Offering For Theological Seminary May 13

A Suitable Home for the Seminary

Any factory or organization that is established to accomplish a purpose must have tools, offices, machinery, or equipment in accord with these purposes or else must face dismal failure.

David recognized the need of building a house for the Lord, and was greatly disappointed when he was not permitted to participate in the construction of the temple.

The Theological Seminary has been struggling along with no adequate room or facilities to carry on such endeavor.

It has been the earnest effort of the General Conference to give the seminary a suitable place in which to carry forward this work and to equip it in accord with its needs. A library, seminar rooms, a chapel, and classrooms are indispensable for accomplishing the purpose of the founding of this graduate school. The building is to be a simple, substantial structure, with plain but adequate equipment.

We should all feel privileged to participate in the offering to be taken May 13 in order that this home for the seminary may be realized at a very early date. Its need is not only apparent but pressing. Its field of service is so wide that it touches every corner of the world.

The service rendered by this school—even in very cramped and limited quarters—is uplifting and inspiring. If our younger ministers and Bible and history teachers may have the privilege of assembling for devotion, study, and research, with needed tools at hand, it will be a great impetus to our work.

Certain kinds of investments in our work grow and multiply in their returns as years go by. Any money used to prepare a place that will provide those conditions and environments which promote study and research in the Sacred Scriptures, and motivate the spirit of devotion and service, is an investment that will yield expanding returns as the students of this institution scatter to the far corners of the earth.

On May 13 let us generously participate in making a large contribution. May we all have a part in the dividends declared in the terms of "speeding the proclamation of the truth with greater power and more far-reaching results than ever before," that many souls may be saved in the kingdom of God.

M. V. Activities at Union

"Thank you! Thank you! Thank you!" This is the response of a hundred happy children at the Orthopedic Hospital as they receive the scrap books filled with "Little Friend" stories and pretty pictures from the Union College Sunshine Band. Every week about fifty members go to the county farm, hospitals, and homes in the community to cheer those who are shut in. How better could one spend a Sabbath afternoon? Those visited are happy, but their happiness does not compare with that of those who bring the cheer.

The Literature Band, although not as large as the Sunshine Band, faithfully carries papers to many homes nearby. Besides these bands, we also have a large class working for the badge of the Master Comrade. Of this group of one hundred sixty members, about thirty expect to be invested as Master Comrades very soon.

As a project for the local fund of our society we are going to build a temperance sign measuring 8x16 feet to be put along the highway near our city. With a definite project in mind our offerings have doubled and tripled. By all working, our Missionary Volunteers are a happy and active society.

Training Workers for God at Union

Union College, in its effort to train competent workers for the cause of God, has placed in its curriculum a course in Field Evangelism, which is carried on under the supervision of the Department of Religion. This course provides laboratory work in sermon preparation and delivery, in church services, and public meetings. It is designed to give the young people actual experience in the field of evangelism while they are still in training, and while they may have the counsel of their instructors.

Accordingly, plans were laid at the beginning of the school year to find openings for a number of young people who desired to avail themselves of the opportunity for better preparation. In one of the suburbs of the city of Lincoln an interest had been awakened as the result of work done by lay brethren and sisters. Much literature had been distributed and many Bible readings given. This interest had been fostered during the previous summer, and by the time of the opening of the school term three had taken their stand for the message and were baptized.

The interest was good and a company of young people from the college began a series of public meetings. During the series of twenty-six meetings, which were held three times weekly, interest continued to grow. At the close of this series four more had decided to cast their lot with the commandment-keeping people, and were baptized into the faith. The whole effort was carried on by the students from the college.

At the close of the first series the interest was still high, and it was felt that a second effort would be necessary to bring the message to the thirty-six interested people each Sunday evening. Bible readings were also held in four or five centers thus augmenting the work done in the public meetings.

This work has been a real inspiration to the young people who have taken part. It has also been a practical training, for they can see from week to week where they can improve on their methods. We look for a number more to take their stand with God's people as the result of this effort.

Another company held meetings at Shenandoah, Iowa, which is about one hundred miles from the college. At this place it was not possible to hold more than one meeting a week, and that on Sunday nights. One of the features of this effort was short health talks given by a graduate nurse, the wife of one member of the company. As she appeared in uniform and talked to the people on subjects that were vital to their health, a band was formed and many came for consultation. Thus the right arm of the message did its part in holding the interest.

One hundred miles is a long way to drive to conduct meetings, but these young people were courageous and have done very acceptable work; however, they feel that had they been nearer their place of labor they could have worked more effectively. As the meetings have continued, the interest has increased, and while the attendance has not been large, these meetings have been instrumental in winning to the message three new converts and reclaiming two backsliders.

Other work has been done for the inmates of a reformatory and for a welfare group. These missionary efforts have proved a great blessing both to the students and those to whom they have ministered. It is our hope that this practical work will be the means of helping these Bible majors to be prepared, so that when they have finished their college course they will be able to go out and do efficient service for their Master.

Radio

Just an excerpt from one of many letters which come to us expressing appreciation for the messages given over WHO by the Radio Bible School:

"I think our wise heavenly Father has given man special wisdom to invent that wonder of wonders, the radio. But I fear Satan is making more use of it, than God's children."

Are you radio-conscious? Are you urging your friends to listen in? Soon the present course on gospel fundamentals will be concluded. It is proposed that the new six-month course will be launched with the July 2 broadcast. Watch for announcement. DeWitt S. Osgood

Do You Know?

With this short squib we commence a series of brief quizzes on the writings of the Spirit of prophecy.

Do you know where in the "Testimonies" it says: "There is coming rapidly and surely an almost universal guilt upon the inhabitants of the cities, because of the steady increase of determined wickedness" and "The angel that stood at my side then instructed me that but few have any conception of the wickedness existing in our world today, and especially the wickedness in the large cities."

Every Seventh-day Adventist ought to know what the Spirit of prophecy says about the conditions that are existing in our cities in this earth's last hour.

DeWitt S. Osgood

Prepare for the Coming Crisis

It is in the hour of crisis that we need to have immediate information, authentic information, information that will steady us, embolden us and illuminate our pathway. Now as never before the believers in this message should have the official denominational organ, the "Review and Herald." Only through this excellent paper can we know of a surety just how near the end is, what the prevailing dangers are, how the message is progressing in the fields afar. May 13-27 has been designated by the General Conference as Review and Herald subscription campaign fortnight. De Witt S. Osgood

Special Offering May 13

The offering to be received in all the churches throughout North America on May 13 is to be given for the Theological Seminary.

Many have thrilled to know that this denomination at last has definitely committed itself to a program that permits the workers further study and research in their desire to build up their fund of information concerning the authenticity and inspiration of the Scriptures, together with the verity of the prophecies.

This school is in need of a building. Let us all give unstintingly that the project may have sufficient funds to assure a representative structure.

Elder E. H. Oswald, president of the Northern Union Conference, was recently a welcome visitor in Nevada for several days.

The Iowa Conference committee is in session here in Nevada at the time of this writing. Constructive plans for evangelistic advance were under consideration. Several strong efforts have just been arranged for in strategic points in the state. Detailed information will be announced later.

Elder K. L. Gant, formerly a worker in this conference, now educational and Missionary Volunteer secretary of the Northern Union Conference, attended a meeting of the Oak Park Academy board. His counsel was very much appreciated.

Calvin Gordon, who has labored in this conference for the past few years, has just accepted a call from the Kansas Conference and will leave on May 8 for his new field of labor. He has been appointed as Bible teacher for service in Enterprise (Kansas) Academy.

During recent days Elder W. A. Howe, in company with Elder Gant, of the Northern Union, has been visiting churches in the conference and the interest of the educational and young people's work. Elder Howe baptized two candidates at Cedar Rapids recently and is now conducting a series of meetings in the Mason City church, where he will conduct a baptism of some six candidates in the near future.

Brother P. E. Shakespeare, field secretary of the Missouri Conference, visited Nevada last week and spoke to the students of the Oak Park Academy.

It Pays to Publicize

It was suggested to Wm. Wrigley, Jr., the chewing gum manufacturer, while he was traveling on a fast trans-continental train, that he save some of the million dollars he was spending each year for advertising and let the business run for a while on the reputation it had already gained. His curt reply was, "Why not tell the engineer that now since he has a good head of steam up, he inform the fireman that he need not shovel any more coal."

"It Pays to Advertise" has become a truism. Seventh-day Adventists utilize every possible facility in order to place their message before the world. Their church buildings are memorials to the Sabbath. Their literature sets forth the fulfilling signs and prophecies that declare Christ's coming to be near. Their sanitariums and schools proclaim Christ the Great Physician and the Great Teacher. The life of each believer is a witness for the truth.

But despite so much activity, we are still falling short in one of the most helpful and economical ways at our disposal, of keeping our wonderful message before the public. I refer to the newspaper. Do you have a church announcement in your local paper each week? Has your church board appointed someone to attend to this important matter? (Someone who is especially talented and interested may very appropriately be asked to serve. If no such individual is found, let either the church elder or church clerk be assigned this responsibility.)

In your announcement be sure to give the name of your church, its location and the time of services. Speak briefly of the program, giving special features. Include the names of those having part on the programs. Give the topic of the after service. When special days, such as Medical Missionary Day, Missions Extension Day, Educational Day and Missionary Volunteer Day or the Week of Prayer, are to be observed, include the fact in your article. If a visiting minister is coming, this also should be in your write-up.

Then you could greatly help us in our effort to double our Radio Bible School. Tell about the Radio Bible School, presenting the extension course on the general topic of gospel fundamentals. Give the station WHO, Des Moines; the time, 9:15 every Sunday morning; where to find it on their radio dial, 1000; the speakers, Evangelists De Witt S. Osgood and Alfred J. Gordon. (Don't advertise that to join the school costs but a dollar a month. Your part is to encourage folks to tune in.) You see, this is not very difficult, and even the isolated believers can publicize the lecture lessons of the Radio Bible School, or the sermonettes, as they may be termed.

We invite everyone to join us in our state-wide "It Pays to Publicize" campaign. There is Brother A. D. Carter of Sidney, who has been a very enthusiastic booster of this plan. He has sent in a number of newspapers containing fine advertisements for which he was responsible. And then there is sister Adella Myers of Humboldt who has rendered excellent help by her write-ups. Although we mention but two, there are others who are doing very commendable work. What these have done could be duplicated many times. Some isolated church members have already done much. Why not follow their good example?

We at the Conference office, are starting a large scrap-book. It has been given the title, "It Pays to Publicize". It is to be displayed at camp meeting. Every church will have at least one page in it. On that page we want a picture of the church and one of the church group. Then we want to have a clipping sent to us of every item put into the newspaper by the church. And this includes what members of the Conference Church may do. We hope every church will immediately respond.

Let us redouble our efforts. Purpose to take the bushel from off the candlestick. Set our church as was the temple, upon a hill Mount Zion. We are counting on all to cooperate in this "It Pays to Publicize" campaign.

Baptism In Bemidji

A letter has just been received from Elder J. C. Harder reporting a fine baptismal service held in the Bemidji church on Sabbath, April 29. Fifteen precious souls were baptised. Nine of these were from Bemidji, three from Hackensack, two from Cass Lake, and one from Blackduck.

Elder Harder says that the interest seems to be increasing in and around Bemidji. Miss Myrtle Peterson, who is canvassing in that place, continues to find those who are very much interested in the truth and who desire Bible studies. Several of our lay brethren and sisters are giving Bible studies in homes. May God continue to bless Brother and Sister Harder and their churches in District No. 5.

Our Children

"Before the overflowing scourge shall come upon the dwellers of the earth, the Lord calls upon all who are Israelites indeed to prepare for that event. To parents He sends the warning cry, Gather your children into your own houses; gather them away from those who are disregarding the commandments of God, who are teaching and practicing evil. Get out of the large cities as fast as possible. Establish church schools. Give your children the word of God as the foundation of all their education." "Testimonies," Vol. VI p. 195.

"The experience of the children of Israel was written for us 'upon whom the ends of the world are come.' I Cor. 10:11. As in their day so now the Lord would have the children gathered out from those schools where worldly influences prevail, and placed in our own schools, where the word of God is made the foundation of education."—"Counsels to Teachers," p. 166.

Eagle Bend M. V. Rally

On Sabbath, April 15, our church at Eagle Bend was filled. From Brainerd, Wadena, Staples, Hewitt, New York Mills, Lake Beauty, Sauk Centre, Alexandria, and Hutchinson, came Missionary Volunteers to enjoy with us an M. V. Rally.

Elder Lauda was with us and at eleven o'clock gave us a stirring sermon. At two o'clock we had our investiture service. A fine class of nine Friends and a class of eleven Companions were invested. Special music was rendered by Elder Lauda, the Eagle Bend male quartette, and the visiting societies of Sauk Centre, Staples and Hewitt.

In the evening a social gathering was held in Woodman Hall, where we enjoyed games and marches. We were happy to have our neighboring societies with us, and would be glad to have them come again.

Opportunity Knocks

Once more opportunity knocks at the door of service and, we believe, will be welcomed by our members and Dorcas Societies that are anxious to be of service to others.

Several years ago our members very kindly furnished a number of rugs for the visiting ministers' tents on the camp ground. Some of these are now almost too shabby to be used longer; and if there are those who would like to replace these worn-out rugs with better ones, it will be greatly appreciated. Doubtless with spring cleaning has come the discarding of some rugs or carpets which are being replaced by new ones: or perhaps you have more than are needed. If you have any rugs you wish to donate for this purpose, you may bring them with you to camp meeting or, if convenient, leave them at the conference office, 1854 Roblyn Avenue, St. Paul.

A card from those who are contributing will enable us to know on what we may plan. Thank you.

What About Minnesota's Colporteurs?

Karl A. Evenson is working in his home town, Virginia, Minnesota. He sold $154.70 worth of literature in two square blocks. In the last 159 hours of canvassing he has taken orders for $409.70 worth of literature. More books—more souls.

William Greer works in Waseca County. He set his goal for forty-five hours of canvassing each week this year. We believe he will reach it. Last week he worked fifty hours. His sales average is close to one dollar per hour.

R. J. Jones is the North Minneapolis missionary bookman. North Minneapolis is his mission territory. Last year twenty-five souls were baptized as direct and indirect result of his book sales. Brother Jones always works forty hours or more each week.

Miss Gwendolyn Judd sells the "Home Guide Set" of books in Austin. The Austin church believes in having its territory worked by good canvassers and accepts the recommendation to support the colporteur work by establishing headquarters for the agent. The church has rented a room for Miss Judd and Miss Louiseau, her partner. Miss Judd is doing excellent work. She is interesting many in our message. She plans to attend Union College next September.

Miss Margaret Louiseau, Miss Judd's partner, was called home a few weeks ago to help her mother while the latter recovers from an operation. Miss Louiseau is a good steady worker. She will be back in the work at Austin soon.

K. C. Nichols has done a remarkable work for God in the northwest corner of the state. He has been ill, however, for some weeks. He has a book delivery set for April 3. We sincerely hope and pray that he will be well by then and will continue to do a good work for God in selling our books.

Miss Myrtle Peterson canvassed all of Park Rapids and is now at Bemidji. She is well thought of in her work. At Park Rapids more than twenty-five families or individuals are looking forward to evangelistic services. Since starting at Bemidji seven families are taking Bible studies as a result of her contacts.

Miss C. E. Powers continues with faithful service, selling single copies of our magazines in the Minneapolis loop district. She, with the other magazine workers, has invited hundreds to the evangelistic services and to tune in on the radio broadcasts.

H. E. Preston is selling many "Bible Readings for the Home Circle" in Brainerd. Hardly a letter comes from him, but that we learn of more interested folks in Brainerd. We can always depend upon him for consecrated activity.

Mrs. Clare Rust has been in the work for years selling single copies of our magazines. She sells in part of Minneapolis and in some small towns. She usually works over forty hours per week.

Miss Virginia Rust, daughter of Mrs. Olaf Rust, sells hundreds of magazines each month in the St. Paul loop district. She and her mother usually run about the same in hours and sales.

These workers are selling more per hour per colporteur now than in any of the past three years. We need more intelligent, God-fearing, truth-loving colporteurs. Have you made your decision about the canvassing work a subject of prayer? Please pray for the continued success of our present force of workers. Pray for and study the canvassing work to discover if God wishes you in the ranks. I shall be glad to hear from you.

News Items

A word of appreciation is due the conference church members for the large number of remittances that have been received for the Missions Extension Offering. This will be a great help in advancing our world-wide work.

At the time of writing, we are unable to state regarding the total of the tithe and mission funds received for the month of April, but from a large number of our churches the increase over former months is very gratifying.

Elders V. E. Peugh and N. R. Nelson recently made a trip to Anoka in the interest of preparations for the camp meeting. Elder Nelson will serve as camp superintendent again this year.

Our Camp Meetings

As the time draws near for our camp meeting I am reminded of the following statement: "Let all who possibly can, attend these yearly gatherings. All should feel that God requires this of them. If they do not avail themselves of the privileges which He has provided that they may become strong in Him and in the power of His grace, they will grow weaker and weaker, and have less and less desire to consecrate all to God. Come, brethren and sisters, to these sacred convocation meetings to find Jesus. He will come up to the feast. He will be present, and He will do for you that which you most need to have done. Your farms should not be considered of greater value than the higher interests of the soul." "Testimonies," Vol. II, p. 575.

If ever there was a time when God's people needed to spend a few days entirely devoted to seeking the Lord, that time is now. Some one has spoken of these troublous times as "earthquake times." All signs foretell that we are nearing the close of probation. Certainly we, as God's people, need to come together for a few days to draw near to God and to seek Him for spiritual blessings. I think we should come with our families, bringing our sons and daughters, in order that all may receive the special blessing which God has for His people at this time.

It has been planned to hold a Youth's Congress in connection with our camp meeting in Jamestown. The Youth's Congress will open Thursday evening, June 8, at 8:00 o'clock and continue until Sunday. Sunday evening the regular camp meeting will begin.

The General Conference, in providing help for this meeting, has arranged to send four men, as follows: Elders W. A. Butler and M. A. Hollister for the English meetings, and Elders R. Ruhling and O. Ziprick for the German. Aside from this there will be some one to represent Union College, and we are glad to announce that from the union conference we will have Elders E. H. Oswald, K. L. Gant, D. E. Reiner, and P. D. Gerrard. All of these brethren will be with us during practically the entire time of the camp meeting. Last summer we had our camp meeting at the same time as South Dakota, and our brethren had to divide their time between the two meetings.

It is also planned to hold a Russian camp meeting again from June 28 to July 2 at Butte. The opening meeting will be on the evening of Wednesday, June 28. Elder L. Halswick from the General Conference, and Elders Oswald and Reiner from the union conference will attend the Russian camp meeting. We are also placing a call with the General Conference for a Russian worker, and we are hoping to have him with us in North Dakota by the time the camp meeting opens at Butte.

Encouraging Word From Plainview Academy

Elder P. D. Gerrard and the writer were privileged to spend April 15-22 at Plainview Academy for the annual spring students colporteur institute. The association with the students and faculty was very enjoyable and encouraging.

The unusual interest in the literature ministry which was manifest by the student body is an indication that God's Spirit is being poured out and His people are rallying to the closing work. The number of students expressing a desire to enter the field of service with our literature this summer is the largest for many years. We may expect this band of student colporteurs to make some real records of service for their Master this summer.

This colporteur force is to be concentrated in the south and east portions of the state. I know that the believers in the counties which we will be working will receive a rich blessing as they open their homes to these literature evangelists and give them needed encouragement. Please remember these colporteurs constantly in your prayers that they may be successful both financially and in souls won for God.

At a recent meeting of our conference committee, Elder E. R. Lauda was asked to locate in the Madison district with Madison as his headquarters. He will supervise the work at Madison, Ash Grove, Brookfield, and Colman. The brethren in this district have been without a minister for a long time, and we are sure Elder Lauda will give them just the help they need.

Word has been received from Elder Hanhardt, who is now at the Iowa Sanitarium, that he is slowly improving in health. We are sure all our brethren are praying for his recovery.

Don't forget the date of our camp meeting at Huron—June 16 to 24. We will endeavor to make this camp meeting just as practical as we can. Good help has been promised by the General Conference, and we are also going to have the union conference men with us. Begin now to make plans to come.

Mrs. E. P. Kemper has been asked to act as chorister during the camp meeting session, and you will no doubt receive word from her either personally or through the pages of this publication in regard to plans for the music. Her acceptance of this work assures us that we will have excellent music during camp meeting.

Last week we suggested that you send in some tea towels for camp meeting use. No doubt by this time they are on the way. This is just a further reminder. Each church is to send no more than twelve, and individuals no more than three. We all like clean, dry dishes.

We are receiving calls from all parts of the conference for help in developing new interests. There are also in different parts of the field a number of Indians who are awaiting baptism. These many calls keep our workers very busy. Let us not forget them in our prayers.

We certainly appreciate the response you have made to our Big Week work. We have doubled the number of books used last year.

Seminary Offering, Sabbath, May 13, 1939. Leaflets explaining the work and the needs of the seminary have been sent out. As you know, we have a seminary at Washington, D. C., with no suitable building in which to meet. The money received in this offering will be used to erect such a building. Surely we should have a place where our young men and women can receive the proper instruction after completing the work given in our colleges. We trust a liberal offering will be given. Thank you.
