Special Offering

The gospel of the Kingdom is to reach every nation, kindred, tongue and people in the homeland as well as in the foreign fields. Many years ago the servant of the Lord gave counsel regarding work for the colored people: "Missions must be opened for the colored people, and every one should seek to do something, and to do it now." "Our churches in the North, as well as in the South, should do what they can to help support the school work for the colored children. The schools already established should be faithfully maintained. The establishment of new schools will require additional funds. Let all our brethren and sisters do their part wholeheartedly to place these schools on vantage-ground."

In harmony with this counsel, Oakwood Junior College has been established as a training center for the colored people. At the Autumn Council of 1937 the colored brethren presented their great need of a new administration building. The old building is entirely inadequate to accommodate their needs. The building program of the Oakwood Junior College submitted by the committee was considered and approved by the council in session. An action was passed asking our colored constituency of North America to raise $10,000 as its share of a $30,000 fund for the new administration building. All the union conferences of the North American Division were asked to share in this project. The amount allocated to the Northern Union was $500. The matter was taken under advisement by the members of the Northern Union Conference Committee and an action was taken to place the need before the constituents of our field and receive an offering for this worthy cause. Sabbath, May 14, was set apart for the occasion. The offering received a year ago covered practically one-half of the quota allocated to this union, and therefore the union conference committee has given further study to the great need of Oakwood Junior College. We appeal most earnestly to the brethren and sisters of the Northern Union to bring a liberal offering Sabbath, March 18, in order that we may reach the full amount assigned to our field.

A New Journal

You will be interested to learn that beginning with the month of February, the General Conference Department of Education is publishing a new magazine entitled "Journal of True Education." W. H. Teesdale, associate secretary of the department, is the editor; and we may be assured that a very fine educational journal is being published. This will cover fields that will be of interest not only to church school, academy, and college teachers, but it will also be adapted to the general interests of our people who are interested in the education of our children and youth.

Truly, there is no greater work that we should be doing right now than that of providing our young people a training in this message, and that they may be prepared for the perilous times just before us. So may God help us as church members and church leaders to take advantage of this new publication and make sure that it is in our churches and in our homes. Every church board should take this up at the earliest possible date and endeavor to place one or more copies in the hands of the church members. The regular subscription price is $1.00 per year for five numbers issued in February, April, June, October, and December.

The Inter-American Division Calling

Perhaps no single mission field is of more interest just now to the folks in the homeland, than is that of the Inter-American Division, lying so near geographically as it does to the United States. In its territories are included the islands and lands of the great discoverer, Columbus, who ventured so much for the cause of discovery and world advancement. What would be the world conditions if there had been no Columbus or other explorer who was willing to venture his very life to discover new lands?

While we owe much to the early self-sacrificing discoverers, we are today debtors to the millions of people living in these West Indies and the adjacent lands of Central and South America, for the light of God's gospel,—the message of God for today. All cannot go in person as workers—missionaries—to even these lands so near at hand; but all—every Sabbath school member—can do his part by contributing to the support of the work in all these lands.

A very special opportunity is being afforded on the coming thirteenth Sabbath to help, especially in the training of native workers in these lands. As all of our readers are having their attention called each Sabbath in the Sabbath school mission reading to the needs in the Inter-American Division, I am writing this to the Union paper hoping that it may further strengthen the interest of all in this great field, and perhaps call the attention of some to our appeal who otherwise may have missed some of the Sabbath school mission reading.

All who have been following these appeals thus far during the quarter, will have taken note that the call is for a large "overflow" to assist in more firmly establishing the educational work. The training of native—national—workers is of fundamental importance in our world mission program. It would be a hopeless task for us in our denominational endeavor to undertake to supply from the home base all of the men and means for the world. But by establishing and operating our Christian schools, we can educate and train a host of workers to carry on in their respective lands and languages. These native workers know their own people best. They are acquainted with their customs, manners, and mental psychology, so can do a work in the giving of the message to their own people that many foreign workers cannot do as effectively. Foreign leadership will perhaps always be necessary in many fields, but national workers must be trained to live with and work for their own people. They can endure the hardships and climate, also surmount many difficulties much better than foreign workers.

I hope that all of our people are studying the map on the last page of the Quarterly. It represents a vast stretch of territory, with many millions of people speaking many languages. On this page of the Quarterly will be noted a list of the schools to be aided from the coming Thirteenth Sabbath Offering.

I will speak especially of the C. T. C.—the Caribbean Training College. This institution has placed in the field a goodly group of workers. The "service flag" in the improvised chapel shows more than thirty former students are now in the field as ministers, colporteurs, church school teachers, department secretaries, and office helpers. The school has been in operation for a period of only ten years, yet although inadequately equipped—it has already done a very good work, both in giving Christian education to all of its students—an average enrollment of from sixty to seventy-five—and also in training workers for the field. Think of what a large amount of money it would take to transport and support even these thirty and more workers thus far developed, if it had been necessary to bring them all from the United States. There is every evidence that our schools do pay, from all viewpoints. The best mission investment that we can make is the establishment and maintaining of our schools in the mission fields, as well as in the homeland.

The greatest immediate need of this school located on the island of Trinidad, which serves all of the Leeward and Windward Islands—about fifty islands besides the Guianas—is that of an administration building. Details of this need are given in the Missions Quarterly, so I will not weary the readers with further presentation of this outstanding need for the Caribbean Training College. In anticipation, we do appeal to and thank our Sabbath school members for their generous contribution on the coming thirteenth Sabbath, which will be such a blessing to them as well as to all of the six training schools listed in the Inter-American appeal for a liberal and prayerful support of this work so fundamentally important. The three young men just graduated from our school in Trinidad in December, are entering the work; one as a minister, another as a church school teacher, and the third graduate will enter the Leeward Islands Conference office as stenographer and general assistant. Thus our schools do develop and prepare workers for our growing and advancing cause. It may be of interest to our readers to know that all of these recent graduates were from the little island of Tobago,—the island of Robinson Crusoe fame. They will, however, enter the work in three other islands. A. R. Ogden

Special Notice

Our readers will be sorry to learn that it was found necessary for Elder C. S. Wiest to undergo another operation at noon on Friday, February 24. The operation proved to be more serious than had been anticipated and he was in the operating room for several hours. The doctor reports that he is getting along nicely and believes that within a few days he will be past the danger point. We feel certain that the Lord has heard the prayers of our people in Elder Wiest's behalf. V. E. Peugh

Special Offering

A special offering is to be taken in all of our churches on Sabbath, March 18 to aid the Oakwood Junior College. This is the training college for our colored young people in this country. Many of our most faithful ministers and Bible workers are graduates of this excellent school. The institution is greatly in need of help at this time and I trust that a liberal offering may be taken in every church on Sabbath, March 18.

"Signs" Success

Undoubtedly, the early date of the SIGNS campaign, which is often ushered in with our worst snowstorms, is a distinct disadvantage. Yet God's loyal people are responding very enthusiastically in the churches where it has been possible to hold the SIGNS rally.

Elder Smith of Mankato writes, "Just a line to say that we took up the SIGNS in Mankato Sabbath, and raised eighty-five. This is eight above the goal for the church, and many of our members were not present. As soon as we can get a break in the weather, we will visit other churches and swing the district over the 110 per cent mark."

Elder Lidner reported over the telephone that the Minneapolis Swedish church, with a small attendance, ordered eighty-six Swedish and English SIGNS, and that prospects are good for a total of one hundred. Their goal was seventy subscriptions. He also reported that the little St. Paul Swedish church's total of Swedish and English SIGNS is twenty, which is a good increase over their goal.

March is the heaviest month for SIGNS renewals, and the district leaders will all be busy promoting this exceptionally effective evangelistic magazine, which will be silently working every day in the year bringing souls to Christ.

Elder Bietz, in charge of the Minneapolis Northside Tabernacle church, has a living, working church that will use 215 subscriptions to the SIGNS in their work this year. This is an increase of fifteen subscriptions over last week's report.

We appreciate these excellent reports of loyalty to the SIGNS, to supplement the work of our ministers and we expect a rush of orders all through the month of March.

Missionary Volunteer Rally at Wilmar, Minnesota, on the Sabbath of February 18. We were also very happy to have Elder C. Edwardson, who was the speaker at the eleven o'clock hour, taking as his subject, "Why I am a Seventh-day Adventist." He spoke of the reason why we are in existence as a people, also of our objectives, and what we ought to be in order to fulfill our mission to the world. He admonished the youth to take a firm stand for God, whatever may come to them, and thereby become an example and a blessing to those with whom they come in contact.

At 2:00 P. M. we all gathered at the church again to discuss the problems of youth. Elder Lauda opened the meeting and led in the discussion. "Friendship and Association" was the topic,—how to be a friend to others, the characteristics of a true friend, and also how to choose worthy friends as well as to hold our friends. All were enthusiastic and greatly interested in the afternoon discussion.

At 6:00 P. M. we met at the home of Brother and Sister Croak, where the sisters of the church had a well prepared lunch, which was enjoyed by all. The evening was spent in playing games and in pleasant association together. We wish to thank Elder Lauda for coming to Wilmar, and plan to have a rally for the entire district on June 3. We hope that all the churches in the district may be represented then. A. J. Lockert

Wedding

A pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized at the home of Elder N. R. Nelson on the evening of January 21, 1939, in the presence of relatives and friends. The contracting parties were Kermit Foss of Robinsdale, Minnesota, and Phyllis Jackson of Minneapolis, both members of the of Minneapolis Norwegian-Danish church.

The many friends of this young couple wish for them a happy and successful life. May they enjoy God's rich blessings as they walk life's pathway together. N. R. Nelson

After going out and getting a rich experience these young people realized that they had come very near to missing a golden opportunity which has enriched them for life.

Consider the valuable gifts to these young people. First think of the experience in the colporteur work which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. Then think of the scholarships earned and the privilege of another year of schooling. What wonderful gifts. Other young people did not quite attain the same success, yet they were richly repaid in experience and otherwise, and many of them are back in school.

These same gifts are within the reach of many more of our boys and girls in North Dakota. Young people, what will you do with these opportunities that are yours? Will you besiege them? Do you have the determination to conquer them? The Lord has His eyes upon you. He is calling you. Will you answer the call? If you are interested in the colporteur work please write to us that we may make arrangements for your training, so that you will not need to launch out without the necessary instruction. D. N. Opportunities at Hand

Mrs. E. G. White wrote concerning a young man: "It had been his privilege to become a noble standard-bearer in the army of the Lord. The best gifts of Heaven had long been within his reach. . . ."

This young man might have been a crusader in the Lord's army but what he might have been he never became. The wonderful opportunity was within his reach but he failed to grasp it. He might have been a worker for God but he failed to make the right decision at the right time. He drifted with the stream when he should have pulled himself together and, with earnest resolve, steered his bark into the channel of opportunity and success. But carelessly he drifted past this channel which he might have entered and, sad to say, he missed the chance of his life.

There are wonderful gifts today within the reach of our young men and women, our boys and girls, right here in North Dakota. What a tragedy if they fail to see and grasp these gifts which are theirs. Will this young man or that young woman have to confess before long when reviewing the past, "I might have been a messenger for the King of heaven but I failed to embrace the opportunity when it was mine.?"

"Time marches on," and when the opportunity is once gone it is gone forever. Three months before her death Sister White gave this parting message for the young people: "Tell the young that they have had many spiritual advantages. God wants them to make earnest efforts to get the truth before the people. I am impressed that it is my special duty to say these things."

Some of our young people are awake to their opportunities. During the summer vacation three of our young people earned full scholarships and one earned a half scholarship to Union College; and they did it right here in the State of North Dakota.

Not all the student colporteurs were definitely decided last spring to spend the summer in the colporteur work. I know of some who had a real struggle before making a final decision; in fact some decisions were made not to go and later these decisions were reconsidered and reversed.

News Notes

The Sabbath school supplies for the second quarter have all been received. The Sabbath schools and also the isolated members should place their orders in ample time so that all of these supplies can reach them before the beginning of the second quarter.

The Wahpeton Sabbath school had been meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall since the first of the year. On February 11 the weather was so severe that no one went to Sabbath school and the janitor was notified not to heat the building as no one would come. The hall, however, was heated for a dance that evening. In some way the building caught fire and every thing was destroyed, according to a letter received from the Sabbath school superintendent. Later when they were looking over the ruins, they found that the locker in which the Sabbath school had their supplies, was not destroyed. The Sabbath school had just ordered 4800 "New Era" tracts, which were also in the locker. Not one thing was even soiled. Surely this is a miracle that the Lord has intervened in protecting the tracts and Sabbath school supplies. This incident has greatly increased the faith of our believers at that place.

Meeting at New Salem

It was one of those balmy, sunny days in February when the scent of spring was in the air and the joy of being alive filled one's very being, that our work for the Sabbath schools of North Dakota took us to New Salem by train from Jamestown. The trip though uneventful, was very pleasant and gave time to prepare a little better for the week-end with a new company of believers, also the bretheren and sisters from the near-by churches. Arriving in the little town of New Salem, we attended an evening meeting where Elder Wall delivered a stirring talk to a few people from the village. On Sabbath morning I had the joy of conducting the first regular Sabbath school ever held in New Salem. The Sabbath previous Sister Schmidt had gathered a few interested ones into a little Sabbath school at the home of a family who were keeping their first Sabbath. Aside from this there had never been a Sabbath school held in that village.

We were very happy to welcome our believers from Hebron who came to be with us in this first Sabbath school, and to help with the music of the day. We appreciated this very much and all enjoyed the beautiful songs of Zion rendered by Sister Fredrickson, Sister Esther Schneider, also Elder and Mrs. Schmidt.

The regular program for the Sabbath school was carried out. Mrs. Schmidt conducted an interesting missions exercise; Elder Wall brought out all the high points in the review of the Sabbath school lesson and Elder Schmidt taught the lesson for the day. The offering testified to the interest in missions. I was also much interested in three little boys who have attended all of Elder Schmidt's meetings. They were helpful in many ways and their interest in the lesson showed that Sister Schmidt had done thorough work in teaching those boys during the weeks of the effort. These little boys attend every meeting and we hope that some rays of light will penetrate into the homes they represent and bring our message of truth to the parents who at present are not at all interested. Who can tell what the influence of these meetings will be in these three homes, because of these little boys being taught faithfully by our workers?

Because of the blizzard on Sunday we could not hold the meeting that had been announced. May the Lord continue to bless in the effort at New Salem. Again we realize more fully the meaning of the statement, "Wherever the Sabbath is known and loved, there is the Sabbath school."

Mrs. D. N. Wall

Jamestown Institute

A joint institute of the Field and Home Missionary Departments was held in Jamestown, February 3-5. The attendance was not as good as was hoped for, on account of cold weather, but those who came entered freely into the discussions.

It was found that several of the believers present had come in contact with this wonderful truth through reading some book or tract.

Elders Gerrard and Reiner, from the union conference, conducted the institute. They gave us some very fine instruction.

Two points were stressed; first, that we should spend at least one hour a week with God in prayer and the study of the word; second, that we work for someone else at least one hour a week by giving Bible studies, handing out literature, etc. We believe that this institute was very profitable for the Jamestown church.

Harvey Convention

It was the writer's privilege to conduct a home missionary convention in the Harvey church February 10-12.

It was very cold; in fact the train running to Harvey from Valley City was twelve hours late due to weather conditions. The members at Harvey had almost given up hope of having a convention, but Sabbath morning the janitor started a good fire and by one o'clock the church was warm. Following the Sabbath school we spent a good hour and a half in convention work. We had a very profitable time together Sabbath evening, and all day Sunday. Many important problems were discussed. The church decided to purchase some literature to distribute in Harvey in preparation for an effort next spring. We ask your prayers for God's work in this place.

Changed Convention Dates

Due to cold weather and bad roads we have had to make a few changes in our convention dates. Home Missionary Conventions will be held as follows:

Manfred	March 17-19
(Previously Announced March 3-5)
Golden Valley	April 7-9
(Previously Announced April 14-16)
M. V. Conventions will be held as follows:
Lehr	March 10-12
Streeter	March 24-26
(Previously Announced March 17-19)
Beach	March 31-April 2
Turtle Mountain	April 14-16
Max	April 28-30
Lisbon	May 5-7
Valley City	May 12-14

Each meeting will begin on Friday evening and close on Sunday. We will have good help so hope that you will come and bring your lunch, also plan to stay all day Sabbath and Sunday.

Signs Campaign

The SIGNS campaign is in progress throughout the conference. Many of the churches have taken up their club of subscriptions and have done much better than last year. We have reports from the following: Jamestown, 38; Fargo, 28; Grand Forks, 31; Cleveland, 20; and Harvey, 21.

I am sure there are others that have taken up the SIGNS subscriptions but we have not yet heard from them. There are still others that could not meet on account of the severe weather and bad roads.

Maybe you were inspired a year ago to send out some SIGNS OF THE TIMES or to provide copies in the church club for personal distribution. You may have seen results; or, possibly the fruits of your work may not be so manifest. In either case, the continuous instruction divinely given is to sow the seed. "In the morning sow, . . . and in the evening withhold not thine hand." There is no question but that the SIGNS has brought many into the truth.

Are you with us on a ten-per-cent increase this year in the subscriptions and for a greater work in 1939? God is going to bless us in attempting larger things.

Your own loved ones should be kept on your SIGNS list. Ministers of other denominations, and teachers should be provided with this missionary paper.

February and March are the big SIGNS months. Let us make the most of them. Send in your subscriptions now.

Prosperity In 1939

We have been told that "prosperity is just around the corner." Also we have been promised "a full dinner pail" and "a car in every garage." These were political campaign promises. However, I can assure you that prosperity during 1939 is in store for every Seventh-day Adventist in South Dakota and the Northern Union. This promise is as sure as the word of God. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10.

Have you, dear reader, been faithful to the Lord in this respect? Have your barns and granaries been filled during the past few years because of the blessings of the Lord? Have the grasshoppers been troubling you. "I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts." Mal. 3:11.

Now is the time to covenant with the Lord regarding this matter, and the benefits of these promises you may receive throughout the entire year. H. J. Perkins

"On the Trail of the South Dakota Colporteurs"

In a Sunday school class in which the lesson was on the Ten Commandments, a man asked who had changed the Sabbath to Sunday since the Bible said the seventh day was the Sabbath. Mrs. Ozanne had been taught that it was changed in honor of Christ's resurrection, but did not know who had made the change. A young woman in the class who had been raised a Catholic said that the Catholic church had made the change. Mrs. Ozanne began a diligent search for a Bible verse which spoke of the change. This led her to read her "Bible Readings" again. She started where she had left off; read through to the end, and then read the entire book through again. Long before she had finished the book she had accepted the third angel's message. She read out of the book to her husband, and he also accepted the truths it taught.

Mrs. Ozanne then went to an Adventist lady living not far away and told of her and Mr. Ozanne's convictions. This sister informed the conference of the interest and Brother Stroup, a colporteur living at Burke, was sent to give them Bible studies. They had been keeping the Sabbath for about a year before he came. He organized them into a home Sabbath school. In May, 1936, they were baptized and taken into the church by Elder and Mrs. C. D. Smith. The youngest boy is attending Plainview Academy and has united with the church.

Mrs. Ozanne is very active in sending literature to their three older boys and their other relatives. Just this winter she canvassed her home town of White River with "Home Guide to Health" and the "Health Magazine." A large number of fine contacts were made in this way and her sales ran around $1.50 per hour. It would be interesting if we could know how many souls will be saved as a result of this work Sister Ozanne has done.

News Items

We appreciate the orders that are coming in early for Sabbath school Quarterlies.

We were glad to have as recent visitors at our office, Mr. E. A. Schlisner, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schlisner, and Mrs. Mattson.

Sabbath, March 4, Elder A. V. Rhoads visited the Batesland church, and the following day he was with the Rapid City church.

Elder Hanhardt, who has been ill a great deal during the last year, was obliged to go to Rochester last Thursday evening, where we hope he will be able to ascertain the cause of his illness and secure effective treatment. We trust he will soon be able to be back to carry on his work. All mail pertaining to his departments should be addressed to Box 36, Watertown, South Dakota.

"God's Own Plan"

Systematic benevolence is heaven's ordained plan that God's cause in every department might be sustained. It calls for proportionate giving. It makes giving a habit. If God's people would obey the instruction contained in the Spirit of prophecy — instruction which has never been abrogated nor repealed, there would not be an impoverished treasury, nor would there be necessitated the many calls for funds. Read the following quotation taken from "Testimonies to the Church" Volume III, pp. 409-11: "The simplicity of the plan of systematic benevolence does not detract from its merits, but extols the wisdom of God in its arrangement. Everything bearing the divine stamp unites simplicity with utility. There has been a neglect in the churches of keeping up the plan of systematic benevolence, and the result has been an impoverished treasury and a backslidden church.

There is means enough in the hands of believers to amply sustain the work in all its departments without embarrassing any, if all would bear their proportionate part. . . . God has devised a plan by which all may give as He has prospered them, and which will make giving a habit without waiting for special calls. . . . Until all shall carry out the plan of systematic benevolence, there will be a failure in coming up to the apostolic rule."

Beloved, God calls upon all to carry out the plan of systematic benevolence and so come up to the apostolic rule. Of course, the tithe is holy and the payment of the tithe is just as mandatory since the cross as it was before the cross; but beside the tithe we are called upon to give offerings, not hit-and-miss or as-you-happen-to-have-it, but purposing in your heart you should give with simplicity. Romans 12:8. And the gifts should be in proportion to the increase. One might set aside a second tithe, half of which would go for missions, also a portion would be given to local work and other calls, then a fifth of it to the conference for debt reduction. (A fifth of the tithe is the two per cent.)

God calls upon the church to be more faithful in giving. It is well to speak of neglected truths, but here is a neglected truth clearly set forth in the Testimonies and somehow forgotten. Today the church is in a backslidden condition; it has resorted to many and varied promotions and appeals to induce people to give that which they ought to be giving as a habit. Are not God's ways just and equal? Is not His plan the best? Let us in Iowa rally to the call and by conscientiously following the inspired counsel regarding systematic benevolence, roll away the reproach and so provoke our brethren in other fields to love and good works.

Notice

The week, March 11-18, is the Missionary Volunteer Week of Prayer, so designated by the General Conference. We trust that every church is making a special effort in the direction of strengthening the youth who are already church members, and in bringing to a decision for Christ the unconverted youth of the church. Throughout the conference the date, March 11, is being set aside as a day for a special offering. The second Sabbath offering is usually for foreign missions and will be on this particular day, but it will be for a special part of the foreign mission work. The Missionary Volunteer project for this year is the "Messages to Young People" Translation Fund. So in every one of our churches and companies the offering that is taken on March 11 is to be dedicated to the M. V. Messages Fund and is to be so labeled when it comes in on the treasurer's report to the conference office. We trust that this will be taken care of without fail in every church.
