NOTED NATURALIST TO SPEAK HERE FEB. 22

TO ILLUSTRATE LECTURE
Rocky Mountain Guide to Tell
His Tale in Institutional Relief Benefit Talk

Next Saturday night, Feb. 22 at 8 o'clock in Columbia Hall, the Students' Association will present Guy C. Caldwell, a Rocky Mountain guide and popular lecturer. His program will be given for the benefit of institutional relief. The 1930 campaign will be opened by his appearance.

To Show Slides

Mr. Caldwell comes to W. M. C. from the American Nature Association. His lecture is based on his own experiences as a naturalist, and is illustrated with an unparalleled selection of autochromes and hand painted slides. He directs his attention particularly to the fauna and flora of the western states.

Since boyhood, Mr. Caldwell has been imitating bird-calls and animal (Concluded on page 3)

THEOLOGICAL SEMINAR LAUDS TRUE CHURCH

A study of the true church throughout the ages, with special stress upon the work of the Waldenses who preserved the true Bible, was presented last Friday evening in Columbia Hall by three members of the Theological Seminar.

Dr. B. G. Wilkinson pointed out that the Christianity of the Greek Catholic, the Waldensian, the Gallic in southern France, and the Scotch-Irish churches was basically the same. Of these, the Waldenses endured the longest, and kept the purest faith.

Training Discussed

L. Orville Coon told of the early training of the Waldenses. From childhood they were taught the truths of the Bible. In the seclusion of the mountains every individual learned a trade. After this preparation, young men went into the cities, and there, while attending the universities, secretly spread the message. Mr. Coon (Concluded on page 3)

NEW BOOK ON CALENDAR REVISION IS PUBLISHED

"The Story of the Lost Day," a book written by Elder F. D. Nichol, is just off the press of the Pacific Press Publishing Association. It is a study of the calendar question.

The new book will be widely used in Canada and in the region of the Pacific Press in the coming Big Week campaign. The Religious Liberty and the Home Missionary departments of Seventh-day Adventists are fostering special campaigns for the sale of the publication in local churches.

Thousands of copies have already been ordered. The agitation for revision of the present calendar provides an opportunity for the propagation of the truth about God's Sabbath day. The new book should be of special interest to all theological students.

ASS'N HEARS ELDER L. FROOM RELATE STORY

Tells Tale of Harry Orchard in Student-Filled Chapel

The story of the conversion of Harry Orchard, convicted murderer of 21 persons, was related by Elder Leroy Edwin Froom, associate secretary of the Ministerial Association of Seventh-day Adventists, in the Students' Association meeting yesterday morning.

In introducing his remarks, the speaker explained the reason for his appearance, and told of his personal acquaintance with the characters involved in the story. He hoped that the tale would illustrate the redeeming power of the gospel of Christ.

RECREATION IS TOPIC OF VOLUNTEER TALKS

"Amusement versus Recreation" was the keynote of the Missionary Volunteers' assembly last Friday evening, Feb. 14.

"The test is, 'Can God bless it?' God's Word does not oppress activity, but merely guides it aright," said Miss Ruth Gorndt, assistant society leader, in opening the meeting.

Miss Kloss Speaks

Miss Promise Kloss pointed out that every human nature, physical, mental and spiritual, should be developed. It is accomplished physically by exercise; mentally, by thinking higher thoughts; and spiritually, by communion with God.

The recreation of music was discussed by Miss Muriel Mook. She called attention to the soothing effect of good music upon the sick, and to the devotional character of good music, especially that of ancient Israel. "The best music draws the soul (Concluded on page 2)

SANITARIUM EMPLOYS NEW SERVICE SYSTEM

The Sanitarium call boys are working under a new system. By it two of their number are head call boys. The system has been employed to relieve the desk clerk and the telephone operator of any extra amount of work which the call boys may do.

Maynard Bourdeau, one of the head call boys, has the morning shift, while Walcott Gibson takes care of the afternoon shift. There is no evening shift, because calls during that period are infrequent.

The head call boys dispatch all outgoing calls to the boys under them. They take care of all business at the desk of the main lobby. The sub call boys take all calls for the other sections of the buildings.

An accurate time-keeping system has been employed to see how long the average call takes the average call boy. The time of leaving and the time of return is noted by each head call boy during his shift. This system has proved to be a great time saver and gives the best results.

SCIENCE OF BIBLE IS DEFENDED IN ADDRESS

NATURE'S BEAUTY SHOWN

In a stirring appeal made to the student body for young people to defend the true science revealed in God's Word, Prof. E. C. Blue, Science Department head, spoke in the chapel hour last Friday.

He related the story of the late William Jennings Bryan, who lived in his own home town. He told how he had rejoiced to hear that the "silver-tongued" orator would defend the story of Genesis, and how disappointed he was when Bryan, in answer to a question regarding the length of the first six days of creation, declared, "I don't know." Prof. Blue called for men to fill the place left vacant by the death of the noted orator.

He revealed a few of the mysteries and beauties of nature, and declared that a God who held huge heavenly bodies in their course would take care of His children.

Prof. Blue said that his two years of teaching at W. M. C. were the happiest of his whole life.

BURGLAR IS CAPTURED BY FORMER STUDENT

A former W. M. C. student, Marlin Weigle, 21 years of age, showed rare bravery when, unaided, he disarmed and captured a runaway robber who had entered his home in Harrisburg, Pa., the night of Feb. 13.

The Weigle family returned from an automobile drive to find a stranger descending from their second floor. The elder Mr. Weigle tried to stop the (Concluded on page 2)

SIGNS OF THE TIMES STARTS NEW CONTEST

Another annual prize writing contest for the Signs of the Times magazine, in which W. M. C. took first place for two consecutive years, was recently announced by its editors.

There is no limit on the subjects that may be chosen, except that they lie within the field of the Signs of the Times. Articles on current events in the light of Bible prophecy, Christian apologetics, Christian living and health are all acceptable. Fifteen hundred words is the maximum length.

Manuscripts entered in the contest, which closes April 1, will be judged by the editors of the Signs of the Times. All college and junior college students are eligible to enter. Articles of superior excellence are awarded a first prize and a check of $3, and a year's subscription to the Signs. Second prize articles are awarded a year's subscription.

Thirteen W. M. C. students presented prize manuscripts last year. Three contributed "articles of superior excellence."

The contest provides an opportunity for students to gain experience in journalistic writing.

SENIOR CLASS FORMS WITH NINE MEMBERS

Former Editor Is President of Small Graduating Class

Nine students are enrolled in the Senior Class of Washington Missionary College for the year 1930. Eight of them are college women.

Walter Crandall, class president, registered at W. M. C. three years ago. He majored in English, served one semester as associate editor of The Sligonian and two semesters as its editor-in-chief.

Five Begin at W. M. C.

Five of the graduates began their college careers in W. M. C. They are the Misses Ruth Conard, Roberta Bridgeforth, Eunice Graham, Harriet Baker and Mary Ninaj. Every one of them is majoring in English.

Last year three others entered the (Concluded on page 3)

STRING ENSEMBLE IS FEATURED IN CHAPEL

A string ensemble, a division of the College orchestra under the leadership of Prof. Victor Johnson, provided the program for the chapel hour last Monday morning. Wood-wind instruments assisted in the entertainment, and orchestra numbers were interspersed with instrumental solos.

"A Valse Bluette," by Drigo opened the program. It was followed by a flute solo played by Miss Hazel Nary and a melophone solo by Miss Violet Numbers. "The Bedouin Love Song" (Concluded on page 3)

Lesson of Love Is Taught by Wrapper

By J. L.

Aunt Verna sent me a box the other day, a box of goodies. I noted the postage—69 cents.

In the box were several smaller boxes, different sizes, each containing some delicacy.

And such goodies! I like devil's-food cake, and there it was, all camouflaged with chocolate frosting. Another box held some home-made graham crackers and some gingerbread. In one box I found some candy—great white billows of sea foam and fondant! Ever eat fondant? How it melts in your mouth (I've a little left.)

Oh, say, she even had a box of tarts! Honest Injun, tarts! With a jar of jelly to fix them with.

Queer thing—I saved the wrapper. It had my name on it so many times. Five times. Aunt Verna's name was on it only three times. My name five times. Five is more than three.

Love is like that, isn't it? It gives more than it keeps. It doesn't worry so much about the return, but it does want you to receive.

SAN DIRECTOR SPEAKS TO MEDICAL SEMINAR

Dr. A. W. Truman, director of the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital, addressed the Medical Seminar last Friday evening, Feb. 14. He prefaced his remarks by giving a few reminiscences of his early connection with a medical school.

Speaking from an experience covering many years, Dr. Truman encouraged the premedical students by saying that although they would find their work very trying and perplexing at (Concluded on page 3)

VETERAN MINISTER TO PREACH AT L'AIGLON

Elder J. S. Washburn, who has been in denominational work for the last 45 years, will speak to the Mt. Pleasant church, Sabbath, Feb. 22, on "Personal Experiences with Sister White."

Elder Washburn took an active part in the removal of Seventh-day Adventist headquarters from Battle Creek, Mich., to Washington, D. C., in 1903. He was the first Seventh-day Adventist to hold a big city effort in Washington, D. C., 40 years ago.

Elder Washburn held the first big city evangelistic efforts in England, where he remained for a period of ten years. From his many years of experience in this work, Elder Washburn will relate events connected with the growth of the Seventh-day Adventist movement.

AN ANSWER

The purpose of this column is not to take up space. It is not to allow THE SLIGONIAN editors to air their views on life. Nor is it merely to comply with journalistic custom. Its purpose is to present, through its suggestions, advice and warnings, and THE SLIGONIAN policies in such a way that they will make W. M. C. a better school. It is the aim of the editorial staff to discuss current topics in this column. From time to time you will find a message from the Spirit of Prophecy. Much time and effort are spent each week in making this paper worthy of your pride. Read the paper. Read the editorials and discuss them with your friends.

A MESSAGE

"Young men should remember that they are accountable for all the privileges they have enjoyed, for the improvement of their time, and for the right use of their abilities."—Counsels to Teachers, p. 339.

"The student who in his school life becomes familiar with the truths of God's Word and feels their transforming power upon his heart, will represent the character of Christ to the world in a well-ordered life and a godly conversation. God will do great things for those who will open the heart to His word, and let it take possession of the soul-temple."—Id., pp. 395, 396.

"It is right for the youth to feel that they must reach the highest development of their mental powers. We would not restrict the education to which God has set no limits. But our attainments avail nothing if not put to use for the honor of God and the good of humanity."—Id., p. 387.

WELCOME!

On behalf of the College, THE SLIGONIAN at this time wishes to welcome Union Conference men who will attend the biennial constituency meeting beginning Feb. 24.

We are glad to have the services of men with such wide experience who are ever ready to give wise counsel to assist us in providing for the necessities of our school, and in meeting all of our problems.

Make yourselves at home when you arrive. Let's have a good little visit together. We shall do all we can to make you comfortable; if there is anything you don't see, ask for it. There will be days of tiresome work, no doubt, but we will try to make everything as convenient for you as possible.

We have only one regret—one former board member, the late Elder Charles F. Ulrich, will not be in your midst. But all the rest of you, come to see us and God grant you success in your work.

GUILTY?

We hear a great deal nowadays about courtesy. Hundreds of volumes have been written about it; thousands of words of admonition for its furtherance have filled editorial columns of papers all over the world; great orators have given much of their time to foster it.

We are taught to respect age, to treat children kindly and to revere the nobility. But how little is said about revering the One to whom we owe all temporal things. There is a greater need of education on the question of respect for God. For after all, the basis of respect and courtesy is reverence for God. The rest will follow in its wake.

How fickle man is! How he would be cowed in humble submission if the Divine were physically manifested! Because He is not visible, man forgets that He is present. Then how can so-called Christians try to meet to worship Him and make that very meeting an opportunity for transacting their own business? We can't answer the query; can you?

PROF. MILLER STARTS NEW NORMAL COURSE

Prof. H. A. Miller, music instructor, is conducting a class in methods of teaching music for first year Normal students.

The standard course in music, which Prof. Miller has outlined for prospective teachers, includes methods of teaching notation, good tone, rhythm, how to carry a tune and how to sing simple note songs individually and in groups. Practical ways of cultivating an appreciation of good music in children are suggested.

"A love for good music must early be soaked into the child," observed Prof. Miller. "If acquired in later life, it is like stuffing his pockets; it can never become a vital part of him."

The two textbooks used by the class are the "School Music Handbook," by Cundiff and Dykema, and "The Child Voice in Singing," by Francis E. Howard. The course, which was begun last Monday, will be concluded this week.

FAITH IS SUBJECT OF SERMON AT L'AIGLON

The chapter on faith in Hebrews was the text of Elder M. N. Campbell last Sabbath morning in his sermon at the Mt. Pleasant church.

Elder Campbell declared that faith is a tangible substance. The substance of faith depends upon what is hoped for. He stated that Christians do not realize and live up to all their privileges. They do not claim God's promises as He wants them to.

He compared the promise on a five-dollar bill with the promises in the Word of God. Both are payable only on demand.

"The writing of the eleventh chapter of Hebrews was precipitated by a discussion of the second coming of Christ," stated Elder Campbell. "It was written especially for those living in the last days," he continued. He stressed the fact that the world is living very close to that second coming.

WEIGLE CHASES ROBBER

(Concluded from page 1) man, but was pushed aside. Young Weigle, who was still in the automobile, took up the pursuit.

John Repman, the burglar, shot four times, hitting his pursuer in the groin with the last shot. Undaunted, the young man on foot finally overtook and threw the robber to the sidewalk. Mr. Weigle was completely exhausted when help came, and he was taken to the Polyclinic hospital. Repman, a burglar with a criminal record of ten years, was taken into custody by the police.

Captain Hyde Speese, of the Harrisburg detective bureau, praised the youth for his bravery. Local papers told the story in big headlines.

Mr. Weigle studied at the College last school year to prepare for ministerial work. He entered school again in the fall of 1929, but was forced to return to his home for rest after a nervous breakdown. He is reported to be recovering from the bullet wound.

BOARD TO SET SCHOOL BUDGET FOR NEXT YEAR

(Concluded from page 1) representatives from the Southern Union Conference and ten from the Southeastern Union. Other members are resident elders of the General Conference Committee, the entire Board of Directors of W. M. C. and members of the College faculty.

The new board elected in this constituency meeting will adopt a budget for the following school year. Business reports will be presented by the treasurer, Prof. R. L. Walin. The faculty for the school year 1930-1931 will then be chosen, and school problems and plans for improvements will be discussed.

ELDER FROM NARRATES TALE OF CONVICT'S CONVERSION

chard's happy marriage. Ever after he attended a series of gospel revivals, his conscience troubled him with the conviction of sin. He rejected God's invitation, and thereafter his life went on the toboggan slide of sin.

He began his life of crime by short-changing his customers. After becoming a victim of the drink habit, his home was wrecked and he fled to frontier mining camps. It was there that he became the tool of radical labor leaders, and it was his clever use of explosives that snuffed out so many human lives.

When he was finally apprehended for the assassination of the governor of his state, and landed behind prison bars for the first time in his career, he was overcome by his enormous sin. After studying the Scriptures with a local minister, he gave himself to God and determined to reveal the truth. After the trial, in which he turned state's evidence against his associates, his sentence of death was changed to one of life imprisonment. To this day he lives the life of a true Christian and waits for the coming of his Master.

to God and inspires one to live the Christ life," she stated.

Miss Anetta Truman asserted that proper recreation strengthens the moral character, enriches the mind, and makes desirable social contacts.

SQUAD GETS NEW OFFICE

The sanitary engineers of W. M. C. have a new office. It stands in the left corridor of Columbia Hall basement, proudly displaying a lettered door and mahogany-finished walls.

Although no desk and carpet adorn the janitor's office, a unique timepiece, an original oil painting and a fish aquarium may be found there.

The members of the staff are Raymond Montgomery, Edwin Harkins, Henry Ewald, Samuel Patton, Edwin Blythin, Frank Hussong and Miss Faydette Smith.

THEOLOGICAL STUDENT DISCUSSES JUDGMENT

"Now is the time of preparation before the terrible day of the Lord's wrath," declared Andrew Robbins in his lecture in the Seventh-day Adventist church in Capitol Heights, Md., last Sunday evening.

Mr. Robbins pointed out that men will not be saved in groups, but that every one will be required to answer to his name and to the record revealed under it in the Book of Life and in the Book of Remembrance in heaven.

The similarity of the investigative judgment and the earthly sanctuary service on the day of atonement was compared with a present-day court scene.

The Misses Kathryn Halstead and Iva Fairchild sang a duet, "The Great Judgment Morning." Special instrumental music was furnished by Milton Prout and Russel Quackenbush, cornetists, and Mark Shanko, trombonist.

BAND STUDIES METHODS

"Always be in a hurry when delivering books," said Dallas Youngs to the 15 members present in colporteurs' band held in Dr. Wilkinson's room Monday morning. "Don't stop too long to talk; rather let the books give the message."

"The colporteur's job is to place literature in the homes of the people. In Christian salesmanship, too much talk and too little action results in small sales and inefficiency," he continued.

Dallas Youngs, the band leader, directed in the study of "Meeting Objections in Book Delivery." Next Monday the band continues its study of the essentials of Christian salesmanship.

SUNSHINE BAND VISITS HOME OF INCURABLES

The first division of the Sunshine Band visited the Home for Incurables on Wisconsin Avenue last Sabbath afternoon. Inmates of the home extended their usual hearty welcome to the visitors. A poem read by the leader, Miss Grace Nicola, described the aim of the Sunshine Band to be "Imparting to you some of the sunshine from our own souls."

The program was almost entirely musical. It included numbers by the male quartet, vocal solos by Miss Edith McPherson and Charles Dupee, a violin solo by Thomas Lupo, and a trumpet solo by Edwin Olsen. At the conclusion of the program the group sang the favorite hymns requested by their audience. Dwight Magill gave a short talk.

HYDROTHERAPY CLASS STARTS LAB PRACTICE

"Not only the charts and compass, but also the going to sea" is the motto of those studying hydrotherapy under Olin Bray.

Twenty theological students have already enrolled in the class. The course is required of all ministerial students, and because of the great demand, two divisions of the class have been formed with meetings on Sunday afternoons and Wednesday evenings. One hour each week is devoted to the study of theory and technique.

Enthusiasm is running high in the class as the students learn to give treatments by actual experience. No casualties have been reported as yet. However, the theological disposition of one member could hardly be suppressed when he was given a very hot foot bath by another embryonic evangelist.

DR. TRUMAN ADVISES MEMBERS OF SEMINAR

(Concluded from page 1) times, if they would patiently stand by they would win out.

He continued his talk by showing how the physician could also minister to the souls of his patients. "When everything is going smoothly, and one enjoys the health and the vigor of youth, it is easy to be an infidel," he said. "But when an individual is surrounded by troubles and difficulties, or faces death itself, a marked change comes. The most precious moments in a man's life are the last fleeting ones. At such times the doctor can do much to save a soul for God."

In closing, Dr. Truman said, "Study your Bible more, and learn the lessons taught in the Word of God and in the Spirit of Prophecy, for they are far more important than many theoretical studies."

NATURALIST WILL SPEAK

(Concluded from page 1) sounds by his natural whistling. He usually imitates over a score of birds in his programs.

Mr. Caldwell was born in the Mississippi Valley. His love of nature led him to a professional career as a tree surgeon. In 1922 he made a tour of more than 15,000 miles by auto throughout the United States in search of new materials. More than 1,000 photographs were made during this itinerary.

Last season Mr. Caldwell gave 135 programs in the leading universities, colleges, nature societies and clubs of the country. Students and faculty members of W. M. C. who have heard him, join in the admiration and approval of his programs. He is lauded for having the unusual ability of holding the attention of every one from the five-year-old to the 60-year-old.

Tickets will be on sale in Columbia Hall before the lecture. The admission is 50 cents.

FAMOUS PHOTOGRAPHER OF WAR IS LOCAL OPTOMETRIST

Dr. Max E. Wolf, optometrist with 15 years of experience in Washington, has taken up his headquarters with the Takoma Watch Co. on Carroll Street and is offering a special discount to students and nurses of the College campus for having eyes examined and having glasses fitted.

Mr. Wolf was a photographic sergeant during the World War and he made three complete pictorial histories of the war in France. One may be found in the War Department of the United States Government, and the other two were given to President Woodrow Wilson and Gen. John J. Pershing.

STRING ENSEMBLE PLAYS

(Concluded from page 1) was the next number played by the orchestra.

The remainder of the program included a piano solo rendered by Miss Eunice Graham. Edwin Olsen played a trumpet solo, and the orchestra concluded the entertainment by playing "The Minuet in G" by Beethoven.

It is planned to have more music included in the future chapel programs. This was the first appearance of the new ensemble.

Miss Olive Gilmore of Washington, D. C., and Miss Etta Spicer were the guests of Miss Faydette Smith at dinner last Sabbath.

The Misses Ruth Harding and Helena Kirkland were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson at their home in Takoma Park Sabbath.

MAJORITY OF SENIORS ARE ENGLISH MAJORS

(Concluded from page 1) class. Miss Faydette Smith is another student in English major, while the Misses Alice Rampson and Alberta Hilckman seek B. S. degrees in Nursing.

There are only nine members in the class—less than half the enrollment in the Class of '29. There were eight English majors, two Science majors, and one major in History.

Miss Ruth Conard is vice president of the class and Miss Alice Rampson serves as its secretary treasurer.

STUDENTS STUDY CHURCH

Dallas Youngs, the third speaker, showed that Seventh-day Adventists are not the originators of the colporteur method. The Waldenses sent out colporteurs who converted scores to their beliefs by means of their house-to-house work.

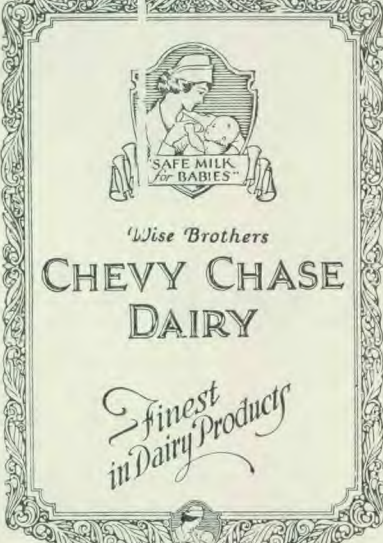

John Foley, a graduate of the Professional Class of last year, is canvassing in Virginia this year. He visited his friends at the College during the first part of the week.

Bargains Plentiful at Bookstore Sale

The big sale is over. The four-hour sale of big bargains at the bookstore is now history. The shelves are no longer crowded. Salesmen say that $100 worth of goods were removed from the store.

It was from 1 to 5:30 p. m. a week ago Sunday that the bookstore men disposed of their stock. Everything from pins to dictionaries was sold at discounts ranging from 10 to 70 per cent. The store was crowded with tables stacked to the ceiling with stock. Price tags were pinned on all goods, proclaiming the slashed prices. American flags waved from every shelf during the sale, and the school's colors were strung from one end of the room to the other.

During the four hours of the sale, bargain seekers jostled among the tables, rapidly gobbling up heart-breaking reductions. With every dollar purchase, a college loose-leaf notebook binder was given absolutely free. Stationery was sold at a ridiculously low price—25 double sheets and 25 envelopes for 10 cents. One theological student struck a bargain in paper pads.

The pictures which appeared in The Sligonian bulletin board this week were unearthed in the preparation for the sale.

The store is better equipped to handle its trade in its new location. It now has a new counter, showcase, a "no spring, honest weight" scales and a waste-paper basket. The new room is twice as large as the old one, and consequently the store has widened its scope, for it handles drug supplies, with hair tonic heading the list. Every day the management places some special attraction on the new counter. Tomorrow there will be 50-cent loose-leaf notebook binders there for 43 cents.

ENGLISH EXPLORERS ARE TO STUDY MANNERS

The tenth-grade English Explorers club meets every Monday morning during the regular class period. Last week the English class program was given almost entirely to the recitation of poems. Observation shows that Edgar A. Guest is the most popular poet of the club.

The plans for future meetings will concentrate on the study of table manners and the rules of etiquette. The smallest points of fine manners will be the first of a series of instructive programs.

Miss Thelma Wellman, the class instructor, hopes that this class will solve a small bit of the prevailing discourtesy in a world which steadily grows worse.

Electric range users have a whole day's cooking service to enjoy at no increased cost over what they paid in 1929! The new Schedule K rates have been reduced 16-2/3% after the first ten hours' use at the reduced primary rate of 4.7 cent's. The new Schedule K rate is 2 1/2 cents as compared to 3 cents per Kilowatt Hour last year.

In other words, if an Electric Range uses 100 Kilowatt Hours a month, its operating cost per month would be, at these new rates, only $2.72 monthly! During 1929 the cost would have been $3.22. Here, then, is a minimum saving of a half-dollar monthly on Electric Range operation alone. And Schedule K rates also apply to Electric Oil Burners, Refrigerators, Washing Machines, Power Ironers, and Heating Appliances separately metered to exclude all lighting uses.

There is no better way to invest your savings under these new rates than in Electrical Appliances. Their continued dependable operation is assured by the constant service of the
