Dear Fellow Believers,

I once heard Elder Don Hunter preach a sermon in which he said some things that really shocked me. He was making some points about the natural instincts that man has. He read the text about the soldiers gambling for Christ's garments and then he said that there was nothing wrong with gambling. Then he went on to show how the Apostle Paul, as well as many of today's modern missionaries, gambled his life for Christ's sake. Gambling in that sense, the use of the natural instinct, is not wrong.

Before a person comes to Jesus and is converted, these natural instincts are used for self and Satan. Christ refines and ennobles these instincts after conversion and then uses them to His glory. Let me give you an example.

Do you remember what Jesus first said to Peter? He said, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men." (Matthew 4:19) The key thoughts are "follow me", which means a surrender of self; and, "I will make", which indicates that Jesus will change the person's life into one of usefulness for Christ.

Joel O. Tompkins

Peter was impetuous and bold. He demonstrated these characteristics many times before his conversion. Jesus borrowed a boat from Peter and then repaid him with a great catch of fish. Peter demonstratively said, "Depart from me; for I am a sinful man." (Luke 5:3-8) Then on that Thursday night before the crucifixion day, when Jesus was about to wash the disciples' feet, Peter said, "Thou shalt never wash my feet." But when Jesus told him that He must wash Peter's feet, Peter replied, "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head." (John 13:8,9) Then Jesus predicted Peter's denial, and Peter boldly proclaimed that even though all others would forsake Jesus, Peter would not! (Mark 14:29-31) John 18:10 tells of Peter boldly drawing his sword and cutting off the servant's right ear.

Now, notice what happened to these traits after Jesus had refined them following Peter's conversion. In Peter's Pentecostal sermon he boldly accused the people of the murder of Jesus. (Acts 2:14, 23, 36) The next three chapters of Acts tell of the boldness exhibited in Peter's preaching.

Another example of this concept was Saul of Tarsus. He was totally committed. He was very zealous. He freely admitted that before his conversion, he "persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women." (Acts 22:4) He even admitted "consenting unto his (Stephen's) death." (Acts 22:20) Saul's zealous persecution of God's people is pointed out in Acts 8:3 and 26:9-11.

But please notice what happens when all of this is surrendered to the will of Christ. Paul was just as zealous for the gospel of Christ now as he had been zealous against. He even sought out the Jews in their synagogues and preached the gospel to the gentiles on extended missionary journeys. He even talks of all the trials, sorrows, beatings, hardships, and the times he was near death because of his zealous determination to preach the gospel.

Now, let me invite you to take a look at your life. What natural instincts do you have? How could these inclinations be used in the cause of Christ? Jesus invites you to surrender these to Him. Allow Jesus to refine and ennoble those characteristics and even enlarge them for His Cause. There is no limit to what you can do for Jesus if your natural instincts and abilities are fully surrendered and consecrated to Him.

These talents that God has given to you can be used to minister to your fellow believers as well as to reach out to those who need to know God's message for today.

May God bless you as you surrender and consecrate all to Him.

Yours in the Master's service,

Joel O. Tompkins

“The Article That Had To Be Written”

By Kenneth J. Holland, Editor

Signs of the Times

Elder Theodore Carcich sat in his study in his home in Colton, Washington, and pondered the unusually fervent response to his latest sermon. He had preached in several churches on the Middle East in prophecy and had made an urgent appeal to get right with the Lord.

Elder Carcich

Judgement Day is coming, he had pointed out.

As union president and vice president of the General Conference, Carcich had spoken on prophecy many times, but this message was different, it seemed. “Everybody ought to hear it,” people said. “It has the old Advent ring!” “Can’t you do something to get the word out!”

Suddenly Carcich sat bolt upright in his chair. I know what I’ll do, he said to himself, I’ll reshape it and send it to our missionary journal. That way our church members as well as hundreds of thousands of non-Adventists will read it.

And so “The Article That Had To Be Written” came into being. It will appear in the May issue of SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Twenty-five times in her book Counsels to Writers and Editors, Ellen White pleads for our writers to concentrate on messages that warn people of the coming judgment. Tell them, she says, Ellen White pleaded for our writers to concentrate on messages that warn people of the coming judgment.

the Judgment Day is upon us. Write about the prophetic signs of the times; appeal to them not only to avoid hell but, more importantly, not to miss out on the good things God has prepared for them that love Him!

In his sermon, which he entitled “All Eyes East,” Carcich writes, “Bible prophecy declares that some power or nation in the eastern Mediterranean area will precipitate the worldwide disaster that is coming by impulsively lashing out against others. No one can predict with certainty whether the aggressor will be Muslim, Christian, or Jewish.” He referred to Daniel 11:44 and 45 and Daniel 12:1.

There may be some church members who feel that articles such as this one by Elder Carcich no longer will be read by the general public. “They are not interested. People are too secular or humanistic; they’re all wrapped up in their own affairs.” However, we must never forget that as long as probation lasts, the Holy Spirit will be at work to strike certain chords in the heart of every human who reads.

Kenneth J. Holland

1. As editor of SIGNS OF THE TIMES I can know for sure that our readers’ basic needs will never be totally met by social improvement or material affluence. This is true around the world and in every culture. Jesus said, “A man’s life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions.” Luke 12:15 (RSV).

2. I know there is an essential emptiness in every life without Christ. All humanity keeps crying for something, something they cannot identify. Give a person a million dollars—it does not satisfy. Or give him every form of sexuality; that too never satisfies the deep longing inside that keeps crying for satisfaction. People are empty without God.

Tolstoi put it right when he said, “There is a God-shaped vacuum in every life that only God can fill.” When we proclaim the gospel in SIGNS OF THE TIMES we are talking directly to that emptiness. The reader has a built-in receptivity to the message of the Cross, because Christ alone fills the void.

3. I know that our readers experience loneliness. Some have called it cosmic loneliness. When you get right down to it, it is the loneliness for God.

4. I know that every reader has a sense of guilt. This is perhaps the most universal of all human experiences, and it is devastating. The head of a mental institution said, “I would release half of my patients if I could but find a way they could be rid of their sense of guilt.” This is what the cross is all about.

5. I know that every reader shares the common fear of death. We do not like to talk about death in our generation. But death is real. In many parts of the world you can turn on television and see famous people who have been dead for some years; they look alive, but they’re dead.

Somehow television, especially in western society, has cushioned death. Yet the spectre is always there. The subtle fear cannot be silenced. But here is the glorious news: Our Lord came to nullify death.

In His own death and resurrection He made three things inoperative: sin, death, and hell. That is the message of the cross. That is the message of SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Thank God “The Article That Had to Be Written” was written. And God will inspire other writers in 1984 to produce powerful messages. Every month throughout the year such messages will come from the pens of our dedicated writers.

Let’s help them spread the word by sending SIGNS OF THE TIMES to all those you want to see in heaven with you. Judgment Day is coming, but by God’s grace we all can be ready for it.

• Terri Williams has been the choir leader for the Angelic Echoes for the past three years, and has done a commendable job. She perhaps did not realize how much she was loved and appreciated until she was told so by Billy Freene, who was representing the parents of the children she had directed in the choir.

The card and the trophy were only tokens of the love that was in the hearts of the congregation for Terri. Terri was joined by her mother Marcellene Leon as she received the card and trophy from Billy Freene.

The program of appreciation was sponsored and planned by Leola Allen.

• Five deacons were ordained during the eleven o'clock service. They were ordained by Pastor G. H. Taylor, accompanied by Elders G. Christmas, F. Hatch, A. Groves, S. Gellineau and J. Robinson. The deacons ordained were G. Christmas, Jr., T. Hall, G. Nealey, J. Foree and D. Robinson. D. Robinson was ordained as an elder.

• Many souls came to Christ through baptism, rebaptism and rededication. Through a series of studies from the book "Preparation for the Final Crisis", during the Wednesday night prayer service, church members were made more aware of the soon coming of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

• The Pathfinders under the leadership of Brother Lonnie Webber, received a first place trophy for their float that was entered in the "Pathfinder Fair" at Adams County Fairground. Locally, in a poster contest sponsored by the Adventist Youth Department, Robert White, Stephanie Jackson, and Nikki Coleman won trophies for their posters.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN

Pastor Thomas Turk

Pastor Thomas Turk died at his post of duty as a soldier of the Cross. This fact was recognized by the members of his congregations, the residents of the communities he served, and by his family and loved ones.

On February 20, 1984 there appeared in The Denver Post a beautifully written tribute to Tom, Merlene, Tommy and Mark, written by a special staff writer, Ranne Trumbore. With the permission of The Denver Post we reproduce this heartwarming tribute:

CASTLE ROCK—Pastor Thomas L. Turk, who turned from mending men's bodies to tending their eternal souls, often worked on the coal furnace that warmed the sanctuary of the Seventh-day Adventist church in Franktown.

Turk, who friends say had a real mechanical knack, wore overalls he kept handy especially for the odd jobs he tackled around the church, mostly built by Turk and others in his 70-member congregation. "Small churches don't have a lot of money on hand," explained Dr. Randy Bivens, a parishioner and friend of Turk's. "When you're giving money to the Lord, you try to make sure it goes as far as possible. That's why you try to do much of the work yourselves."

Turk did—with parishioners' aid. But he left his home alone late one recent afternoon to work on a church chore, which he wanted to finish before he could teach a scheduled evening Bible class.

Turk, 39, decided February 2 that he needed to make a minor adjustment on the sanctuary furnace to ensure it would properly warm the building for a planned baptism of three youngsters, including his oldest son, Tom, 10.

The routine repair Turk planned to make cost him his life.

Church elder Dick Hammond stopped by the church on his way home about 7 p.m.

He found Turk dead in the coal bin outside the sanctuary.

Douglas County Coroner John Andrews said Turk was a victim of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning.

County building officials immediately ordered the furnaces shut off. They temporarily closed the pastor's beloved church.

The building, operating without heat while officials continue inspecting the furnaces for malfunctions, also is a colder place because Turk is gone, some say.

"He was the nicest guy—he was just a super individual," said coroner Andrews.

Parishioner Bivens agreed, saying, "He was very gregarious, humorous, easy to get to know."

"The conditions causing Turk's death still have everybody stumped," said Kelsey Pottinger, the County Building Department director.

Congregation members said officials haven't found any mechanical problems with the furnaces. Instead, people have offered complicated theories about how the pastor was overcome.

Some said the southern wind on the day he died carried smoke from the church's second furnace across the manhole of the coal bin where Turk was working, choking the room with deadly fumes.

Others speculated that wind passing over the manhole created a vacuum in the bin, sucking poisonous fumes from the sanctuary furnace to where Turk was digging.

A chemist suggested unburned coal in the bin may have reacted with the air to produce the colorless, odorless gas that killed Turk.

His widow, Merlene, said she wishes she could somehow retrieve February 2. She wants to re-live that day and spend more time with Turk.

He was born and raised in Texas in a devout Seventh-day Adventist family. He considered a medical career and took college pre-med courses before deciding he would be more useful and helpful as a minister, his wife said.

Turk, whose faith would let him serve his country so long as he did not bear arms, was drafted in 1968. He served 13 months as a medic, working 11 miles from the Korean demilitarized zone.

When he returned home, he met Merlene and finished school, graduating in 1971 with a theology degree from Union College in Lincoln, Nebraska. He studied more in Michigan at Andrews University Theological Seminary.

Then he and his family spent four years at church assignments in Wyoming. They spent another four years on Colorado's Western Slope. Finally, they came to Franktown and eastern Colorado.

During his first 11 months in Franktown, he also led a congregation in Conifer. He rotated every third Saturday between Franktown, Conifer, Byers and Limon, visiting Byers and Limon the same day.

Mrs. Turk, who said her husband was an exceptional father who loved all children, worked as a volunteer at Swedish Emergency Center of Douglas County. Besides raising Tom and his 7-year-old brother Mark, she also did substitute teaching in church schools.

"The day he died I was teaching at the church school in Franktown," Mrs. Turk recalled. "I hadn't seen him much that day."

Mrs. Turk said her husband was a happy man.

"He had a bubbly, witty personality," she said. "When he and his family got together, they could have their own party. He was always laughing and happy. That was one of the things that attracted me to him. I was more quiet and shy."

Mrs. Turk—who has grown fond of Castle Rock, her home for nearly four years—plans to move with her sons to her parents' home in Huntsville, Alabama.

And in the fall, Mrs. Turk said, she hopes to begin training as a nurse, which would allow her to help people, as her husband did.

Students Share Holiday Treats

By Linda Trujillo

The holiday season provided the children of the Arkansas Valley Adventist School in southeastern Colorado two special activities. They baked and decorated cookies and made special cards for shut-in members of the church congregation.

They enjoyed the fruits of their labors when they delivered the works of their hands to senior citizens of their congregation. Here Vera Watkins enjoys the holiday treats and cheerful visit from the young people of the Arkansas Valley Adventist School.

Richard DuBose Joins RM Staff

By Wm. C. Hatch

Pastor and Mrs. Richard DuBose

We are happy to welcome Pastor and Mrs. Richard DuBose to the Rocky Mountain Conference. Richard and Linda are both graduates of Andrews University and have come to us from the Florida Conference where they have pastored a number of congregations. They have accepted the call of our executive committee to serve as youth minister of the Boulder, Colorado church. Linda is a registered dietician. The DuBoses have two children, Benji and Erika.

We look forward to their innovative leadership as they join Pastor and Mrs. Walton Williams in this important congregation of our conference.

Baptism At Torrington

A happy grandfather has the privilege of baptizing his granddaughter, Tricia Jean Elie. Pastor Samuel J. Elie, of the Dakota Conference, recently administered the rite of baptism to his daughter-in-law and granddaughter after they had made preparation in studying with Evangelist Bill Zima during a series of meetings in Torrington, Wyoming.

Eden Valley Helps Reopen Training Center In Taiwan

By Ken Miller

Dedication service in the Eden Valley, Colorado church for the eleven missionaries to Taiwan.

"Missionary, missionary, goodbye!" The cradle roll children sang the familiar words. Their hands waved goodbye to the missionary, but this time she wouldn't return the next Sabbath to join in the song. She would be in Taiwan.

Rhonda Hicks, Eden Valley cradle roll leader, carried the imprints of those waving hands in her suitcase as she joined two other families on January 8, 1984, for the flight to Taiwan. Their mission? To reopen a Bible training center located a few miles from Ta Chin, a small town in southern Taiwan.

One year before the group departed, the president of the South China Island Union Mission, Dr. Samuel Young, and Dr. Joseph Nozaki, a physician in Taiwan, contacted Wayne Dull, president of Eden Valley Institute. They presented some of the pressing needs in the Taiwan Mission and asked if Eden Valley could assist. Plans centered around a section of property owned by the Mission and once used as a training center. Already furnished with several buildings and an orchard, it would provide a good location to begin operations.

In May, Wayne Dull visited with the leaders, inspected the property, and soon Eden Valley decided to accept the challenge of the Taiwan Mission's requests.

After another trip by Wayne Dull in September, the final negotiations were completed. The name "Ta Chin Training Center" was chosen, employing the name of the closest town. Ta Chin means "living waters", which the group felt was symbolic of the mission to be accomplished by the school.

Two families from Eden Valley's staff, the Calderons and the Harveys, accepted the call and began needed preparations. They were soon joined by Rhonda Hicks, another staff member. Their last two months vanished in a flurry of "junk" sales and trips to bid farewell to relatives.

On January 8 the five adults and six children (three in each family) boarded the plane for Los Angeles and Taiwan.

Presently the team in Taiwan is working to make the run-down buildings livable. They plan to accept a few students and begin teaching some basic classes as soon as possible. They also anticipate the day when two more young people from Eden Valley will be joining them. Francisco Cardenas and Sandra Boettcher have accepted the call to Taiwan and plan to depart soon. Please join us in prayer for this nucleus of missionaries as they endeavor to help expand the work on this heavily-populated island.

Louisville Worships In New Church Home

By Carroll V. Brauer

The Louisville, Colorado church family conducted the first services in their new church home in December. Special guests for the occasion were: Wm. C. Hatch, Rocky Mountain Conference president, and Lloyd Cleveland, Conference treasurer.

This church of 60 members was organized five years ago and celebrated ground breaking in May of 1982. Most of the work was done by members of the congregation. Gary Wilkinson, head elder, served as chairman of the building committee.

The congregation has now completed Phase I, which consists of a two-story wing with a large fellowship hall on the lower level and Sabbath School classrooms on the upper level. Phase II will be the construction of a sanctuary. The church will meet in the fellowship hall until the sanctuary is completed. There were about 100 members and friends present for the opening service. The church wished to thank the many members and friends who have donated time and money to complete Phase I.

Carroll V. Brauer is the Pastor of the Louisville Church.

Inter-Faith Task Force

The Littleton, Colorado Seventh-day Adventist Church chose to honor David Beachy by presenting to him the annual Community Service Award. The award plaque was presented by Pastor John Loor on behalf of the congregation for his outstanding work as director of the Inter-Faith Task Force children's choir.

The awards ceremony was part of a "Festival of Praise" presented at the Town Hall Arts Center as a community enrichment program sponsored by the Adventist church. The program featured a film, community sing and a concert by the children's choir.

"David Beachy and his wife Linda," commented Pastor Loor, "are Christians that we can all be proud of." David took a large cut in salary when he joined the Inter-Faith Task Force.

This action caused his wife to have to take a full-time job in order to provide for them and their three daughters. The Beachys are members of the Quaker church. Their love for the children they work with was clearly demonstrated after the program when a little eight-year-old girl came to David and asked to see the award plaque. She looked at the plaque and then gave him a big hug, saying, "I'm glad you received it, you deserve it". Asked if this was one of his daughters, David replied, "she isn't really part of my immediate family, but when you need a Dad you have to go find one, so we have taken her in!!!"

Outstanding Camp Meeting Planned

“Three,” so the old saying goes, “is the charm.” That’s a bit too superstitious for us here in the Iowa-Missouri Conference, but we are pretty excited about our third annual conference-wide

Robert H. Pierson

N. R. Dower

camp meeting, scheduled for Kirksville, Missouri, May 29-June 2.

A pair of outstanding retired leaders of the General Conference will highlight a camp meeting filled with inspirational and instructional messages and features. Former General Conference President, Robert H. Pierson, will conduct the evening meetings on Tuesday through Friday and will speak again at 3:30 p.m. on Sabbath afternoon. Elder N. R. Dower, retired secretary of the General Conference Ministerial Department, will speak for the worship service Sabbath morning and again at the closing session of camp meeting Saturday night.

Daytime activities at camp meeting revolve around a series of special workshops in Biblical studies and practical living instruction. The early morning devotionals, Wednesday through Sabbath, will be devoted to a series of studies on the minor prophets of the Old Testament. The series, conducted by Leo and Bobbie Jane Van Dolson is entitled “Profiting from the Prophets.” At 9:00 a.m. each day, Wednesday through Friday, Dr. Irma Vyhmeister, Associate Director of the Health and Temperance Department of the General Conference, will conduct a “Health and Nutrition” hour. An additional nutrition workshop will be taught in the afternoon at 2:00 p.m. each day.

“Principles to Live By” is the theme of the 11 o’clock hour on Wednesday through Friday. Elder Mel Rees, one of the denomination’s foremost authorities on Biblical and Spirit of Prophecy stewardship principles will be sharing important thoughts and principles of the Christian life style during this period and again at a family finance seminar at 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday.

Leo and Bobbie Jane Van Dolson

The Youth Division will have the services of Union College chaplain, Rich Carlson, for the entire camp meeting and a full program of interesting events and features is being planned for each of the children's divisions. Workshops on Sabbath School work, personal ministries and other aspects of outreach, an exciting musical program and evangelism hour on Sabbath afternoon, special sales at the Adventist Book Center, inspiring music, Christian fellowship and recreation will help round out the program for another thrilling camp meeting in Iowa-Missouri.

Accommodations

Comfortable accommodations and nutritious meals at reasonable prices will make Camp Meeting 1984 as hospitable and affordable as it is rewarding and inspirational.

Once again, an attractive package plan is available for those who can come and stay for the full camp meeting, as well as reasonable individual rates for lodging and meals.

The package rate for two-in-a-room, double occupancy this year is $88 per person for five nights of lodging (Tuesday through Saturday) and 13 meals (supper Tuesday through supper Saturday). Private rooms (use of one bed only) are available this year for a package rate of $98, and multiple rooms with a bed for each person in the group, are $78 per person on the package plan. If other persons stay in your room (no bed provided) there is a one-time $5 charge regardless of length of stay. An additional room for children of larger families is also available at $13.20 per night.

Non-package plan lodging is available at $13.20 per night for a private room, $11 per person per night for a double room, and $8.80 per person per night for a multiple room.

Individual meal rates are, breakfast, $1.95; dinner, $3.85, supper, $3.00. Children under 3 years of age are served free, and a special rate of $20 for all 13 meals is available for children from 3 through 11 years old.

Meals will be served in the spacious cafeteria-style dining room located in each of the two dormitory facilities, Ryle Hall and Missouri Hall, for the convenience of all camp meeting guests.

Refrigerators are available for the duration of the camp meeting on a first come, first serve basis.

Thousand Hills State Park (six miles northwest of campus) offers more than 80 camp sites, many with electrical hookups, plus modern rest rooms, hot showers, laundry facilities and dumping stations. These sites are available on first come, first serve basis at reasonable daily rates.

Shuttle service from the dormitories to the main auditorium in Baldwin Hall will be provided for the elderly and physically handicapped.

KUCV Membership Up 30 Percent

In 1980, KUCV 91 FM, increased its power from 10 watts to 18,200 watts. Along with a power increase, KUCV has experienced growth in other areas.

KUCV-FM, the college radio station, increased its membership to 1400 this year. Memberships are awarded to listeners who support the station at various dollar levels ranging from $30 to $500.

Originally, the station depended heavily on financial support from Union College. For example, in 1977, the college subsidized 98 percent of the budget. However, the annual membership fundraising campaigns have been so successful that Union's subsidy decreased to 18 percent last year.

Membership increased from 500 members in 1980 to 1400 members this year. Membership has gone up 30 percent this year alone.

Memberships are awarded to listeners who support the station at various dollar levels ranging from a basic membership of $30 to a benefactor membership of $500.

All members receive Lincoln, the station programming magazine. Other benefits include a KUCV membership card which entitles the holder to discounts at various arts events in Lincoln.

Last February, KUCV raised

Larry West, production director at KUCV-FM, helped coordinate Festival '84, a week-long fund raising drive, which raised over $40,000 for the station.

$40,000 in a week-long "FESTIVAL" campaign. In spite of its smaller listening area, the station raises two and three times more money than other Adventist college radio stations.

KUCV is on the air 19 hours every day and broadcasts classical music and news programs. Religious programs include the airing of College View, Piedmont Park, First-Plymouth, and Westminster Church services on Saturdays and Sunday. A church report prepared by the Lincoln Fellowship of Churches and special programs such as a recent series on Martin Luther are also aired.

News Notes From Boulder

Employees Earn Advanced Cardiac Life Support Certification—As part of the continuing process of providing quality patient care, 12 Boulder Memorial Hospital employees attained certification in Advanced Cardiac Life Support. The course was taught by Betsy Bowen, RN, CEN, who staffs the After Hours Care Center, Recovery Room, and is also a relief Coordinator.

New Physicians' Office—At a meeting of the Hospital Governing Board, permission was given to move ahead with the proposed physicians' office building on the hospital campus. Should all go as planned, this new office complex will be complete prior to the end of 1984 and will be known as Mapleton Hill Medical Plaza.

O.R. Construction Completed—Effective February 7, 1984, all four surgery suites are now available for scheduling. Remodeling and upgrading of the old area is now complete. Having four rooms, at least one of which will be used for locals, will make scheduling of patients much easier.

C.U. Senior Nursing Students Select Memorial for Leadership—Eight Senior Nursing students from the University of Colorado have elected to take their final clinical rotation at Memorial. The staff is especially proud of this because this rotation also emphasizes leadership skills. After clinical rotations at Metro Denver hospitals, these students requested to go to Memorial feeling they would receive the most leadership training there.

Telephone Amplifiers for Inpatients—The Audiology Department has a number of telephone amplifiers available for patients needing help to hear on the phone. Patients who have hearing problems may request these special telephone amplifiers during their stay at the hospital.

Hand Rehabilitation—Boulder Memorial's Hand Rehabilitation program emphasizes patient education and patient involvement in the rehabilitation process. Early intervention and close physician contact are an integral part of this program. Candidates include traumatic hand injuries such as burns, fractures, and tendon and nerve injuries. Chronic disabilities, such as arthritis and congenital deformities, are also candidates.

Therapy Pool Improvements—Solar Panels installed on the roof in December help with the heating of the water. An electric door at the main entrance to the pool now makes accessibility much easier for the wheelchair and handicapped patient. A non-slip floor has finally been completed in the dressing rooms eliminating the possibility of injury through falls.

Aerobics Class—Averaging an attendance of eighteen, an aerobics class being held three times a week continues to be popular at noon. Offered free as a benefit to Memorial's employees in the warm water therapy pool, the class promotes cardiovascular fitness. A number of staff physical therapists and recreational therapists volunteer their time as instructors.

To receive full benefit through aerobics it is necessary to raise one's heart rate to its working range for 20-30 minutes at least three times a week. This class is another indication of Memorial's involvement in total health care.

Leadership Luncheons—The first of the monthly Leadership Luncheons was held to help acquaint the leaders of Boulder with the work of Memorial Hospital. The first guests included the Mayor, the executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, president of Public Utilities, three bank presidents, directors from local corporations and representatives of local small businesses. The story was told via a multimedia slide presentation, talks by hospital personnel and a tour.

Many expressed amazement at the variety of programs being offered at Memorial. Each month a different segment of the community will be represented to help make the local leadership aware of the hospital.

CBS Visits Memorial—Channel 7, a CBS affiliate, produced a series of features on fad diets. For the opening segment of the series the film crew visited Memorial Hospital to focus on the Eating Disorders Program. As this is the only treatment center east of Glendale, California, it was not surprising that Memorial was selected.

Interviews with the medical personnel and the program director told the story of the need for such a center and the help available for anorexia and bulimia. This program again shows the progressive nature of this 87-bed health care facility.

Wichita Evangelism

By Irene Cortez

Members of the Wichita-South church teamed together to accomplish the many tasks required for one of the largest evangelistic campaigns in the church's history. Brochures were mailed to every resident of the city and surrounding small towns. An extensive advertising campaign was conducted through a series of television announcements.

Prior to the opening night, a special Prayer and Communion Service was held and was attended by nearly two hundred church members who rededicated their lives to serving the Lord.

Elder Russell Burrill, senior pastor, conducted the meetings. Elder Burrill has a way of explaining Bible truths that make them seem plainer than ever before. Assisting him were associate pastors Gary Curry and Dick Gibson. Mrs. Burrill provided many of the special musical selections.

There were also specially prepared meetings for kindergarten, primary and junior age children designed to teach a message. These were enthusiastically received. A nursery accommodated the younger children.

The congregation provided nightly encouragement through faithful attendance and bringing visitors and friends. The Lord richly blessed all the efforts and twenty-one precious souls were received into baptism. Several others are continuing to study. Pray that these new members may remain faithful.

One of the large groups baptized as the result of the evangelistic campaign.

E.A. Alumni Association

Maranatha Announces

The Garden City church in southeast Kansas will soon have a new church school building on their land northeast of town. Maranatha Flights International will join them April 3-21 for the construction.

Additional volunteers are needed to work with the small congregation. Assistance during any of the three-week construction time will be greatly appreciated. Especially needed are cabinet makers, electricians, plumbers, dry-wallers, and general carpenters.

Contact Pastor Dwayne Toppenberg at (316) 275-2282, or Jeff Petersen at (316) 275-6033, for more details.

Better Life Seminar

Dr. Glenn Wiltze, medical director of the Black Hills Health and Education Center, and his wife Helen conducted a "Better Life Seminar" at the Grand Island Adventist School.

Dr. Wiltze stated that, although it won't keep one young forever, a few common sense items can "add years to your life and life to your years." He had eight ingredients to his recipe for a healthy life: (1) plenty of fresh air, (2) plenty of sunshine, (3) temperance, (4) rest, 7-9 hours of sleep per night, (5) exercise, (6) proper diet, (7) drinking a large amount of water daily, and (8) trust in divine power.

The seminar included cooking and tasting new, healthful recipes.

Dr. Glenn Wiltze presents simple ways to prevent disease.

SDA Retiree's Club

Retired SDA workers living in Lincoln, or the area near enough to make it possible for you to attend meetings, are eligible for membership in the Lincoln Chapter of the SDA RETIREE'S CLUB. Meetings are held in the College View SDA Church Annex at 6:00 p.m. on the third Thursday of each month. The 1984 plans have been laid and promise to be very interesting. Let us hear from you so we may include you in our fellowship. Contact Lawrence Downing, president, at Union College, Lincoln, Nebraska 68506; or Rita Kiley, secretary/treasurer, 5145 Pioneers Boulevard, Lincoln, Nebraska 68506. We will need your full name, address, and telephone number.

Of further interest to denominational retirees all across the conference, are some plans for three of our camp meetings this year: Enterprise, Platte Valley, and Lincoln. We are planning for a banquet-type get-together for all retired Adventist church employees in attendance at these camp meetings. IF you will be there, AND you would like to be included, send your name and address to: Teddrick Mohr, 3440 Urish Road, Topeka, Kan. 66614-4601.

Weather Cooperates at Hutchinson

By Pauline Long

During the meetings held by Harold Kaufmann in Hutchinson, Kansas, there was much bitter, cold weather with rain, ice, and snow. One night, 20 inches of snow blanketed Western Kansas, while the rest of the State received 7-8 inches. The members of the Hutchinson church had been praying all month for good weather. The next morning, the weatherman reported that the snow had gone around the county like a horseshoe, and Hutchinson had only received a skiff of snow! The meetings continued without interference, with the weather and the attendance excellent every night.

and Roger Cole. Many of their breaks and lunch hours were spent discussing Bible topics. As the time for the meetings approached, Jim invited these two men to come. They came with their wives and families almost every night, and their hearts were touched as the Word of God was unfolded to them. As a result, Dean and Diane Marshall and Roger and Nita Cole joined the Hutchinson SDA church. Nita and Roger also decided to renew their marriage vows the day of their baptism, December 31, 1984.

A total of 11 persons were baptized as a result of the meetings.

Love And Concern

By Mrs. Clifford Johnson

Dallas, a ten-year-old boy, from Napoleon, North Dakota is thankful for the love and concern shown him by the Streeter Seventh-day Adventist church.

Dallas was eight months old when cystic fibrosis was diagnosed, and at five years of age a suspicion of multiple sclerosis was confirmed. He sleeps in a mist tent and receives therapy twice a day for each disease.

He has now lost the use of his legs, so is carried from room to room at home. He goes to school regularly. The bus driver carries him from the bus to the classroom, and he uses a rented wheelchair in school.

During a special worship service conducted by the Community Services workers, Dallas's plight was brought to the attention of the congregation. A special offering that day amounted to $200. Dallas's mother expressed a desire to use the money toward the purchase of a wheelchair.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my bretheren, ye have done it unto me." Matthew 25:40

Mrs. Clifford Johnson is the communication secretary for the Napoleon Church.

Five Brothers See Mother Baptized

By Mrs. James Lunday

How many can effectively witness to their own family members and see them baptized into the remnant church? Five Foerderer brothers recently saw their mother, Luella, baptized, making their family complete in the Lord. Elder Lowell Rideout, pastor of the Bismarck, North Dakota church performed the baptism.

It all started in 1968 when Roger Foerderer married Lorraine Werth and joined Lorraine's faith, the Seventh-day Adventist church at Lehr. In 1971, Barney, the youngest brother was baptized in Dickinson. Barney had been living and working with Roger and studying with him. In 1975 Bob and Steve, who had also been working and studying with Roger, were baptized in Bismarck during evangelistic lectures held by Dale Brussett. Brother Jim joined the church in Minneapolis in 1980. Some time later his girlfriend (now his wife) was baptized in Bismarck.

What made this chain of family witnessing possible? Bob says, "None of us ever were afraid to tell the other what we thought, and when you care enough for each other, you have to say something. Better do it now rather than worry when it's too late!"

Mother Luella says Steve and Linda always invited her to attend church with them at Lehr, and later Bob and his wife Linda in Bismarck did the same when she lived with them after her husband passed away.

Delton Davis from Steele, a friend of Luella's, was baptized with Luella in January, 1984. Delton said, "I asked her if she would mind if I came to church with her. Then the way I was treated and welcomed at the Bismarck church really impressed me. I never had anyone from my former church visit me in my home like Pastor Rideout and his wife visit and study with me. Elder Len Devnich also visited me in Steele. I've never felt so comfortable as in the Adventist faith."

Mrs. James Lunday is the communication secretary for the Bismarck Church.

DAA Students Serve Community

Dakota Adventist Academy students spent 683.5 hours, an average of 170 per month, serving the community of Bismarck-Mandan during the first semester of the 1983-'84 school year.

The services included participation in the annual Open-Your-Heart fund drive, whose organizers collect food and clothing, and distribute them to low-income individuals and families. Students helped move clothes and furniture from a warehouse to the drive's headquarters, and also helped fill food baskets that were later distributed. The drive is sponsored by the American Legion.

The students also worked with the handicapped and mentally retarded at the YMCA, as well as at Bismarck's Fine Arts Center, and North Dakota's Heritage Center.

In addition to the hourly figures above, groups of six to ten students took a total of four trips around the conference as witnessing teams, or seminar groups as they are called, giving sermons and special music for local church worship services.

Baptism At The Penitentiary

By Mrs. James Lunday

Another baptism took place at the North Dakota State Penitentiary!

Vern Olson said, "I got into plenty of trouble out there and God had to sit me down in the penitentiary so I would listen." Vern never missed a study with Al Zeeb during the year. He had a hard time believing the Sabbath at first. He kept looking and writing to people for other answers but found none.

Rideout stated, "I believe there was a sacred joy surrounding the event because Vern knew what he was doing. It is a personal conviction and relationship with Jesus not just a matter of church practice to Vern."

A number of the Bismarck church members attended the baptism held in the penitentiary chapel. Rideout conducts church services there now the second and fourth Sabbaths of the month at 12:45 a.m.

New Pastor At Wahpeton, Lisbon

Charles Stout has come to the Wahpeton and Lisbon churches in North Dakota with a strong background of youth leadership and pastoral work. He served as a student missionary in Okinawa, and as a pastor in Iowa, California and Arkansas before coming to the Dakota Conference.

Charles and his wife Beverly have four children: Rebecca, Margaret, Charles, Jr. and Cynthia.

The conference warmly welcomes this family and prays that with the Lord's blessing they will have a rich reward for their labors in this field.

Challenge Gift Brings Response

By Beverly Dickinson

Minnesota Conference SDA church members have responded to a $100,000.00 challenge offer to pay off a bank loan on the Maplewood Academy's new administration building. During February, the constituents not only matched the $100,000.00 gift, but gave an additional $72,000.00.

Maplewood Academy's new administration building was completed in January of 1980 at a construction cost of $1,200,000.00. Added expenses of demolishing the old building, interest, and donated materials and labor brought the value to $1,500,000.00. The Minnesota constituency with appropriations from the Mid-America Union and the local conference reduced the loan to $400,000.00 by the end of 1983.

On January 15, 1984, one individual in Minnesota challenged the Minnesota Conference to raise $100,000.00 by the end of February to pay off the existing $200,000.00 bank loan. Should the members respond, he would give $100,000.00.

The church members in Minnesota did respond by raising the $100,000.00 with an overflow of $72,000.00, which will help to reduce the remaining $200,000.00 loan owed to various funds in the Minnesota Conference.

A spirit of praise and thanksgiving swept through the churches and homes of Minnesota Adventists to the One who made this challenge a marvelous reality.

Beverly Dickinson, Communication Director, Minnesota Conference.

Grand Rapids' Members Prepare For Service

By Sidney Reiners

Bruce Larson presents first lesson of the Church Growth Seminar.

Bruce Larson, Sabbath School superintendent of the Grand Rapids Church, is presenting a Concerned Communications' Church Growth Seminar to the adult and youth Sabbath School classes. The main theme of the seminar is that the church has been organized for service. Its primary objective is to inspire and enlist church members for service, focusing on bringing the lost to Jesus.

The lessons are very practical, beginning with locating the church where it will be in close contact with those it is trying to reach. Other lessons consist of practical methods for identifying one's spiritual gifts, organizing small groups, and presenting the gospel to the unconverted.

Sidney Reiners is the communication secretary for the Grand Rapids Church.

Minneapolis Clothing Giveaways

By Nellie Harris

The Minneapolis First Seventh-day Adventist Church has begun to hold monthly clothing giveaways to distribute good, used clothing to people in need in the community and to show that they care about people's problems and needs.

There has been a good response from the community. Some 212 persons were helped in January and February with clothing and shoes totaling about 1060 items. About 290 pieces of literature were given.

A limit of 15 pieces of clothing and one coat, and a limit of five articles per child was given. One Indian lady with several children left with 56 pieces of clothing—the high for any one family. A girl studying to be a medical technologist found a white uniform. One teenage girl tried a pair of sneakers, found that they fit, and took her old boots straight to a trash can, saying that they had been hurting her feet. Several people were looking for children's clothes, and two or three said that there was baby on the way, and they needed baby things.

People said that they would come back next time. A man from the American Veterans Association said this was "a wonderful thing". A neatly dressed, middle-aged couple, who said they were on disability, commented that these clothes would certainly help their budget. A man taking a free pair of shoes commented to his friend with him that "they want $20.00 for these" in stores.

The giveaways were under the direction of Community Services Director, Yeolane March.

Customers in need find clothing for their families.

Nellie Harris is the communication secretary for the Minneapolis First Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Ordination At Dodge Center

By Betty Knudson

HIGHLIGHTS

For Your Schools

Colorful textbooks and materials fluttered around tables as representatives from various types of schools on the three levels of Adventist education met recently at the Mid-America Union Conference for their three-day annual curriculum committee meeting.

The MAUCCC, as one might call the Mid-America Committee, is chaired by Elder Melvin Northrup. Much of its work is done in small subcommittees. This is the group that gives guidance to academia in your elementary schools and academies. It studies recommendations from the North American Division committees, those from local conference committees, and others from its own subcommittees.

A crucial point of discussion at this session related to the new Seventh-day Adventist LIFE series. The title reflects the theme of all Adventist education and the focus of the committee.

The MAUCCC outlined a plan of integration into the inservice designed for North America's introduction to the LIFE series levels thirteen and fourteen.

The problem under discussion was not the excellent product but the cost to produce it for a limited market. A single textbook could cost little less than a hundred dollars! The General Conference had already begun its subsidy of near three million dollars to lower the retail cost. The Adventist Book Centers pulled back their maintenance profits to cut the prices another ten percent at least during the year each segment was introduced.

It was decided that the Union purchase all LIFE teacher editions for the schools during the respective introductory years, beginning this fall.

A subcommittee for secondary education met with education director Randall Fox. The much publicized national report, A Nation At Risk, was one item this group considered. A few recommendations were made as a result. However, comparative evaluation reminded the group that Mid-America secondary schools generally produce superior academics to those surveyed by the reporting commission.

Summary achievement test reports and item analyses were reviewed to detail strengths and weaknesses in our K-12 product as compared with reports from former years and as compared to those from the nation. The committee recognized that commercial standardized tests are over rated by the public as evaluation standards, but it also noted that composite scores for grades 3-12 average about the eightieth percentile—a national "cream-of-the-crop" product.

A new curriculum guide was approved for use in teaching academy industrial arts. Another was given the go signal for a field test in teaching cooking in the elementary school. A revision of a general guide for grades 1-8 also passed the test.

Some experiments and pilot programs were reviewed and guidelines modified. The Small Schools spelling curriculum will be revised. A Bible teaching plan at Champion Academy received congratulations and suggestions. A computer literacy guide is on the agenda for the future. The extension school structure was more clearly defined. That structure, in its third year of restricted pilot, provides for a pupil to study the ninth grade at a local church school that does not fully qualify as a junior academy.

Curriculum development committees to work prior to next year's MAUCCC meeting will involve Bible, English, superintendents, senior academy principals, and small schools curriculum. Another for industrial arts is on the docket to be scheduled.

HIGHLIGHTS

Minnesota District, under the leadership of James Hord, earned the award for highest sales in 1983 - $171,014.00.

Joyce Shobe, left, and Lyle Wooten shared top honors for highest individual sales, each having delivered $60,000.

Bob Tate, Publishing Director, and Steve Gifford, President of the Kansas-Nebraska Conference, display the award for highest sales in a conference - $507,863.

More than 200 literature evangelists, family members, and guests attended the Mid-America Union Literature Evangelism Institute in Grand Island, Nebraska. The annual event is an opportunity for inspiration and training in the literature ministry as well as a time for fun and fellowship, and a chance to review the accomplishments of the past year.

Features of the institute included the spiritual and practical messages of Elder Ron Appenzeller, newly appointed General Conference Associate Publishing Director; an intensive sales training seminar by Canadian Union Publishing Director Walter Ruba, and additional instruction and information from Bob Kyte, Vice President of marketing for the Pacific Press Publishing Association.

Also on the daily schedule was a Complete Marriage Seminar conducted by Nancy Van Pelt, and a full range of activities for children of all ages.

The L.E.'s went home to go to work on the goals of $2,687,000.00 in sales and 400 baptisms for the new year.

Wm. C. Hatch, Rocky Mountain Conference President, congratulates Jim Barbour for having the highest number of baptisms - 14.

Hoyet Taylor, Mid-America Publishing Director, congratulates Wm. C. Hatch for the conference L.E.'s highest number of baptisms - 102.

Bob Belmont, Mid-America Union HHEs manager, and Ron Harper of Iowa-Missouri participate in ordinance of humility.

Leshner To Be AU President

Dr. W. Richard Leshner, 59, has been appointed the president of Andrews University, according to an announcement Monday by university Board of Trustees Chairman Charles B. Hirsch.

Hirsch said that Leshner is expected to take up duties as president of Andrews "sometime this spring."

Leshner is currently one of six general vice presidents of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists in Washington, D.C., Hirsch said. He has held this position since 1981.

Since 1979 he has also been director of the Biblical Research Institute for the denomination's General Conference.

Leshner has a doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.) degree in religious education from New York University, New York City, which he received in 1970. He earned a master of arts degree from Andrews University in 1964 in Old Testament studies and a bachelor of theology degree in 1946 from Atlantic Union College, South Lancaster, Mass.

In his position as general vice president of the General Conference, Leshner coordinates the activities of the Middle East Union of SDA and the church's Middle East College in Beirut, Lebanon.

Leshner will assume his duties at Andrews "as soon as possible, probably within six to 10 weeks."

In making the announcement of Leshner's appointment, Hirsch said, "We are very pleased that Dr. Leshner will be the fourth president of Andrews University. He has vast experience in administration and leadership. He has been an advisory member of the Andrews Board of Trustees for two years and is aware of the direction that Andrews is going. We are eagerly anticipating his arrival."

Leshner currently lives in Silver Spring, Md., with his wife Veda. They have two grown daughters.

Parts Needed For Braille Watches

Has your non-digital watch stopped ticking? If you're thinking about discarding it, please DON'T. The parts can be used to repair braille watches for blind persons.

In cooperation with the Pros and Cons Braille Unit, a program at the Nebraska State Penitentiary, Christian Record Braille Foundation is contributing spring-wound watches so that parts can be utilized to repair braille watches.

The Braille Unit, manned entirely by inmates, produces textbooks and other reading materials in braille, in addition to repairing braille typewriters and watches.

Send your non-digital watches, working or not, to Wendell Carpenter, Christian Record Braille Foundation, 4444 South 52nd, Lincoln, NE 68506

PUC Sponsors Tour of South Africa

The religion department of Pacific Union College has scheduled a 22-day tour of South Africa from August 29 to September 20. It is the only tour of its kind offered by Adventist colleges.

The tour is slated to visit historical sights as well as locations important to the Adventist work in South Africa.

Directing the tour will be John Staples, PUC religion professor. Staples, who has led this tour in the past, was born in South Africa, can speak the languages of that region and is acquainted with the history, culture and customs of the countries visited during the tour.

Destinations for the tour include, Maseru, Johannesburg, Kimberly, Zululand, Kruger National Park and Swaziland. Adventist institutions visited will include Helderberg College and the Kimberley SDA church.

Total cost for the tour, including air fares, will be $3,775. A 7-day extension to Victoria Falls, Malawi and Zimbabwe is available for $1,229 (with sufficient response). College credit is available for the tour.

For further information and brochures, contact Appollo Travel, 1234 Main Street, St. Helena, CA 94574.

AU Scholarship Offering

By Joel O. Tompkins

On April 14, in churches across the North American Division, an offering will be taken for graduate education at Andrews University. The funds will be used for scholarships for students taking advanced degrees. I plan to contribute, and I encourage every church member to do so, too. Here are some reasons why:

The first, obviously, is financial. In the economic times in which we live, graduate education isn't cheap. But Andrews has made a commitment to help qualified students attend graduate school. Andrews made that commitment because they believe church members like you and I will help. Now, more than ever before, we need to make a commitment to helping financially.

There is another reason; it has to do with the mission of the church—that is, service to mankind. Many of the graduate students who attend Andrews become teachers, ministers, administrators and business people—for the church and in the church, right here in the Mid-America Union. Many others are dedicated laymen and women who have influence in their communities. The church needs this kind of dedication.

And there is still another reason; the most powerful: Christian education for Christians in a Christian school. Alfred North Whitehead once wrote, "A merely well-informed man is the most useless bore on God's earth." And Ellen White said, "Men truly connected with God will show to the world that a more than human agent is standing at the helm." Testimonies, volume 6, page 154. We need Spirit-filled, Spirit-taught workers for God, now more than ever before.

Show our young people how much you believe in them—the future of the church—by giving generously to the Andrews University graduate scholarship fund on April 14.

Joel O. Tompkins, President, Mid-America Conference.

AWR

Adventist World Radio programs in French are being prepared for Africa by African students at Andrews University. AWR can be heard in places where we are not allowed to broadcast on local stations. The financial help of dedicated Adventist believers is needed.

R & H Announces Book Contest

Prizes of up to $750 are being offered in the Review and Herald's Write Now II book contest. Submissions are now being accepted for book manuscripts in the category of practical Christian living. New and published authors are encouraged to share their ideas of how to stay healthy spiritually, physically, emotionally, socially, and mentally.

All entries in the book manuscript contest must be submitted by July 30, 1984. Winners will be announced in November, 1984. Judges include several well-known authors and editors, such as Penny Estes Wheeler, Dan Fahrbach (editor of Insight), and Kyna Hinson (assistant editor of Message).

The first prize is $750, second prize, $450, and third prize, $200. According to Coffen, regular royalties will be paid in addition to the prizes. Royalties will also be paid on manuscripts published that do not win a prize. However, the Review and Herald reserves the right not to award prizes if submissions are not acceptable for their needs.

All entries should be typewritten, double-spaced, on 90-160 sheets of 8½" x 11" paper (no easy-erase paper). Each author may submit an unlimited number of entries, but each manuscript should be accompanied by return postage. New authors should write for "AHEM. . . as You Write Your Manuscript" before starting, which Coffen says will give them useful tips.

All manuscripts on practical Christian living should be sent to: Write Now II, Review and Herald Publishing Association, 55 West Oak Ridge Drive, Hagerstown, MD 21740.

Who Cares

The British Union Conference Committee is looking to the Northern European Division and Adventist World Radio for financial support for a broadcast that covers Britain and parts of two divisions. The successful 15-minute weekly broadcast "Who Cares?" begun October 24, will end Monday, April 22, unless sponsorship can be found. It would cost approximately $50,000 to keep the program going for another 26 weeks.

British Union Conference Vice-President John Arthur, in consultation with Mike Harrison of the British Broadcasting Corporation, has produced a wide variety of interview-format programs such as: "Coping with Problems," "New Life," "Smoking," "Alcoholism," "Stress," "Christian Faith," and "Prayer." But these useful releases from one of the most powerful medium-wave radio transmitters in the world (1.3 million watts) will come to an abrupt halt unless sponsorship can be found.

La Voz Introduces BUENA SALUD

A new correspondence course has been released by La Voz de la Esperanza, the counterpart of the Voice of Prophecy program for the Spanish-speaking population.

Entitled Buena Salud (Good Health), the course consists of ten lessons-booklets and is designated for Adventists and non-church members.

La Voz first began offering correspondence courses more than 40 years ago. For many years only two Bible courses were offered, Tesoros de Vida (Treasures of Life) for adults and Juvenil for young people. Since 1981 a course on family relationship entitled Hogar Feliz (Happy Home) was added.

Enrollment cards for the new course are available by writing La Voz de la Esperanza, Box 55, Los Angeles, CA 90053.

THE INTERNATIONAL
RELIGIOUS LIBERTY ASSOCIATION
ANNOUNCES

THE MEETING OF A DECADE

VOYAGE TO ANTIQUITY
THE AEGEAN,
SEPT. 7-18, 1984

THE TRIP OF A LIFETIME

SECOND WORLD CONGRESS ON RELIGIOUS LIBERTY, ROME, SEPT. 3-6, 1984

Hear authorities from many nations and many religious backgrounds discuss the role of religious liberty in maintaining the peace. What problems do believers face from official atheism in the socialist countries, and unofficial secularism in North America and Western Europe? Does fundamentalism, whether Christian or Moslem, threaten the rights of religious minorities? What is the status of religious freedom in Latin America, Asia, Africa?

Hear multi-lingual discussion of these questions and many more by simultaneous translation during the morning and evening Congress sessions. Participate in afternoon excursions to the historic sites of Rome. Enjoy the IRLA Awards Banquet, meet delegates from around the world, share your ideas and concerns.

Even religious liberty has roots. You can explore them in comfort on the MTS GALAXY, our luxurious cruise liner, during our voyage to Antiquity through Greece and Asia Minor immediately following the World Congress. Traveling with you will be historians, archaeologists, educators, medical professionals — even a few clergy. Options customized to meet your needs and interests will include both excursions and lectures. And if your pictures don't turn out, our official photographer can supply a full photographic record of the trip.

Kids Don't Stop Learning When School Gets Out

Summer is almost here and the kids will be out of school. That doesn't mean they will stop learning. Learning is an on-going process, even outside the classroom.

With no more classes and no homework what will your children be learning? What'll they learn from the kids down the street or from the T.V. set in the family room?

Frightening thought, isn't it?

At Union College we recognize your concern; we are parents too. That's why we have designed an all-new and unique approach to summer activities called CAMPUTER™ Union College's Computer Camp.

Here your child will be involved in beneficial learning that will be valuable for a lifetime. Included are recreational activities and instruction along with individualized computer sessions, one-on-one. And with a computer terminal in every dormitory room, access will be unlimited from early morning until "lights out" at 10 p.m.

Our dedicated professional and caring staff (one for every four campers) will help your child discover his/her potential in every aspect of life—intellectually, physically, socially, and spiritually. It will be a time to explore and rediscover the meaning of relationships with old and new friends.

In addition, there will be a family camp and intensive adult computer instruction. Come to Union this summer and learn how to use and program computers while enjoying all the fun-filled activities of a great summer camp: swimming, tennis, wind surfing, weight training, aerobics and more.

Discover all the details of the exciting summer we have planned for you and your family. Write today and request our free Computer Camp brochure: Union College, Computer Camp, 3800 South 48th Street, Lincoln, NE 68506 or call now, TOLL FREE: 800-228-4600.
