Pioneer Workers Testify That the "Review" Inspires

Our Weekly Visitor

W. C. WALSTON

THE Review and Herald has been a weekly visitor in our home for over sixty years, and it is always very welcome. I consider it the most important publication that we have. It is read with interest and passed on for the benefit it may be to others. Never does it find its way into the waste-basket. I note from time to time the improvements that are made; its enlargement, better type, more interesting articles, new revelations of Bible truths, also improvements in general contributions. I could not very well keep in touch with the message and its advancement without the Review. There was a time when I knew personally, nearly all those who wrote for the Review, but now it is very different. Many of those that are con-

More Appreciated Than a Personal Letter

D. F. TARR

I BECAME an interested reader of the Review and Herald when I accepted the third angel's message in 1887, and with the passing of the years the paper has become more and more precious to me. Many a time have we remarked that its weekly entrance into our home was more appreciated than a letter from any dear friend.

The reports from the world-field, giving the progress of the message, have been a source of much encouragement; the articles from our leading brethren have been uplifting and elevating. The high standard maintained throughout has been a cause for gratitude and thanksgiving to God, that He has placed in our midst such a wonder-

The Good Old Review

W. S. HYATT

AMONG the earliest recollections that both Mrs. Hyatt and I have, is that of having the Review in our homes. Our parents were among the early believers in this message, and subscribers to this paper.

Fifty-eight years ago I became a believer in the message for which the Review and Herald has stood for so many years. During all this time it has been a welcome visitor to our home, and its pages have been read and appreciated. There is always some special message in it for us.

During the many years of my ministry I have visited the homes of our people as their pastor, and I have noticed that the members of those homes where the Review is read are always well instructed in every point of the faith and in the advancement of the message as it is speeding around the earth. Many of our lonely and scattered families seldom see the living preacher, but to these the Review brings cheer and hope; through its columns the leaders of this people are speaking to them.

Our mission is to bear this gospel of the kingdom to all the world. How are we to know how this work is progressing? Every reader of the Review can tell you. These have watched the onward flight of the message ever since the first missionaries left the shores of America. As the reports began to come to us that new languages were being added every few days, and that new lands were entered, our hearts burned within us.

Well do I remember the first reports we received of the beginning of the message in Africa. It caused a thrill to pass through every reader of our good paper. The word that the Spirit of the Lord had gone before us and many had accepted the Sabbath truth in this far-away land, cheered us greatly. Just so the reports today fill us with joy as we read of the advancement of God's truth into the darkest corners of earth.

No believer can afford to be without this knowledge. It is this that inspires us onward and assures us that the day of deliverance is nearing. Those who do not have this information lack that which inspires us to faithfulness and enables us to be ready to meet the promised One when He returns. Dear brethren and sisters, if it be necessary to make a sacrifice to get the Review, let us make it, and be sure that we have its precious messages from week to week.

The Mouthpiece of the Advent Band

F. G. CLIFFORD

THE Review and Herald is the mouthpiece of the organised band of Advent believers. More than any other thing I know of, it has acted as a unifying influence to the people of God.

Always conservative, yet never reactionary; ever moderate yet always progressive, it has served through the years as a kind of gyroscope to steady and balance the church of God.

This good paper has been familiar to me from my boyhood days and I have never been without its timely visits. I have always felt that an Adventist home without the Review is just a little short of what it ought to be. The Review is the paper that assists in making our homes ready for the coming of the Lord.

Without the Review it is hardly possible for one to have definite knowledge of the wonderful progress of the advent message in all the world, while its inspiring sermons and articles promote that spirit of primitive godliness and zealous endeavour that characterised the pioneers of the message.

A Paper With a Message

B. W. ABNEY

IN 1912 I became a subscriber to the Review and Herald, and for twenty-two years it has been a constant visitor to my home. No visitor to my home is more welcome than the Review and Herald for it is a paper with a message.

Many are the times the Review and Herald has enlightened me on some knotty Scriptural point with which I had been struggling. Many a time has it brought new courage and strength to me as I have read its articles on doctrinal subjects. Many a time have I been inspired by the reports in its pages of the wonderful advance of the message in other lands.

It has a message for all in the home; father, mother, and children, and I do not see how any home can be without it in these perilous times. I believe that it is the duty of every home to subscribe to this great paper for I know that it will bring many a rich blessing to them.

The Greatest Newspaper in the World

TRULY the Review is the greatest newspaper in all the world, for it brings news of the greatest work in the world. How any believer can be content to be without the Review, I cannot understand. We see how restless men are if they do not know the latest in world news. They spend money for radios and ordinary newspapers so that they may keep up with the times. But I say that one who does not read the Review cannot be really up-to-date. God has promised to do a quick and mighty work in the earth in these last days. He is doing that work, brothers and sisters, and it is the Review that brings to us the news. Through this paper we keep in touch with the leaders of our movement and know the latest from headquarters.

I speak from experience. In my childhood it was the Review that mother read to us on Sabbath afternoons. How our hearts thrilled as we read of Solusi, our first mission station in Africa! How interested we were as we learned that our missionaries had entered Australia and China and India! I remember how excited we were when it was planned to build the ship, "Pitcairn" and send it to the islands of the sea—to Fiji and Tahiti and Samoa. It is this kind of news that gives us an interest in the Lord's work and makes us willing to give of our means to push ever on and on into new lands and to new peoples.

We must have the Review at our house; we cannot get on without it. If you do not read the Review you are missing a great blessing. The Division OUTLOOK is good; it fills an important place in this Division, but it cannot take the place of our world paper, the good old Review and Herald.

Organ of an International Brotherhood

A. W. STAPLES

As the son of pioneer believers in the advent message in South Africa, it gives me pleasure to recommend to you The Advent Review and Sabbath Herald. This paper is associated with things religious in my earliest recollections. Opening heart and awakening mind found guidance in its pages. In my youth I was inspired with the purpose of service and, ever since, this wonderful paper has enriched my ministry.

The Review and Herald is the only organ which speaks for the Advent movement in its international aspect. To watch the inspiring progress of the message on every battle front has been the delight of my life. This has helped me immeasurably when things were hard in my own corner. The manifestation of God's providence and power the world around has kept my soul athirst for the "refreshing" from on high. The Review and Herald constantly inspires one to keep step with the ever advancing message. It breathes upon us the spirit of international brotherhood, and one great common purpose to "make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

A survey of this paper will reveal the fact that it is organised to serve our family life. It instructs parents and moulds the ideals of our youth. Its general articles gather from the Scriptures and the Spirit of prophecy weekly messages—messages which are truly "meat in due season."

The editorials and heart to heart talks not only uplift Jesus and magnify the Word of God, but appeal for a higher standard of Christian living.

Open your heart to its message and you will be inspired with the spirit of loyalty and service.

Sacrifice to subscribe and you will be repaid. The Review and Herald is the one paper you cannot afford not to read. You need it and every member of the family needs it. Subscribe now.

Personally I feel that none of our members can afford to miss its weekly visits to their homes.

tributors are strangers to me. This shows that the message is going to all lands, and that large numbers are coming into the truth. All this is very encouraging, and the old members of the denomination realise how little they knew of how God would work in these last days.

I am sure that every Seventh-day Adventist home should have the Review, if they do not, it will be a sad loss to them, and I am sure many more could subscribe for this good paper, even if they have to make some real sacrifice to do so.

DO NOT MISS THE INSPIRING MESSAGES OF THE REVIEW

The Review and Herald in Every Adventist Home

J. F. WRIGHT

THE month of October 13 to November 13, 1934, has been set apart as the special season when the Review and Herald for the year 1935 can be brought to the attention of our believers. It is planned that all subscriptions taken during the time just mentioned will be at a special rate as set forth by others in this issue of the OUTLOOK, so I need not take time to cover this feature. I simply want to stress the need of having the paper in the homes of our people, and the fact that every one will have an excellent opportunity to secure the Review at a very low figure at this time.

Those who have been constant readers of the Review and Herald need no information or urging as regards its value. They know what an important place it fills in the spiritual growth of our people. Yes, they well understand and appreciate its value; hence they definitely plan for its weekly visit, simply because they cannot do without it.

Now, if there ever were a time when our church paper should be coming to the home of every Seventh-day Adventist in Africa, it is the present hour, for the only way that our people can keep in the spirit of this message is to keep in touch with its movements and progress. And there is no other channel through which they can realise this so fully as through reading the Review. Each week the paper contains stirring sermons, splendid articles on doctrine, and reports from the world-field, together with helpful counsel; all of which act as an efficient aid to spiritual living. Every week it is filled with that which you need to help you in these days of perplexity to which we have come. Surely, because of its great value to each believer, no home can afford to be without it.

So I want to join the brethren at this time in urging home upon the hearts of our dear people the need of receiving the Review during 1935. It may mean a sacrifice to raise the money required to subscribe for it, but let me tell you that the sacrifice will be repaid a thousand-fold to you in the future. Therefore, I trust you will do all you can to place your subscription for the paper while it is offered to you at the special rate during the period October 13 to November 13, 1934.

REDUCED PRICE

At the reduced rate of 9/- per year, the Review and Herald costs less than three-pence a week. Read about this special offer on page 7 and place your order with your church missionary secretary at once.

The Herald and Review

F. E. POTTER

WE have purposely reversed the title so as to draw your attention to this brief article, although the title describes the paper exactly, whichever way you read it.

Does it not herald the advance of the advent movement in all the world, and then review the progress made in every land? Does it not keep you posted on every phase of our work, and provide you with a veritable mine of information, interest, and inspiration?

Why, dear believer, if any other organization—secular or religious—had such an encyclopedic stimulus as our old Review and Herald, its members would be mighty proud of it—and, what is more, would make no mistake about their names being on the subscription list. If you are not on the subscription list of the Review and Herald will you please spare a moment to make a list of your reasons. There are a full score of reasons why you should be a subscriber. Are there really any as to why you should not? If it is the price—and that, after all, is less than a shilling a month—why not join another family in subscribing for the paper?

No one can controvert the fact that we are living in perilous times. There is no knowing what a day will bring forth. Now is the time to gain that strength, courage, and inspiration which will enable you to meet the future with assurance and fortitude. If anything will bring you those essential qualities it is what the Review heralds, and what the Herald reviews of this mighty movement which the God of heaven is leading to a final and victorious issue.

Do not delay. Subscribe now, and bring a rich blessing to your heart and your home.

The Visitor With Messages of Cheer to Our Homes

J. N. DE BEER

NOTHING in this world is of greater interest to a true Adventist than the giving of God's last message to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people; for this he lives, works, prays and sacrifices. And no news is of such importance to him as the news of how the work is progressing in every part of the world, for he knows that when this message shall have been preached in all the world, then shall the end come. He is anxious to know, and must know, how conditions are shaping in the earth and pointing to the nearness of that event. We have often noticed at camp-meetings and other gatherings of our people, that the minister who is able to give us the best information and tell many experiences relative to the work, is the man whom everybody wants to hear, and the church or hall is usually crowded when it is his hour to speak. Then again, we all know how we are helped and encouraged in our Christian experience by the sermons and studies given at these gatherings by our ministers and experienced leaders, and feeling that we need this help we make special effort and sacrifice to attend these gatherings.

Dear fellow travellers, our God, who knows what His people need, has directed in the organisation of this last movement that provision should be made whereby His people may be informed every week, right in their homes, scattered as they are in cities, towns, and on farms, on all these matters so important to every member in the remnant church. As a reader of and subscriber to our church paper, the Review and Herald, for over thirty years I have no hesitation in stating that this provision has been made by the Lord through this periodical. It surely has been given the right name, for it truly is a Review of God's wonderful works in all the earth today, and a Herald of good tidings of encouragement to God's remnant people. The sermons, studies, admonition and counsel it brings to our homes, for old and young, from the leaders in this movement is always "meat in due season," and we can not afford to do without this help. I do not believe that any one who is a regular reader of the Review and Herald will grow cold and lose out in his Christian experience. In these hard times there are many necessary things that we have had to do without, but I have always considered that the Review and Herald is a necessity without which we cannot manage. We always look forward to its weekly arrival with its inspiring reports of God's work in all the world, and its messages of hope and cheer.

In closing I am constrained to say that any one belonging to the advent family of God, who does not receive and read the Review and Herald regularly from week to week, is sustaining a great loss and is missing the spiritual blessings and help it affords us to stand in this crisis hour to which we have come in the world's history. Therefore I strongly urge all our people who can read the English language to subscribe and become regular readers of this periodical.

Weekly Visitor From Headquarters

H. G. HANKINS

EVERY Thursday the post brings a batch of papers from overseas to our home. I especially look forward to the arrival of two of these periodicals,—the Review and Herald and the Youth's Instructor.

You know with what eagerness we used to look for news of the front, during the war. Perhaps you have still more earnestly desired to hear from an absent member of the family. The coming of the Review from week to week combines these two ex-

THE REVIEW IS THE GREAT ADVENT FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Die Herald and Review

ONS het met opset die titel agterstevoor om u aandag te vestig op hierdie artikeltjie; alhoewel dit nie daarop aankom hoe die titel geskryf word nie, dit gee in elk geval 'n juiste beskrywing van die blad.

Kondig dit nie die voorwaartse gang van die boodskap in die hele wêreld aan nie, en gee dit nie 'n oorsig van die vooruitgang van die werk in elke land nie? Hou dit u nie op hoogte van elke fase van die werk nie, en is dit nie vir u 'n ware bron van inligting, belangstelling, en inspirasie nie?

Regtig, geagte gelowige, as enige ander organisasie—sekulêr of godsdienstig—so'n veelsydige prikkel had soos ons ou Review and Herald, sou hulle baie hoogmoedig daarop wees—en wat nog meer is, hulle sal seker maak dat hul name op die intekenaarslys is. As u naam nie op die lys is nie, sal u 'n paar oomblikke neem om 'n lys op te stel van die redes waarom dit nie is nie. Daar is tenminste twintig redes waarom u 'n intekenaar behoort te wees. Is daar regtig enige redes waarom u nie sou inteken nie? As dit miskien die prys is—en dis minder as 'n sjieling per maand—waarom tref u nie reëlings met 'n ander gesin en kry die blad saam nie?

Niemand kan die feit betwis dat ons in gevaarlike tye leef nie. Niemand weet wat more kan gebeur nie. Dis nou die tyd dat ons daardie krag, moed, en inspirasie moet bekom, wat ons in staat sal stel om die toekoms met geloof en vasberadenheid tegemoet te gaan. As daar enigiets is wat u hierdie onontbeerlike hoedanighede sal besorg, dan is dit wat die Review aankondig omtrent die magtige beweging wat die God van die hemel tot uiteindelijke oorwinning lei, en waarvan die Herald 'n oorsig gee.

Moet nie langer uitstel nie. Teken nou in, en besorg aan u eie hart en u gesin 'n ryke seën.

Die Mondstuk van die Adventiste Korps

F. G. CLIFFORD

Die Review and Herald is die mondstuk van die georganiseerde werk van Adventiste gelowiges. Meer as enigiets anders waarvan ek weet, het dit daartoe bygedra om die volk van God te verenig.

Altyd konserwatief, dog nooit reaksionêr nie; altyd gematig, dog steeds vooruitstrewend, het dit deur die jare heen diens gedoen as 'n soort van giruskoop om die ewewig in die kerk te bewaar.

Ek is bekend met hierdie goeie blad van kindsbeen af, en was nog nooit daarsonder gewees nie. Ek het nog altyd gevoel dat 'n Adventiste huis sonder die Review 'n bietjie kortskiet in wat dit behoort te wees. Die Review is die blad wat help om ons gesinne toe te berei vir die koms van die Here.

Sonder die Review is dit byna onmoontlik vir iemand om definitiewe kennis te hê van die wonderbaarlike vooruitgang van die advent-boodskap in die wêreld, en dan nog verwek die besielende preke en artikels daardie gees van godsaligheid en ywer wat die baanbrekers van die boodskap gekenmerk het.

Die Grootste Nuusblad in die Wêreld

MILTON ROBISON

Die Review and Herald is die grootste nuusblad in die wêreld want dit bring vir ons die nuus van die grootste werk in die wêreld. Hoe enige gelowige sonder die Review kan wees verstaan ek nie. Ons het al opgemerk hoe rusteloos mense kan word as hulle nie die jongste nuus van die wêreld kan weet nie. Hulle spandeer geld op draadloostoestelle en nuusblaie sodat hulle kan tred hou met die tye. Maar ek sê dat mense wat die Review nie lees nie, nooit waarlik op hoogte van sake kan wees nie. God het belowe om 'n spoedige en magtige werk op die aarde te doen in hierdie laaste dae. Hy doen ook hierdie werk, broeders en susters, en dit is die Review wat vir ons die nuus daaromtrent verskaf. Deur middel van hierdie blad bly ons in aanraking met die leiers van die beweging, en kry ons ook die jongste berigte van ons hoofkwartiere.

Ek spreek van ondervinding. In my kinderjare was dit die Review wat moeder vir ons gelees het Sabbatmiddae. Hoe het ons harte nie getril nie toe ons van Solusi, ons eerste sendingstasie in Afrika gelees het. Hoe groot was ons belangstelling nie toe ons gehoor het dat ons sendelinge Australië, China, en Indië binnegedring het! Ek onthou nog hoe opgewonde ons was toe daar besluit was om die boot „Pitcairn” te bou en dit na die eilande van die see te stuur—na Fiji, Tahiti, en Samoa. Dit is hierdie soort nuus wat ons belangstellend maak in die werk van die Here, en ons gewillig maak om te gee sodat nuwe lande kan binnegedring word en nuwe volke kan bereik word.

Ons moet die Review in ons huise hê; ons kan nie daarsonder klaarkom nie. As u nie die Review lees nie dan mis u 'n groot seën. Die OUTLOOK van ons Divisie is goed; dit beantwoord aan 'n belangrike doel in hierdie Divisie, maar dit kan nie die plek van ons wêreldblad, die goeie ou Review and Herald, inneem nie.

Verminderde Prys

TEEN die verminderde intekengeld van 9/- per jaar, kos die Review and Herald minder as trippens per eksemplaar. Lees omtrent hierdie spesiale aanbod op bladsy 7 en bestel dadelik.

Die Review and Herald in Elke Sewende-dag Adventiste Woning

J. F. WRIGHT

DIE tydperk tussen 13 Oktober en 13 November 1934 is afgesonder vir propaganda doeleindes vir die Review and Herald van 1935. Die plan is dat alle intekengelde wat tussen hierdie datums ingevorderd word, volgens die spesiale tarief sal wees wat in hierdie uitgawe van die OUTLOOK verskyn. Ek sal dus nie hieroor uitwei nie, maar ek wil slegs nadruk lê op die behoefte wat ons mense aan hierdie blad het, asook op die feit dat hulle nou 'n uitstekende kans het om op die blad in te teken teen 'n verminderde prys. Dis nie nodig om die blad by die gereelde lesers aan te prys nie. Hulle weet in watter groot behoefte dit voorsien ten opsigte van die geestelike opwasning van ons mense. Ja, hulle besef die waarde daarvan baie goed; en omdat hulle nie daarsonder kan klaarkom nie sorg hulle ook dat hulle dit elke week ontvang.

As daar ooit 'n tyd was dat elke huisgesin ons kerkblad behoort te kry, dan is dit in hierdie uur, want die enigste manier waarop ons mense in die gees van die boodskap gehou kan word, is deur tred te hou met die vooruitgang van die boodskap. Daar is geen ander weg waarlangs hulle dit kan doen as deur die Review te lees nie. Die blad bevat elke week opwekkende preke, uitstekende artikels oor ons leerstellingen, en rapporte uit die wêreldveld, asook goeie raadgeewing; dit alles help ons in die geestelike lewe. Elke week bevat dit presies daardie dinge wat u sal help in hierdie dae van radeloosheid waarin ons lewe. Weëns sy groot waarde vir elke gelowige kan geen huisgesin dit bekostig om daarsonder te bly nie.

Daarom wil ek saam met die broeders by u die noodsaaklikheid op die hart druk om in te teken op die Review vir 1935. Dit sal miskien 'n bietjie opoffering kos om die intekengeld bymekaar te bring, dog dit sal 'n opoffering wees wat in die toekoms oor en oor vergoed sal word. Daarom vertrou ek dat u alles in u vermoë sal doen om op die blad in te teken teen die verminderde prys gedurende 13 Oktober tot 13 November 1934.

'n Blad met 'n Boodskap

B. W. ABNEY

IN 1912 het ek intekenaar geword op die Review and Herald, en vir twee-entwintig jaar al, kry ek dit gereëld. Geen besoeker is meer welkom as die Review and Herald nie, want dit is 'n blad met 'n boodskap.

Baie keer het die Review and Herald die een of ander skriftuur waarmee ek geworstel het, vir my opgehelder. Baiemaal, by die lese van die artikels het ek nuwe moed en krag ontvang. En menigmaal het die (Vervolg op bladsy 7)

LESERS VAN DIE REVIEW IS OP HOOGTE VAN SAKE

'n Bode van Lig vir Elke Gesin

Ons mense moet kragtiger pogings aanwend om die sirkulasie van die Review uit te brei. As ons broeders en susters maar net meer erns aan die dag wil lê en hulle meer inspanning wil getroos, dan sal dit geskied. Elke huisgesin behoort die blad te kry, en as hulle maar net hulle geliefkoosde lekkernye soos tee en koffie wil opoffer, dan sal baie huisgesinne wat nou die weeklikse besoek van die blad mis, dit kan bekostig om die bode van lig ook in hulle huise te hê. Byna elke huisgesin ontvang een of meer sekulêre blaaië wat gewoonlik liefdesverhale bevat en tonele van moord en misdaad beskryf, wat diegene wat dit lees geestelik benadeel. Diegene wat ge-willig is om sonder die Review and Herald te bly, verloor baie. In sy bladsye gee Christus waarskuwings, vermanings, en raad, wat ons gedagtegang sal verander, en vir ons sal wees soos die lewensbrood.

ELLEN G. WHITE.

A Messenger of Light for Every Family

Our people should make greater efforts to extend the circulation of the Review. If our brethren and sisters would only manifest greater earnestness and put forth more persevering efforts to accomplish this, it would be done. Every family should have this paper. And if they would deny themselves their darling luxuries, tea and coffee, many who do not now have its weekly visits might pay for the messenger of light to come into their household. Almost every family takes one or more secular papers, and these frequently contain love stories and exciting tales of villainy and murder which injure the minds of all who read them. Those who consent to do without the Review and Herald lose much. Through its pages, Christ may speak to them in warnings, in reproofs and counsel, which would change the current of their thoughts, and be to them as the bread of life.

ELLEN G. WHITE.

Maintains Denominational Unity

FROM earliest childhood I can remember how the Review and Herald came to our home as a regular and constant visitor. I recall very vividly as I grew to years of understanding, the impression made upon my life by the reading of some of its outstanding articles. How eagerly, too, we used to look forward to its weekly visit when on lonely mission stations in the wilds of Africa! With what pleasure we still read the articles written by those strong, rugged pioneers such as Elders I. H. Evans, W. A. Spicer and others! What cheer it has brought to lonely hearts; what tales of the marvellous providences of God in the most distant corners of the globe; what encouraging reports go out from week to week of the spreading of the gospel message to earth's remotest bounds! Our hearts have been touched as we have read of victories won in the lives of men and women everywhere, and while we struggled to hold up the banner of truth, what comfort it brought, to know that the brethren and sisters all around the globe were standing true and loyal at their posts. Indeed, no Seventh-day Adventist home can afford to do without its comforting message, its encouragement to press on, and its appeal to a deeper spiritual experience.

Possibly no other single agency has been more effectively used by the Lord in maintaining our denominational unity and consistency, and it is with concern that we see some of the homes of our people without its influence for unity and strength. Our slogan must always therefore be: The Review and Herald in every Seventh-day Adventist home."

Meer Waardeer as 'n Persoonlike Brief

D. F. TARR

TOE ek in 1887 die derde-engelboodskap aangeneem het, het ek 'n belangstellende leser van die Review and Herald geword, en met die verloop van die jare word dit vir my nog altyd dierbaarder. Menigmaal het ons die opmerking gemaak dat sy koms, elke week, meer op prys gestel word as 'n brief van 'n dierbare vriend.

Die rapporte uit die groot wêreldveld, wat die vordering van die boodskap aandui, is altyd baie beseiend; die stukke wat ons vooraanstaande broeders skryf is opbeurend en verheffend. Die hoë peil wat deurgaans gehandhaaf word, gee ons stof tot dankbaarheid aan God dat Hy so'n uitstekende prediker van die waarheid in ons midde stuur, wat 'n volk toeberei om te staan in die grote dag van die Here.

Persoonlik voel ek dat nie een van ons lede die weeklikse besoeke van die blad aan ons wonings kan mis nie.

DIE REVIEW IS DIE NUUSBLAD VAN DIE ADVENTGESIN

Orgaan van 'n Internasionale Broederskap

A. W. STAPLES

As die seun van baanbreker-gelowiges in die Advent-boodskap in Suid-Afrika, doen dit my genoë om die Advent Review and Sabbath Herald by u aan te beveel. Hierdie blad is van my vroegste herinneringe af, verbonde met my godsdiens. Namate my hart oopgegaan en my verstand ontwikkel het, het ek in sy bladsye leiding gevind. In my jong dae het dit my met die doel om te dien besiel, en nog steeds verryk hierdie wonderlike blad my bediening.

Die Review and Herald is die enigste mondstuk van die adventbeweging in sy internasionale hoedanigheid. Om die vordering van die boodskap op elke front te betrag, is die vreugde van my lewe. Dit het my oneindig veel gehelp as dinge in my eie hoekie moelik gaan. Die openbaring van Gods voorsienigheid en krag om die aarde, het nog altyd my siel dorstig gemaak vir die verkwikking van omhoog. Die Review and Herald moedig 'n mens steeds aan om tred te hou met die altyd uitbreidende boodskap. Dit besiel 'n mens met die gees van internasionale broederskap en die groot doel om 'n volk gereed te maak, toeberei vir die Here.

'n Ondersoek van hierdie blad openbaar die feit dat dit opgestel is om die huisgesin te dien. Dit verskaf inligting aan die ouers, en vorm die ideale van die jeug. Sy algemene artikels gee aan ons weeklikse boodskappe uit die Skrif en die Gees van profesie, wat in der waarheid spyse op die regte tyd is.

Die hoofartikels en vertroulike gesprekke verhoog nie alleen die Here Jesus en maak die Woord van God groot nie, maar dit maak ook 'n beroep op ons om 'n hoër peil in ons Christelike lewe te bereik.

Open u hart vir sy boodskappe en u sal besiel word met die gees van getrouheid en diens.

Maak 'n opoffering om daarop in te teken en u sal vergoed word. Die Review and Herald is die één blad wat u nie kan bekostig om nie te lees nie. U het dit nodig en al u huisgenote het dit nodig. Teken nou daarop in.

Die Besoeker wat Ons Bemoedig

J. N. DE BEER

NIKS in die wêreld is vir die ware Adventis van groter belang nie as die verkondiging van die laaste boodskap van God aan elke nasie en stam en taal en volk; hiervoor lewe hy, werk hy, bid hy, en offer hy alles op. En geen nuus is vir hom belangriker as die berigte van die vordering van die werk in alle dele van die aarde nie, want hy weet dat so gou as die boodskap in die hele wêreld verkondig is, die einde sal kom. Hy verlang om te weet, hy moet weet hoe die toestand ontwikkel wat die nabyheid van daardie gebeurtenis aankondig. Ons het al dikwels gemerk by kampvergaderings en ander byeenkomstes van ons mense hoedat die predikant wat die beste op hoogte van sake is en die meeste interessante voorvalle in ons werk kan vertel, die spreker is wat almal wil hoor, en hoe vol die kerk of saal is wanneer hy preek. En ons weet watter bron van hulp en bemoediging die preke en studies van ons ervare leraars en leiers by hierdie byeenkoms vir ons is, en omdat ons voel dat ons hierdie hulp en bemoediging nodig het, maak ons baie opofferings om ons kampdienste by te woon.

Liewe medereisigers, onse God wat die behoeftes van Sy volk ken, het dit so beskik dat daar in die organisasie van hierdie laaste beweging voorsiening gemaak is dat elke lid van die oorblyfsel kerk die nodige informasie in verband met al hierdie belangrike sake elke week in sy eie huis kan ontvang, waar hy ook al mag woon; in 'n stad, op 'n dorp, of op 'n afgeleë plaas. As 'n intekenaar op die Review and Herald vir die afgelope dertig jaar, kan ek sonder aarseling sê dat hierdie blad voorsien in bogemelde behoeftes. Die tydskrif het voorwaar die regte naam want dit is 'n oorsig (Review) van die wonderbare werke van God op die aarde, en 'n aankondiger (Herald) van goeie nuus vir die oorblyfsel volk van God. Die preke, studies, raad, en vermanings van die leiers van hierdie beweging, wat hierdie blad na onse huise bring, vir oud en jonk, is altyd „spyse op die regte tyd” vir ons geestelike lewe, waarsonder ons nie kan klaarkom nie. Ek is oortuig daarvan dat gereëde lesers van die Review and Herald nie sal koud word teenoor die boodskap en agteruit gaan in hul geestelike lewe nie. In hierdie sware tye moet ons klaarkom sonder baie nodige dinge, maar ek besef dat dit onmoontlik is om sonder die Review and Herald klaar te kom. Ons sien altyd gretig uit na sy weeklikse koms met sy besielende verslae en sy bemoedigende boodskappe.

Ten slotte voel ek my gedwonge om te sê dat enigeen wat behoort aan die adventgesin, en wat nie die Review and Herald kry en lees nie, homself groot verlies berokken en die geestelike seëninge mis wat ons help om staande te bly in hierdie krisisuur. Daarom wil ek aanbeveel dat almal wat kan Engels lees inteken op hierdie tydskrif en dit gereëde lees.

Die Blad wat Ons Saambind

VAN my kinderjare af kan ek onthou hoedat die Review and Herald gereëde en gedurig ons huis besoek het. Namate ek begin verstaan het, kan ek nog baie helder voor die gees roep hoedat party van die buitengewone artikels 'n indruk op my ge-maak het. Toe ons op eensame sendingstasies in woeste Afrika was, hoe gretig het ons nie uitgesien na sy weeklikse besoeke nie! En met watter genot lees ons nog die artikels van die stoere ou baanbrekers soos Leraars I. H. Evans, W. A. Spicer, en vele andere! Watter aanmoediging bring dit nie aan eensame harte nie; watter wonderlike verhalles lees ons nie van die voorsienigheid van God in die ver afgeleë hoekies van die aardbol nie; en watter bemoedigende rapporte word daar nie van week tot week gedaan nie in verband met die verkondiging van die evangelie boodskap in die uiterste dele van die aarde! Ons harte word geraak waar ons lees van die oorwinning wat behaal word in die harte van manne en vroue orals. En waar ons worstel om die banier van waarheid hoog te hou, watter vertroosting bring dit nie om te weet dat die broeders en susters om die aarde getrou op hulle poste staan. Geen Adventiste gesin kan dit bekostig om sonder sy vertroostende boodskappe, sy aanmoediging om aan te druk, en sy oproepe tot 'n dieper geestelike lewe, te wees nie.

Daar is miskien geen ander middel wat die Here met groter sukses gebruik het om ons tot eenheid en eensgesindheid te bring nie, en dit is met besorgdheid dat ons bemerk dat daar sommige gesinne is wat sonder sy invloed is. Ons strydskreet behoort dus altyd te wees: „Die Review and Herald in elke Adventiste huis.”

'n Weeklikse Besoeker van Ons Hoofkwartier

H. G. HANKINS

ELKE Donderdag bring die pos 'n aantal oorseese blaaië vir ons. Na die koms van twee van hierdie tydskrifte sien ek veral uit,—die Review and Herald, en die Youth's Instructor.

U weet hoe gretig ons die nuus van die front gelees het gedurende die oorlog. Miskien verlang u nog sterker na nuus van 'n lid van u gesin wat van die huis af weg is. Die koms van die Review elke week verenig hierdie twee ondervindinge. Ek lees eerste die rapporte van die vooruitgang van die boodskap in alle dele van die wêreld en veral op die verskillende punte van die sending-front. Dan soek ek die nuus uit van die lede van die groot adventgesin en wat hulle wedervaar op hulle poste oor die lengte en breedte van die aarde.

Natuurlik teken ek in op die Signs of the Times en sommige van ons ander blaaië wat ons in voeling hou met wêreldtoestande in die lig van die profetiese Woord. Maar hierdie blaaië wat vir die publiek geskrywe is verskil van die wat vir die lede van die adventgesin uitgegee word. En so vind ek dat hierdie inleidingsartikels en stukke my dieper bewus maak van die feit dat die einde van alle dinge genaak.

Van tyd tot tyd het ons die voorreg gehad om beampies van die Wêreldkonferensie (Vervolg op bladsy 8) rapporte van die wonderbaarlike vooruitgang van die boodskap in ander lande my besiel.

Dit bevat 'n boodskap vir die hele huisgesin; vir vader, moeder, en kinders. Ek kan nie insien hoe enige huisgesin daarsonder kan wees in hierdie gevaarlike tye nie. Ek glo dat dit die plig van elke huisgesin is om op hierdie groot blad in te periences in one. I look first for the reports of the advance of the message in all parts of the world, and more especially on the various mission fronts. And then I look out all the news of the different members of the great Adventist family in their various experiences round the circle of the globe.

Of course I get the Signs of the Times, and some of our other papers that keep us in touch with the world conditions that concern the student of prophecy. But these, which are written for the public, differ somehow from those that are written for the members of the family. And so I find these articles and editorials stir my soul to a more acute realisation of the nearness of the end of all things.

We have had the privilege of entertaining in our home, from time to time, officers of the General Conference and others of our ministers who were passing through our town. We have had many blessings in becoming acquainted with these men, and have had the joy of communion with them. But the circle of our friends is wider than the geographical limits of our hospitality. For with the Review, as it reaches us from week to week, come messages from God's noblemen who are conducting His affairs in all parts of the earth. And their messages of hope and cheer bring comfort and happiness to us. And as we find ourselves in perplexity, at times, with some new assault of the enemy, we are sure to get help and light on the Scriptures, if we turn to the pages of this, the weekly visitor from headquarters.

And this was especially impressed on me by the arrival of the last number which reached me two days ago. I had just been discussing the British-Israel movement, and wondering where I could get a little light and help on this question. And there I found a helpful article on that question.

I was born in this message, brought up in the home of one of its pioneer missionaries, and educated in our denominational schools. I have been familiar with the Review from my earliest childhood, and have had it in my home ever since I had a home at all. And I feel that it is an absolute necessity to my Christian experience. For it keeps me in touch with the acts of the modern apostles, with world conditions, and with the dangers that beset the feet of the children of the kingdom in this, the last generation that looks for the coming of our Saviour.

To do without this paper would, I feel, be a serious handicap to my Christian life. And I cannot afford handicaps, just now. Can you? If you do not get this paper, you are running serious and unnecessary risks. Let me urge you to take into your homes this weekly Heaven-sent messenger, that it may be a blessing to you, as it has been to me.

Helderberg News Notes

THE Normal Department presented an excellent programme on Sunday night, September 16. The first section of the evening was devoted to the portrayal of tableaux, representing the old masterpieces in painting. The latter half of the programme was a representation of a dormitory scene.

ELDER AND MRS. WRIGHT spent a few days at the college recently. While here he addressed the students in a chapel hour and also on Sabbath. His visit was marked with definite spiritual gain to all who heard his inspiring talks.

THE Literary Society presented a Radio Programme two weeks ago. The evening took the form of a trip through Europe by air. On the way, as each country was passed, some distinguishing piece of literature of the land was rendered.

THE Junior Class of 1934 was organised on Sunday, September 9. The following officers were chosen: President, Leslie Le Butt; Secretary-treasurer, Freya Boekhout; Sergeant-at-arms, William Hyatt.

THE Government Inspector has been out to the college to examine the Jersey herd. He gave a very good report. The animals all passed the test, were registered and entered into the Government stud-book. Some of the cows stand high in Jersey records in South Africa.

THE hatching of the chickens is proving a great success. So far, six hundred chickens have been hatched.

Appreciation

MRS. CLIFFORD wishes to express her appreciation to the many friends who have extended their sympathy to her in her bereavement by the death of her father, Elder Edmed. While it has not been possible to reply personally to all the letters received, nevertheless every one brought comfort, and was sincerely appreciated.

sie en ander leraars van ons kerk, by ons aan huis te onthaal. Dit was vir ons 'n voorreg om met hulle kennis te maak, en 'n genot om met hulle gedagtes te wissel. Maar ons vriendekring is wyer as die beperkte aantal wat binne bereik van ons gasvryheid kom. Want die Review bring ons week vir week boodskappe van die gesante van God wat Sy saak bevorder in alle dele van die aarde. En hul bemoedigende boodskappe vertroos en verheug ons. En dikwels, wanneer die vyand met 'n nuwe versoeking kom, kry ons lig op die Skrif, in die bladsye van hierdie weeklikse besoeker wat van ons hoofkwartier kom.

Dit het my veral opgeval toe die jongste Review my twee dae gelede bereik het. Ek het net 'n gesprek gehad oor die „British-Israel” beweging, en ek het gewonder hoe ek 'n bietjie meer omtrent die onderwerp kon te wete kom. En daar vind ek die nodige inligting in 'n uitstekende artikel in die Review.

Ek is gebore in hierdie boodskap, opgevoed in die huis van een van ons baanbreker-sendelinge en in ons kerkskole en kolleges. Van my kinderjare af is ek bekend met die Review en ek het die blad in my huis gehad van dat ek 'n huis het. Ek voel dat dit onontbeerlik is vir my geestelike lewe. Want dit hou my op hoogte van die handelinge van die moderne apostels en van wêreldtoestande, en waarsku my teen die gevare wat die kinders van die koninkryk omring in hierdie laaste geslag, waar hulle wag op die koms van die Heiland. Om sonder hierdie blad klaar te kom, sal 'n groot leemte laat in my geestelike lewe. En ek kan dit nie bekostig om so 'n leemte in my lewe te hê nie. Kan u? As u hierdie blad nie kry nie, loop u 'n onnodige gevaar. Vergun my om u aan te spoor om weekliks hierdie hemelse boodskapper by u aan huis te ontvang, dat dit u, soos my, tot seën mag strek.

THE COMING CRISIS

The prophetic word indicates that we have reached the closing days of earth's history. A crisis awaits the world, and the hour is fast approaching.

“The Coming Crisis,” by Elder F. M. Wilcox, editor of the “Review and Herald,” contains a brief review of several Bible prophecies culminating in the last-day crisis; also a compilation of significant statements from the writings of Mrs. E. G. White relative to this crisis. The chapter headings are as follows:

The Crisis Hour.
Apostate Protestantism.
Restoration of the Papacy.
The Papal Image and Mark.
The Christian's Relation to Earthly Government.
The Sabbath Keeper and Sunday Laws.
Satan and Miracles.
Pestilences and Persecution.
Our Attitude Toward Opposition.
Preparation for the Crisis.
The Everlasting Gospel.
Comfort in Trial and Sorrow.
God's People Delivered.
The Goodly Land.

This book contains 96 pages of information that every Seventh-day Adventist should be thoroughly acquainted with. Printed on a good grade of antique paper, and bound in a substantial paper cover, it sells at the small price of only 1/9, postage paid.

Orders should be sent to your Book Depository office. Coloured churches in the South African Union Conference may order direct from—
