them know!

In most human hearts the appeal of the Psalmist lingers: "Encourage and cheer me with your words." Psalm 119:28, Living Bible.

Let them hear those words from your lips today—won't you?

Listen magazine is offering 14 cash prizes totaling $2,600 in its 1982 "Say It! We'll LISTEN Contest", and the editors are waiting for you to claim a prize.

The judging will be in two categories of writers: student and professional, and in two categories of writing: story and article.

Two prizes of $400 will be awarded, one in each category of writing. In addition, four first, second, and third prizes of $200, $150, and $100, respectively, will be given, one of each in each category of writing for both types of writers.

An author may enter as many manuscripts of up to 1,500 words as he chooses to produce, but only one prize will be awarded per author.

The deadline is May 14, 1982. Winners will be personally notified within six weeks of that date. Manuscripts that don't win an award will be considered for purchase at regular rates of 4¢-7¢ per word.

"The purpose of this contest is to obtain quality manuscripts for the magazine and to discover new talent," says Barbara Wetherell, assistant editor.

"I hope that an author with something to say will take advantage of this opportunity," she continues. "An interested writer should send for our contest packet containing an entry form listing the rules of the contest, writer's guidelines, and a sample magazine."

Write to: "Say It! We'll Listen Contest" c/o LISTEN, 6830 Laurel Street, N.W. Washington, D.C., 20012.

Soil Testing at PUC To Aid Mission Program

An agricultural missionary of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Zimbabwe Africa, will thrust a shovel into the soil beside a row of brown-spotted, withered bean plants. He will put the soil into a package addressed to Pacific Union College.

PUC's agriculture department will soon start a soil testing service for Adventist missionaries seeking to develop agricultural progress in their areas, according to Ralph Wood, department chairman.

The new service will help missionaries develop the most productive crops possible by testing the three major chemical elements in the soil: nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium, as well as some minor elements. A 100-gram sample will be needed to conduct the tests.

PUC's agriculture department will then send written advice on how the soil could be improved by adding specified amounts of chemicals and fertilizer. This will not only provide for better agricultural commerce, but will help feed people who do not have access to or money for the grains, vegetables, and fruits they need to thrive. By first meeting these physical needs of the people of Zimbabwe the missionary gains access to their hearts for the message of God's love.

According to Mr. Wood, only PUC and Loma Linda University offer classes in soil testing.

Samples should be sent to Ralph Wood, Pacific Union College, Angwin, CA USA 94508.

Christian Record Introduces Glaucoma Screening Bus

Christian Record Braille Foundation mobile glaucoma screening bus at Central California Conference.

Foundation Treasurer, William Lawson, screens patient on non-contact tonometer for possible glaucoma.

The facts: Two million Americans currently have glaucoma; one million persons have the disease but do not know it; one out of every eight blind person's lost their sight due to glaucoma.

In an effort to detect glaucoma in its early stages, Christian Record Braille Foundation has introduced a mobile glaucoma screening unit to travel to camp meetings and other sites to offer free screenings, according to B. E. Jacobs, general manager.

The mobile unit, a converted Trailways bus, made its initial run last summer to conference camp meetings in Oregon, British Columbia and Central California. "Some 750 Adventists were screened at the three sites, 27 of whom were referred to an ophthalmologist for further treatment," reports William Lawson, Foundation treasurer and coordinator of last summer's screenings.

Watch details for screenings at your camp meeting or nearby areas. Contact Christian Record for further details or information.

Spark Up Singing

Your Adventist Book Center, in cooperation with the publishers, has embarked on a campaign to spark up congregational singing in the churches. There is no excuse now for lack of hymnals, or the embarrassment of threadbare, worn song books. During the first quarter of 1982, the Church Hymnal and a wide selection of song books suitable for the various activities of the church are being offered at substantial savings. Now is the time to check the needs for Church Hymnals for the sanctuary and other song books for Sabbath School divisions and various organizations of the church. These special prices make it possible to update these fine singing tools. Get details from your Adventist Book Center. Act before March 2, 1982.
