The Life That Satisfies

"If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink." "Let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." The fountain is open to all. The weary and exhausted are invited to partake freely and constantly of the living water, the word of God. Their burning thirst will be quenched as they receive the refreshing truth of eternal life. The invitation is to come and drink freely. It is not a spasmodic experience, but a constant contact.

The story is told of a strange plant in South America, which finds a moist place and sends its roots down and becomes green for a little while until the plant becomes dry, when it draws itself out and rolls itself up and is blown along by the wind until it comes to another moist place where it repeats the same process. On and on the plant goes, stopping wherever it finds a little water until the spot is dry. Then in the end after all its wanderings, it is nothing but a bundle of dry roots and leaves.

It is the same with those who drink only of this world's springs. They drink and thirst again and go on from spring to spring, blown by the winds of passion and desire, and at last their souls are nothing but bubbles of unsatisfied desires and burning thirsts. Christ bids us to come to Him and drink from the fountain of life that satisfies. To the woman of Samaria He declared, "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life." The soul that finds his delight in the law of the Lord "shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

The fruits of Christ's life are gentleness, patience, meekness, and kindness. "For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ." The Saviour declares His followers are the salt of the earth, which suggests the salt's preservative qualities, but salt also creates thirst. The consistent godly life of Christian men and women will create within their fellowmen a desire for the truth of the living God. The appeal of Christ to the thirsty soul is still going forth. Many are waiting for someone to direct them to the true fountain where they may quench their thirst and live. In considering our influence, we may ask ourselves the question.—Do our lives create in others the thirst that only the water of life can satisfy?

Union College News Items

President M. L. Andreasen of Union College has accepted a call to connect with the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary at Washington, D. C., as professor of Biblical exegesis and systematic theology. His successor at Union College will be Prof. B. P. Hoffman, professor of religion at Washington Missionary College, Washington, D. C., and special consultant for the U. S. consular service on Japanese affairs.

Among recent visitors at the college may be named Elder W. W. Christensen, missionary from Burma, who has been attending the Theological Seminary in Washington, D. C. He spoke to the students at joint vesper while here. Elder Christensen holds the post of Home Missionary and Missionary Volunteer secretary of the Burma Mission, with headquarters at Rangoon. He will return to Burma in a few weeks.

The Union College male quartet, composed of Francis Avery, first tenor; James van Divier, second tenor; Dean Hiecock, baritone; and Arthur Mozart, bass, have made two-week-end tours in Colorado recently. They presented programs at Campion Academy, Loveland, Boulder, Greeley, Denver, and Colorado Springs. They are also scheduled to appear in Omaha April 2; and at Shelton Academy April 22-24. The quartet is under the management of Miss Estelle Kiehnoff, assistant professor of music.

George Earle Raiguel, authority on world problems, spoke to a full auditorium Saturday night, March 5, on the subject, "The United States and World Affairs." Mr. Raiguel is a globe trotter of vast experience and has a clear understanding of world affairs. In his presentation he deliberately avoided awakening prejudices. During his travels he has had personal talks with many leading European celebrities. He lectures regularly in the great forums in the eastern part of the United States.

In order to give the student body an insight into the policies and make-up of the Golden Cords, Union College year book, the staff presented a convocation program Friday, March 4. The presentation took the form of a court session, in which the attorneys for the defense demonstrated that the plan of the staff, with reference to its business, editorial, and circulation policies, was above criticism. Walter Crawford acted as judge; R. C. Wright and Clarence Renschler were the attorneys for the prosecution, while Ansel Carriek and Robert Maron presented the defense.

The spring Week of Prayer will be conducted in Union College by President M. L. Andreasen March 4-11. Preceding each regular convocation during the week, a period of twenty minutes will be allowed for the meeting of prayer bands. Each evening, worship will be conducted in the college chapel. Devotional week is planned and conducted for the spiritual refreshing of the Union College students and faculty. One of the features emphasized during the Week of Prayer, is the organization of several small-group prayer bands for men and women. Faculty members devote time to requested council with students, and accept invitations from prayer band leaders to speak to their respective groups.

Union College Senior Class Recognition

Thirty-six seniors received recognition at the regular convocation period March 2. At the opening of the chapel hour, the members of the class entered the auditorium and took their places on the platform. Seated there to receive them were: President Andreasen. Professors M. H. Shuster, Tom Little, H. K. Schilling, G. C. Jorgensen, E. N. Dick, and Mr. F. L. March, the class sponsor.

Elder Otto Christensen gave the Scripture reading, chosen from Zephaniah 3. The class had chosen for its text, "He is silently planning for thee in love, for it matters to him about you." Elder Christensen also pronounced the invocation.

A trio of senior girls, the Misses Mac Sorensen, Ida Green, and Luana Guy sang "The Green Cathedral" by Hahn, accompanied by Miss Wava Holm. After Mr. Marsh, the class sponsor, had presented the class, Mr. Orville Iverson and Miss Lucille Sherrig gave brief biographies of the individual class members.

Following a saxophone solo by Miss Dorothy Grant, accompanied by Ruby Bounds; Dan Green, the junior class president, delivered a speech of recognition for senior achievement. President Andreasen delivered the charge to the class, and the response was given by Cree Sandefur, the senior class president.

The exercises closed with a benediction by Prof. M. H. Schuster, chairman of the department of religion.

The senior roster consists of the following students: Cree Sandefur, Lucille Roderick, Margaret Johnson, Kurt Kurz, Gordon Wilson, Irene Pedersen, Myrtle Baker, Henry Meinsner, Otto Christensen, Alaine Smouse, Ida Green, Hans von Tenspolde, Mae Sorensen, Kenneth Nelson, Margaret O'Dea, Lester Heifner, Elva Gardner, DeWayne Fickess, Jane Wensel, Merton Babcock, Jane Douglas, Albert Anderson, Alice Weinberg, Luana Guy, Avery Dick, Mary Little, Tom Jenkins, LaVerne Roth, J. C. Gatitens, Lucille Sherrig, Orville Iverson, Ralph Combes, Dan Cornforth, Katherine Mills, Charles Ary, Ann Brooke.

If we keep uppermost in our minds the unkind and unjust acts of others, we shall find it impossible to love them as Christ has loved us.—Steps to Christ, p. 126.

Improvement at S. R. A.

The readers of the "Outlook" have occasionally read news items in the columns of this paper which briefly mentioned the new laundry building and teachers' cottage, which were under construction. In last week's issue Elder Wall told of conditions which made the construction of these buildings imperative.

The story of the construction of these buildings is long, and the details are many, but in a few words I will try to give the main points of interest. During last school year a large cement block building, which was not suitable for living quarters, was taken down by our students; and from this we obtained a large number of cement blocks, dimension lumber, roof boards, laths, flooring, doors, windows, lumber for inside trim, and a hot water heating system. This, together with a load of lumber obtained from one of our brethren on a school account, gave us a start on these buildings.

We were fortunate in being able to secure brother C. A. Lindquest to supervise the program, and under his direction the old laundry building was moved from its foundation; the basement walls enlarged and foundations were strengthened and upon this foundation a new laundry building 16x42 feet was constructed from the cement blocks and a part of the lumber referred to above. For this building it was necessary to purchase only the cement and shingles.

The old laundry building together with the old pump house, which was replaced by a smaller cement block building, formed the nucleus of the teachers cottage.

It has taken a great deal of patient work and planning to work over these old buildings into a house which will be attractive and servicable at a minimum cost. There were times when we had undertaken, but I am happy to it seemed almost a hopeless task that we had undertaken, but I am happy to say that from this almost impossible mass of material there has evolved a cottage, which a number have told me they would be proud to own and occupy.

We are indeed fortunate to have in our school family, faculty members and students who were able to do this work that would have cost the school hundreds of dollars had it been necessary to hire outside help. To brother Brand, our farm superintendent, we are indebted for his faithful and untiring efforts in doing the electric wiring, the plumbing, and the heating system installation. To Professor Lang we are especially thankful for his ability as chimney builder; and to brother Lindquist and those who worked with him, we are grateful for what they have accomplished.

We have tried to economize without sacrificing quality, and in this I believe we have been, to a certain degree, successful; however, it has been necessary to purchase cement for the basement walls and foundation, plaster, shingles, flooring, some windows, some lumber for inside finishing, plumbing material, bathroom fixtures, water pipe, and a number of other items including nails and paint.

The matter of financing this project is one which has been given much careful and prayerful consideration; and the committee, assembled at Jamestown, January 12, voted that we present the matter to our people; also they set April 2 as the day when a special offering would be given to take care of this need. Having taken this action, it was felt that January 12 was the time, and the committee room was the place, to begin raising the necessary $1200; so in a very few minutes the first $80.00 had been gathered.

We are presenting our needs, confident that our people will not disappoint us; we have done what we felt was the only thing to do, and in confidence we appeal to you to assist in caring for the needs of your school.

Sheyenne River Academy

Our Spring Week of Prayer will be held March 11-19. We expect to have Elder Wall with us at that time.

Our fourth six weeks' period has just closed. The examinations are over, and the grades will soon be handed out.

Some weeks ago an investiture service was held for the boys by Elder Loewen. There were twenty-five invested as Friends, thirteen as Companions, and four as Comrades.

At this writing we are in the midst of an instructive colporteur institute. We greatly appreciate the counsel and instructions given us by Elder Gerrard. Brother Burkhardt is also here, helping the students with their problems in the colporteur work.

Mr. and Mrs. Rau, of Sykeston; and Mr. and Mrs. James Berthelson, of Bowsmont; recently paid the academy and their boys a visit.

News Items

Elder J. H. Rhoads visited the Moberge church Sabbath, March 5.

Brother A. R. Smouse, the union auditor, audited the conference books during the early part of March.

Elder and Mrs. C. D. Smith send in interesting news regarding the work among the Indians. They have recently moved to Eagle Butte, where they are holding an effort.

Elders W. H. Hanhardt and J. H. Rhoads held a series of meetings at Brookfield, beginning Thursday night, March 10, and continued until the following Sunday night. The church greatly appreciated these meetings.

Elder Roth visited churches in Elder Reile's district over the week end of March 5. On Wednesday night he met an appointment with the Sioux Falls church, and from there he went to Lincoln, Nebraska, to attend a Union College board meeting.

Brother R. H. Brown spent nearly all of the month of February out in the field assisting the colporteurs, especially those in the western part of the State. He returned to the office March 4, and spoke to the members of the Watertown church at the eleven o'clock hour the following Sabbath morning.

The Plainview Academy board met in council Monday, February 28, to consider many important problems relating to our school. The financial statement presented by Professor Watt, the principal, revealed careful management. The patrons of the school can relieve the school of considerable perplexity, however, by meeting their accounts as promptly as possible.

Watchman Magazine Week

Plans have been laid for the WATCHMAN Magazine to be given special attention from March 26 to April 2. This plan has been arranged by the General Conference, and the magazine is to be promoted throughout the field during the appointed time. Without question everybody is familiar with the WATCHMAN Magazine. It has been among us for many years. Experience has taught us that it has brought many people into the faith.

It might be well for us to suggest to some of our people that they sell the WATCHMAN Magazine, together with the HEALTH Magazine. The two sell for a quarter; separately, the WATCHMAN sells for 10 cents and the HEALTH Magazine for 15 cents. We have a number of ladies in the church who do real well at selling these magazines and also make a little extra money in that way. Some use this special fund for missionary work, others for Sabbath school offerings, Investment Fund, etc. The regular subscription price of the Watchman is $1.00 to the public, but for missionary rates to our people, the publishers are giving us a special subscription price of 50 cents a year. It would be well for Seventh-day Adventist families to place or renew their subscriptions now. The WATCHMAN is a good interpreter of the times.

Let us do what we can to sell the WATCHMAN to business men especially. We believe that the WATCHMAN occupies an important place among all of our periodicals and deserves our support.

W. H. Hanhardt

Colporteur Experiences

Brother Orville Poore is canvassing in Lead where, because of the mountains, directions are mostly "up" and "down." He walked up sixty steps to one house to find the people not at home.

"One is always having mountain-top or valley experiences out here," he says. In his last report he writes:

"I really got into some winding streets, or alleys, as I would call them. Each of these passages has a name. Passing through one of these narrow passage-ways, where if two fat people should meet, one would surely have to back up, I came to the home of a druggist. Upon being invited in, I soon learned that they had experienced much sickness. The husband had been hurt recently in an accident, and he is still unable to work. The daughter had a serious operation and is not well. The wife has heart trouble, and her nerves are at the breaking point. I tried to point out the need for a work like "Home Physician". When I opened my prospectus, they showed a real interest. In fact, I had only gone a little way in my canvass when they said, "You don't need to go any further; we're sold on the book. How many volumes are there, and what do they cost?" I left their home with an order in the best binding for April 14 delivery. They seemed to be especially appreciative of the fact that "Home Physician" is written by Christian doctors."

"Christ Object Lessons"

After greeting your friend or neighbor, speak of our educational program and our health institutions.

Tell of the good being accomplished for our youth; how they are being trained for missionary service at home and abroad. Tell of the suffering relieved and how life is being prolonged though our health treatments. Then say that this is a missionary work; that the doctors and nurses, the instructors and attendants are all on a missionary wage. Say that these institutions are not operated to make money. It might be helpful to mention that Oak Park Academy gave $10,000 worth of work to students last year.

Then say that this work deserves special help. For that purpose a book has been dedicated, "Christ's Object Lessons." (Now is the time to show your book.) State that you are donating your time and energy and that whatever profit is made goes to the work just mentioned. It is a good thing also to say that the book is really worth many times the price asked for it.

Now, seat yourself next to your prospect, open the book and read the first paragraph on page 15, the first paragraph on page 17. Comment upon the pictures on pages 18 and 19, then read paragraphs 2 and 3 on page 20. Next read paragraph 2 on page 24. Leaf over a few chapters and turn to page 177, reading the first paragraph. Then sell your book by saying "Don't you want the blessings this book will bring into your heart and life? Don't you want your loved ones to share the holy, sacred joys this book will impart? Won't you give but $2.00 for this book and thereby, not only bless your home, but the institutions to which this book is dedicated. Thank you!"

All are urged to use this dedicated book to reach our Institutional Relief goal. One-half the price of the book will be applied to the Institutional Relief Fund.

Institutional Relief

Why are we engaged in a $6000 Institutional Relief Campaign? Ponder these facts:

1. Iowa's debt has been reduced to approximately $80,000.
2. Iowa has paid interest through the years practically to the full amount of the present indebtedness.
3. Iowa wishes to roll back the reproach of debt as a definite part of our preparation for Christ's soon coming.
4. Iowa heartily endorses the action of the 1937 Fall Council held in battle Creek. This action on debt-reduction is in part, herewith, quoted: "RESOLVED, that in fields other than mission territories (i. e. the homeland) where indebtedness has been incurred, in conference or institutional work, not less than 10 per cent of such indebtedness be liquidated each year, beginning with January 1, 1938.

5. Iowa's Institutional Relief Campaign will help materially.
6. Iowa has raised some $1,800 already (we expect this figure to be much larger when you read this report).
7. The goal of $6000 for Institutional Relief is to be reached. Let us not prolong the work. An intensive campaign, and the victory will be ours. Let each church determine to reach the goal in record time!

DeWitt S. Osgood.

Oak Park Academy

Emery Hoyt, from Winterset, Iowa, is with us. He is helping with the farm work.

Bernard Jensen, Dean Stringer, and Billy Offenhauser are back again after brief visits to their homes, also Glenn Sanders.

Professor Culver returned Monday evening, March 7, from a short visit to Holly, Michigan. He also visited former Oak Park students at Hinsdale, Illinois.

Recent visitors included: Mr. and Mrs. Sanders; Miss Sylvia Sires, of Des Moines; and Mrs. Paul Leitner, of Sioux City, Iowa. To them we say, Come again.

Elder and Mrs. A. J. Gordon and children, of Des Moines, recently visited at the school. Elder Gordon spoke to us at the Friday night vesper service. We have profited by his excellent message and hope he will come again.

Chapel Periods.—We have plenty of examinations in classes, but now we also have them in chapel, but of a different type. These are interesting, as they show mental ability. Various subjects are employed in the tests,—arithmetic, English, and Geography. Tests of rapidity and remembrance are given also.

Entertainments.—An "amateur hour" was the program of Saturday evening's entertainment. This was given by the juniors. Russell Leonhardt was the acting Major Bows. A fine showing of talent was presented. First prize was awarded to Clifford Newkirk, who imitated various animals. Second and third prizes were also awarded. Theodore Haft of Oklahoma also entertained. Thanks for the good program, juniors.

Iowa Sanitarium News

Brother G. H. Boehrig field secretary of the Iowa Conference, submitted to an appendectomy March 6, and is getting along as well as could be expected.

Miss Grace T. Dowd, a nurse from the U. S. Government Indian Service, left the Sanitarium March 7, feeling greatly benefitted by her ten days stay with us.

The new discount rates offered to our people are proving very attractive, and a number are taking advantage of them.

Other registrants recently are: Mrs. Irene Sowers and Mrs. H. Knudson, Story City; Mrs. O. S. Miller, Cedar Falls; Mrs. S. P. Freed, Ames; Mr. G. H. Johnson, Mrs. S. O. Humke, Mr. A. P. Johnson, and Mrs. Ed. Heintz, all of Nevada; Mr. H. C. Springer, and O. C. Hougen, McCallsburg; and Mrs. Theo B. Skeie, Zearing, Iowa.

Convention at Mt. Pleasant

The workers of the Iowa conference office just completed a very fine convention at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. The churches represented were: Mt. Pleasant, Centerville, Burlington, and Wellman. Plans were laid to increase the Investment fund for the coming year, and also to go "over the top" in the Institutional Relief. A very fine spirit was manifested by the people and great enthusiasm was shown in the work for the coming year.

Sabbath School Teachers

The subject of the Sabbath school teacher is a very important one. A good superintendent of the Sabbath school is an evident necessity, but good teachers are absolutely indispensable to the successful Sabbath school. A teacher is one who "shows how". Some contend that teachers are born, not made; others that they made, not born, but my opinion is that both are essential, and that no teacher should depend too much on his pedigree. In order to be a good teacher, one must cultivate the art. Taking this for granted, I am giving a few suggestions to teachers.

In the first place the teacher should know his class. It is an advantage to know some thing of the home life of his pupils, and to use illustrations that fit particularly into their experience and interests. Thus you will be using their natural interests to create an acquired, but nevertheless real, interest in the Sabbath school.

Rest assured that even though you don't know your students, they will be quick to discern how much you know, how much you are interested in them, how much you love them, and how much effort you are exerting to establish them in the truth. A little boy in explaining why he fell out of bed said, "I went to sleep too near where I got in". That is one reason why some members fall out of the Sabbath school, before they become members of the church. Teachers, draw your pupils right into the middle of it, and then build a barricade of interest and love around them which will make falling out impossible.

There are great possibilities in that class of boys and girls. Do you remember a statement like this: "Heaven sees in the child the undeveloped man or woman, with capabilities and powers that, if correctly guided and developed with heavenly wisdom, will become the human agencies through whom the divine influences can cooperate, to be laborers together with God."?

We often hear our ministers tell of the influence that some consecrated Sabbath school teacher had over their lives, in finally leading them to make their decision for Christ and the ministry. What higher aim could a teacher have than to develop in the hearts and minds of his pupils a sincere desire to dedicate their lives to the work of God and their own ultimate salvation: and yet should any teacher be satisfied with a less noble ambition for his class?

And finally, teachers, work diligently in the splendid project of reclaiming the missing members and of bringing them back into the regular Sabbath school, or bring the Sabbath school to those who cannot attend, by enrolling them in the Home Division.

J. C. Christenson.

News Items

The SIGNS campaign is pressing onward and we believe that, with the exception of a few churches that have asked for more time, the end of March will see the goal reached.

An order just came in from Blackberry for thirty SIGNS which is ten better than their goal.

The St. Paul Scandinavian church sent in an order for a club of ten SIGNS in addition to their singles.

Pipestone's order for a club of five and Little Fork's order for ten came in this week.

The St. Paul English church reports the largest club thus far for 1938. The renewal of the club was brought before the church by Elder Wiest and in a few minutes 156 subscriptions were renewed, with prospects that it will pass the 200 mark, when those who were absent add their usual subscriptions. These good reports are swelling our totals rapidly. Send in your reports as early as you can and put us "over".

M. V. News

Splendid reports are coming in from our societies all over the great state of Minnesota. It is encouraging to see our loyal youth going forward with the motto "The love Christ constraineth us", doing their part in fulfilling the great aim, "The Advent message to all the world in this generation."

Some of our M. V. Societies are in the midst of the "Truth for Youth" literature program. It only cost them $2.25 for 1,200 of these splendid leaflets. There are twelve numbers in all—thus, each box contains 100 of each number. Our youth are having wonderful experiences with the distributing of these leaflets. You will want to enjoy it too.

A number of our young people are vitally interested in our M. V. picture-meeting plan. The M. V. Department furnishes the picture sermon while the society or youth is asked to buy only the picture projector—with a set of 34 printed sermons to be used with the picture sermons for only $16.00.

Encourage the youth of your church and community in their "Youth for Youth" evangelism. Your words and acts of appreciation will do much toward their success.

Twin City M. V. Institute

March 25 and 26

You are invited to attend our Twin City M. V. Institute. Youth problems and plans will be presented. Come, bring your friends and enjoy these services with us. The institute needs you—you need the institute. A question box hour will be of real interest—bring your questions. Special speakers will make these services worth while to you.

Maplewood Academy News

The library is a better and more pleasant place to be in since the new indirect lighting fixtures have been installed and the interior has been so beautifully redecorated.

The Bookbindery has been redecorated and everything is reported ready for the "big spring rush" which follows the close of school. Mr. Swearingen says he will need twenty-five full time workers this summer.

Mr. Kirk and his farm boys should be very happy these days. Several inches of snow fell to cover the fields and make the outlook brighter for the farm. The farm is one of our school industries of which we are proud.

Only ten more weeks of school. Vacation will be here before we realize it, and we are already laying plans to be back to school next fall. "Time flies." The school family invites every young person to begin planning early to be with us next year.

Spirits are running high these days as the copetitive music recitals approach. Both the boys and girls are sure they will win. From year to year, the winning side is presented with a beautiful etching, which is allowed to hang in their dormatory until it is won back to the other side.

At chapel time Monday, March 7, the freshman class launched a special "clean-up week." Richard Wresch, the president of the class, Doris Swearingen, Eris Kier, Wendel Ford, and Lorraine Frederickson, urged each student to help make this week a week of special progress. A committee is inspecting the rooms every day, and at the end of the week prizes will be awarded.

Twelve students are on the honor rolls for the first period of the second semester. Those with an average of 95 per cent or above were: Virginia Phelps, Willard Christensen, Eileen Johnson, Mrs. Alice Leon, and Chester Jarrett. Those with grades between 92 and 95 per cent were: Robert Firth, Marlys Plinke, Clifford Johnson, Wendel Ford, Eunice Skadsheim, Roland Olson, and Gordon Franklin.

Maplewood is the center of Christian education in Minnesota. Every Minnesota boy and girl should receive some traning in this fine institution. Begin planning now for entrance next fall.

Opportunity Knocks

With a smile meet the man Opportunity as he knocks at your door today! Mr. I. C. Opportunity says, "Are you aware of the fact, friends, that Miss Spring is coming soon? The birds will be singing, ice and snow will be melting, the sun will be shining, tender green grass will appear, people will be happy, they will discard the cares of the winter. Now is an appropriate time to sell our books and magazines!

"Do you want to win souls as many others do? Would you enjoy a Christian education in one of our schools? Would you like to work for and with God this summer by selling our literature? Spring will soon be here, friends. Now is your opportunity."

Correspond quickly with the writer. Take advantage of the man Opportunity.
