God's Way the Shortest

The entire world is to be reached with our message of warning. The "everlasting gospel" must be proclaimed in all lands, as a witness to all nations, to all peoples, "then shall the end come." The road to triumph belts the globe, leading east and west, north and south--even unto the ends of the earth. This, indeed, is a long way; but, nevertheless, it is the shortest way into the kingdom.

Furthermore, the quickest way to finish the work in our home-base fields is the long road to all the fields. The early church had a commission from God to carry the gospel into all the world; and they bore their witness faithfully. Living but to do God's will, and surrendering all in service, the believers of that time went forth "conquering, and to conquer," and the "hope of the gospel... was preached to every creature which is under heaven." (Col. 1:23.) Did these early Christians restrict their labors to one certain field, with the idea of bringing the work to completion before moving out into other regions? As we read the story of their "acts," we do not gather the impression that such was the case. On the contrary, they were world-minded, ever reaching out into the regions beyond. The apostolic movement followed the "long road" into all the world, and this was the shortest way to a finished task.

Consider in this connection the methods of a St. Paul. This great apostle and his companions journeyed to and fro over Asia Minor, raising up companies along the highways of travel. Paul was of Tarsus, and we can say Asia Minor was to him a home field. Why should he not bave pushed on and on until all parts of this field had been worked, and only then go on to other lands? We read that the Holy Spirit who directed this first great world campaign, forbade him to preach the word in the province of Asia, and suffered him not to go into Bithynia, both of which were sections of the home field. (Acts $6: 6.8$ ). The Lord knew a quicker way of bearing the witness not only to the Asia Minor home-base, but to all the known world. His guiding providence led the little band down to Troas, a seaport on the waters that separated Europe from Asia. There, in vision, the apostle heard the cry from Macedonia, "Come over into Macedonia, and help us." And so they moved out into Europe.

The road to a quickly finished work of witnessing in Palestine and Asia Minor lay toward the unentered lands and cities afar. This is also God's plan for the closing gospel effort. True, we have still much to do in Switzerland, in Belgium, in France, in Jugoslavia, in Rumania; yes, much to do in all Europe. But we shall cover these home fields more rapidly if we divide means and men with the overseas unoccupied territories. The long way around is the short way to a completed task. In fact it is the only way.

SHEPHERDING THE FLOCK

This is an urgent appeal for a more thorough, a more enlightened shepherding of the flock. It is indeed a grievous thing to see souls leaving the ranks of the people of God, especially at a time when so many new believers are being gathered into the fold. Our hearts bleed when we learn that some have gone out from our midst and no longer walk with us in the lighted way. True, the statistical report shows that our losses by apostasy have greatly diminished during the past two years; we feel nevertheless, that we should ever remember, and more and more as the day of translation approaches, the exhortation of the apostle Peter to the elders: "Feed the flock of God which is among you."

We have fallen upon the perilous times of the end. Seldom has the church of Christ been in greater danger than today. Certainly, at such a time, it is our duty to give with haste the last message of warning to the world. But, with no less certainty, this day of peril calls for the exercise of greater diligence in taking care in every way of those who accept the truth.

The members of the church are to be nourished and fed with spiritual food. To feed the flock is the solemn duty of every faithful shepherd, and the Lord will hold each responsible for the way in which he fulfills his duty. God's earnest appeal through the prophet Ezechiel to the shepherds of Israel, who fed themselves but not the flock, clothed themselves with wool but did not care for the sheep, is a direct message to the workers and church leaders today.

Much faithful shepherding has been done in the past, "not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind." However, much more should be done, is to be done; and it is with a view to a more diligent, more faithful, more successful fulfilling of our duty as shepherds for God that

We recommend, 1. That when a new church is organized, special attention be given to the selection and training of local leadership, in order that the new church may be strongly established and satisfactorily directed and developed.
2. That local conferences and missions arrange for a two to four-day convention every year if possible, to instruct, inspire, and qualify the church officers for their sacred work. It is suggested that among other things, the following essentials should be taught:
a) The principles and methods of church organization.
b) The relation of the church to the conference.
c) The responsibilities of elders, deacons, and other church leaders, such as Sabbath School, M.V., and Home Missionary officers.
d) The necessity of personal contact and interest in each member of the church.
3. That proper instruction be given to the members in order that they understand and appreciate their personal relation to the church of God as a world organization. God deals not only with His church as a whole, but directly with each member individually. The instruction of the apostle Paul concerning church organization should be so deeply impressed upon each member that he will at all times feel his own personal responsibility in the welfare and work of the church, and will draw spiritual food for himself from the word of God as given in the Bible and the Spirit of prophecy.

In this connection the relationship of members to the prayer meeting, Sabbath school, Missionary Volunteer society, and other church activities, should be clearly explained.
4. That church members be trained to cooperate with the elders in the task of shepherding. In some churches a pastoral group should be formed with the aim of visiting the home of every church member several times a year, of visiting especially those who absent them selves from the services of the church, encouraging them to faithful attendance, and of contacting those who have drifted out of the church, endeavoring to reclaim them for God.
5. That, in the larger churches, a welcoming committee be appointed to greet all strangers coming to Sabbath school and services, ascertaining whether they are members of a sisterchurch or not, and to see that such persons are invited to a Sabbath school class and otherwise made to feel that they are welcome to participate in the activities of the church In the smaller churches some qualified person should be assigned to this task.
6. That special interest be taken in our youth, to guard them from being swept away by the pleasure-loving spirit which characterizes the world, and direct them as tar as possible toward our training schools where they may become firmly grounded in the truth and be prepared for service in harmony with God's plan for their lives. The youth who remain with the home church should be given responsibilities where they can become "God's helping hand."
7. That, as may be arranged for by conference or mission organizations, revival services, of ten days to three weeks, be held in certain churches, at which time a special appeal will be made to the children of Adventist parents, to backstiders in the church, and to allfor a deeper consecration of heart.
8. That the church papers of our different language areas be recognized as an important, efficient means of feeding the flock, and that we encourage our members to subscribe to them; that in cases where church members cannot read, the leader of the church see to it that the information and spiritual help contained in the church paper are brought to the unlearned by those who can read, by means of a missionary visit.

Finally, brethren, let us undertake this work of shepherding as a sacred, holy task, fully conscious of the fact that our dependence is upon the Lord for success. Only as we maintain a living connection with God, only as the Holy Spirit is the indwelling, impelling power in our lives, can any plans or methods be truly effective in building up the cause of God on earth. Then let us live in constant communion with Heaven, and invite Jesus to stand by our side. The presence of the "Chiet Shepherd" will mean successful shepherding. We can count on Jesus' help in a special way as we shepherd the flock that is among us, for "the church, enfeebled and defective, needing to be reproved, warned and counselled, is the only object on earth upon which Christ bestows His supreme regard." (7est. to Ministers, p. 49.) In fact it is Christ who said: "Feed my sheep," "Feed my lambs;" and if we respond to His command with all our heart and with all our might, the flock of God will be truly shepherded, "and when the Chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away."

Remarks by the President

In this issue of the Quarterly Review our readers will find the report of our Division statistical secretary for the year 1938. This report gives in figures the result of the combined efforts of our workers and members in behalf of perishing souls.

Statistical reports are often dry and uninteresting, but this report should be of interest to all. It deals not with francs or liras, dinars or leis, or with other inanimate things, but it deals with human souls. It reveals to us the glorious and inspiring fact that during the year 1938 there were 3040 precious, blood-bought souls won for Christ and added to our churches by baptism and vote. And the picture is not complete, for in our largest and most fruitful union conditions have been such that it has been impossible to obtain information from some parts of the field. Considering further the fact that our work in Spain has been completely disorganized and paralyzed by the war, and that in our largest union scores of our churches have been closed and many of our ministers and members either put in prison or under strict orders (and constant observation) not to do any missionary work, these results are very encouraging.

In spite of all the efforts of the enemy to hinder and destroy, God has blessed and prospered His work. We thank God for the 3040 baptisms reported and also for the ones that could not be reported. Had not new restrictions and hindrances arisen in our largest and most productive field, we feel certain that we would have been able to report more than 4000 new additions to the churches in our Division during the year 1938.

The financial report appearing in this number shows that there was an increase of more than thirty-one thousand dollars in the tithe paid into the treasuries of the conferences and missions of our Division during the past year, and about six thousand dollars more in mission offerings. For this we thank God and also our dear brethren and sisters who have so faithfully supported the cause of God with their means. May the Lord richly bless and prosper all who have so nobly and loyally sustained His work.

The year 1938 is now in the past. Its record is closed. Nothing can be added to it, and nothing can be taken from it. A new year is before us, however, and with the help of God we must seek to make this a year of great victory and real success, both in our own Christian experience and in the work of winning souls for Christ. Looking at the conditions in the world and especially at the situation confronting us in several of our fields where the enemy seems determined to annihilate us and our work, we may be tempted to become discouraged. It may seem to us that nothing can be accomplished under such forbidding circumstances. We must not forget, however, that "a divine hand is on the wheel" and that our Captain will guide us through every storm and tempest. He who has commissioned us to carry His message into all the world has also assured us "that this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations." That includes all the countries in our Division. We may not see how it can be done, but if we put our trust in God and by faith in Him go forward, He will open the way.

The＂King＇s＂Bible

Upon my arrival in Bucharest last February，I immediately went over to the newsstand to buy a paper．I was not a little surprised to see several copies of a book bearing the，inscription ：＂La Biblia．＂

As I inquired what had caused the Bible to be thus publicly exhibited，I was told that His Majesty King Carol II had asked that a new translation of the Bible be prepared，and that the book be made accessible to each one of his subjects．The monarch＇s order has been executed，and thus the commonly called＂King＇s＂Bible can be found in all large bookstores．

Needless to say，our members in Rumania are very happy that their ruler wants his people to have a copy of the Bible．Is there，in fact，any other book with so mighty an influence，and which is so able to transform lives？

The Bible heretofore circulated in Rumania，was often designated as the＂Adventists＂＂Bible，and thus copies thereof found in the homes of our people were sometimes confiscated by the police．Nobody would dare take away from anyone a copy of the ＂King＇s＂Bible，and therefore it has become the official Bible of our churches and Sabbath schools．

Strike the Right Note！

A representative of the so－called＂breadless＂ art－a piano player－walking down a country road suddenly stopped to listen to music and voices com－ ing from a near－by inn．The strains of a piano， sounding more like noise than real music，particu－ larly caught his ear．

Entering the inn，our pianist went over to the one who was playing and asked him if he might take his place at the piano．＂Certainly，＂replied the old man who was playing，and upon whose face one could easily read pain and sorrow，＂if you are really able to play．＂＂You will like my music，I am sure，＂replied our pianist．

He seated himself at the piano，and with accom－ plished technique and art he brought forth most wonderful melodies．He knew how to strike the right notes in the right way．All marvelled at his skillful and beautiful playing，especially consiaering the fact that the piano was anything but a good instrument．

Is not the foregoing a striking illustration for our youth＇s educators？Over 10,000 young people in our Division wait to be＂tuned＂and＂played＂ aright．＂With such an army of workers as our youth，righdy trained，might furnish，how soon the message of a crucified，risen，and soon－coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world！＂ （Education，p．271．）

Educators，let us tune the harps of our young people＇s souls，and then strike the right notes．And instead of old melodies，heavenly music will sound forth，bringing joy to God and to men．
＂When you save a man or woman，you save a unit．When you save a boy or girl，you save a whole multiplication table．＂

Streams of Light

The advance moves of God's work are like streams of light on the dark horizon of our day.

As we look over the Publishing Department report we find many reasons to be greatly encouraged and to praise our Captain for His victorious leadership. True, the report shows a loss of $$ 950$ over the preceding year, but this loss is due to important changes in the exchange rates which have spoiled the picture in our dollar report. Considering the local currency, which indicates the real results, we find that three unions are a little below 1937 in their sales, but five have good gains.

Among the fields showing gains is found Rumania. This is a real miracle when we consider the adverse circumstances which our brave knights of the printed page have had to face in that field. In two other countries new conditions and measures of opposition have imperilled the work of our colporteurs. But everywhere our leaders and their men have learned to remain calm, to stand firm and confident in the face of every storm. With unshaken faith they plan quietly and push forward with unity and energy, counting on God to perform a miracle if necessary - and He does it. He has dispelled many a threatening cloud, reduced to nought countless onslaughts of the enemy of souls and plans which would have made impossible a continuance of the work. The thickening clouds of trouble on the world's horizon only make the story of each year's accomplishments a more inspiring recital of providential interventions in behalf of God's servants. These divine providences shine like streams of light, brightening the way of God's people.

On the other hand, the influence of our Godfearing colporteurs, as well as the publications they scatter, are also streams of light in the dark corners of the earth. In one of our difficult fields, where there is much persecution, a colporteur set as his objective to bring thirty souls to the truth. He has nearly reached this goal, and plans to keep increasing the list. In another difficult field they know of 79 souls found by canvassers who were baptized during 1937 and the first nine months of 1938.

The superintendent of a government school in the island of Reunion copied by hand and reproduced the pictures of the French "Steps to Christ" that a friend of hers had bought from a colporteur. The priest intervened and ordered the books to be burned. The lady who had the printed book obeyed, but the teacher kept her beautiful hand-made copy, which we now have here in the Division office. Since then the teacher has given up her good government position, in order to keep the Sabbath and to be baptized. She wants to consecrate her life to God's work. Her friend also is getting ready to join the Advent people.

Last January our French publishing house received an order for a copy of "Steps to Christ" from an unknown man in a section of France where we have no members. A few days later he ordered six more copies. Soon a new order came for twenty-eight copies, and a fourth for twenty-five. Then a friend of his living in another city, and whom he had interested in this wonderful little book, ordered fifty copies. Within six months these two men and their friends had ordered for missionary purposes more than 200 "Steps to Christ," fifty copies of our 360-page commentary on "Revelation" by J. Vuilleumier, and other publications. Two groups of people are earnestly interested in the truth in these two cities More than twenty of them attended the annual meeting of the South France Conference last July in Marseilles. We hopesoon to have new churches established in this hitherto unoccupied section of France.

How did this all come about? Eighteen years ago, a lady bought a copy of "Steps to Christ" in the city of Lyon. Not long ago she moved to the place where the man lives who ordered the first book from our publishing house. She gave him her treasured book to read, the Spirit of God spoke to his heart - and there was light!

All over the field we find such instances of the wonderful work accomplished by our colporteurs and through the reading of our publications. Everywhere streams of light are breaking forth from the seeds of truth to dissipate the darkness and enlighten the earth with the glory of God's message.

Healing through Prayer

A colporteur in Trinidad, British West Indies, called at a home where a lady was very sick. She was so near death that her fingers had already started to turn blue. The colporteur suggested that prayer be offered for her recovery. He said: "Before I pray, I. want the crucifix removed from her breast, aud also her iewelry." This was done, and as the colporteur prayed, the Spirit of God came near with healing power. At the close of the prayer, he asked her to get up, which she did. She was completely healed.
G. A. Edwards
"Open the Scriptures to some one that is in darkness, and you will not complain of weariness and lack of interest in the cause of truth. Your heart will be awakened to an anxiety for souls, and joy in the evidences of the faith will fill your heart, and you will know that 'he who watereth shall be watered also himself.'" (Christian Service, p. 144.)

March 9, Elder A.V.Olson sailed from Marseilies on the s.s. "Explorateur Grandidier" for an extended visit to our missions in the Indian Ocean. Before returning to Europe the latter part of June, our plesident will attend the biennial session of the Indian Ocean Union which will convene in Mauritius some time in May.

We are sure that it was with deep regret that conference leaders and churches everywhere loarned that Elder H.F. Brown, because of family conditions, has found it necessary to return definitely to his homeland. Brother Brown only spent a little more than two years with our Division staff, but the services he rendered the fields as Home Missionary secretary, and his indefatigable labor in sponsoring every phase of the work in Southern Europe, will be, no doubt, of lasting memory and effect. And we would not forget Mrs. Brown who, in the quief exercise of many Christion graces, also acquired a right to the debp appreciation of the Division family and the members of the Berne church. Brother Brown and family are now settled in Lansing, Michigan, where our brother is serving as Home Missionary secretary of the Michigan Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gouveia, of Portugal, sailed from Lisbon January 28 on the s.s. "Angola" for Porluguese East Africa. This young couple, both of whom are products of the little training school in Lisbon, are to locate on the Munguluni mission station with Elder and Mrs. M.M. Webster, where they will serve as teachers. We are confident that Brother and Sister Gouveia will give good, faithful service... A few days prior to their departure, M. Miguel, also a graduate of the Portuguese training school, left Lisbon on the s.s. "Vulcania" for the Azores Islands to join in labor with E.P. Mansell. For more than a year, Brother Mansell has been urging upon the Division committee the need of strengthening the work in his field, which comprizes the nine islands of the Azores group, and we are happy that the 1939 budget provides for this need. May God bless as the work is opened up in another island.

By a recent action of our committee, Brother H. Struve, who for some time has been serving as Missionary Volunteer and Sabbath School secretary of the Division, has been asked to accept the position left vacant by the departure of H. F. Brown, and Brother R. Gerber, for several years manager of the Gland sanitarium, has been invited to act as secretary of the Missionary Volunteer and Sabbath School Departments. We extend to Brother Gerber a very hearty welcome to his new work.

January 19, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erdmann embarked at Marseilles on the s.s. "Leconte de lisle" for Tamatave, Madagascar. Brother Erdmann has accepted a call to serve as secretary-preasurer of the Indian Ocean Union and the Madagascar Mission, with headquarters in Tananarive, and will replace H.L. Henriksen who, with his family, is returning definitely to Europe next June after a full term of overseas service. Brother Erdmann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ch. Erdmann, of Strasbourg, while his wife is the daughter of Elder and Mrs. H. Struve, of the Division staff. As this young couple leaves the shores of Europe we are reminded again of the spirit of sacrifice which characterizes, and ever must characterize, the fathers and mothers of the Advent Movement, By placing their sons and daughters before God for His service, our fathers and mothers join hands and hearts with hundreds of fellow believers around the world who, with them, are joyfully making this supreme sacrifice in view of the triumph of the "cause." Brother and Sister Erdmann were both reared in Christian homes for the service of God, and now as they cross the seas to far-away Madagascar, they are only responding to the call whereto they were born and trained. May God bless both parents and children through the coming years of absence and service.

The East France Conference has generously provided another medical missionary recruit for North Africa in the person of Miss B. Bentz, of Colmar. Miss Bentz took up work in connection with the Rabat, Morocco, dispensary last January. Thus an ever growing number of medical workers are devoting their consecrated energies to the care of the sick and distressed.

February 28, Mr. and Mrs. A. Nion and two children embarked at Bordeaux on the s.s. "Brazza" for French Equatorial Africa, where they are to locate on the Ndoumbi, Cameroon, station. Brother and Sister Nion, who have been studying at Collonges during the past few years, will replace Brother and Sister A. M. Sallée, who returned definitely to France last November because of Sister Sallée's impoired health. Let us not forget the Nion family in our prayers before God as they begin their labors under the trying conditions of a tropical climate.

Since the beginning of the year Elder W.R. Beach has been itinerating among our missions in the Portuguese islands of the Atlantic and in French Equatorial Africa, and will return to Europe about the end of April. Writing from the island of St. Thomas, he says: "God has blessed the beginning of the work on this island in a very marked manner. Brother and Sister Freire arrived at St. Thomas just a year ago, and although many long months went by before permission was obtained from the authorities to open mission work, we were able to hold the first baptismal ceremony last Monday (February 6), and this afternoon, before boarding the s.s. 'Angola' for Pointe Noire, we shall organize the first church and celebrate for the first time the ordinances of our Lord." Elder Beach also mentions the serious illness of Mrs. Freire, which may render necessary her return to Portugal for recuperation.
