Christian Record Braille Foundation
Annual Offering—July 10, 1982

Dear Friends,

We in the Mid-America Union Conference are privileged to have the Christian Record Braille Foundation headquarters located in our territory, in Lincoln, Nebraska. Did you realize that this benevolent organization has been doing its humanitarian work for more than 83 years? It is an honor for me to be able to serve CRBF as vice-chairman of the board and learn at close range some of the enthusiastic reports. Of all the 68,835 computer entries, some 51,255 are active readers. You might find it difficult to comprehend that some 89 tons of braille paper, alone, were processed through CRBF. Almost 13,000,000 pages of braille were mailed. The one hundred field workers visited 35,000 blind people, who, in turn, requested 311,528 services. All of these free services are extended on a non-discriminatory basis, without regard to race or religious affiliation.

E. S. Reile

Two thousand one hundred seventy-one blind children attended our camps last summer and winter. The winter camp, which included snow skiing, snowmobiling, and other winter activities, was conducted at Granby, Colorado, west of Boulder. Can you imagine the fun that these 32 blind youngsters had snow skiing, etc.?

Christian Record Braille Foundation offers a very practical service in providing cassette tapes of music. CRBF is to be commended for supplying good music for the listening enjoyment of the blind.

During the past year, the reading service material was increased by more than two hundred braille volumes. These have been added to the lending library. B. E. Jacobs, general manager of CRBF, projects that approximately one hundred new books will be added to cassette tapes during the year.

A wonderful service is provided for those who have restricted vision. The "large print" department produced approximately ten million pages of large print material to aid those who have impaired eye sight. The organization is estimating that even greater production will be seen in this department during the year.

You might be interested to know that a pilot program for the deaf among the Adventist members has been started and is growing rapidly. More than ten thousand manual alphabet cards were distributed for the deaf. Comprehensive lists of some eight hundred deaf persons have been compiled. An educational brochure has been printed. Sign language classes were held during the year to teach people how to communicate with the deaf. A teletype phone for the deaf has provided an open line of communication on a regular basis.

I know that you join with me in giving thanks and praise to our Heavenly Father because of the outstanding work that our church is doing through the efforts of the Christian Record Braille Foundation. I know, also, that you will want to join me in supporting this wonderful work. I have no difficulty in being enthusiastic about Christian Record Braille Foundation and its outreach to a special segment of our society.

May God help us to continue our support of this very worthy avenue of service.

Cordially,

A Fresh Glimpse

By Donald B. Simons

It is enlightening and inspiring to take a fresh glimpse at services rendered by the Christian Record Braille Foundation—an 83-year-old Adventist agency dedicated to humanitarian service on behalf of multitudes of people who cope with major sight and hearing disabilities.

CRBF General Manager B. E. Jacobs reports that “thanks to your loyal prayers and support in the past, we were able to extend our Christian-oriented materials and services to more than 63,000 blind and deaf patrons in 88 countries.” The foundation policy expressly provides that services are extended on a non-discriminatory basis irrespective of nationality, race or denominational affiliations.

Hundreds of wholesome, inspirational books and monthly magazines, including titles on adventure and travel, biography, nature and science, diet and foods and religion and family are provided in formats to meet the needs of various visual handicaps—braille, large-print, flexible recorded discs, and cassette recordings. Several Bible study courses are also available that have brought spiritual guidance and salvation to thousands.

From the State of Maryland a Methodist minister writes, “I am grateful indeed for the work you are doing for those of us who are blind. Your monthly news magazines are a great help to me in my work. The recent Bible lesson (Faith and Prophecy) on 12-inch discs was especially good. I am enclosing a check for $100.”

A lady writes, “God has been so kind to us handicapped folks, who can’t see so well anymore, to raise up folks like you to bring God’s love to us still.”

After 80 effective years in serving the needs of blind citizens, the CRBF has launched an additional program to provide for the long-neglected needs of 14 million hearing-impaired and 2 million deaf persons in the United States. Obviously the deaf and blind population outside the U.S.A. is even more staggering.

Under the direction of Thompson Kay, a trained coordinator of services for the deaf, a monthly newsletter, New Dawn, has already reached a circulation of 1,200; thousands of manual alphabet cards have been distributed to churches and other groups; a teletype phone (TTY) has been installed at the CRBF’s Lincoln office to provide contact with deaf persons. As funds are available, future plans include sign-language classes, Bible study guides, camps and retreats for deaf persons, as well as workshops and seminars to assist pastors and laymen to provide for the spiritual and social needs of deaf people.

During 1981 35 summer camps for blind children and adults attracted a combined attendance of 2,140 campers. The first CRBF winter camp was held in Colorado in 1980 and involved 23 youth from 17 states in such activities as skiing, snowmobiling, and cross-country hiking. Another was conducted in March of 1981 and 32 campers came from 14 states including Hawaii. In March, 1982, a winter camp was also held at Snow Mountain Ranch, Colorado.

Eager, yearning multitudes of deserving sight-and hearing-disabled neighbors in North America and overseas must see and understand the message of God’s love and salvation. In the United States and Canada a team of approximately 100 district representatives seek out blind people daily offering the foundation’s free services. In August of 1980 a newly acquired Canadian branch office of CRBF was opened in British Columbia to add impetus to the work in Canada.

Heaven’s gospel outreach to all men, both the physically and spiritually disabled, must be accelerated. It is our opportunity to cooperate with God and support His message to the masses in the Christian Record Offering to be given on July 10, 1982.

Kathie Cooke was baptized recently into the Grove Heights SDA Church in Wichita along with her two children, Phillip, 11, and Rhonda, 10, through reading services supplied from Christian Record Braille Foundation.

Pastor Reid Swindler, 75, of the Tarkio, Missouri Christian Church, has been receiving services from Christian Record since 1916. He admits he relies heavily on our monthly SDA doctrinal services for sermon preparation. His wife, Mary Jane (rear) plays the organ for the Tarkio Church.

Investiture At Bowdle

By Ruth Eder

May 1, 1982, was a great day for the Bowdle Church as all of the church school students were invested and granted honors. Superintendent Jack Babshaw, assisted by Jack Vance, was in charge of the afternoon program.

The service was conducted by the students. Travis Binder led the song service and announced the opening song. Danny Krueger had the prayer and also played a solo on the xylophone. Bible verses were repeated from memory by Susan Harner, Mark Harner, Travis Binder, and Danny Krueger. Travis sang "Heaven Came Down" accompanied by Jack Vance on the organ. The whole group then played a number on the glockenspiels and xylophones.

Adah Heinrich was invested a Master Guide; Mark Harner, a Friend; Travis Binder, a Helping Hand; Danny Krueger, Companion; and Susan Harner, Ranger. Jack Babshaw then gave The Charge and we were dismissed by Jack Vance.

Pathfinders Invested At Wahpeton

By Karen Carlson

Tuesday evening, May 11, was time for the investiture of the Wahpeton Pathfinder Club made up of students of the Richards Elementary School. Sixteen were invested.

Dr. Warren Rushold, Pathfinder Leader, opened the program by welcoming the guests. The students of the lower grades sang "Smile, God Loves You" accompanied by Evvalee Rushold. The children then presented their class work.

After reading from the scriptures, Pastor Rideout commended the children for being very important to the church. Elder Elmer Haas from the Dakota Conference presented the message for the evening and made each child feel as though he or she had a very important place in the work of the church, and that they were not too young to be considered Christians.

The honors were presented to the children by Lloyd Brenneise and LeAnne Dupper, teachers. They were assisted by several Master Guides who were present.

Red River Valley Youth Rally

By Karen Carlson

Pastors and church members from eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota attended a youth rally at Wahpeton. Special guests were Elder Harold Follet from Oregon, Conference President Ben J. Liebelt, and the choir and band from Dakota Adventist Academy, directed by Chris and Melia Williams.

Ben J. Liebelt makes an appeal for youth to respond.

The theme centered around the second coming of Jesus and what an important role our youth can play in preparing the world for His return.

Members of the nearby churches joined the Wahpeton members for the delicious meals served at the Richards Elementary School.

A Labor of Love

By Esther Widicker

Mr. and Mrs. Chaney Gilham of Bowdon, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Juhl and Ted of Drayton, were among 23 volunteers who went to the Commonwealth of Dominica to complete reconstruction of a school that had been demolished by a hurricane in 1979. The school is located in Portsmouth, the second largest city in the Commonwealth. It is on the volcanic island of Dominica, among the Windward Islands of the Lesser Antilles in the Caribbean Sea.

The island is 27 miles long and 17 miles wide. There are approximately 75,000 people who live on the island, with only 50 percent employed. Income averages about $3 a day. Food is very expensive: 50 to 60¢ per egg, 12 to $13 for a quart of salad dressing, $8 for a bottle of catsup, $40 for 50 pounds of potatoes. No wonder the volunteers took food with them!

There is little or no industry. Since the island is mostly dense jungle and has a rugged shoreline and black sand beaches, Dominica has very little tourist trade. The island gets about 300 inches of rain annually, which may account for the 365 rivers on the island. Average temperatures are 75 to 85 degrees the year round. The roads leave much to be desired—it takes two hours to go 19 miles.

The eye of the 1979 hurricane went over the center of the tiny island destroying the banana crop, the principal industry of the island, and nearly destroying the coconut crop as well as homes that were put together with scraps of lumber. Rosseau, the capital city, and Portsmouth were severely damaged. The island looked like an atomic blast had taken place.

Soon after the devastation, Seventh-day Adventists from far and near organized to help rebuild the country. On this recent trip, Mr. and Mrs. Juhl visited the village where they had helped build homes in 1981, and are happy to report the homes are well cared for and the people are very appreciative.

During the two-week "vacation", Chaney Gilham worked as a brick mason, and his wife, Corrine, helped in the kitchen. Ralph Juhl did carpenter work, and his wife, Betty, with the help of others, was the cook for the project. Food preparation was difficult because conditions were very primitive. An apartment-sized stove was used to cook for 30 to 40 people.

Men and women worked side by side with ten natives from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, with some time off for sight-seeing or a swim in the ocean. The volunteers completed the block school building and put on a corrugated steel roof in two weeks.

Volunteers, working on a wet, jungle-filled tropical island, building homes, schools and churches for poor natives, have found their efforts to be a labor of love.

Food Fair Raises Funds

By Sharon Tate

The Philadelphia Church and the First Church in Des Moines had a combined food fair and costume party for the purpose of raising money. The funds are to be used to purchase tents for the Pathfinders, equipment for the church school, and to promote the Adventist Youth Society.

Randy Ludke, and Kathy Tyler, two of the three winners of the costume party.

Chili dogs, popcorn, cookies, hay-stacks and many other food items were available at the various booths. Valerie Pilgrim sold many of her homemade cakes.

Randy Ludke won first prize for his costume. Bethany Courtney won second prize, and third prize went to Kathy Tyler. A volleyball game concluded the evening's activities.

A Rose For Mom

By Etta Collins

Mother's Day is always a special day at the Community Seventh-day Adventist Church. Mothers look forward to receiving a single red carnation or a rose each year. This has been the custom of Edward Collins, first elder, since the establishment of the church in 1977.

Elder Collins reads a poem, reminisces about his mother, or recites quotations by great men of how their mothers affected their lives and successes. Then he calls the children to the pulpit, gives them a flower to carry to their mom, or has the mothers come forward and receive a single long-stemmed red rose.

He always gives the last flower to a senior citizen who is not a mother. He said, "I feel that this sister has been a member for so many years, it seems as if she is a mother to the church."

Another mother inquired before the service began, "Elder Collins, did you bring flowers this morning, it could be the only thing I will get for Mother's Day." So the elder finds joy in bringing a little sunshine into the mothers' hearts.

The Adventist Youth Society presented a Mother's Day program that evening and also honored the mothers with carnations.

Scholars From Allon Chapel

By Alma York

In more than 40 years Allon Chapel Church has not had so many scholars graduating. This year, 13 students, including a mother and son and a mother and daughter, marched down the aisles to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance". Of the 13, all but one graduated from our Lincoln SDA school system. The one exception, Mrs. Mina Dawes, received a Masters degree in Early Childhood Education and Educational Psychology from the University of Nebraska, Lincoln.

Union College graduates were: Retha Whitten from St. Louis, Missouri, who worked with the Sabbath School at Allon Chapel, with a BA in Business Administration; Martha Allen, Lincoln, assistant Sabbath School superintendent, associate degree in religion; Albert "Butch" Dyson, Lincoln, who served as a local elder, BA in theology; Theodore "Ted" Anderson, Lincoln, Sabbath School teacher, BA in Theology.

College View Academy graduates: Anthony Kay, Tina Lucas, Chevelle Timpson and Veronique Anderson. Lisa York, a 1981 graduate, was also honored this year.

Helen Hyatt Elementary School: Maxine Dawes, Cynthia Timpson, Monique Turner and Monti Turner.

All of the graduates have helped in Sabbath School or helped in the building of our church. They were also honored at a special Sabbath School service. We wish them Godspeed as they continue their education and give them our sincere congratulations.

Daniel Stewart Speaks At Philadelphia Church

By Sharon Tate

Daniel Stewart from our Central States Conference Publishing Department delivered a very heart-warming sermon at the Philadelphia Church in Des Moines on April 16, which surrounded the story of Jonah. God wanted Jonah to go to Nineveh and spread the message because the wickedness there had come up before him, but Jonah fled from the presence of the Lord.

It was another inspiring message presented to Philadelphia on how the Lord is calling us to go out and spread His message, for in this day and age the world is like the city of Nineveh. Are we going to flee from our Lord as Jonah did and end up in the belly of a whale? Or are we going to obey God and spread the message to win souls?

Pastor Stewart also told the children the story found in Matthew 21: 28-31: "A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, go work today in my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not: but afterward repented, and went. And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. Whether of them twain did the will of his father?"

Then he challenged, God loves bad folks and wants them to repent. Since all have been bad, which way will you choose?

God said, "Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven."

Ground Breaking In Dodge Center

By Betty Knudson

The Dodge Center Church was inspired to build a new sanctuary eleven years ago. Now more classroom space is needed, praise God. The situation was studied and a building committee was selected. Those serving on the committee are Ron Christensen (chairman) George Knudson, Shari McNeilus, David Christensen, and Garwin McNeilus. Much work has been done by the committee and a plan has been approved locally, and by the conference committee. The expansion will provide more classrooms, plus a new foyer which will allow them to expand the present sanctuary to accommodate several more pews.

On May 17 ground breaking took place. The congregation plans to pay as they go and hopefully will be able to utilize the new facilities this fall. They have prayed much and trust God is leading in this much needed expansion.

Colporteur Rally

There was much excitement among the Dodge Center Church members as they awaited the arrival of the student colporteurs who would spend a week reaching out to the people in Dodge Center and surrounding community. They and their leaders will also be working in the Austin and Albert Lea areas during the summer.

The experiences of the young colporteurs were delightful to hear; why not contact Elder Springer, conference publishing director, to see when you can have a rally in your area.

Maplewood Helps Hutchinson

By Angie Hardt

"Your kids deserve a big hug for their help!" So spoke a Hutchinson businessman after Maplewood Academy students and staff members spent April 29 assisting the town of Hutchinson in a "spring cleanup."

They swept downtown streets, washed the windows of downtown businesses, and picked up litter at shopping malls and parks. Some students took part in a free car wash at the academy. City police cars and government vehicles were among the cars washed.

Numerous expressions of gratitude were received from city businessmen for the students' efforts to beautify the community. Local companies even donated snacks and cleaning utensils to assist in the project. Enthusiasm ran high among students also, as they felt the rewards that come from serving needs of others. Many students voiced their hope that the "Hutchinson Spring Cleanup" will become an annual event at Maplewood. Plans are already being laid to involve students in many more community service projects during the coming school year.

MINNESOTA EMPHASIZES HEALTH

Brad Leavelle checks a blood pressure at a health fair presented recently at the Green Valley School that serves the Dodge Center and Rochester Churches. Parents and friends gathered to learn from the school children about weight control, hypertension, and other aspects of healthful living. They used posters, special skits, film strips and health stations to give the information they had learned.

Pictured is Rhonda McNeilus as she takes the blood pressure of a visitor to the Community Services Van which was located on Main Street in Dodge Center on April 22. Many responded to this service made available by the Minnesota Conference and Pastor Robert Hallock.

Eden Valley Outreach Programs

Since October, 1982 our outreach programs have increased immeasurably. There have been three Five Day Plans, five cooking schools, nine Health Fairs, picnics, banquets, visitors' days, health lectures in clubs and Bible studies. Now the evangelism program is expanding even more. As a part of the class program at Eden Valley, one afternoon a week is set aside for evangelism. The class meets at 2:45 p.m. for a short study and then goes into the community to share their faith. It may be by repairing a retaining wall or by painting a house; it could be through religious surveys or follow-up visits for some of the health programs; or in a number of cases, Bible studies.

Other activities include supplying literature racks, providing books for motels, health fairs, exhibits at county fairs, health and temperance lectures, and participation in professional or civic organizations. A mass mailing offering free Bible study guides has been completed and several cards have been returned requesting Bible lessons.

Each person has a talent and a work to do for the Lord. Beginning at the primary level the children in our church are being organized into a "missionary" band. They will be singing at nursing homes, distributing posters and literature, and learning to do temperance and health programs. At vacation Bible School they will do the health stories for our "Healthland Train" display.

Where does it all end? We are planning a laymen's evangelistic series in January or February of 1983. But that's not the end. Our work continues until our Lord's return. So let us be about our Father's work!

Fort Collins, Colorado Five Day Plan

People were standing on the sidelines, sitting on tables and radiators, and on the floor, pleased to be able to learn how to stop smoking. Seventy-five were pre-registered, but 112 attended the first night of the clinic at the Colorado State University Student Health Center. More attended the second night to hear David Hannah and C. O. Hilliard, M.D., present information to help them in curbing their smoking habits. A clinic is held in the fall and in the spring at C.S.U. Elder Dale Hannah, who is a clinical psychologist in Maryland, gave the lecture the third evening. Elder Hannah is David's father.

Pathfinder Fairs

Pathfinder Fairs are big events in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Allan Williamson, Youth Director for the conference, plans each Fair, both for Eastern and Western Slope, to be an event that each Pathfinder will look forward to with happy anticipation. It is the goal of Pathfinding that the skills perfected by each member will not only improve his physical dexterity, but that the Christian fellowship will help him to become a closer friend of Jesus Christ.

Sixteen Pathfinders were recently invested at Aurora.

Pathfinders learn first aid, physical fitness and world events.

Large group was recently invested at Canon City.

MRMC Events Focus On Fitness, Health

Three separate events were staged during Hospital Week by Moberly Regional Medical Center to promote the idea of fitness and health in this community of some 15,000 residents.

Working with the Moberly Jaycees, the medical center hosted the 10,000-meter Magic City Run, on Sunday, May 9, with proceeds donated to assist with the installation of a Parcourse exercise circuit on the MRMC campus.

Following the Magic City Run, the medical center sponsored the first Community Health Fair in Moberly on May 11. Ten different health screenings were offered, including height and weight checks, blood pressure, anemia, hearing, glaucoma, vision acuity, oral screening, nutrition analysis, lung function, and an optional blood test. Three hundred sixty-nine participants attended the health fair in seven hours.

Hospital Week also included a first anniversary party for MRMC, and the start of installation of a Parcourse Fitness Circuit which was scheduled to open in June.

The Parcourse is described as a family activity. Participants walk, jog or run the course, stopping at each of the 18 exercise stations that stretch over a 1.2-mile track. Each station includes a series of exercises which are carefully explained and illustrated on instruction panels. Use of the course is offered free to the hospital staff and to the public.

SMMC Receives MacEachern Award

Shawnee Mission Medical Center has received the prestigious MacEachern Award for the best under-400-bed hospital newsletter in the nation. The award was presented to SMMC by the Academy of Hospital Public Relations.

The newsletter, Lifelines, also won second place Awards of Merit from District V of the International Association of Business Communicators and the local Kansas City Business Communicators this year.

Lifelines is produced bi-monthly for medical center employees, volunteers, medical staff and auxiliary members. It is written, photographed and designed in-house under the direction of Lauren Cantor Fasbinder, Assistant Director of Communications.

KUCV To Bring Back "Studio B"

"Studio B," an award-winning public affairs program produced by KUCV during 1981, returned to the air last month. The program deals with issues of concern to residents in Southeast Nebraska, such as the recent increase in foreclosures by the Farmer's Home Administration, absentee land ownership, and the recent dismissal of priests from the Lincoln Catholic Diocese. A United Press International Award was granted to KUCV for Studio B's story on the Nebraska coal and slurry pipeline. Studio B will re-examine the issues in this story in an upcoming program this summer.

The program won two awards from United Press International for best public affairs in its class in Nebraska during 1981. John Cutler, KUCV production manager and special events coordinator, will produce the weekly show, with the assistance of two KUCV volunteers, Charles Quinn and Tim Rinne. The program is aired at 5:25 p.m. on Monday and the broadcast is repeated at 7:35 Tuesday mornings.

The program is listed as a news broadcast, "but we want it to be more than that," says Cutler. "We also want it to be an educational program in which the listeners may participate in a learning process."

A Unique Program

The Topeka Church experienced significant church growth through the unique spiritual gifts program.

- 26 laymen learned the techniques of entering homes, visiting with residents, and initiating Bible studies.
- 21 literature evangelists and publishing leaders gave four days on-the-job training by taking laymen with them to call on homes.
- Some members took time off or vacation time from their regular employment to become involved.
- 224 weekly Bible studies were begun and conducted by trained laymen.
- Conference administrators led the group each morning in a daily reconsecration of their lives prior to calling on homes.
- The pastor set an example of leadership by participating daily.
- An evangelist conducted a public evangelistic crusade. Members brought their Bible study interests on opening night.
- 38 baptisms resulted.
- The 1,000 Days of Reaping will become a reality with this type of cooperative venture.
- Other cities are targeted for a similar program.

Trained Laymen

More than 177 laymen have set aside two to five hours weekly to witness for the Lord. This is the result of five spiritual gifts seminars conducted by Elder Lee Thompson, conference personal ministries director. The first weekend of the seminar is designed to help each member determine his or her particular spiritual gifts. The second weekend is a training session to find a ministry that can utilize each gift.

Five areas of service are stressed where gifts can be used: preparing the soil, sowing the seeds, nurturing young plants, harvesting the crop, preserving the harvest. These five steps are the same ones used in soul winning.

Some members have found their gifts are preaching and teaching. They have rented halls and conducted public evangelistic meetings. Others are involved in witnessing action teams. One church has 15 members who are part of a Home Bible Study Group giving 17 Bible studies weekly. The pastor recently baptized six people.

As more and more members are trained in a ministry which fits their particular gifts, the work of God will move forward to help accomplish the 1,000 Days of Reaping.

"The work of God in this earth can never be finished until the men and women comprising our church membership rally to the work, and unite their efforts with those of ministers and church officers." Gospel Workers, page 352.

New Church Growth Coordinator and Evangelist

Burton Maxwell, newly appointed conference evangelist and church growth coordinator, assumed his duties in Kansas-Nebraska May 16. He comes from the West Coast, where he has been successful in soul-winning activities.

His primary role will be to assist pastors and churches in developing plans for outreach and church growth. In addition, he will hold four public evangelistic meetings yearly.

Faith Action Advance is more than a motto to Elder Maxwell. He believes it is concrete workable plans adaptable for every church member. A commitment to Christ and a belief that all things are possible through the leading of the Holy Spirit are necessary ingredients prior to witnessing. This is the faith part. When this experience is alive in the hearts of members, the action and advance of the church will be accomplished.

His wife Pat, who has had several articles published in denominational journals, shares his enthusiasm for soul-winning.

We welcome Burton, Pat, their son and daughter to the Kansas-Nebraska Conference.

Member Added To Davenport Church

By Marieda Blehm

A new member was added to the Davenport Church on May 15 as Zane Anderson sealed his commitment to his Saviour through baptism.

Pastor LeMert baptizes Zane Anderson.

Zane attended church with his Seventh-day Adventist mother until her death in 1969. His lifestyle changed, but he wasn't happy. After his marriage failed he reasoned, "There has to be a better way of life." He decided to try God's way.

Zane began attending the Davenport Seventh-day Adventist Church in November, 1981. After his brother, Charles, was baptized, he responded to Pastor LeMert's altar call. As Bible studies progressed, Zane's life began to change. His father remarked to the pastor, "I don't know what you have done to that boy, but he has changed!" He is sharing his faith and bringing a friend to church with him.

More baptisms are taking place as others continue to study the truths of the Adventist message.

Burlington Church School

By Greg Porter and Judy Waddell

ONE HOUR EACH FRIDAY for four weeks, students in grades one through four visited nearby homes with a special issue of Signs magazine. They described the magazine and explained the accompanying offer of a free subscription. Sixty magazines were given to interested individuals.

ALL STUDENTS IN GRADES one through eight worked hard to raise money for a copy machine. They completed a Tom Wat sales campaign that netted $700. Two garage sales brought another $300 toward the purchase of the machine.

DURING THE SCHOOL YEAR the campus was beautified with a rustic log-and-board school sign with shrubs at its base. Two loads of fresh gravel improved the driveway.

A MILER'S CLUB WAS FORMED by students in grades one through four. During the morning recess they ran or walked around the one-twentieth of a mile circle drive on wet days, and the one-tenth mile trail through the meadow on other days. Each student kept count of his laps. The totals at the close of school disclosed the top milers: Brian Lowman, 33.7 miles; Ronnie Lamb, 31.8 miles; and Jerry Jackson, 26.9 miles.

STUDENTS IN GRADES ONE THROUGH FOUR developed habits of personal devotions, family worship and parent-student attendance at prayer meetings. To encourage these habits, students received points when they shared lessons and principles they had learned in their private study. Double points were given on unannounced bonus nights for prayer meeting attendance. Bonus points were also given on Friday mornings to the three students who had been most faithful during that week.

Green Thumb Project Prospers

By Alvin Brendle

The church school students in Nevada, Missouri, took part in a flower planting program to raise funds for school playground equipment.

They purchased seeds and potting soil, found some flat boxes, planted the seeds, and watered them regularly, and in two weeks the plants were up and ready for transplanting. Apparently the students have green thumbs; 90 per cent of the seeds sprouted.

Cindy Brendle, the teacher, said the objective of the project was "to show God's creative power in watching a tiny seed grow into a beautiful blossoming plant."

Quite a variety of flowers were planted and one of the local elders let the students use his greenhouse to nurture the delicate seedlings to maturity. Approximately two hundred flowers were grown.

All of the students received their Flower Culture honor as a result. But the adventure is not over yet; the floral beauties are being sold, and the playground equipment is being selected.

Senior Citizens Honored At Jerico Springs

By Mary Robinette

The Junior Class of the Jerico Springs Church presented a love offering to the senior citizen members of the church.

The class members composed tributes to each member over 65 years of age. Information was gathered about their lives, his or her life's work and accomplishments, highlights from their youth, and about the contribution each has made to the Lord's work.

During a special Sabbath morning program, the Juniors read the tributes and presented carnation corsages and especially prepared handprinted booklets of poetry to the senior members.

Forest City Church Centennial

By Marian Kelch

One hundred years is a long time! That is how long the Seventh-day Adventist Church has been witnessing of the soon return of the Lord in Forest City, Iowa.

It was on April 19, 1882, that about a dozen people were organized into a church under the leadership of Elder C. A. Washburn. In April of this year the little church of 14 members celebrated the centennial of that event.

Special services began with Sabbath School under the direction of Mrs. Olga Cleveland. Special music was by Don Juhl of Nevada, and the lesson was taught by Elder W. R. Howard, former pastor from 1950 to 1952 and now director of the Trust Department of the Kansas-Nebraska Conference.

The worship service featured Elder B. C. Churchill, district pastor from 1972 to 1976. Under his leadership the Forest City Church was remodeled, with him doing much of the work.

The afternoon service began with an unusual concert featuring Carm Caponi and his mother, Wanda, from Mason City, and Dennis White of Iowa Falls. The music presented was of the type sung and played 100 years ago, and featured instruments such as the hammer dulcimer, mandolin-harp, mountain dulcimers, banjo, and guitar.

A history of the church was presented by Charlotte Juhl, church treasurer, and Olga Cleveland. One highlight of the historical program was the presenting of plaques to Charlotte Juhl, Olga Cleveland, and Thelma Myre whose combined years of service to the church total more than 150 years.

W. D. Wampler, president of the Iowa-Missouri Conference, ended the day's activities with a rededication of the church and a challenge to the members to work toward the finishing of God's work.

King's Heralds Quartet To Begin Independent Ministry

The last day of May, 1982, marks both an end and a beginning for five musicians on the Voice of Prophecy staff. Because of budget difficulties and changes in format for the radio broadcast, the King's Heralds quartet and accompanist are being terminated. The King's Heralds has been part of the Voice of Prophecy broadcast since 1937.

At the same time, The Heralds Ministries begins. "After much prayer and careful consideration, we've decided to continue our music ministry as an independent organization," says Jerry Patton, second tenor and manager for the new company. The present quartet—John Ramsey, Jerry Patton, Jack Veazey, and Jim Ayars—along with Jim Teel, former accompanist and arranger for the VOP, will be known as The Heralds, and in Spanish, as Los Heraldos.

"The King's Heralds have wanted for years to experiment with a concert ministry which would, through word and song, bring people to faith in Jesus Christ," says Jack Veazey, baritone. "Plans include a follow-up program for people who respond to the gospel appeals made at each concert. As we learn the names of our respondents, we will correspond with them, enroll them in a Bible course, and refer them to a local pastor for continued contact and nurture through his visitation program."

Concert fees and record sales will contribute to the support of the group, and they have incorporated as a non-profit group.

Besides concerts for churches and schools, plans for The Heralds include radio and television presentations, as well as participation in gospel music conferences throughout the U.S. The schedule is filling up quickly.

Concert appointments may be arranged by writing: The Heralds Ministries, Box 61, Newbury Park, CA 91320.

George Hutches Dies

George E. Hutches

George E. Hutches was born at Westerville, Nebraska, December 31, 1900, and passed away April 9, 1982 at South Bend, Indiana. He served the Seventh-day Adventist denomination in many capacities, beginning as a colporteur at the age of 18. After graduating from Union College, he served the Nebraska Conference as dean of boys at Platte Valley Academy, as a pastor, and as MV and Education Director. He served the Minnesota Conference as a pastor and then as Home Missionary and Sabbath School Director. The next 18 years, Elder Hutches served as president of the North Dakota Conference, the Missouri Conference, and the Michigan Conference. Then he became Education Director of the Lake Union. He was instrumental in founding Sunnysdale Academy in Missouri and Grand Ledge Academy and the youth camp in Michigan.

Elder Hutches served on the boards of several academies, and on the Board of Directors of Hinsdale and Battle Creek Sanitariums, and Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists. He was a member of the Board of Regents of the General Conference and Andrews University.

Honors bestowed on Elder Hutches include a Community Service Award, and listings in Who's Who In The Midwest, The National Society Directory, Personalities Of The West and Mid-West, and Two Thousand Men of Achievement.

Survivors are his wife, Ruth, and his daughter, Merilyn.

Results Of Special Signs Distribution

Recently Pacific Press began a gigantic project—to blanket the United States with a special edition of Signs. Early in March the big web press began to turn out 30,000 of this special number per hour.

By the end of the first week in April, when results of the mass mailings had begun to pour in, the periodical department had received 1500 requests for free subscriptions. Even more gratifying is the fact that among the 1500 requests for Signs were 1000 requests for Bible studies.

The request cards are sent to the Personal Ministries directors of the various conferences, who in turn mail them to the churches within their conference. Each church has the responsibility for sponsoring the subscriptions and arranging for the Bible studies.

If the response received to date continues, this special issue may well go into a second printing soon. Pray that the Lord of the harvest will have many willing laborers.

Retired Workers Convention

The North American Division officers approved a North American Convention of Retired Workers to be held at Southern Missionary College, Collegedale, Tennessee, from Friday evening, August 6, to Monday evening, August 9.

Lodging will be in the air-conditioned college dormitories. The first 400 retirees to register will be assigned lodging—there are only 400 beds, so get your reservations in early. Vegetarian meals will be served in the college cafeteria.

Movie, Movie On Theater, TV and The Media

A multi-media, 16mm film that can be used as a discussion starter in local churches and schools has been developed. The film is known as the Movie, Movie. It directly addresses some of the most difficult issues, such as What is the difference between seeing a movie in a theater or in the school gym? Is there a difference between television and the theater? It is humorous, upbeat, and positive in manner, and has accomplished its objectives.

A new paperback book entitled, Before You Burn The Rulebook, addresses the questions What's wrong with...? and Why can't we...? These questions so often solicit less than adequate answers from parents, pastors and deans. The book is suggested as a companion to the film, Movie, Movie, to assist the leader in guiding a meaningful and productive discussion. The film, book and guides are available as a package through your Adventist Book Center.

Breath of Life Honors Bradford

C. E. Bradford was honored recently at a banquet sponsored by the Breath of Life Committee, Maryland Chapter. Elder Bradford, vice-president for the North American Division, was cited for his outstanding contributions to the Seventh-day Adventist Church and to the Breath of Life television ministry.

During the program a "Memory Book" was presented to Elder Bradford. It contained letters from friends around the country, and many thanked him for the help he personally had given to them. Included were messages from Neal Wilson, president of the General Conference, and Dwight Bradford, Elder Bradford's son.

Special proclamations from the governor of Maryland, and the mayor of Washington, DC were read. They proclaimed May 1-8 as "Breath of Life" week.

The funds generated by the banquet are being used to support the Breath of Life telecast.

FFT Board Reaffirms Commitment

Faith For Today began reorganizing their Board of Directors last January when all members of the executive staff resigned their seats recommending that they be replaced by non-staff members including lay people. The purpose of the reorganization is to bring in a number of professional persons who can contribute valuable experience and expertise.

The only staff remaining on the board are Dan Matthews, director/speaker, William Fagal, founder, and Guy Stewart, manager/treasurer. All other members are lay people, pastors, conference and union workers, and Adventist Media Center personnel.

VOP Library Needs Books

The Voice Of Prophecy library is being expanded primarily as a research facility for program producers and staff writers. "We purchase only a few volumes each year," says Daniel R. Guild, manager of the radio broadcast. "We welcome donations of used books in good condition, however. These special gifts are very helpful as we seek to stretch our budget to purchase radio time."

Donated books that are not needed by the VOP will be sold to raise funds for additional reference works.

All gifts of books should be sent by parcel post "special fourth class-book rate" to: Library, Voice of Prophecy, Box 2525, Newbury Park, CA 91320.

Two Awards for These Times

At the the annual convention of the Associated Church Press meeting in Minneapolis, Minnesota, in April, These Times received two of the top three awards given out this year for excellence in religious journalism. The presentations were an Award of Merit for Photography in an Entire Issue and an Award of Merit for Graphics in an Entire Issue.

Conflict Management Seminar

The Institute of Church Ministry at Andrews University is offering a conflict management seminar for administrators, pastors, church officials and supervisors.

The seminar will be held July 5-8 in the theological seminary on the Andrews campus. One or two hours of graduate credit is available.

Course directors are Des Cummings, Jr., and Dr. Arnold Kurtz, professor of church leadership and administration at the seminary.

You'll want to hop into the canoe with Sam and his wife, Giny, and paddle to The Sanctuary, their island home. There you'll meet Inky, Salt and Pepper, the renowned porcupines. And Calamity Jane, the wise old raccoon. The orphaned fawns, Fiddlesticks and Freckles. You'll visit moose country, discover what a "magic night—with monkeyshines" is like, and who is known as "an odor with a stripe down its back."

You'll chuckle (and think seriously too) as forest life really comes to life for you in these well-written stories.

So Good

The mealtime treat that's quick to fix and good to eat.

There's something irresistible about new Chik Stiks from Worthington. Their unique shape. Their golden-brown outside. Their tender, chewy inside. But most of all, their really delicious taste.

And, Chik Stiks are rich in vegetable protein, completely meatless, free of preservatives. So easy to fix, too...just heat and serve.

Whether you serve new Chik Stiks at mealtime or as tasty and nourishing snacks, they're definitely a new family favorite. Look for new Chik Stiks in your store's freezer case. Irresistible.

 WORTHINGTON
Putting good taste into good nutrition.
