Happy Plus Camp Mongolia

With the hard work of Mrs. Cleidi Kuhn, the Mongolia Mission Field Family and Women Ministries Director (WM / FM), the idea of Mrs. Young Ja Nam, previous Northern Asia-Pacific Division (NSD) WM / FM director, for the "Happy Plus Seminar" for Mongolia came to fruition. On June 29 to July 2, 165 young women, pastors and church leaders came together from all over Mongolia at the Khairt Khaan campground just an hour outside of Ulaanbatar.

Inspired by the clean air and the awesome beauty of the steppe lands around, the energy in the camp was tremendous. The devotionals conducted by Dr. Chek Yat Phoon led them to think about the choices they faced throughout life. Lessons were drawn from the story of Elijah. Building on this concept of the power of choice, the two speakers, Drs. Chek Yat and Sally Phoon explored with the group God's original plan for marriage and how sin has cast a curse on this institution set up by God.

Happy People at the Happy Plus Camp

Other seminars included discussions on love, dating and courtship, the 10 steps in the path to intimacy, self-esteem and sexual abuse. The campers appreciated the 10 clear steps that they could easily remember, with the emphasis of keeping their purity until they shared intimacy with the partner that God intended for them. Some were sorry that most of the attendees were women because they felt that the young men and husbands needed to hear these messages also. Mongolian culture pays very little respect to women who are considered as the "soup makers" for the family. Participants shared how respect and courtesy are practiced only before the wedding.

Domestic violence and sexual abuse are rampant in Mongolian homes. Alcohol is often used as an excuse. As we brought up the issue of sexual abuse, a number of lawyers in the group talked about Mongolian laws and policies for the protection of women and children. Some campers shared that this was the first time that sexuality was discussed so openly and the information was welcomed. Requests were made for more training seminars and materials in the area of Christian family practices, especially premarital training, for the many young people in the congregations. The Mongolia Mission directors are putting the translation of materials on these topics among their top priorities. Thus far Mrs. Cleidi Kuhn has supervised the completion of the translation of the curriculum framework for Human Sexuality published by the General Conference (GC) Family Ministries Department as well as all the brochures on abuse put out by GC Women Ministries Department. It is hoped that funding from the GC and Division levels will help to expedite the publication of Mongolian materials to meet this crying need of our young people in Mongolia.

North Korean Opening

“We have been praying for the work in North Korea for over fifty years and we are thankful that the Lord has heard our prayers,” so said Dr. Jairyong Lee, President

of NSD. In June 2006 Dr. Lee accompanied by Pastor Kim Dae Sung, Director of the SS/PM Department at NSD and Pastor Hong Myong Kwan, KUC President, embarked on a four day trip to Pyongyang City, North Korea. They were the leaders of a small delegation that had been invited by the North Korean government to discuss potential joint projects. During their visit they had the opportunity to talk to the North Korean Authorities several times and made a mutual agreement to modernize and upgrade medical and health services. Among other things they also had the opportunity to visit a Christian Church in Pyongyang city and enjoyed the fellowship and time they had to encourage the believers there. “We are thankful for the hand of Providence that has opened the door for the Northern Asia-Pacific Division and the North Korean Government to develop a working relationship that may prove a blessing to the people of our neighboring country,” Dr. Lee concluded.

NSD Midyear Committee

This year's Northern Asia-Pacific Midyear Committee Meeting, chaired by Dr. Jairyong Lee, was held at Shonan Village Center in Kanagawa, Japan on May 10 and 11, 2006. With attendees from all over the Division territory as well as the GC, the theme for this year's committee was Tell the World. Each morning the devotional was presented by Paul Kotanko, new director of the Mongolian Mission Field. After the initial voting of the committee members for the various committees, twelve guidelines were reaffirmed as the Mission Statement of the Northern Asia Pacific Division. Among the reports that were accepted and recorded were the President's report, the Secretary's report, the Treasurer's report, the Connecting with Jesus – Global Distribution Project report, the Hope Channel Asia report, ADRA Asia report, the PMM report and English Church Project report.

PMM Church Visits

Following the NSD Midyear committee meetings, Dr. Lee, president of the Northern Asia-Pacific Division, Pastor Kwon, NSD Pioneer Mission Movement coordinator and other delegates visited several PMM churches in Japan. They visited Kinshicho church (Kim, YongHun, Second Group PMM), Maebashi church (Kang, HyunJung, Third Group PMM), Seto church (Song, EulSub, Second Group of PMM), Biwako church (Ahn, HaeSoo, Third Group PMM), Oita church (Ghil, ChulJong, Third Group of PMM), and Saga church

(Lim, GeumSik, First Group of PMM). At each church they heard what that particular church was doing within the community. The delegates were also made aware of the expectations the PMM pastors had of the church organization and where they needed support. Paul Song, NSD media center coordinator recorded interviews with the pastor for us in an upcoming PMM report. The leaders used the time to encourage the PMM pastors who are working for God in a foreign country.

I-Love-To-Listen Day

The very first day of the NSD Women Ministries Advisory meetings, May 16, coincided with the celebration of I-love-to-listen Day. This was to highlight the importance of an imperative skill in the communication process—the ability to listen and understand. With the distractions of the internet, television and other types of media, this skill is clearly on the decline.

The audience included numerous women leader representatives from Japan, China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Mongolia, Brazil and Korea. Included in the audience were the NSD workers who originate from places like the USA, Peru, Singapore, South Africa and the Philippines in addition to the above mentioned countries.

Mrs. Raquel Arrais, associate Women Ministries director from the General Conference began our worship by pointing us to a message that God wants us to hear in Isaiah 51. Verse 1 begins with the word, LISTEN. God wants us to hear the good news of His love for us as a loving Father, the provider of hope and salvation.

After worship, each person present received a special button with the words, “I Love to Listen Day” serving as a reminder for them to connect with someone at work and really listen with understanding. They were also given the assignment of listening to their family members intently when they went home.

It is hoped that we will continue celebrating this day and be aware of the importance of listening in cultivating friendships and building relationships in the family, the church, the workplace and society.

Taiwan Adventist College 55th Anniversary

Taiwan Adventist College (TAC) celebrated her 55th year of providing Seventh-day Adventist Christian education in Taiwan on April 21-23, 2006. On Friday morning, the weekend of celebration started with the dedication of two new buildings on the campus: the House of Cedar and the Elijah House. Both the House of Cedar and Elijah House were built from insurance compensation for damage caused by the typhoon.

The House of Cedar is designed to house single faculty members or couples without children. It was named the House of Cedar because most of the holy structures of the temple of God were built with cedar wood according to Dr Alice Magarang, president of TAC. The text in the Bible says, “The righteous will flourish like a palm tree, they will grow like a cedar of Lebanon (Ps 92:12)” and Dr Magarang said that she hoped all in the school would grow like the cedars.

The second building to be dedicated was the Elijah House. It resembles a log cabin and will house the administration. The big porch at the back of the building will be used as a choir or orchestra loft and the whole area was designed as a mini open air theatre for musical concerts. On Sabbath evening before sunset, the College wind orchestra gave a performance of sacred music at the theatre to all the Taiwan Adventist College faculty and students.

On Sunday, the Students’ Center was officially declared open by Elder James Wu, the president of the Chinese Union Mission after a wonderful ceremony including a ribbon cutting by special invited guests who include the mayor of Yu Chih town. Speeches were made by the president of the Teachers and Parents Association as well as the mayor of the town. The devotion was brought by Dr. Chek Yat Phoon, the NSD education director. The ceremony ended with musical items presented by the academy and college students and special musical groups from other schools in the vicinity. A jumble sale was held in front Elijah House and the new Students’ Center. It was indeed a day of rejoicing for all administrators, students, teachers, parents and alumni.

AAA visits SU and SNHC

Sahmyook Nursing and Health College (SNHC) and also Sahmyook University (SU) were recommended to be granted an extension of their accreditation for 5 years each (the maximum accreditation period awarded) by the Accrediting Association of Seventh-day Adventist Schools, Colleges and Universities (AAA) team who visited the schools from May 1-3 and May 4-8, respectively.

An eight member team, chaired by Dr. John Fowler, associate education director of the GC, visited SNHC in May. The rest of the team members were: Dr. Chek Yat Phoon (secretary), NSD education director, Dr. Donald Sahly, president of Griggs University, USA, Dr. Isao Ueda, Saniku Gakuin College, Japan, Dr. Kwang Soo Suh, president of SU, Dr. Barbara Choi, NSD Health Ministries director and also professor of Hong Kong Adventist College, Elder Don Upson, NSD treasurer, and Elder Chang Kuen Jung, KUC education director.

SNHC is a junior college which works very closely with the Korean Union Conference and the Seoul Adventist Hospital. It is located on the campus adjacent to the hospital. The recommendation of the AAA team included the approval of all the 5 programs of the college: nursing, dental hygiene, cosmetology, health and social welfare and medical information systems.

After the evaluation and report to SNHC the team reorganized for the evaluation of Sahmyook University. Dr. Dae Yun Cho, president of SNHC, Dr. Garland Dulan, education director of the General Conference (GC), Dr. Nikolaus Satelmajer, GC Associate Ministerial Association Secretary and editor of Ministry Magazine, and Dr. Patricia Jones, GC Associate Health Ministry director and professor of the School of Nursing at Loma Linda University became part of the team.

Sahmyook University, our denominations largest university, was evaluated on the school's spiritual and mission related components as it is considered a "mature institution." As such it is assumed that it has and will have to go through extensive evaluations by the local educational bodies for their governmental recognized accreditation already. Hence it would not be necessary to go through similar accrediting requirements and processes by the AAA. SU has also gone through a rigorous process of merging the Sahmyook College with the Sahmyook University to become Sahmyook University in recent months. Approval for the merger was granted by the Human Resource and Education Department of the Republic of Korea on March 1, 2006.

The team was pleased that both institutions are fulfilling their mission of providing good education based on Christian values. Again we want to remind our readers of the importance and blessing that such a good foundation is for their children.

First Mongolian Language Children's Sabbath School Lesson

According to Cleidi Kuhn, Director for Family/Children and Women's ministries at MMF, visiting churches in Mongolia is a unique experience. "The remarkable challenges as well as the wonderful opportunities are ever present. One of the greatest needs that the MMF has is to prepare material that will benefit and help church members to grow spiritually strong and healthy," said Mrs. Kuhn. The Mongolia Mission Field started the translation of the Sabbath School lesson for children into the Mongolian language in order to feed the little lambs of the Lord. The project was launched at the beginning of 2006. To the great joy of all those who were involved in this project, the publishing house owner announced that he had never seen such high quality material for kids printed in Mongolia. Some book stores are now requesting the books to sell in their stores. Once the materials were printed, training for the Sabbath School teachers was held at the Ulaanbatar central church. About forty teachers attended. Three days were spent learning how to work with the "Grace Link" Curriculum. A recording of 20 Christian songs was part of the project and was also distributed to all those who attended the training. "The challenges have become opportunities" says Mrs. Kuhn, "in many churches in Mongolia we now see children full of joy, no longer singing folk or popular songs and playing school games, but learning spiritual lessons and singing Christians songs to worship Jesus." We are thankful for your mission offerings that make projects such as this one possible.

Saniku Gakuin College AAA Visit

The Accrediting Association of Seventh-day Adventist Schools, Colleges and Universities (AAA) visited Saniku Gakuin College, Chiba, Japan, (SGC) for its evaluation from May 12-15, 2006. The AAA team members were: Dr John Fowler (chair), associate education director of the GC, Chek-Yat Phoon (secretary), NSD education director, Dr Kwang Soo Suh, president of Sahmyook University, Dr Barbara Choi, NSD Health Ministries director and also professor of Hong Kong Adventist College, Dr Barabara James, dean of School of Nursing, Southern Adventist University, Elder Don Upson, NSD treasurer, and Elder Tadashi Yamaji, JUC education director and also executive secretary.

The team saw significant progress in the school as well as the challenges that confront it. The College offers two four-year degree programs, a Bachelor of Theology and a Bachelor of Arts in Christian Studies. With the assistance from Loma Linda University it is planning to launch a Bachelor of Science in nursing recognized by the government. The most significant challenge is to acquire a strong Seventh-day Adventist faculty to handle the advancement of the College. The College is in a very beautiful area located away from where most of the students seem to come from. This creates a challenge for the College to attract students, but the College in association with the Japanese Union Conference is studying how to improve the situation.

The team from the Accrediting Association witnessed the great commitment of faculty and staff. In spite of it being a small faculty, it publishes a professional journal yearly. The journal is exchanged with other colleges and universities both within the country and abroad and as a result, the library receives 364 professional journals on health, medical and theology/religious studies.

The AAA team recommended a five year extension of accreditation to Saniku Gakuin College till December 31, 2011, be granted. The accredited programs will cover: The Bachelor of Theology; Bachelor of Arts in Christian Studies; three-year diploma in Nursing and Community Nursing; two-year and one-year diplomas in Christian Education.

It is wonderful to see our Lord working to provide ways for good education based on Christian values that more souls may be won for His kingdom.

International Community Revival Weekend

One Friday evening after vespers a group of missionaries at Sahmyook University, were reminiscing about home. "What do you miss most about home?" someone asked. After the initial silence the unilateral consensus was "Camp Meeting." The conversation unfolded down memory lane and everyone shared their special story or childhood memory of camp meeting. "So why don't you have one here?" The question seemed almost surreal. Nobody had thought about that before but eventually what seemed like a distant memory from a life before the mission field became a concrete reality.

So after much brainstorming and plenty of organizing, from June 16-18, 2006, the international community of Seventh-day Adventists living in Korea gathered at Deer Mountain for our first revival meeting. With both the financial and moral support from all involved, as well as the tremendous help of our brethren in Korea this event was made possible. The question "Isn't it wonderful that each continent is represented here? Europe, Africa, Asia, North America, South America and Oceania!" was responded to with a hearty "Amen."

Pastor David Syme, our guest speaker presented an encouraging as well as thought-provoking series of seminars titled

"In Search of Christian Authenticity." We were challenged to be honest with ourselves as well as God and many were left wondering whether we had misunderstood the character of God and how we stood in relation to Him. Pastor Syme had peppered his sermons with story upon story of his experiences as a missionary in Africa and how the Lord had lead and guided him and his family through all those years. We laughed together and cried together and worshipped our good Lord for His mercy and grace towards us.

The music of "Oceans Praise" whose members represent the Philippines and South Africa, blessed us with a wonderful array of music. It was our prayer from the outset that we might become changed from within and I believe that the Lord heard and answered our prayers. We hope that this will not be the last of such revival meetings.

Korean Publishers Donate

At last years General Conference Session, the “Connecting with Jesus” initiative was instituted. The plan is to distribute two million sets of 10 Spirit of Prophecy Books that include a Bible reading plan and study guides. The idea behind the initiative is to encourage members to read the valuable writings of Ellen G. White. A survey demonstrated that there is a relationship between a strong spiritual life/mission emphasis and members regularly reading the Spirit of Prophecy books. NSD will receive 80,000 sets for distribution in its territories.

The Everlasting Gospel Publishing Association (EGPA), a Korean Lay Publishing House has taken this commission very seriously and soon discovered a way in which they could make a difference. “Most developing countries have poor transportation systems. Pastors and colporteurs need to walk long distances to serve the members in their church community. Bicycles will make their lives easier and help their work. There is also a shortage of the Spirit of Prophecy books and often one book is shared among many people” Samuel Cho explains, “and with the help of some generous donations from some brethren in Korea and the USA, we decided to send Bibles and Spirit of Prophecy books as well as bicycles to help the evangelism work in that part of the world.” So far three major donations were made this year. In March 2006 Elder Sohn Tae Soon donated US$ 20,000 to the South American Division to aid with 25 church building projects in Peru. In May and June Elders Sohn Tae Soon and Cho Myung Jun visited the East-Central Africa Division and Elder Samuel Cho visited the West-Central Africa, as well as the Southern Africa- Indian Ocean Divisions with a donation of 3,000 sets of the Conflict of the Ages Series and 280 bicycles.

Finally on 21 June, 2006, a meeting was held with the officers of the Northern Asia-Pacific Division to discuss the donation of 150 bicycles for China and Mongolia as well as 100 copies of the Conflict of the Ages series in Chinese. According to Samuel Cho, marketing manager at EGPA, “our goal is to send bicycles to more than 1,300 literature evangelists in developing countries.” We are thankful for the work that these lay workers are doing in helping to fulfill the gospel commission, “Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you.” We thank you for your offerings that enable us to send missionaries into territories yet un-entered that we may hasten the coming of our Lord.

HKAC Week of Prayer

Pastor Joshua Shin, NSD Youth Ministries’ director, and the Golden Angels (GA), NSD Music Team, offered a ‘total campus ministry’ at Hong Kong Adventist College (HKAC) from May 22 – 27, 2006. “HKAC with 97% of its 350 students non-Adventists was in great need of the spiritual emphasis that we provided” said Pastor Shin who preached to faculty members and Theology students from 8 to 9 a.m. and to the rest of the student body at 11:40 a.m. The GA missionaries joined several classes every morning in order to share the love of God and their own mission testimonies with the students. They stayed in the school dormitories and enjoyed all their meals at the school cafeteria with the students. This presented them with a wonderful opportunity to foster a deeper relationship with the students. On Wednesday, HKAC invited HKSJ Middle School which shares the campus, to the Golden Angels concert.

More than 650 students and the faculties of both schools were deeply moved by the wonderful message the Golden Angels delivered through their music. Pastor Joshua Shin emphasized the importance of campus ministry in our church schools by saying; “It is very sad to know that Adventist students are no longer the majority but the minority in our church schools. But God challenges us to change the conditions and has provided opportunities of evangelism for the young.”

Pastor Shin and the Golden Angels also visited Kowloon Middle School and Macau Middle School to offer the wonderful gospel music about Jesus to more than 1,000 students. During their stay they also sang at morning worship in the CHUM offices and provided staff and patients with mini concerts on every floor of the Hong Kong Adventist Hospital.

Okinawa TomiGuscu Church Baptism

On June 17, 2006, the baptism of three precious souls was held at Naha church. Mrs. Uehara, her son Kazuya and her daughter Mayumi gave their lives to the Lord on this blessed Sabbath. The family started attending church last November and enjoyed weekly Bible study. After the baptism Mrs. Uehara thanked the TomiGuscu church and rejoiced that "God restored our family." We pray that God will add His blessings to this family who have just started their spiritual walk. TomiGuscu church was inaugurated July 9, 2004 and has had 5 baptisms since that time. Pastor HyungWoo Nam, a Korean national is part of the second group of missionaries from the Pioneer Mission Movement (PMM) that was sent to Japan. PMM pastors are missionaries sent within the territories of the Northern Asia-Pacific Division which cover China, Japan, Hong Kong and Macau, Mongolia, North and South Korea and Taiwan. These pastors plant churches after they study the language of their host country for a year. We thank them for their dedication and also for your financial support that families such as the Uehara's are not the only ones that can testify that God has restored their family. The words were a wonderful reminder of Malachi 4:5-6 "See, I will send you the prophet Elijah before that great and dreadful day of the Lord comes. He will turn the hearts of the fathers to their children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers."

Japanese International Evangelistic Meetings

The Japan Union Conference through its International Ministries Department is working to reach the immigrant community in major cities in Japan. Pastor Tadaomi Shinmyo, well aware of the potential of Portuguese and Spanish speaking people from Latin America and Brazil is planning revival and evangelistic meetings in cities with a high concentration of immigrants who are working in Japanese factories.

Pastor Miguel Luna, Ministerial Association Secretary at NSD, was invited to conduct an intensive revival and evangelistic meeting at the Kamikawa Bible Study Center. Around 30 people gathered together to listen to Pastor Luna from Friday, June 16 to Sunday, June 18, 2006. He presented messages on the coming of the Lord and prophecies that show the signs of the times that point to Jesus Christ soon coming. People from different Christian backgrounds attended the meetings. They were inspired to continue looking for truth in the Scriptures.

The main sponsor for this revival, Mr. Akira Shindo, is a representative of a self supporting corporation that runs the Tansho Sogo Kyositsu (Total Program Center) inviting people from the community to learn about health principles and join cooking demonstrations. Mr. Shindo is an Adventist with a passion to save the lost among the Portuguese and Spanish immigrant community in Saitama & Gunma Prefectures. He has established the center to serve the community and to provide opportunities to study the Scriptures.

Taiwan Taidong Church Evangelism

Pastor Jung JeSong (from the third group of Pioneer Mission Movement pastors) had planned an evangelistic campaign for June 11 through 17, 2006, in which the Golden Angels, as well the Korean Women's Organization and five Korean lay volunteers took part. With the rainy season upon them and the knowledge that the Taiwanese do not like going out in the rain, they were faced with a problem. Rain had been pouring continuously before the series was scheduled to begin. So Pastor Jung and the church members poured out their hearts to the Lord and relied on His power. The Lord answered their prayers and with the improved weather conditions the campaign went ahead with about 150 attendees of which at least 40 were newcomers. The Taidong church, located in the south-eastern part of Taiwan was kept busy during the course of the evangelistic campaign. In the mornings there were health lectures and in the afternoons massage and health consultations were offered. In the evenings cooking classes taught people how to prepare a variety of tasty Korean dishes as well as kimchi, a spicy Korean side dish made from cabbage and other vegetables. The evangelistic meetings followed the cooking classes and each evening the Golden Angels blessed the attendees with their music before the sermon was given. On the last Sabbath of the series, three people were baptized. One of them is a nurse who attended Korean language classes and the other two are mother and daughter. The members of Taidong church praise God for this wonderful occasion.

New Staff

Treasury

With the resignation of Lee, Seung Woo (Samuel), our office payroll clerk, a great need for a replacement was created. After a careful search Mr. Jang, Byung Chil was asked to fill this responsibility. He comes to us from Samhyook Foods where he held the same position. His wife, Yun, Sun Young, and he have a three year old child, Jang, Gun Woo. Of course all of the NSD family is very happy he has accepted this position. All of us like to get paid each month.

Communication Department

Previously we reported the promotion of Song, Sung Sub (Paul), the former Communication Department Personal Assistant and News & Views Associate Editor. To find someone with his considerable skills has proved very difficult. However, a new composition has been voted for the communication department. First, we welcome Maike Stepanek, wife of our Information Management Manager, Brian, as the new Personal Assistant and Associate Editor of News & Views. In previous positions she has had both secretarial and management responsibilities. She also enjoys writing. These skills will be a great asset to the Communication Department. Brian and Maike come to us from South Africa.

Maike Stepanek,
Personal Assistant and Associate
Editor

To assist in the needs of the department for individuals who understand the languages of our division, three people have been requested to become Correspondents. These positions are part time. The Chinese language correspondent selected is Silver Ng, daughter of our Assistant to the President, Stanley Ng. The Japanese language correspondent is Ryoko Suzuki, wife of our NSD Secretary, Akeri Suzuki. Eun Jye Choi, Personal Assistant to the Adventist Mission/Global Mission Department has been requested to give a small amount of her time to help in the Korean communications.
