Dear Fellow Believers,

With this letter I must bring something to your attention that is just about beyond belief. Our church is undertaking a project that can bring the Seventh-day Adventist gospel message to more than half of the world's population. And this is in an area, much of which, that has been unreached otherwise. I'm talking about our new radio station on the South Pacific island of Guam.

This is beyond human comprehension—to be able to reach nearly 2.5 billion people with the good news of Jesus. The area would include: Indonesia, India, China, Soviet Union, Siberia, Japan, Korea, Sri Lanka and Australia. We have bought the land and the Federal Communication Commission has issued the license.

Dr. Allen Steele, former manager of Andrews University radio station, and his wife Andrea, former public relations director for Andrews University and who is fluent in four languages, are already in Guam making plans for the new station. The Steeles, whose reputation is widely known and respected in this area, are not novices to this type of work. They pioneered our Adventist World Radio work in Europe. For five years they ran that program in Portugal. This was our first AWR station. We now have six.

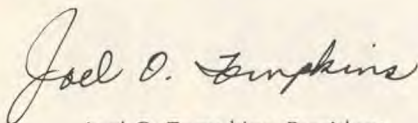

Plans call for operating the new station for some 20 hours each day. Languages to be used in the broadcasts may include: Russian, Chinese, Vietnamese, Japanese, Laotian, Hindi, Tamil, and Mandarin plus possibly another dozen languages. Plans call for a mix of religious programming, such as: sermons, devotionals, religious news, family and home talks, health and science talks and music. Even though the material will be broadcast from the station on Guam, the programs will probably be prepared and recorded by groups in the countries where the language is spoken.

The station will be located on a 30-acre plot on the southwestern side of the island, which is about ten miles wide and thirty miles long. The station will use two 250,000-watt transmitters and two 100,000-watt transmitters. A large part of the 30-acre plot will be used for the giant antenna array. The station will be housed in an "L" shaped building which will house the studio, offices and transmitters.

Now here is my appeal to you. Doesn't it sound exciting to think that each one of us can have a part in helping to carry on this work? Our next offering for this gigantic project will be taken in our churches on May 25, 1985. Then the final report will be given on the first Sabbath of the General Conference session in New Orleans. Our General Conference president, Elder Neal Wilson, is suggesting that every wage earner plan to give an amount equal to a tithe of one week's earning. Really, folks, I don't see how we can do less. Just think, you will have a part in giving the message directly to more than half of the world's population through this one project.

So, please remember this special project with your offering on May 25. I know that God will richly bless your gift.

Yours in the Master's service,

Joel O. Tompkins, President

SIGNS To Feature Special Issue On Second Coming

By Kenneth J. Holland

In the fall of 1985 Signs Of The Times will produce the first in a series of well-illustrated special issues on messages Seventh-day Adventists proclaim as present truth.

With "Planet Earth's Great Homecoming Day" as a theme, the publishers will present the second coming of Christ from three perspectives: (1) When Jesus Christ returns in power and glory, He will experience a homecoming in that He lived on earth 2,000 years ago as Son of God and Son of Man. (2) On the occasion of His second coming we who believe will participate in a homecoming in the sense that we will be "at home" with our heavenly Father. (As a result of the new birth, we are sons and daughters of God.) We'll spend 1,000 years in our heavenly home, then return to an earth made new, which will be our headquarters throughout eternity.

Finally, (3), planet earth, cleansed of rebellion and sin will be welcomed by occupants of other worlds; the reunion will be the homecoming of homecomings, for harmony will once more reign throughout God's great universe. No longer will God be dishonored by any of his created beings.

Editors of Signs Of The Times, which has the largest circulation (400,000) of any magazine sponsored by a Protestant denomination in North America, will divide the special into six sections. Why our present world is doomed. What about the year 2000? The truth about the rapture, Armageddon, the millennium, etc.; and homecoming to an ideal world in a new earth.

Featured in the issue will be an interview with William Johnsson, editor of the Adventist Review. Johnsson will respond to such questions as why is there an upsurge of interest in the occult? What has been the root cause of the lack of morality and spirituality in the Western World? Three billion people are beyond the direct witness of the Christian church and have yet to be reached effectively with the gospel. How can they be reached? Why is our society so violent and confused? Nearly 55 percent of the world population live in cities, where living conditions are often atrocious. Where will this lead us? What are your views on the morality of nuclear weapons, the chances of their being used, and the implications for the earth? Does the present nuclear situation say anything about the second coming?

The editors point out that although the doctrine of the second coming has been proclaimed for several years, there are at least three developments that make our day unique and the Lord's coming imminent: The world has never before had so many people alive at one time that the sheer numbers threatened the entire globe. Earth's physical resources cannot cope with the increasing demand and misuse. And never before in the history of mankind has humanity held in its hands the ability to actually destroy life as we know it on the entire planet in a matter of minutes.

As a climax to the special issue, readers will be invited to accept our Lord's invitation to attend the great homecoming banquet prepared for the redeemed of earth. All special issues will be made available at low prices for use in missionary projects.

Signs Of The Times, which expects to have a circulation of one million by 1986, will soon introduce a number of new features that will make the journal more prophetically oriented. In the March issue we began the first in a series of editorial comments by church leaders dealing with current issues from a biblical perspective. George Reid, director of our Biblical Research Institute, Washington, D.C., wrote on mixing politics and religion in the new column entitled "My Time".

In a soon-coming issue we will take several pages to summarize the powerful messages in Ellen G. White's book The Great Controversy. This book, which Mrs. White says should be in every home in the U.S., contains the truth for our time. Readers will be given a chance to purchase the book at an attractive price.

In another super feature, we will tell the story of the Revelation Seminars—what takes place at the meetings and what have been the results.

The topics to be covered in the special issues to be published in Signs during the next few years will be determined in a few weeks and proper announcements will be made.

For the campaign year now beginning the price for a year's subscription will remain at the remarkably low figure of $6.50 U.S. For that amount readers will get thirty doctrinal articles, two prophetically oriented special issues, a dozen features on the Christian approach to better homes in America, ten articles on healthful living, and numerous articles on how to put the principles of the Bible into practical use in everyday life.

U.C. Holds Seventh Loma Linda Summer Graduate Program

By Linda M. Sprengel

Union College will serve as an extended campus of the Loma Linda University School of Education, Riverside, California, for the seventh summer this year. One of three such extension schools, Union offers courses toward a Master of Arts Degree in six areas and Specialist and Doctoral Degrees in Education. Union's participation in the extended campus program was approved by the Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Post-secondary Education in December, 1984.

Union College will hold two summer sessions, the first beginning June 7. Six classes will be taught with directed readings and research being offered as independent study options as well.

The quality of instruction on all four campuses is exceptionally high, according to Dr. Charles Felton, Chairman of the Division of Human Development at Union College and Liaison Officer between Loma Linda and Union. He added that while many master's programs employ doctoral candidates as their instructors, almost without exception, Loma Linda utilizes teachers who both have completed doctoral degrees and are currently teaching in their fields of instruction.

The Master of Arts in Elementary Education Degree may be completed in four summers exclusively at an extended campus. The Master of Arts in Secondary Education may be earned in three summers at an extended campus and one summer at a local university. The five other degrees require one or two summer terms in residence at Loma Linda's La Sierra, California, campus, while core courses may be taken at an extension school. In most cases, up to nine quarter hours may be transferred from an accredited graduate institution.

Those campuses participating in Loma Linda's graduate extension program are Canadian Union College in Alberta, Canada; Southern College in Collegedale, Tennessee; and Union College in Lincoln, Nebraska. Enrollment is projected at nearly 40 students per extended campus this summer. Employees of the Seventh-day Adventist Mid-America Union may take the extended campus program at Union College tuition-free upon approval of the Mid-America Union and acceptance by Loma Linda University.

Students Receive Scholarships

By Linda Sprengel

Four Lincolniters who attend Union College have received scholarships from AK-SAR-BEN and Minnegasco. AK-SAR-BEN awarded $650 scholarships to Dale A. Binder, son of Roger and Charlene Binder, and to Brian McCluskey, son of Dr. Richard and Marilyn McCluskey. Minnegasco gave two scholarships of $850 each to Gary L. McPherson, son of Ivan and Vickie McPherson, and to Randall S. Morris, son of Grace Felton.

Binder is a sophomore computer science major who intends to pursue a degree in electronic engineering. McCluskey, a sophomore studying business administration, plans to take the Certified Public Accountant exam, to earn a Master of Arts in business administration and to work as a public or managerial accountant. Intending to pursue a law degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and to practice law locally, McPherson is a senior with a double major in business administration and management. He is a legal aide and a member of the Young Republicans, the Mayor's Advisory Committee and the Union College Student Senate. Morris is studying business administration and plans to work as a hospital administrator.

Faculty Adopt Churches

By Linda Sprengel

Adopt-a-Church is a new program coordinated by the Union College Admissions Office. Faculty and students will visit those churches within the Mid-America Union which have less than 200 members and have populations of perspective students. Twenty-two faculty have adopted churches this semester.

Each group, containing a faculty sponsor and several students, plans one visit to their selected church per semester. A returned student missionary will provide the Sabbath School special feature, in most cases. Many plan to include slide shows in their presentations. An individual or student group will give special music for both services. In many instances, the faculty sponsor or an accompanying theology major will preach the sermon. Beginning in March the groups will take a slide show about the college with them. Its format will resemble that of "Mission Spotlight" and it will be shown between services.

New Center For Christian Growth Formed

By Sheryl Brown

In the fall of 1985 Union College will form a Center for Christian Growth according to Dr. Benjamin Wygal, president of Union College.

The Center, which will incorporate the existing religion department, will be an "umbrella" organization providing a practical religious training program for students, continuing education for clergy, teachers, and laypersons, outreach activities, religious publications and research and development.

"The purpose of the Center", explains Wygal, "is to provide a more active and visible organizational unit to support the spiritual dimension of the college's mission." The mission as stated in the Union College handbook is ". . . the concept of systematic development of the whole person: mental, physical, social and spiritual through instruction, interaction, study and activity, in the context of the acquisition of knowledge and skills." The Center for Christian Growth will allow students to make religion practical by giving them more interaction with the community.

Although the Center has been approved by the Union College Board of Trustees, details of the course offerings and activities have not been finalized. The college is in the process of searching for a chairperson to head the Center. This is to be a new additional position for the college.

The Center for Christian Growth will serve a nine-state area covering the majority of the central United States.

UNION COLLEGE

P.V. Medical Center

Orthopedic Specialist

Dr. Steven Bruce, a specialist in orthopedics, is the newest member of the Medical Staff at the Platte Valley Medical Center in Brighton. His services are of special importance where accident or age causes bone fractures or muscular disorders.

According to Bruce, orthopedics is a specialty that treats patients both surgically and medically for injuries to or diseases of the muscles, bones, joints, and spine. Such treatments include: repair and reconstruction of damaged or wornout joints, care given to congenital conditions of the arms and legs, reconstructive surgery for patients having cerebral palsy, and treatment of athletes who suffer sports related injuries.

Advanced Orthopedic Techniques

Orthopedics has made significant progress over the past five to ten years, especially in areas such as artificial joint replacement, arthroscopic knee surgery, and the effective treatment of multi-injured patients. Today artificial joints, when required, not only fit better, but are designed to be more in harmony with the natural movement of body joints. Even the tools used for such reconstructive surgery are more advanced. "The technique now used in arthroscopic knee surgery," says Bruce, "allows for a faster rehabilitation process than in the past."

Modern Medical Equipment

The equipment used by Bruce at the Platte Valley Medical Center is among the most up-to-date available. For fracture surgery, the Medical Center has recently purchased a new fluoroscopic x-ray unit called a C-arm. In addition to the C-arm a complete arthroscopic surgery system has been installed which includes a video camera and a variety of hand and power equipment. For acute trauma such as motor vehicle fractures, falls, or industrial accidents, a complete set of implants is available for whatever medical procedures are needed. Special instruments are also available for traumatic and reconstructive hand surgery.

According to Bruce, the Platte Valley Medical Center now has all of the modern equipment needed for orthopedic surgery.

Bruce, a graduate of the University of Illinois School of Medicine, spent his Internship and Residency at the University of Oregon Health Sciences Center in Portland, Oregon. His special interests in the field of orthopedics include the care of sports injuries, orthoscopic knee surgery, accident trauma cases, and adult reconstructive surgery.

Porter Memorial Hospital

Spiritual Care In The Searchlight

Porter Memorial Hospital, a Seventh-day Adventist health care facility, exists to make people whole physically, mentally and spiritually. In an effort to enhance the spiritual dimension, a Spiritual Care Committee has been organized and is now in the formative stages of its work.

"Our initial goal is to assess everything related to the hospital and its environment which has implications for spiritual care," says Chaplain Glenn Sackett, the committee's chairperson. "We would like to think that the spiritual needs of our staff could be well cared for, so that as opportunities appear many of them would feel comfortable in giving spiritual help to patients and their families."

Members of the committee include those in direct patient care areas together with various administrators and department leaders.

New Construction

While the building of Porter Place (a new Adventist Health System/Eastern and Middle America retirement center) is well under way, two other construction projects on Porter's campus are in the early stages. One is the rebuilding of the hospital's lobby and some adjoining areas, which involves relocating the admitting office, cashier's department and other services.

Just west of the hospital building, a block of apartments is being torn down to make way for a new medical office complex, Harvard Park II. The five-story building will meet a need for more physician office space, and is expected to enhance the total picture of health care on Porter's campus. A four-level parking structure complements the building plans.

Care At Home

Because of the medical insurance pressures, many patients are sent home from the hospital while still needing medical monitoring and general care. Last spring Porter Memorial Hospital established an agency called American Home Health, which provides skilled nursing care and related in-home services for patients under Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement plans.

Now a second agency, American Home Care, has been formed to provide similar service for patients with commercial insurance or private payment plans. "While a good part of our work is with home health aides and homemakers," says Director Abe Locker, "we also employ RNs, LPNs and therapists. Care is provided on an hourly, daily or live-in basis, depending on the needs of the patient."

The new agency has prices that are very competitive with those of other private-duty nursing services, and has shown steady growth in its first several weeks of operation.

Moberly Hospital Outlines Administrative Changes

In a move to streamline duties, the administration at Moberly Regional Medical Center has implemented some changes in its financial management structure.

Thomas A. Russell, former director of accounting, has assumed administrative responsibility for the departments of medical records, materials management and accounting. His new title is Assistant Administrator-Finance. "This organizational change assures that the departments are functioning smoothly as part of the related financial operations of the medical center," says Russell.

In turn, Ray Holm moves up from budget director to assume general responsibility for the accounting office as controller. "This will allow Russell more time to work with his departments, as well as look after the hospital's satellite clinic in Shelbina and the affiliated home medical equipment business," says Jim Culpepper, MRMC administrator. "We also want to look into some other outside ventures as well as continue assessment of our financial operation."

Russell, 28, joined the 120-bed Moberly hospital in June 1980 as accountant, became chief accountant a year later and was promoted to Director of Accounting in 1982. A native of Brainerd, Minnesota, he received his BS in business administration from Union College in Lincoln, Nebraska in 1980. He and his wife, the former Kimberly Howard of Minneapolis, live in Moberly with their two sons, Jonathan, 4, and David, seven months.

Holm, who has been with the medical center since March 1982, obtained his bachelor of arts degree at Pacific Union College and his master of business administration from the University of California-Riverside. He, wife Lynette, and children, Russell, 11, Rebecca, 9 and Brenda, 5, reside in Moberly.

Elementary Students Serve Banquet

By Mary Stimatze

The pupils of the Fredonia church school are singing at a formal banquet which they planned and served themselves on china, to about 80 guests, including many not of their church. It was a great learning experience as well as a lot of fun. The men and ladies of the church all co-operated in a wonderful way which insured a successful evening.

Grand Island Report

By Diane Wells

Pastor Wayne Gosling, and wife Shiela, were welcomed recently to the Grand Island District. In former pastorates, the Goslings have had excellent success in public evangelism. Shiela is a registered nurse at a local hospital. They enjoy swimming, horticulture, and their computer.

Recently, a baptism was held at Platte Valley Academy, when Mike and Rhonda Larsen were baptized into the Grand Island church. Mike plans to enter Union College to study for the ministry.

Diane Wells is the communication secretary for the Grand Island church.

5-Day Plan In Omaha

By Alice Hicks

Recently the Omaha Memorial church completed its first 5-Day Plan To Stop Smoking for 1985. Thirty six registered and 33 successfully completed the program. Graduation night was replete with enthusiastic testimonials from those who had kicked the habit. Many gifts have been made, including a computerized spirometer for the first-night lung tests.

The Pathology Department of the University of Nebraska Medical Center sent out a letter, urging all of its employees who smoke to enroll in the 5-Day Plan, to be held in April.

The Omaha church is building strong friendships in the community.

Alice Hicks is the communication secretary for the Omaha Memorial church.

Student Teaching At PVA

Joyce Beck, left, and Becki Dunnigan, right, did student teaching at Platte Valley Academy. Both attend Union College and will be graduating in May.

Joyce did teaching in the science department. She graduated from Dakota Adventist Academy, where she developed her talents for piano, sewing, hiking, cooking, and needle crafts. After graduating from Union, she plans to go on to graduate school with emphasis in biology or chemistry.

Becki helped teach religion and music. She attended Campion Academy, where she developed talents in playing the flute, swimming, weight lifting, crafts, drama, cooking, and mountain climbing. She also plans to go on to graduate school and hopes to become an associate pastor or hospital chaplain.

Historical Archives

By Teddric Mohr

Recently installed in the Communication office is a filing system for preserving historical information, pictures, and artifacts. Included is filing space for every church, school, and institution, including those no longer operating.

It is very discouraging to discover that we have very little historical data on file concerning the work of the church in Kansas and Nebraska. When the churches write for information, we usually have nothing to offer. We are attempting to correct that situation.

WE NEED YOUR HELP.

Please send us stories, pictures, programs, clippings, or any type of historical record. We will place them in our permanent file. We have equipment for photo copying any item so that the original can be returned, if you desire.

EXAMPLE:

Recently people in Seward were wanting information concerning an Adventist church which existed at one time in nearby Ruby. We had nothing.

SHINING EXAMPLE:

The Shaffer church is making plans to celebrate their Centennial on June 14 and 15. Fortunately they have a complete history of their 100 years of existence, including pictures, names and dates.

SHINING EXAMPLE:

Mrs. Verna Spears, of the Wichita First Church is compiling pictorial history of that church, and their church school. It is a monumental task, and the Wichita church is fortunate to have Mrs. Spears and her committee doing such an outstanding job.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

Right now we are needing information concerning the early days of the church in the Nebraska Panhandle, going all the way back to times when it was a part of the Wyoming Mission. Can you help us? WE NEED YOUR HELP! Let us hear from YOU!

Teddric Mohr, Communication Director, Kansas-Nebraska Conference.

Social Activities At Bellevue

By Sally J. Lupton

The Golden Hills church in Bellevue has provided, through its social committee, a varied and interesting program of family fun and fellowship. The schedule included a fall festival, complete with children's costumes and bobbing for apples; a special candle-light Communion service on New Year's eve for husbands and wives sharing in the foot washing; and in January, a talent program along with a spaghetti supper. The February program was built around the favorite table games of the various families.

Truly, they have proved that the family who plays together grows together.

New Workers

By W. C. Hatch

Three new pastors have been added to the pastoral staff of our conference in recent months.

We are happy to welcome Pastor and Mrs. Kenneth Swanson to our Aurora, Colorado church. The Swansons have come to us from the pastorate of the Linwood church in Spokane, Washington. Pastor Swanson began his ministry as an intern in this church in 1970. They have since served a number of congregations in the Northwest. Mrs. Swanson is a nurse and is a sister of Mrs. Gunnar Nelson, of Colorado Springs. They have two children, Karen Lynn, 17, and Robert, 11.

Serving the Florence and Canon City churches in Colorado are Pastor and Mrs. Jeff Fisher. They have come to us from the Bloomington District of churches in the Indiana Conference. Jeff began his ministry there in 1977. He is the son of Gerry and Sue Fisher, Director of the Pastor and Mrs. Ken Swanson, Karen and Robert.

Department of Stewardship in our conference. Jeff began his education at Union College and finished at the Seminary at Andrews University. Karen received her education at four Adventist colleges, including Newbold in England. The Fishers have two children, Amber Chel, 8, and Vanessa Evon, 4.

Our new intern serving the Casper and Douglas, Wyoming congregations is Pastor Tim Mayne and his wife Bonnie. Tim claims Grand Rapids, Michigan as his home and received his education at Adventist schools in Michigan. He served 1980-81, and also as a student colporteur as a student missionary in South Korea in the summer of 1983. Bonnie grew up in Indonesia, the daughter of missionary parents, and speaks fluent Indonesian. She came to Michigan when she was 16 and received a B. S. degree in nursing from Andrews University.

We welcome these pastors and their families to the great Rocky Mountain Conference and ask you to join them in their search for souls for the Kingdom of God.

Church Organized At Douglas

By Kimberly Roy

On October 27, 1984, after meeting for four years as a company, the Douglas, Wyoming congregation was officially organized as a church.

The rented sanctuary of the local Methodist church was filled to capacity on Sabbath, with guests from Casper and the surrounding area. Rocky Mountain Conference President Wm. C. Hatch, accompanied by his wife Glenna, was the featured speaker leading out in the communion service and the actual organization service.

The day was highlighted with special music from Douglas members and the Mountain Road Singers of Casper.

There were a total of 24 charter members that signed the church register. As the only Adventist Church in Converse County, the members recognize their responsibility in carrying forward the message of a soon coming Saviour. Several Bible Studies are being conducted and church members are optimistic about future growth.

Kimberly Roy is the communication secretary for the Douglas church.

"Amazing Discoveries" In Pueblo An "Amazing Success"

By John Martin

Elder Dale Brusett teamed up with nearly 100 members of the Pueblo Church during October and November for an "Amazing Discovery" series in which nearly 50 people took their stand for Jesus through baptism. On the final Sabbath when the baptismal certificates were given out the line of new members reached from the pulpit all the way down the center aisle and into the foyer.

It was a happy day and a high Sabbath for the Pueblo church to welcome this large group as new members in the church.

One example of outstanding service was the Halsey family who drove 180 miles each night for thirty nights to bring people to the lectures. At the end of the meetings the Halseys had driven 5400 miles, but felt it was well worth it in seeing some of their friends go into the waters for baptism.

January 6 through February 2, Elder Bill Zima, evangelist from the Mid-American Union Conference, teamed up with Pastor John Martin and the members of the Pueblo church to conduct a "Steps to Christ" crusade.

Elder Zima, Pastor Martin and others contacted 110 families in the city of Pueblo, asking the people if they would like Bible studies during the meeting. Thirty-five families responded in the affirmative and at the close of the meetings 26 people had united with the Pueblo church.

John Martin is the pastor of the Pueblo church.

Charter members of the new church organized in Douglas, Wyoming. On the back row are Pastor Joe Watts, Elder and Mrs. Wm. C. Hatch, Conference President, and associate pastor Tim Mayne.

Baptism At Correctional Facility

"We really couldn't have baptized Jody Benore without his help. He made all the arrangements for the baptism, including filling up the baptistry and cleaning up afterwards. He was extremely willing to help and actually made it all possible. We work well together," states Pastor Sylvester Case.

He is making reference to Catholic Chaplain Tony Uhel, affectionately known as Father Tony at the Buena Vista Correctional Facility.

Pastor Case is continuing services and Bible studies with a number of the inmates. Members of the Salida church join wholeheartedly in this special outreach program.

Pastor Sylvester Case baptizes Jody Benore at the Buena Vista Correctional Facility.

Pastor Case has the highest district of the Adventist churches in the great Rocky Mountain Conference. Two of his churches, Leadville and Fairplay, are more than 10,000 feet above sea level.

Denver South Pathfinders

By Teresa Doering

The Denver South Trailblazers are one of the most energetic Pathfinder clubs you will ever meet. Under the leadership of Kay Wakefield and 15 other staff members, the Trailblazers are busily involved in numerous church, community and Pathfinder activities.

In October the 55-member club collected 1,235 cans of food for distribution at Thanksgiving. The Trailblazers also donated several sacks of food items to the Community Services Center for their holiday food distribution.

During December the Trailblazers supported the Ingathering program at Denver South. Those members who braved the cold weather all four nights by caroling and soliciting were treated to a snowmobile outing in March.

In February the Denver South club put together an excellent vespers program for the community. Everyone enjoyed taking an imaginary trip through space to Destination Heaven.

The Trailblazers, like hundreds of clubs across North America, are working hard to prepare for camporee this coming summer. To help defray the expenses, the Pathfinders have been busy with various projects to raise money. They have organized rummage sales, car washes and bike-a-thons. At Christmas time they sold tree ornaments and candles. They also had a successful campaign selling Gold "C" books. Trailblazers went on the auction block for "Rent-a-Pathfinder" day and one Sunday was spent making and selling delicious pizzas. More projects are planned for Spring. In their spare time, when not raising money, you will find them distributing literature or spreading sunshine in the surrounding community nursing homes. This year the Denver South Trailblazers are also contributing their time and energies in assisting with the annual Channel 9 Health Fair, which helps thousands in the Denver area each year.

A big part of Pathfinder life still consists of crafts, honor work, backpacking and those unforgettable campouts in the beautiful Rocky Mountains. Even leaky tents during an unexpected rain shower don't dampen the Trailblazers' cheerful spirit. Another important part of their club routine includes devotions and prayer bands, to build each member spiritually.

During the 1985 Camporee at Camp Hale, the Denver South Pathfinders will be presenting a drill team demonstration. They are spending long hours in drill practice, striving for excellence in their performance. Denver South is very proud of its Pathfinder accomplishments and contributions to the church and community.

Food For Thanksgiving

On Halloween night the grade school children of Newcastle, Wyoming went door to door and collected canned food for Thanksgiving baskets using a novel idea. The children often find speaking difficult, so they made posters to hang around their necks which read, "Treat us to canned foods for Thanksgiving baskets". The signs did the trick! One student was given money by some parents who read her poster while sitting in their car at the curb.

New Workers In Rapid City-Hot Springs

By Ben J. Liebelt

Pastor Eugene B. Young and family have joined our conference to pastor the Rapid City-Hot Springs District. Intensive plans are already under way to strengthen God's work in various ways and the membership is enthusiastically giving their support.

Brother Young met his wife, Doris, in Germany while he was in the military service. They became converts to our message. They have three children, a married son, Detlof, two daughters, Sindy (pictured) living with them, and Betina in school in Ohio.

Pastor Eugene B. Young with his wife, Doris and daughter, Sindy.

They come to us from Ohio where their work was richly blessed in the last six years. Elder Young spent 20 years in the Air Force prior to his ministry. He graduated from Andrews with degrees in history, political science, and theology, and is working toward a masters in pastoral ministry.

We are glad to welcome them and pray the Lord's abundant blessings upon their ministry while with us.

Ben J. Liebelt, President, Dakota Conference.

Tithe Gain

Smiles come to the countenance of Ben J. Liebelt (right) as he is informed of a tithe gain for 1984 by assistant treasurer, Douglas Hilliard. A gain looked doubtful at the end of November but the December remittance revealed the largest ever with a 27% gain over December 1983. The gain for the year was 3%.

Smoking Manikins Visit Schools

By Geri Morris

The public schools of Delta County in western Colorado had two distinguished visitors during the month of January. These special guests at the Crawford, Cedaredge, Paonia, Hotchkiss and Delta elementary schools were Modern Millie and Smokey Sam.

At the suggestion of the county superintendent, third graders were selected as the target audience of a special program with the smoking manikins.

Gene Brooks, Wilfred Workman and Dr. Thayer Morris, assisted by Carl Acker, teacher of the Delta Adventist School when he was available, presented the program.

More than 600 students had the privilege of seeing and hearing a delightful presentation. The Principals were especially appreciative of the work of these men and gave them full support and co-operation as facts were given concerning the harmful effects of smoking.

Health Care Seminar

By Marvin Lowman

Approximately seventy-five health care professionals gathered at Dakota Adventist Academy on the weekend of February 8, 9, and 10. A larger attendance was expected but adverse weather conditions prevented some from traveling. This was the second annual such seminar conducted in the Dakota Conference.

The purpose of the Health Care Seminar is to bring those together who work in the health care field for a time of fellowship and instruction. Learning takes place from the lectures that are presented by invited guests and by free discussion among those present concerning how to make health care a caring ministry that can lead to opportunity for witness and outreach.

This year's speakers were Elvin Adams, a doctor of internal medicine practicing at Huguley Hospital in Ft. Worth, Texas, and Dr. Rudolf Klimes, Ph.D., of the General Conference Health and Temperance Department. Dr. Klimes is the executive director of the Adventist Health Network. Lamar Young, vice-president of Adventist Health Systems/EMA was also present to inform the group of recent developments in the Adventist Health System. Elder Ben Liebelt, President of the Dakota Conference and Elder Marvin Lowman, Health/Temperance Department Director of the Dakota Conference coordinated the weekend program.

While the topics presented by Dr. Adams and Dr. Klimes were different in their content, there was certainly a close relationship between what they said. Dr. Adams emphasized putting more of Christ into the health care professional's practice, and Dr. Klimes spoke of the care for people's spiritual needs while caring for their physical needs. Participants in the weekend seminar not only had the opportunity of fellowship and learning from the invited guest speakers, but also had the opportunity for small group activity and role play. Dr. Klimes certainly involved his listeners in the learning process.

Training Seminar For Church Leaders

By Marvin G. Lowman

The fourth annual Lay Evangelism Training Seminar began Tuesday evening, February 19 at Dakota Adventist Academy near Bismarck. Approximately 85 pastors and lay persons were present to learn how to more effectively reach outside of the Seventh-day Adventist church to touch the lives of people in their communities. Emphasis was given to two specialized outreach cares. Elder Robert Johnson, Personal Ministries and Sabbath School Director of the Potomac Conference, gave eight hours of instruction on ministry to the spiritually inactive. Elder Johnson said, "One has only to look at the statistics to quickly discover that spiritual inactivity among our churches is an alarming challenge." He then quoted statistics from the most recent summary of progress of the North American Division revealing that for every three people baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist church, one leaves the church. This does not even take into consideration those whose names are still on our church books but are actually inactive.

Elder Johnson then began to relate the various changes that individuals go into that eventually lead to their spiritual inactivity. Instructions were given on listening skills which would help other members to recognize warning signs and to communicate effectively to those experiencing difficulty in the church. Finally, he dealt with what keeps church members active, citing that among the most important factors are friendship and involvement in the church program. Actually very few individuals leave the church because they no longer believe the doctrines.

Luther Portrayed In Bismarck

Elder Keith Hassinger, Area Administrator of the Texas Conference, gave instruction on conducting the Revelation Seminar program. Revelation Seminars have become increasingly popular in the Dakota Conference as they have in many other areas. Step by step instructions were given on the preparation for the seminar, conducting the seminar itself, visitation, and getting decisions.

Reverend Mutzenberger, Professor of Sociology and campus pastor at Bismarck Junior College, presented several characters of the life of Martin Luther at the Bismarck Seventh-day Adventist Church January 19, 1985. Reverend Mutzenberger developed these sketches to commemorate the 500th anniversary of Luther's birth. The five segments heard covered the period of Luther's life from his decision to become a priest to his death bed statement. This re-enactment reminded us of the great courage of the reformers and the rich heritage we all can claim.

Kirksville Camp Meeting — Number 4

- Speakers, Stimulating Spiritually
- Sales Saving us Shekels
- Friends, Fellowship, Faith

Yes, the Iowa-Missouri Camp Meeting will be all these and much more. Those who attend will be blessed spiritually with excellent speakers, tapes and books. The social blessings of fellowship with old and new friends will make us anxious for the return of our best Friend.

The physical accommodations cannot be surpassed at any other camp meeting. The plentiful food, the attractive buildings and excellent recreational facilities make it more like "meeting" and less like "camp".

The programs and facilities make it an interesting and excellent opportunity for children and youth. A full slate of top activities is planned to inspire and hold the attention of the young and old alike.

Speakers Morris Venden and D. A. Delafield will each have a series to inspire our spiritual commitment: Elder Venden will have the evening meeting during the week. Elder Delafield will hold a series on the Spirit of Prophecy.

Morris Venden is a widely known speaker and writer. Presently pastor of the Union College church, he has been a guest speaker at many camp meetings and other occasions across North America and abroad.

Morris Venden

Elder Venden is the author of numerous articles and books. Included in the latter are: What Jesus Said About . . .; To Know God; Good News, Bad News; Pillars of Faith; Return of Elijah; Faith That Works; Salvation by Faith and Your Will and many more.

D. A. Delafield

For over 20 years D. A. Delafield has served the White Estate and is a lifetime trustee of its board. He is well qualified to speak and write on the historical and theological aspects of Ellen White's unique ministry in the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Pastor Delafield is the author of hundreds of articles and over 14 books. Those attending his series will be blessed.

Camp Meeting Music

Music is always a blessing at Camp Meeting. This year you will be more than pleased and inspired by the quality and frequency of excellent music.

Baptism At Branch Memorial

By Jean Pollard

Ruby Moyer was baptized recently by Kenneth Berry, pastor of the Branch Memorial church. Ruby had been searching for the truth and the right faith for many years when she saw the Revelation Seminar advertised in the local newspaper. Ruby, along with her son and her husband attended each night of the Seminar that was held by Pastor Berry. She received Bible studies and came to church several weeks before her baptism. Her son, Douglas, was baptized as a result of the Seminar, and, hopefully, before long, Ruby's husband will follow her.

Helen Stigge Receives Recognition

Burlington's Community Services center and its director, Helen Stigge, received area-wide recognition in January when Helen was selected the 1985 Outstanding Woman in the Area of Religion by the Burlington Junior Women's Club. There were also candidates in the fields of education, professional, volunteer work, homemaker, politics and business.

Helen Stigge

A newspaper notice about Helen, used with her picture, stated: "Nominated for her church work, Helen Marie Stigge is a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church where she is in charge of the Community Services Center. For many years she has supervised and helped deliver food, clothing, bedding and furniture to needy families, invalids, and shut-ins. She has served her church in many areas and is active in the cancer fund drive, March of Dimes, Heart, Kidney and Lung fund drives. Her hobbies include raising dogs and cats, sewing and making comforters and quilts for the Community Service Center."

Centerville, Iowa Church Sponsors Radio Program

By V. M. Cowan

The Centerville, Iowa church recently discussed different ways of reaching the people in the area. They had been sending several hundred Signs subscriptions and had sent Liberty magazine to a large number of people. Meetings had been held in the church and rented facilities with fair to poor attendance. It was decided to contact the local radio station, KCOG, and see if there was a time slot available. There was a time slot of fifteen minutes on Sunday mornings at 9:15.

Steve Vail, minister at Knoxville, had recently held evangelistic meetings at Centerville and he agreed to make tapes for the broadcast. The name of the program is Prophecy Countdown. It can be heard in adjoining counties in Iowa and Missouri.

Project: STEPS TO CHRIST

Project: Steps to Christ is a special laity task force project devoted exclusively to mass mailing to every home the opportunity of hearing and/or reading the message of present truth. On May 22, 1984 a mailing was sent to every home in 16 small cities in the Harlan district of western Iowa where Charles Jensen is pastor. To date 20 requests for Bible studies and/or classes have been received and 40 of our message-filled books written principally by Ellen White have been mailed.

Investment Project

By Mildred Adams

Enelicio Torres was born in Cuba in 1942 and emigrated to the United States in 1980. While still in Cuba he worked as an administrator for small cafeterias and restaurants for the Communist government. Enelicio first became acquainted with the Seventh-day Adventist Church in the midst of the Communist revolution through his former wife who had been a Seventh-day Adventist at one time. Her Christian family made a big impression on him.

Upon arriving in Kansas City he stayed with the Catholic church. Not long after he arrived here he met two of the Spanish church members, Pedro Perez and Dr. Hugo Velarde. Mr. Torres visited Central church but at that time the Spanish congregation had not been formed and he had difficulty understanding the language. He also had a lot of alcohol and smoking problems. In fact he had a wine bottle that measured approximately three feet tall. He had a bad auto accident in 1981 because of his drinking and he was embarrassed to attend church. Then in 1983 he was invited to meetings that were preached in Spanish by Pastor Ignacio Chaviano. There he met with old friends from the church and kept attending regularly. With the Lord's help and Pastor Chaviano, he eventually overcame his alcohol and smoking problems and was baptized June 23, 1984.

Bottle now holds investment pennies.

Now, instead of refilling his three-foot wine bottle with more wine he saves pennies and uses it for investment. He was able to bring in more than $50.00 for his investment project.

Mildred Adams is the communication secretary for the Central church.

Are You Saved Or Lost?

"How do you know you are saved? . . . or, how do you know you are lost?" These are the questions Margaret Davis, missionary and author, asked as she opened her talk on "Righteousness by Faith". We need to know how to live in Christ. In order to do this, we must fully surrender our heart before justification or pardon can take place. We need to open our soul to let Christ cleanse us.

All the power of heaven is available to us as long as we yield ourselves to Christ. So many of us remember the text that says, "Resist the devil, and he will flee from you" without remembering the first part of the text. James 4:7 says to "Submit yourselves therefore to God" then, "Resist the devil, and he will flee from you."

"What I've Learned Since Our Daughter Enrolled In an Adventist Elementary School."

Four months ago I kissed Kami good-bye as she left for our local Adventist school for the first time. "My big third grade girl," I beamed, giving her a squeeze to send her on her way. As I watched her round the corner, I whispered,

"Help her, Lord, to have a good year."

I was partially committed to the idea that our daughter belonged in an Adventist school. But what I've learned since the first of September has now completely convinced me that we've made the right decision.

"Our teachers must meet both General Conference and State educational standards."

My husband and I have really gained confidence in our Seventh-day Adventist schools. We've seen Christian philosophy in action. We've learned that Kami's teacher measures up to the standards set by both our church and the state.

But sometimes there's a big difference between fulfilling requirements and meeting the actual needs of youngsters. Kami's teacher does both!

I've gotten acquainted with Kami's teacher—and others at our school—and I've found her to be a Christian teacher in every sense of the word. She knows how to motivate. She leads instead of pushing.

Most importantly, she sets an example we're proud to have Kami follow. She makes the Christian lifestyle appealing and exciting. (Kami's already talking about wanting to become a Christian teacher!) Even her methods of discipline encourage our daughter to learn the true meaning of confession and forgiveness.

"My daughter is learning from her relationships as well as from her textbooks."

As a mother, I'm protective of my child. I want to know her friends. We feel fortunate that Kami is building relationships with classmates from families which teach values similar to our own.

Being a home room mother is enriching my life. Once a month I volunteer to assist with a school function or field trip. I'm helping with the school's program, and building friendships with students and teachers too. Attending our Home and School Association meetings gives me an opportunity to meet other parents and talk about our children.

Our school and church sponsor many weekend activities, so we know Kami has acceptable social programs in which she can participate. My husband and I join in as often as possible, providing refreshments, transportation, or supervision.

"It's our home, church, and school all working together!"

In just four months, our lives have grown to center around our hilltop church and school six days a week. It's a pattern we encourage—a natural blending of home, school, and church.

Last summer when we moved to Centerville, we looked at the options available for Kami's education. Some were much less expensive—in dollars. But we envisioned certain advantages of Valley View Adventist School. Now I've seen and learned them firsthand. And I think Adventist education is the best investment our family has ever made!

Revelation Seminar Held In Detroit Lakes

Florence Tovson and Walter Mercer.

In a special service they were baptized by Pastor Tim Pierce and were joined in marriage the following day.

Several others are continuing to study with the pastor.

By Toby Imler

The Detroit Lakes church recently completed a successful Revelation Seminar. The classes, taught by Pastor Tim Pierce, began in mid-October and ran through mid-December. Sixty people attended of which thirty-five were non-church members.

At the close of the seminar, two persons, Walter Mercer and Florence Tovson, made their decision for the Lord.

Toby Imler is the communication secretary for the Detroit Lakes church.

Family Is Focus Of Seminar

Pastor David Girardin uses a circular diagram to illustrate how as family members draw closer to Christ, the family circle automatically draws closer as well.

By Marilyn Saylor

"Developing Family Life and Worship" was the title of a seminar held at the Thief River Falls church. The seminar began with a presentation by Pastor Girardin on "Family Devotions". Opportunity was given for attendees to ask questions and to share family worship ideas that had worked for them.

The seminar continued on Sabbath morning as Pastor Girardin carried the theme into the worship hour with his sermon entitled, "The Family: A Biblical Model for Success".

After a potluck dinner, special guests, the James Thompson family from Warroad, members of the Church Of Jesus Christ Of Latter-Day Saints, presented "Family Home Evening," a weekly family get-together which they practice in their home. The family role-played an actual devotional on "Temperance" that had been conducted in their home. Mrs. Thompson demonstrated that effective use of questions and visual aids (from her family home library) can elicit interest and participation from all family members. Once again, a question and answer period yielded an exciting exchange of ideas.

A candlelight communion service and agape feast concluded the seminar.

Using a family-centered approach, Pastor Girardin invited the heads of households to serve the members of their families not only during the communion service, but also while fulfilling their priestly duties in their homes.

Clothing Giveaway

By Nellie Harris

The February 10 clothing giveaway at Minneapolis First Church consisted of 844 articles, which included 808 items of clothing, 30 coats, and a half dozen pairs of shoes. People took home 95 pieces of literature. Fifty-seven people came by the check-out tables to request clothes that actually went to help 176 people. Many times a lady would get clothes for her whole family. Almost two dozen people filled out survey sheets.

Advertisements for this giveaway were reportedly heard on Channel 5 television and on KTIS radio and many heard about it from friends.

Nine church members helped during the giveaway under Nellie Harris' direction.

Chester H. Damron of Berrien Springs, Michigan, shared in the limelight on February 9 with Danielle Nichole Pichette at the combined church service of the Dodge Center, Rochester and Owatonna churches. How? Pastor Damron was the guest speaker for the education weekend sponsored by the Home and School Association of Greene Valley school, and also officiated at the dedication of Danielle who is the daughter of Pastor Ray and Evonne Pichette. Ray is pastor of the Dodge Center, Owatonna and Faribault churches.

It was a solemn and delightful service as Pastor Damron challenged Ray and Yvonne, Bruce and Barbara Lee, maternal grandparents, and church members as they help to guide Danielle as she grows for Jesus.

Clitherall News

By Christine Petersen

On February 19 Curt Mecklenburg, member of the Clitherall church, began a 5-Day Plan to Stop Smoking at the Fergus Falls State Hospital for the community. Seven attended with five gaining the victory over the tobacco habit.

On Tuesday, February 26, a potluck supper was held at the Clitherall church school to welcome their new pastor and his wife, Don and Ellen Thompson, and children Margaret and Melinda. A gift of a basket of food was presented to the Thompson family from the Clitherall members. Pastor Thompson also serves the Fergus Falls and the Artichoke churches.

Investment Sale A Success

By Marilyne Saylor

The crafts table was particularly enticing for the church school children.

What started out as a one-time project five years ago has turned into an annual event at the Thief River Falls church. The fall Investment Sale has more than quadrupled the church's investment income. Instigator and organizer of the sale, Maude Bucholz, says, "It takes all the church members pitching in to make it work. Some bring baked goods, crafts, quilts, canned goods or rummage sale items. We usually have a nice variety, but the biggest seller seems to be homemade bread and rolls."

Mrs. Bucholz and Mrs. Mae Howes, Community Services director, view the event as an opportunity to extend a hospitable welcome to the community.

And what a welcome community members receive when they step through the doors of the church school where the sale is held! They are greeted with a warm smile and enveloped in the delicious aromas of freshly baked pies and doughnuts. They are then offered free doughnut holes and barley coffee. It is a common sight to see several neighbors sitting and chatting amiably over their "coffee".

It is not without effort that this welcome environment exists. Myra Lindholm, Vivian Farbo, Emma Paulson, Ruth Johnson, Jeanette

Davidson, Suzanne Meekma, Mae Howes and Maude Bucholz, with her daughters Kathy Wangness and Delores Kolden are up early to begin the baking and to staff the premises.

The Investment sale also allows for a strong statement to be made about Seventh-day Adventist beliefs. There is an attractive display of literature available free of charge for those interested. There are foods such as canned soups, chili and fresh garden produce to highlight the health message and a vegetarian diet. There are items distributed through the Community Services Center for those who demonstrate need. And there is an abundance of warmth and caring, living proof that the dollars raised are merely peripheral to fulfilling the Master's command "to love one another" (John 15:17) for it is out of love that we have Investment in the first place, isn't it?

Children Cheer Senior Citizens

By Jim Cook

The Treble Clef Children of the Maple Plain church consist of a group of boys and girls ranging from 5 to 10 years of age. The group was organized in 1982 for the purpose of encouraging those who are shut in, and so far have presented a patriotic program and two Christmas programs under the direction of Doris Johnson, Alvina Cook and Kathy Olson. This poem written by a 9-year-old boy reflects the desire of the Treble Clef Children: "Sing a little song today, T'will give us all great pleasure, The joy that music gives to us, No one can measure."

New Year's Eve Communion Service

By Etta R. Collins

While the secular world celebrated the opening of a new year at the stroke of midnight with cheers and toasts of alcoholic beverages; the members of Community church in Denver, Colorado celebrated at sunset with hope in their hearts of the soon coming savior, Jesus Christ.

The occasion was marked by songs of praise, scripture reading and prayer, special music, a film, foot washing service and communion, and testimonies.

Elder G. A. Bryant expounded on the purpose of this most sacred ceremony. He said, "As Christ has humbled himself before us; we must humble ourselves before each other. The only way we will succeed is in the unity of faith."

The film added a special touch dramatically driving home the point that God so loved the world by giving his own son to save mankind. In the feature, the father saved the lives of a train filled with passengers, while letting his son perish before his eyes.

Elder Bryant reminisced on four points he stressed last year, he wanted the church to continue to grow in 1985. These were for unity, love, an evangelistic spirit, and faithfulness. However, he said, the greatest point of growth he wants to see is in soul winning.

Searchers Induct Twelve

By Etta R. Collins

While it was snowing and the temperature had fallen to four below zero, our hearts were warmed as we witnessed the candlelight induction of 12 members into the Community Searchers "Andaliwa" (Be Ready) Pathfinder Club in Denver, Colorado.

Pathfinder leader Vina Cole and assistant Norvall Stovall explained the meaning of the different colored candles before lighting them. Other candles were lit by Pathfinder members and vows and pledges were given and accepted.

Each candidate was presented a candle and inducted into their perspective division. They were welcomed with the right hand of fellowship by the leader and Pathfinder members, and presented to the church.

In ancient times it was customary for runners to overcome many obstacles and run long gruelling miles to win a race. The winner received only a crown made of leaves.

Ernest Williams, Investment superintendent of Community Sabbath School in Denver, Colorado decided his runner would receive monies to be sent to the mission field after overcoming many obstacles on his planned path.

At the end of the Investment year, his runner was rewarded with $1,041.98, exceeding the $900 goal set at the beginning of the year.

Investment funds have played a vital role in outreach programs in foreign lands as well as in America since the program was established by the General Conference in 1925.

The last Investment Sabbath was also blessed with the presence of many visitors. After the superintendent announced the grand total for the year, where it was going, and what the monies would help to accomplish, a visitor contributed $25. Later, during the divine service, that visitor accepted Jesus Christ as his personal savior.

News From Linwood

Senior Citizen Day A Success

On December 1, 1984, our senior citizens, under the direction of Sister Daisy Timmons, opened Sabbath School. Prayer was given by Brother Clyde Johnson. The secretary, Sister Louise Miller, brought us up to date on the Sabbath School activities. Oh what a beautiful mission story given by Sister Sylvia Tyson in the form of a personal testimony. Sister Tyson stated how God has blessed her to have the Sabbath off as well as getting a promotion on her job. Her job has proved to be a blessing and she is giving God all the glory. Brother Cecil Johnson offered the teacher's prayer and Elder Vivian Roofoe taught the Sabbath School. He made it clear that Jesus can cleanse and justify us and make us free.

At the eleven o'clock hour, Elder W. S. Lee from Lincoln, Nebraska, told how we should exalt one another and never condemn anyone. He said that forgiveness is what keeps people together and that we should always keep the spirit of forgiveness alive. There is no need for us to pray if we cannot forgive one another. Aren't you glad that we serve such a God that can forgive completely? Thanks to Elder Lee for such a beautiful sermon.

Dinner was served for all senior citizens. What a beautiful day it was as the senior citizens showed how by grace, God can use them in a mighty way.

New Choir Robes

After many unsuccessful attempts to purchase new robes, the Linwood Choir finally put together a plan that seemed to have some merit. In April, 1983, each member pledged to purchase one robe and donate it to the church as a testimony of their love for the Lord and willingness to serve Him. The Lord blessed our efforts with an amount exceeding two-thirds of the total cost of the robes; closer than we had ever been before, but still we had not reached our goal. It was then that we thought of sponsoring a concert that would serve a two-fold purpose; one, that we might be able to raise the balance of what was needed to purchase our robes; and two, that it would afford us the opportunity to fellowship with other churches in our denomination and share our faith with those not of our denomination.

The concert was a tremendous success and many churches were represented. All participants arrived on time and in high spirits, which was a blessing in itself. Special selections were rendered by Earlene Wells and Leroy and Genoise Hampton from Beacon Light; Roosevelt Williams from Maranatha; the Bethel Youth Choir; the Topeka Choir; the Cleveland Avenue Baptist Choir; the Hancock Singers; the Greenwood Baptist Church Choir; soloists from each of the choirs and the Ebony Singers.

The singing was superb, the fellowship was uplifting and the offering was substantial; over $400 was raised. The choir would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who gave of their time and means to make our concert a success, and the purchase of our new robes a reality.

Though we have been without robes for some time, it has not dampened our desire or spirits to sing for the Lord. Our senior choir has been busy over the past few years; busy growing from 12 to 40 members; busy giving concerts at Ward Chapel (the third year in succession), concerts in Atchison, St. Joseph, Maranatha, Prison Ministries, the Gladstone church, Camp Shady Hill, the Central AY Federation, and we have just been selected to be one of the musical participants in the 1985 General Conference Session to be held in New Orleans in June. The Lord is blessing in our behalf and we humbly solicit your prayers that our goal will always be to glorify God in our music ministry.

Recognition Of Special Achievements

Congratulations are in order!!!

Linwood Boulevard has many outstanding scholars at Cedarvale Junior Academy. Cedarvale has two special honor groups—The Faculty List and the Honor Roll. Those students who make the Faculty List earn straight "A's" in all their basic subjects. Eric Taylor was blessed to make the Faculty List for the first quarter of the 1984-85 school year.

The Honor Roll students are made up of those who earn a "B" average in all their basic subjects. Linwood's first quarter Honor Roll students were: Regina Clark, George Clay, Evelyn Fordham, Furman Fordham, Walter Fordham, III, Shareese Green and Mari McRoy.

We know these students have worked very hard and spent much time in prayer; we are extremely proud of them. We encourage them to always remember that all wisdom comes from God, and we pray that they will devote the wisdom they have been blessed with to help bring about the soon coming of Jesus Christ. Always let Christ use you, young people, and He will continue to bless the intellectual powers that you have.

Annual Meeting Of Credit Union

Colleen Gilbert receives a plaque for her services to Credit Union.

The 1985 Annual Meeting of the Lincoln SDA Credit Union was held Sunday, February 3, 1985 at the Mid-America Headquarters, Lincoln, Nebraska. Over 100 members were in attendance. Music was provided by Steve Hubbard and associates during the registration period. Dean Hillhouse, president, conducted the business meeting during which time Eugene Schander and Dorothy Aikman were elected to the Credit Committee. Colleen Gilbert was presented with a plaque honoring her for her devoted services as a manager, Board member and loyal member since 1966. All members enjoyed a social hour after the business meeting. Pat Parmele was in charge of refreshments.

Headquarters Properties Sold For $14 Million

Signing the $14 million contract on March 1 to sell denominational headquarters in Takoma Park are, from left: D. W. Holbrook, president of Home Study International; Neal C. Wilson, president of the General Conference Corporation; Alva R. Appel, assistant corporation secretary, who attested Neal C. Wilson's signature; and K. J. Mittleider, chairman of the board of the Review and Herald Publishing Association.

Representatives of the General Conference, the Review and Herald Publishing Association and Home Study International on March 1 signed a $14 million contract to sell the church's headquarters complex in Takoma Park to Roberts, Munz and Associates, an investment partnership owned by the principals of The Development Group of Laurel, Md.

"In short, the contract includes a three-phase schedule of property transfers and payments with church entities receiving $10 million of the purchase price by July 1, 1986, the estimated date of groundbreaking of the new General Conference complex on a 30-acre site in suburban Maryland," reported General Conference Treasurer Lance L. Butler.

"Key dates in the contract are July 15, 1985, when an inspection period ends and during which the buyer or seller can terminate the contract," Butler explained. "Then comes the Phase I closing of November 1, 1985, when the Review and Herald building is transferred in exchange for $4 million. On July 1, 1986, Phase II will see the General Conference North building and the HSI property transferred in exchange for $6 million. Finally, in the Phase III transfer on March 1, 1988, the General Conference Central and South buildings and the Review and Herald parking lot will be signed over in exchange for the final $4 million.

"The contract is the result of negotiations over nearly nine months," Butler added. "Since we will transfer much of the property before we actually move into the new complex, the contract contains leaseback provisions at very favorable rates so the General Conference can operate at its current location while using the interest to pay leaseback fees and the sales proceeds to begin development of the new location."

The General Conference Corporation Board and the General Conference Committee approved the sale in special meetings on February 26.

In response to questions at the General Conference Committee, Butler said the new 250,000 square-foot General Conference office complex will cost an estimated $17 million, of which about $2 million will cover consultation fees, site development and landscaping.

Butler said the new office building will save approximately $1 million yearly in operating expenses and will permit the General Conference staff to operate more efficiently and safely within one basic structure, instead of five separate buildings.

General Conference President Neal C. Wilson said the new building will give the church excellent exposure to the public on a major thoroughfare and will protect the church's investment with an esthetically attractive but economical office building situated in a prime location.

Wilson said the move represents the end of an era. The church's world headquarters has been in Takoma Park since 1903, when it was moved from Battle Creek, Michigan.

Coming in the ADVENTIST REVIEW

The April 18 Adventist Review will contain a cluster of three articles on marriage, affirming the editors' belief in strong Adventist homes and families.

Why local Adventist churches should become involved in programs that will strengthen the marriages of their members is the topic of an article by Chaplain and Mrs. Al Brendel, from the Charles F. Kettering Memorial Hospital in Ohio. The article will include concrete suggestions for pastors and church members.

Elder and Mrs. Darold Bigger, of the Walla Walla College church in Washington, describe some of the challenges of marriage today and ways to meet them. And in the third article of the series, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Truitt, of Turlock, California, give counsel on improving the husband-wife relationship through communication.

Next Month in SIGNS

One year after the merger of These Times with Signs of the Times, what will you (and those you sponsor) find in the pages of the new Signs for April?

Here's a partial line-up:

"The Sabbath—A Sign of Belonging." Seven reasons why the Sabbath hours are designed to meet our deepest human needs for acceptance and belonging.

"Constitutional Convention: A Trip Into the Unknown." Thirty-two states—only two short of the required number—have called for a convention to propose amendments to the nation's highest law. Many constitutional scholars are worried that what happened in 1787 could happen again.

"Whistle Snapper's Easter." A story that will delight you and prove it's true that "a little child shall lead them".

"Salvation—Easy or Difficult?" Is it hard to be saved and easy to be lost? Or is it the other way around?

"Laughter—Nature's Doctor." Some hospitals are teaming up their sophisticated medical technology with an old-fashioned remedy. It works, and it's free!

"The Bridge Makes a Way Back." An unusual "family" on a Kentucky farm has given more than 150 troubled young people a new drug-free life.

Remember, you get all this and more every month all year for only $6.50. Read the new Signs and send subscriptions to relatives, friends, and neighbors. You can't afford not to!

VIBRANT LIFE

Vibrant Life, the denomination's "new" family health journal, has experienced a new burst of new life not only in its attractive new format but also in its circulation. After only two issues the journal has a 41.3 percent increase in circulation over its predecessor, Your Life and Health. When asked where the biggest increases have come, editor Ralph Blodgett responded, "one of the significant factors in this dramatic increase has been our members who are using Vibrant Life as an entering wedge to introduce their friends to our Adventist lifestyle."

Wheelchairs Needed For Camporee

Those unused wheelchairs stored in your attic or garage are needed for handicapped awareness exercises scheduled during the North American Pathfinder Camporee to be held in Vail, Colorado this summer.

According to Frank Peterson, coordinator of the handicapped activities, 12 folding wheelchairs are needed to allow Pathfinders to participate in a wheelchair basketball game, one of several activities provided for handicapped awareness.

Peterson adds that donors will receive a tax-deductible receipt from Christian Record Braille Foundation, who will also pay the postage for shipping to Lincoln. The wheelchairs are needed by July 1 and cannot be returned.

Adventist Girl Honored By Congress

Diana Green, a Seventh-day Adventist missionary's daughter and a recent Home Study International high school graduate, was honored by Congress as Outstanding Graduate of the Year at a special reception in the Mike Mansfield room of the United States Capitol Building. More than 50 U.S. schools participated in the competition sponsored by the National Home Study Council. From 70 candidates, the judges selected 12 candidates, topped by HSI's Diana Green. Two dozen Congressmen and eleven Senators gathered with the heads of many well-known national education associations and school leaders to honor the winners.

Even though Diana's parents are currently teaching at the Adventist University in Kenya, her mother flew in to attend the reception. Diana, now a freshman at Southern College of Seventh-day Adventists in Collegedale, Tennessee, began her education with HSI studying in such places as Jordan, Ethiopia, Lebanon, Cyprus, Austria, Kenya, and the United States. She occasionally attended resident church schools, but finished her secondary career graduating from HSI.

Dianna completely won the hearts of the audience attending the Capitol reception with her refreshing lack of pretension, her genuine smile, and lively wit. Said a gruff, but famous Senator, "She's a jewel. I wish she were one of my constituents." D. W. Holbrook, president of HSI, warned the audience that Diana Green was only the first in a long line of HSI winners that they would be seeing in the future. Students like Diana Green justify Home Study International's reputation for thoroughness and high standards. One of the best known correspondence schools in the nation, HSI's diploma is fully recognized and accepted. General Conference Session

All Eyes South!

There is hardly a Seventh-day Adventist in the world who will have missed hearing or reading about the coming momentous event in New Orleans, Louisiana, USA. Perhaps the biggest single audience ever addressed by SDA speakers—world Adventism's ablest and strongest—will be assembled. The Louisiana Superdome, seating 95,000, is the world's largest indoor auditorium. The facilities: meeting rooms, hotels, motels, RV parks, and campgrounds are the most commodious ever to be experienced at a General Conference session and World Ministers Council! It is expected that Adventist ministers, leading lay persons, retirees, institutional leaders, and all who are connected with the ongoing progress of the church, will converge on New Orleans. The largest crowds will be present on the two Sabbaths, June 29, and July 6 and will probably exceed 30,000 people!

Exhibits in the Superdome will feature scores of the church's departments, institutions and entities including a major first-time-ever exhibit by the Adventist artists. The 54th General Conference Session is the quinquennial meeting of the world church. The more than 2,400 delegates representing all territories of the worldwide church will receive reports and elect world leadership.

Preceding the 54th General Conference session the church will stage its traditional World Ministers Council. Beginning Sunday night, June 23 in the Superdome, ten great meetings will set forth the work of the minister in his personal life, message, and mission. The morning and evening meetings will feature the most capable and powerful speakers and messages. Monday through Wednesday afternoons, plus Thursday morning will feature a most unique offering, and a first for councils such as this. In 36 dynamic seminars a wide spectrum of interest areas and professional and personal growth topics will be offered as mini-courses. Andrews University's CCEM (Center of Continuing Education for Ministers) will provide Continuing Education Units of credit for all who register and meet the requirements. A registrant can take up to four full seminars and receive two full CCEM units of credit. There will be five areas of emphasis: (1) evangelism, (2) management and administration, (3) pastoral ministry, (4) minister's personal life, (5) theology.

In addition to addressing the needs of all classes in the church's ministerial work force, these seminars will be of keen interest to local church lay leaders, denominational retirees, and other persons who seek personal growth and professional improvement.

For a full list and registration details, please write to Ministerial Continuing Education, 6840 Eastern Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20012 (202) 722-6521. If you desire information on housing in New Orleans, or tickets for the special vegetarian meals which will be served in the Superdome, please state this when writing. If you desire to register for the seminars please do so early by mail. Seminars which fill to capacity will be closed.

In addition to the New Orleans Super Day Camp, five North American Division camps will offer live-in experiences with a variety of traditional and specialized camping and educational activities.

Details about all camps, including costs and registration procedures are available from NAD Youth Ministries, 6840 Eastern Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20012, USA. Steeles To Operate AWR-Asia

You've seen in the Review and previous issues of the Outlook mention of the special project being supported in our worldwide churches during this General Conference Session year. The project is a new Adventist World Radio station to be located on the island of Guam.

Allen and Andrea Steele, who pioneered Adventist World Radio in 1971 on leased time in Lisbon, Portugal, have been asked to be manager and program director, respectively, of the new station. Student missionaries will be sought from the Pacific Ocean and other colleges, especially those in the Far Eastern Division, to help man the station on a year's rotating basis.

Adventist World Radio-Asia from Guam will reach the most densely populated area of the world and broadcast in 20-25 more languages sometime during the week. Our station will be on the air 24 hours daily. Research has begun on the various cultures to assure our broadcasting to the felt needs of the people from our wealth of Bible knowledge, health and lifestyle principles, educational abilities, and musical talents.

From the tiny Pacific island of Guam we can broadcast God's endtime message to more than half the world's population—2.5 billion people. Using radio waves which travel at the same speed of light, we can reach into the vast Asian continent, cover all the little volcanic and atoll islands of the sea, and go beyond Australia.

Because Guam is an American territory, we will not have the broadcasting problems which we have encountered in some other locations—especially in Europe and Africa.

Maternal-Child Health Program

During January, ADRA (Adventist Development and Relief Agency) began two relief programs for drought-stricken Sudan and Ethiopia.

ADRA's executive director, R. R. Drachenberg, and its Africa Bureau director, William H. Jenson, have gone to Khartoum, Sudan, to begin operation of a maternal-child health care program for 75,000 that will be under the direction of David Taylor.

Funded by USAID, the program will concentrate on catching malnutrition at the critical point for the child, between 0 and 5 years of age. Besides children, pregnant and nursing mothers will receive food supplements and nutrition education.

Seeds For 10,000 Gardens

Six thousand pounds of seeds, enough to plant 10,000 gardens, were airlifted to Ethiopia on January 28. The vegetable seeds—beans, carrots, cabbage, tomatoes, and others—form part of the Ethiopian diet and were used for an agricultural seminar conducted March 25 to April 4 in southern Ethiopia. The seminar trained 40 Ethiopians in agricultural methods that they can in turn teach people in their villages.

Funded by Dutch Inter-church Aid, the 11-day seminar emphasizes ways to minimize the effects of drought and increase yield. The seeds were donated by the Burpee and Harris seed companies.

GOD'S GIVING SYSTEM

"A... Answer had better know the purposes of providence that the world... has. (John 1:9) Head knowledge for Harry Paul Miller in... when Oregon. To be honest, he would know which trees to cut... and which to leave, or how to prepare the area for future growth... and that would leave a heritage of forests accessible for our... children."

"As all very wise men, the way God has set things up, biology—the... the naturally balanced life cycle of nature—more of God's systems... is, gets to us. That and animal life goes systematically to each... other for the benefit of all."

"And that's what systematic growth is all about, whether it's in... the forests, on the farm, or in the church. Our church's systematic... Personal Giving Plan has been set up to mirror God's natural... giving system. We have the opportunity to see and place in our... church's budget."

"After all, if God gives us an opportunity, shouldn't we do the... same for him?"

You May Be the Only Contact

Yes, you may be the only Christian some will ever come in contact with. We are told that God has chosen to use human agencies for finishing His work on earth. For over 110 years SIGNS OF THE TIMES has been an integral part of that finishing work.

Over the years millions have been contacted through the ministry of SIGNS. Thousands have been converted whose first real contact with God's saving messages was through SIGNS.

Each issue of SIGNS contains sensible, well-written articles, in addition to award-winning-caliber illustrations and photographs.

This year there is an added bonus. The price for SIGNS remains at last year's level. Only $6.50 U.S. for single subscriptions. Add $1.50 U.S. for outside U.S.

You may order through your personal ministries secretary, or your ABC, or use the handy order form below.
