Goal: $155,000

Dear Friends,

This is the first progress report on Mid-America's special 1982-83 lay evangelistic thrust. At the present time we have 24 of the 40 churches who have accepted the challenge to become pilot churches for this very special program. These churches can receive up to $2,400 this year to help obtain teaching and training tools that will enable their church to reach the requirements and guidelines set up for them to be a part of this exciting venture.

The requirements a church must vote to accept to follow include:

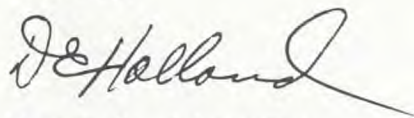

1. 10% of membership giving Bible studies.
2. 20% of membership committed to a specific and continuing outreach ministry.
3. At least one lay reaping meeting of some type each year.
4. At least one major evangelistic crusade each year.
5. At least one lay witness training class with on-the-job training each year.
6. A former member reclamation program in effect.
7. A planned nurturing program for church membership.

It is the belief and expectation of the "One Thousand Days of Reaping" Committee that the pilot churches in the Mid-America Union will be the most progressive and fastest growing churches in our union. It is our hope that many more churches can qualify to become a part of this church growth experience.

The St. Cloud, Minnesota Church is one example of what a small church can do when all the members become actively involved. Please see the feature story on this church with its plans and accomplishments in this issue of the OUTLOOK. As of this writing, we have the Rocky Mountain Conference with 8 pilot churches; Minnesota with 4; Dakota Conference with 3; Kansas-Nebraska Conference with 4; and Iowa-Missouri Conference with 5.

May the Lord help each of us become a participating witness for Him so that this one thousand days of reaping will bring about the latter rain and usher in the Kingdom of glory.

Cordially,

D. E. Holland, Secretary
Mid-America Union Conference

St. Cloud - Small Church, Big Plans

It is most interesting, and at times exciting, to see a church whose membership has the will to work and see its mission through to a triumphant finale. The Seventh-day Adventist Church in St. Cloud, Minnesota, under the direction and leadership of Pastor Norman LaMountain, is not only planning big things, but is also seeing big things happen for God.

To help organize, train and motivate the church members, Jim Rauls has been employed as Bible worker. This has been made possible by the financial assistance of Albert Peterson and some help from the church. At the present time approximately fifty percent of the membership are engaged in some type of witnessing program. Approximately ten percent are giving Bible studies in nearly 40 homes each week.

A video-tape ministry is now a reality. The equipment, provided by Albert Peterson, is used to record church services and various community services outreach programs for broadcast on cable TV.

The St. Cloud Church, one of the pilot churches to receive its share of the $100,000 from the union and conference, is conducting Five-day Plans to Stop Smoking, cooking schools, family life seminars, "LifeSpirit" Bible studies, and public evangelism. As of this date, six have already received diplomas in Practical Discipleship For Lay Ministry, and are now authorized to teach others in the art of securing decisions for Christ.

In harmony with their Statement Of Mission, the church has plans for systematically covering the city in a door-to-door religion survey.

As a part of the on-going plan of education, inspiration and outreach, Elder Don Holland, secretary of the Mid-America Union, conducted a two-week seminar in the church on "Practical Christianity" May 2-15.

Topeka Evangelism

By Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sewell

Thirty-eight souls were baptized at the conclusion of the Richard Halversen evangelistic series in Topeka, Kansas.

Prior to the beginning of the campaign on March 27, the members of the Topeka Church had accompanied conference literature evangelists in a city-wide group canvass. This was an effort to interest residents in Bible Studies which the church members would follow-up. Many of the attendees at the opening night were from these Bible studies. The continuing attendance was one of the largest ever experienced in the Topeka area.

Many members had been fasting and praying for these meetings and it was quite evident that the Holy Spirit was answering the prayers.

Special Camps

By Kozi Hedger

This summer Enterprise Academy will be running a basketball camp and a gymnastics camp.

The basketball camp will run July 25-30. We will be teaching the different skills of shooting, dribbling, passing, and most important, team sportsmanship.

The gymnastics camp will run from August 1-7. During that week, we will be teaching the basic gymnastic skills of the floor, the balance beam, and the uneven bars. Saturday night we will put on a small program to show what each of the students has learned during the week.

The cost of each of these camps is $50. Boys and girls between grades 6 and 12 are invited to come. We are planning to learn a lot and have a lot of fun.

105th Birthday

By

Mary Jean Campbell

Osbert Ward of Blair, Nebraska, recently celebrated his 105th birthday. Osbert attends the Omaha Memorial Seventh-day Adventist church. He is in good health and walks with the aid of a walker.

Osbert Ward

Osbert attended Union College and graduated in 1914, after taking time out to do some traveling in Mexico where he learned to speak Spanish fluently. His housekeeper, Irene Hastings, is sometimes left flustered after he tells her something in Spanish.

In 1929, Osbert left the Midwest for a six-week visit to Vermont which lasted 18 years. In 1948, he purchased the home in Blair where he is presently living. He also bought the house across the street and, after adding two bedrooms and a garage, doing the work himself, he sold it.

Many friends helped him celebrate his birthday, including a surprise visit from a great niece from Hanover, New Hampshire, who spent several days with him. He appreciated receiving more than 30 birthday cards. Osbert says if he were young again, he would have a yoke of oxen to help him because they are good and dependable. With the Lord's care and blessing, Osbert hopes to see more birthdays in the future.

Eighteen Join Mason City Church

By Marian Kelch

Evangelistic meetings in Mason City, Iowa, began when the church members gathered for a special prayer session on Friday evening. Each member told of the blessings God had given them, and then friends, neighbors and relatives were prayed for as small prayer circles were formed.

On Saturday night, the Amazing Facts series began with Joe Crews and Sid Mills. Eighteen new members were added to the church.

Mr. Gomez, who lives in Colorado, met Harold Christenson, and their conversation disclosed that Mr. Gomez's mother and Mr. Christenson's pastor son both live in Mason City. Pastor Kelch soon visited Mrs. Gomez and invited her to the evangelistic series. She and her sister, Mrs. Rodriguiz, are now members of the Mason City

Seventh-day Adventist Church.

LeRoy Helmer has joined his wife as another new member. He has known the Adventist message and believed it for twenty years, but his habit of smoking kept him from baptism. During the meetings he gained the victory through God's power.

Brian Thorsen read the book All In

The Name Of The Lord by Bill Stringfellow, and searched the yellow pages for a listing of the "remnant church" that was mentioned in the book. He finally determined it to be the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and he is now a member of this "remnant church".

Darlene DeMaris's children, Brian and Kathy, urged her to take them to church. After Bible studies the children were baptized. Darlene wanted to be, too, but felt she must be perfect first, and she could not give up her cigarettes. As she attended the evangelistic meetings, she was able to gain the victory and has joined her children as members of the church.

News Notes From Sioux City

Pathfinders Attend Camporee

Members of the Sioux City Sentinels Pathfinder Club of the Sioux City Church attended the recent Camporee at Elkhorn Ranch near Boone with their director, Mrs. Larry Colburn. Deputy directors, D. J. Smutzer and Barry Schwab, and several volunteers assisted.

The group is currently concentrating on crafts, hobbies, witnessing skills, field trips and practice drilling. An Investiture Service May 15th recognized the young people's achievements of the past few months.

Health Fair Participation

The Sioux City Church participated in two health fairs during April, one at the municipal auditorium and one at Morningside College. Information was displayed about Adventist community and health services. Much interest was shown in the literature on vegetarian foods and the dangers of smoking.

Five-day Plan Conducted

The Community Services organization of the Sioux City Church conducted a successful Five-day Plan to Stop Smoking in April under the leadership of Dr. Earl Augspurger and his team. Forty-two attended and 28 graduated. This was the largest group since the program has been conducted in Sioux City.

As a follow-up, a Wa-Rite program is being conducted by special request from some of the "graduates" as a help in maintaining proper weight.

Faith's Reward

Mrs. Jacqueline Albright took God at His Word, and He fulfilled His promise. Eighteen months ago Jackie began attending the Macon, Missouri Seventh-day Adventist Church due to the influence of her husband, who is not a church member, and her mother-in-law, Geneva Albright, who is a member.

In order to be able to attend, Jackie requested release from Sabbath employment, which was granted.

She eagerly studied her Bible and other Adventist materials, and took Bible Studies from Pastor H. C. Reile. Conviction and faith developed simultaneously over a period of nearly a year.

Then it happened! Her employing company adopted a policy requiring Saturday work of all employees. Jackie's faith was more than sufficient.

Soon the termination notice arrived. Obviously she had a valid court case on the grounds of religious discrimination. However, she chose to search for other work and within a month she found employment as receptionist in a dentist's office. A much better job, better ultimate pay, and no Sabbath employment problem!

Jackie was not a member of the church when all of this happened. She was baptized at a Sabbath sundown Communion Service at the Macon Church on April 3. Pastor Harry Reile officiated.

Does God reward Faith? Ask Jackie!

LifeSpirit Goes On The Air To 3,000 Viewers

By Stephen Payne

Pastor Willis Dagenais reports that the LifeSpirit television program is reaching some 3,000 viewers in the Muscatine area. Two weeks of programs have been aired.

Each telecast is localized with the appearance of Pastor Dagenais discussing the lessons at the end of each show. Write-in response has been slow, but the community's vocal response has been excellent, especially regarding the Heritage Singers who are featured on the telecasts.

Pastor Dagenais says that the series has benefited his church family, and they are making plans to expand the impact of LifeSpirit in the community. The church has its own camera crew and access to the cable company's studio, and plans to produce a local Adventist program.

The air time for LifeSpirit has been made available free of charge to the Muscatine Church for two years. After these two years, the church plans to broadcast the series in two nearby towns on their own cable system.

Pastor Dagenais feels that from a communication standpoint, "LifeSpirit has been well worth the investment."

An Award of Appreciation For Martin Luke

By Juanita Zuber

Martin Luke has been a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church for 50 years. He is 72 years old and retired from his regular job.

Martin Luke

If you should stop by the Cedar Rapids Church, you would probably find Martin mowing the lawn, trimming grass, pruning trees, planting grass seed, painting and fixing things up wherever he sees the need. Church members are very proud of the way the church building, lawn and facilities look, because of Martin's efforts.

If Martin should ever decide to move away from Cedar Rapids, he would be greatly missed because of all his cares, concerns and labors, which he donates free of charge.

Recently, to show their appreciation, his fellow church members awarded Martin the three-volume set of the Index to the writings of E. G. White.

Two Long Time Community Service Workers Retire

De Etta Mattheis recently retired from Community Services work after 30 years. Back in 1951 when H. R. Coats was Iowa Conference Lay Activities director, Mrs. Mattheis made a trip to Boston. Upon returning she was notified she was Central Federation President. Her first remark was "You can't do that to me, I wasn't there." After some encouragement she decided to give it a try. When Iowa organized as a State Federation organization in 1962, Mrs. Mattheis was chosen as president, which post she held till 1970 when she was elected secretary-treasurer. She has been a very efficient leader and will be greatly missed. Mrs. Mattheis will, of course continue to attend Central Federation meetings.

Florence Sherburne has spent almost 20 years with the Community Services organization; first as Central Federation secretary treasurer, then as vice-president for the state. The federation would not allow her to be completely retired; she was voted in as coordinator, advisor or trouble shooter, helping new officers and societies wherever needed.

MINNESOTA

Minnesota Science Fair

By Beverly Dickinson

On April 18 at Maplewood Academy, Minnesota's elementary schools met to show their exhibits in the science area. All of the elementary schools participated and had been planning for this event all year. The variety of experiments or displays was tremendous. Some students worked on projects together; others had individual ones. Each pupil that participated received an entry award ribbon to take home. The only prize was a trophy given to the school for the most popular science project. The students themselves voted by ballot for the one entry of the entire fair that they liked the best. Minneapolis Junior Academy received the trophy for the volcano of 6th-grader Todd Kromann. Runners up were a dam and water exhibit by Tricia Lehman of Hutchinson, and the 7th & 8th grade exhibit on the dissecting of mice, worms, etc.

The most popular student entry by Todd Kromann of MJA.

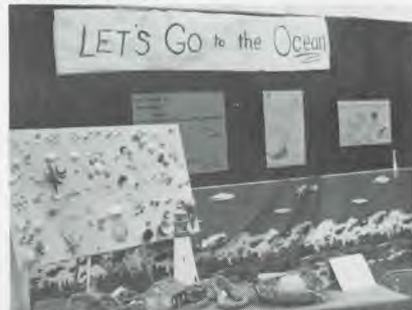

Besides viewing the different booths and exhibits, Minneapolis Junior Academy had a short lecture on acid rain. Science teacher, Dennis Barts, and three junior-high students—Stephanie Camp, Jim Nallick, and Jerri Rosenthal—participated.

Maplewood Academy teachers, Jerry McHenry and Harold Williams, put on a most interesting science demonstration, involving the areas of chemistry, biology, and physics.

For those teachers and students who came from schools some distance from Hutchinson, it was a long day. But the learning and enthusiasm from this event was well worth the time. These students will long remember the exhibits they saw and those they shared with the other schools, academy students, and many Hutchinson residents who observed this activity. Already many schools are deciding on projects which they can present at next year's science fair. Larry Kromann, Minnesota's superintendent, was very pleased with the participation, the quality of exhibits, and the enthusiasm shown for this "first time" event which he hopes will become a tradition.

Burgharts Celebrate 50th Anniversary

By Clara Hansen

Mr. & Mrs. Marvin Burghart of Hutchinson celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with an Open House at the Maplewood Academy cafeteria.

The three children of the couple, Donna (Mrs. Robert Blake) of Scottsdale, Arizona; Daryl of Gentry, Arkansas; and Dwayne of Wilton, Minnesota, their spouses and families presented a program, and musical selections were presented by the Wesley Anderson family, and Merland Kestrom. Gilbert Lehman of Hutchinson, a good friend and former neighbor, was master of ceremonies.

The Burgharts were married in New Ulm, Minnesota, on December 24, 1931. They farmed near Fairfax, Minnesota, until moving to Hutchinson in 1964, where Marvin worked in house construction until his retirement in 1975. Marvin and Pauline have given many hours to church work through the years. The Hutchinson Community Service Center is grateful to the Burgharts for the many dedicated hours given in that area.

The couple's three children and spouses, their ten grandchildren, and one great-grandchild were in attendance at the Burghart home for the Christmas weekend, as well as for the Open House. Approximately 175 relatives and friends attended the celebration. Among them was the only surviving wedding attendant, Mrs. Lavina Nott, a sister of Marvin Burghart, of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The couple's many friends and family wish them God's blessing as they continue life's journey toward an eternal home.

Jones - KFOR Pastor of Week

Gerald H. Jones, Sr., Pastor of the Allon Chapel Church in Lincoln Nebraska was selected as KFOR's Pastor of the Week on March 27, 1982. This award is sponsored jointly by Lincoln businesses and KFOR, one of the largest radio stations in the area.

Sterns Floral Designs provided a floral arrangement for the sanctuary, and Lee's Restaurant provided dinner for the pastor and his wife. Throughout the weekend 15 announcements were aired commending Pastor Jones and the work he does for the church and the community.

In his congratulatory letter to the pastor and his wife, Roger Larsen, vice-president and general manager of KFOR stated "We salute you as an outstanding member of your profession, who contributes very much to the quality of life in a spiritual way and one who has earned respect from the citizens in our community."

Baptism at Denver Park Hill

By S. Haywood Cox

The presence of the Lord brought a time of refreshing in the Denver Park Hill Church on Sabbath, April 17. Elder S. Haywood Cox, president of the Central States Conference, along with Bill Freeny, one of the local elders of Park Hill, baptized fifteen precious people in the watery grave. Two of these were rebaptisms, thanks to the efforts of George Nealey, local elder and the officers and members of the Park Hill Church. The church at present is without a pastor. Bill Freeny was the elder in charge of the baptismal class. We know that this is just the beginning of a great year for soul winning in Denver.

Elder S. Haywood Cox In Des Moines

By Willetta Carter

Philadelphia SDA Church was honored by the presence of Elder S. Haywood Cox, re-elected president of Central States Conference, who preached a dynamic sermon on "Stirred up Christians". His text was taken from Acts 17:16, where Paul saw the idolatry in Athens and was stirred up against the city. Elder Cox admonished the church to get stirred up to win souls to God. Following the eleven o'clock services, there was a luncheon honoring his presence.

For the past eight weeks, Philadelphia has been having Bible studies each Sabbath afternoon at three o'clock in the sanctuary where they are learning how to go out into the field and apply what they have learned in an effort to win many souls in '82.

W. D. FELDER LEAVES DENVER

On January 30, Elder W. D. Felder presented his farewell sermon to the Denver Park Hill and Community Churches. Elder Felder and family gave five years of outstanding service to the Central States Conference. Elder Felder has accepted a call to pastor in the Northern California Conference. We wish the Felders God's speed.

Elder S. Haywood Cox presents a plaque to the Felders for their service in the conference.

"LifeSpirit Club"

By Robert Natiuk

In March 1981, Walter Krueger first saw LifeSpirit demonstrated. Since then he has enthusiastically supported the ministry.

Mr. Krueger believes LifeSpirit is the tool for our times, a way to involve lay people in carrying out our final mission. Recently he began a "LifeSpirit Club" at the Bismarck Church.

"The club is basically a group of lay people who join together for the purpose of financing and using the LifeSpirit program. We try to organize for maximum use of the machine and tapes. Within the club members can better share their experiences and encourage one another. The club motivates us to use all our resources in imparting what we've received from the Lord," says Mr. Krueger. "When I got involved in LifeSpirit, I considered different ways of beginning our ministry in Bismarck. I first thought of just buying a unit myself. But I wanted to get others in the church involved. I began asking a few members if they would be willing to buy one or two tapes. Several agreed even though they hadn't seen the program.

"It began to look like a club, so I challenged people with specific plans and asked if they would like to join such a club. There are ten members in the original club. Another club has now formed at Bismarck. More and more want to use the program as they see how receptive people are after viewing it."

Winning souls is much like farming—the soil of the heart must be prepared for the seed of the Gospel. Evangelistic campaigns especially need a great deal of preparation.

Mr. Krueger suggests, "We could go into a town ahead of an evangelist and introduce a series of tapes to the people. This would win us many friends and, with people prepared for the message in this way, an evangelist would be much more fruitful."

Mr. Krueger really believes that everyone who wants to use LifeSpirit should have the opportunity to do so, whether they can buy the machine tapes or not. The club idea may help to make this possible.

Many other ways are being investigated to make this possible. There is the potential of setting up a special fund which would be used for those who want to purchase the tapes and machine. This fund would yield interest to contributors. Another plan is to lease the complete series to individuals or churches. Money would be available from a special investment. Mr. Krueger's idea of clubs might be the best yet. Perhaps such clubs could be organized in many places. Readers are encouraged to send in suggestions and ideas.

Says Mr. Krueger, "Let me say one more thing about LifeSpirit. The program is so simple - that's the key. There's also quality in the programs. I could never present the Bible studies like those given through these tapes, even if I spent many hours studying and preparing. These programs pack a big punch in a short time. With LifeSpirit I just turn on the tape, sit back with the student, and pray that God moves them to make the right choices. God's love really comes across through these studies."

The Dakota Conference Adds New Workers

Dean & Ila Edwards are both graduates of Walla Walla College. Their ministry has been in the Washington and Upper Columbia Conferences. They are the proud parents of four grown children living in the Pacific Northwest and Michigan. Dean's father and grandfather lived in Fargo and Bowman for a number of years. The Edwards have come to pastor and give spiritual guidance and direction in the Harvey - Manfred District, left vacant by the move of Richard and Pat Byrd to the Georgia Cumberland Conference.

Stanley & Nancy Teller have come to the Bowdon-Hurdsfield District of our Conference from Spencer, Iowa. They have two grown children—Peter, on the staff at the Holbrook SDA Indian School, and Nannette, a Senior nursing student at Union College. The Tellers were lay people in our churches. When they began to tell the good news of the gospel to their neighbors and friends and found a good response, they decided to do this above all else. The Iowa-Missouri Conference employed them in one of the nicest areas of Iowa. We are so thankful they responded to the invitation to join the Dakota Conference in the area left vacant when Michael and Karen Porter moved to the Northern California Conference.

Louisville Church Ground Breaking

Ground was broken on May 2, 1981 for the new Louisville Seventh-day Adventist Church. Participating in the ground breaking ceremonies, which were arranged and directed by Pastor Carroll Brauer, were Wm. C. Hatch, president of the Rocky Mountain Conference, Gordon Retzer, secretary, and Lloyd Cleveland, treasurer.

Louisville and Lafayette are two of the old coal mining communities located north of Denver and east of Boulder, Colorado. It is now a very rapidly growing area because of the strategic location near the two larger cities and because of its beauty.

The building lot on which the new church will be built is one of the most beautiful locations in the entire conference. The five-acre lot is located on a high hill which slopes gently toward the west, providing one of the most breath-taking views of the East Slope of the great Rocky Mountains. The new church building will face toward the west, providing the congregation a view of this beautiful scenery as they are seated in the pews. Colorado Highway 42 provides easy access to the property located about midway between Lafayette and Louisville.

Bob Berger, mayor of the city of Lafayette, was also a guest speaker for the occasion. He expressed appreciation for another Christian church being added to the community and for the positive influence of the Seventh-day Adventist citizens.

ized March, 1979, and has been a special project of the members of the Boulder Church. The beautiful tract of land was purchased by the Boulder congregation and provided to the Louisville congregation to help in the establishment of a new church in this growing community.

Pastor Carroll Brauer is providing vigorous leadership to the building program. The estimated cost of the total project is more than $200,000.

Arkansas Valley Church Dedicated

The Arkansas Valley church was dedicated in an afternoon service on the 8th of May, 1982. Speaker for the occasion was Ellsworth S. Reile, president of the Mid-America Union. The morning worship service was conducted by Wm. C. Hatch, president of the Rocky Mountain Conference and was preceded by a special communion service conducted on the previous Friday evening. The church is located on 11 acres of land north of Swink, Colorado, midway between the towns of Rocky Ford and La Junta. The total cost of the project was $265,000, which is about half of what the expense would have been if built entirely by a contractor, according to Pastor Robert Furst. Construction was started in September of 1979 and completed in July of 1980. The combined efforts of members, by donations of their labor and money made it possible to have the church completed in a nine-month period of time and completely paid for by March, 1982. The present building, which is valued at more than half a million dollars, is actually a combination of three former congregations located in Ordway, Rocky Ford and La Junta.

The first Seventh-day Adventist Church in Rocky Ford was organized November 7, 1903 in a Baptist church building. The first church home was built in Rocky Ford and dedicated in 1905. In 1930 a new church was built in Rocky Ford and a church school was added in 1962.

Members of the La Junta Church first met in Harmony Hall in that city. In 1919 a church was built and dedicated and used continuously until 1946. A new church was begun in 1946 and was partially destroyed by fire in 1947. In 1963 a part of the building was again destroyed by fire and rebuilt a second time, under the administration of Pastor Lloyd Austin.

In June of 1977 the Rocky Ford and La Junta congregations were merged and began the construction of the present church building under the direction of Pastor Uriah Worth.

Members of the small congregation in Ordway joined the Rocky Ford congregation and subsequently became part of the Arkansas Valley Church.

The new church building is completely air conditioned and presently houses the church school. Project director was James Wagner, of North Platte, Nebraska, who designed the building and supervised the church members until the project was completed.

"The construction of this church building has tied together three congregations and given us a strength that we could never have achieved as separate congregations," commented Dr. Karl Wheeler, local elder of the church.

Ellsworth Reile, President of the Mid-America Union Conference, was the guest speaker at the dedication service for the new Arkansas Valley Church.

SMCC Celebrates 20th Anniversary

As Shawnee Mission Medical Center celebrates its 20th anniversary, it is amazing how successful it has become, even to those who founded it.

The Medical Center's story begins about a decade before it opened. In the early '50s, a group of doctors, led primarily by L. E. Leigh and George Maser, successfully lobbied the state legislature to pass a bill permitting the county townships to join together to finance a general hospital. However, the voters resoundingly defeated these plans by rejecting a small levy which would have financed the institution.

Nursery Coordinator Hilda Erickson shows John "Nick" Hart the proper way to hold Joshua Allan Kling. Nick was the first baby born at SMMC, and Joshua was the first to be born during SMMC's twentieth anniversary week. Nurse Erickson, who took care of Nick as a newborn, is celebrating her twentieth year at SMMC.

Meanwhile, some members of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church had their own dreams of building something to serve the community. In 1956, under the driving force of Paul T. Jackson and Dr. A. A. Armbruster, this group retained attorney John J. Fallon and chartered a not-for-profit corporation called Pleasant View Health and Vocational Institute, Inc., and it was finally decided to build a nursing home. Property was located and Mission State Bank promised to help with a loan.

In 1958, the group began seeking funding for the combined project. They managed to obtain a $438,000 Hill-Burton grant which was based on the condition that matching funds could be found. E. Paul Amos, Alma Breyfogle, and others led a fund raising campaign.

The biggest break of all came unexpectedly when Miller Nichols, president of the J. C. Nichols Company, invited Paul Jackson and two associates to look at some property near I-35 and 75th Street, but such valuable real estate was obviously beyond the reach of the small constituency. Then Mr. Nichols made an incredible offer. He would donate the entire 15 acres needed for the hospital and its future expansion. It was received in parcels over the next several years - a gift appraised at $653,500 twenty years ago. With land and a promise of federal funds, the leaders went all over the United States in search of construction financing.

Finally, the 102-bed nursing home opened in 1961. A year later, on May 14, 1962, the first patient was admitted to the 65-bed Shawnee Mission Hospital.

After some bad years, the hospital began to get on its feet, and in 1966 expanded to 134 beds. In 1971, the hospital changed its name to Shawnee Mission Medical Center. The following year, the nursing home beds were changed to acute care. The number of beds continued to increase until, in 1977, there were 373 beds.

The medical center added many new services during the past two decades: mental health and alcoholism recovery programs, the Infant Development Center, the Mother's Milk Bank, child care center, rehabilitation services, and Parcourse fitness trail to name a few.

SMMC now has the highest percentage of occupancy of any major medical center in Greater Kansas City and is seeking to expand again to meet the ever increasing need.

HIGHLIGHTS

Fifty-three Students Train For Literature Evangelism

By Ron Ihrig

Fifty-three students from Union College and Platte Valley Academy attended an intensive three-day literature evangelism training seminar. Several other students from other academies who plan to canvass this summer were unable to attend because of school still being in session.

The book BIBLE READINGS played a part in Rick Lytle's conversion. Now a theology student, Rick is spending the summer distributing BIBLE READINGS and other material.

Ron Halvorsen presents a devotional message to the students.

A case full of information and helps for the student colporteurs.

The training school was the culmination of months of promoting the opportunities for witnessing that a summer of canvassing provides. A colporteur club which functioned all year, and a second-semester class on Christian salesmanship contributed to the large interest in the program. All of this and more has resulted in approximately 60 students working the field this summer.

Seven students were selected to lead the student colporteurs in the major city areas of the Mid-America Union: Kevin Brown, Wichita, Kansas; Lori Calhoun, Omaha, Nebraska; Birgit Hoppe, Topeka, Kansas; Clay Peck, Des Moines, Iowa; Rochelle Swanson,

Not Forgotten

"I was in the military and you visited me . . ."

Many Seventh-day Adventist young people are today serving in the military forces of the United States. These young men and women are serving their country in most cases far from home and friends, and in other instances on foreign soil and in cultures that are a contrast to what they have been accustomed.

Often times they may be near local Seventh-day Adventist churches where they may benefit from the blessings of Sabbath services even though these may be conducted in languages that are unfamiliar and difficult to comprehend. In other instances they must attempt to isolate themselves from the mundane and routine experienced in a camp or bivouac if they are to find a place of quiet and rest to worship their God.

In all of these situations the Holy Bible is their chief source of inspiration. They, however, also find comfort in the articles found in such magazines as the Adventist Review, Insight, Listen, Signs, Message, and the Sabbath School lesson. These and other forms of Seventh-day Adventist literature are made available to them through the General Conference National Service Organization. The cost of supplying each Seventh-day Adventist military person with this type of literature is more than $60 for a two-year period. It is essential that each of us has a small share in keeping open the communication with our service personnel.

It will cost some $160,000 over the next two years to keep this program at its present pace. The church has scheduled one Sabbath every two years for this special offering. This year it is June 19. Your prayers and contributions are solicited to aid those who are in the service of our country. Merely indicate Servicemen's Fund Offering on the envelope with your check or cash enclosed when the plate is passed.

Thank you for your help.

College? There has to be a way! And Union College found 6 ways with UNITE

In order to make college affordable at this time, innovative thinking must often precede as well as follow the degree. And the Union College UNITE program provides tuition problem-solving through innovation. UNITE—Union's Initiative for Total Education—is a 6-part program to cover every student's individual situation.

1. No Inflation Tuition Guarantee

If the student has one year's tuition and expenses at registration, the college will guarantee that tuition will remain fixed for all four years, regardless of economic conditions.

2. Cash Discount

Students who can pay one semester's tuition and costs in advance will save up to 5 percent.

3. 12 Monthly Installments

With this plan, costs can be spread out over 12 equal monthly payments beginning in June prior to registration.

4. Pay As You Go

A down payment of half the total estimated costs is made at registration, then the other half may be paid in four equal installments through the semester.

5. Extended Payment

Students may defer part of their bill until after graduation, paying only interest on the deferred portion at the beginning of the next school year.

6. College Assistance

The student who establishes need for college aid agrees to work during the summer and school year, to apply for available loans and scholarships and seek a reasonable amount of family help. The college will then step in to make up any deficit.

A fully accredited, bachelor-degree-granting college with a Seventh-day Adventist orientation, Union College welcomes students of all faiths to participate in a liberal arts education. Members of the Lincoln community and interested students are invited to call Leona Murray at 488-2331 for more information. UNITE with Union; we're here to help.
