OFFICERS TAKE POSTS IN LAST ASS'N MEETING

NEW FLAG IS PRESENTED

President Turns over Gavel; Sligonian Head Presents Keys to Successor

In the last meeting of The Students' Association for the year 1929-30 held last Monday, Harold Rudolph, outgoing president of the Association, turned over the gavel to his successor, Andrew Robbins. Just two minutes before, Carl Guenther, editor-in-chief of The Sligonian, presented the keys to his successor, Russell Krick.

Report Given

James Trefz, business manager, gave a financial report of the Association for 1929-30 which showed a reduction of more than $400 of the organization's debt. Some of the chief items which helped make the campaign a success was the profit made in the dual benefit programs and the $200 allowance made by the College Press for cash payment of all year-book expenses before its publication.

The business manager of the "Book of Golden Memories," Eugene Evans, presented Frank Vansickle, W. M. C. accountant, with a check of $1,000 for the balance of the Annual cost. Winston Adams, editor-in-chief of the yearbook, said that the book would be off the press on Thursday.

Flag Presented

An important feature of the program was the presentation of the new flag purchased by the Association. While Reginald Pleasants, Association sergeant-at-arms, carried the flag to its pedestal, the student body rose to sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

An amendment to its constitution was made when The Students' Association unanimously voted to award a 10 percent discount for all advertisements acquired for The Sligonian. A motion to omit the midsummer issue of the paper this year was carried.

PUBLIC SPEAKERS END CLASS SPEECH SERIES

A series of eleven public lectures was closed this morning when two advanced Public Speaking students, Walter Crandall and Mark Shanko, delivered their final speeches of the year.

Mr. Crandall spoke on "The Test of Leadership" at 10:05 in the chapel auditorium and Mr. Shanko lectured on "The Advantages of Rural Life over City Life" at 10:45 on the banks of the Sligo.

Other lectures given by members of the Public Speaking class this week include "The History of Knives, Forks, and Spoons," delivered by Beatrice Levine during the South Hall worship period, Sunday evening, and "The College Student's Health" given by Alberta Hilekman at a joint worship meeting on Tuesday evening.

The lectures were prepared in place of the thesis usually required in upper division classes. Prof. C. E. Weniger is the instructor of the class. He is assisted by Walter Crandall.

NEW YEARBOOK COMES FROM PRINTERS TODAY

CONTAINS FIVE DIVISIONS

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, Volume II of the Book of Golden Memories will come off the College Press for distribution by the officers of the annual staff.

The new yearbook contains 128 pages, is bound in a blue stiff cloth binding and is divided into five sections. Throughout the volume W. M. C. is compared to a ship. The first section is devoted to the captain and his mates, the president and the faculty, the second to the ship's passengers, the student body, the third to department interests, the fourth to activities and the fifth to the advertising. The readers must refer to the preface and introduction for the key to the book.

There are nearly a dozen full page cuts in the 1930 yearbook. An unusual feature is a reproduction of a snap of each class member and faculty (See page 3, column 1)

COLLEGE FACULTY TO BE SLIGHTLY CHANGED NEXT YEAR

Only two or three changes will be made in the faculty line-up for the school year 1930-1931.

Elder H. L. Shoup will act as pastor of the Sligo church during the coming year. Elder Richard Farley will teach Academic Bible and German.

Prof. H. A. Miller will act as the new head of the College Music Department with Prof. Victor Johnson and Mrs. Casey assisting.

W. M. C. will request the appointment of a commercial department head in the coming General Conference session in California. No other changes in the faculty personnel are expected.

Miss Vida Marsh, of Lodi Academy, Cal., has been selected by the College Board to assist Miss Florence Oliver.

Elders Meyers, Froom and Dr. Truman Give Addresses in Columbia Hall

Twenty-three senior nurses, wearing the insignia of graduates for the first time, received their diplomas last Sunday night in the twenty-first annual commencement exercises of the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital School of Nursing held in Columbia Hall.

"Lady of the Lamp," a play revealing in six scenes some of the principal episodes in the life of Florence Nightingale, was presented by the nurses in their class night program. The class gift, a model "fracture bed" for use in the School of Nursing classrooms, was presented by Miss Wilma Wilkes, vice-president.

In his address in the class consecration service held Friday evening, Elder C. K. Meyers, secretary of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, spoke on "True Consecration." A baritone solo by Roscoe Gray and a selection by the Nurses' Choral Club Octet were given during the service.

"The Mandates of the Precious Blood" was the subject of Elder L. E. Froom's baccalaureate address. A vocal duet by Charles Dupee and Melvin Davis, and a baritone solo by Dale (See page 3, column 2)

FACULTY MEMBERS TO SEEK MORE STUDENTS

Six W. M. C. faculty members will spend the greater part of their summer vacation gathering students for W. M. C. in the local conferences of the Columbia Union.

Prof. G. E. Jones, dean of men, will spend most of his time among people of the Ohio conference. Prof. H. A. Miller, of the Music Department of the College, will visit West Pennsylvania and East Pennsylvania for the summer.

Prof. C. E. Weniger, head of the college English Department, will attend the General Conference session and then visit the East Pennsylvania Conference in the interest of W. M. C. Prof. C. Woods will spend (See page 3, column 1)

BANDS TO GIVE CONCERT NEXT SATURDAY EVENING

The Washington Missionary College and Review and Herald Bands will present to the community on Saturday evening, May 10, an open-air band concert featuring the best selections of the year's attainment.

The band will be under the direction of Prof. Victor Johnson. The exact position of the campus on which the band will be located has not yet been selected, but if the weather man is right, it will be somewhere out of doors.

COLLEGE ALUMNI WILL ORGANIZE THIS SUNDAY

Banquet Is Planned to Follow Graduation Program

Holding a reunion the first time in many years, the alumni of Washington Missionary College will meet for a banquet in the Central Hall dining room immediately after the graduation exercises of the Class of '30 next Sunday evening. Miss Mabel Estill will act as chairman.

The organization of an Alumni Association is in response to a pressing need in W. M. C. It is expected that the new organization will fulfill the desire of graduates to be represented in W. M. C. activities and to keep in contact with the school.

The Senior Class of 1930 will be guests at the banquet. At the close of the supper an election of officers will be held. All graduates are invited to attend. The new Alumni Association plans a reunion of the same kind once every year. Several speeches will be given during supper.

NOVEL PROGRAM GIVEN BY FOREIGN STUDENTS

SCRIPTURES ARE QUOTED

W. M. C. students who are natives of all climes, presented a unique program in chapel last Friday with Clifford Tempest, representative from Australia in the chair.

On his way to the General Conference session from Africa, Pastor Meltenckey, whose father was the first convert to Christianity in Nyasaland, was introduced by Elder Nelson, returned missionary from the dark continent. After reciting his favorite text, he expressed appreciation for the interest of American believers in his country.

John Gomez described Santo Domingo, his native land, and Isaac Vasquez from Cuba told the story of his conversion. The civilization of Denmark was upheld by Edwin Olsen who was born and bred on its soil. Wesley Herbert, native of South Africa, recited his favorite text in the Chinyanja tongue.

Seeding Dandelions Depict Graduations

By J. L.

Dandelions are going to seed. May breezes are scattering their seeds far and wide. Some will root down and spring up again in the same place. Others will drift about until they find good soil in some new locality. Still others will fall on the waterways, float out to sea, find fertile soil in other lands. And a few will fall on the rocks and among thorns and never bear flower. These scores of seeds will never gather after the wind's scattering.

Pray God the separating winds of college commencement will carry students and teachers to fertile lands. May no one die to the responsibility of bearing fruit after his kind.

THREE CLASSES TO END COURSES THIS WEEK WITH EXERCISES

PROGRAMS BEGIN TODAY

Class Night Program Tonight Will Feature Tributes to Country and Home

By Beatrice Levine

Washington Missionary College will graduate 42 students in its twenty-fifth commencement exercises May 8-11. Twelve will receive college degrees with two of them conferred in absentia, 22 from the professional departments will receive diplomas and ten will be graduated from the academy.

The first feature of the exercises comes tonight, when the College Seniors hold their class night program. In song, verse and speech they will give tributes to "My Country," to "Our College, Teachers and Friends," to "Father" and to "Mother." "Just a Memory," "Home Sweet Home" and "Mother Machree" will be among the incidental musical compositions.

Tomorrow night 40 graduates will be consecrated to service when Elder W. R. French, head of the Greek and Missions Department will give the sermon on "Service for the Master." Miss Alice Rampson will respond. Solos will be sung by Mrs. Robert Eldridge, a W. M. C. alumna of 1928, and Dale Hamilton.

Elder to Speak

Elder J. L. McElhany, vice-president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will preach the baccalaureate sermon Sabbath morning on the motto of the College Seniors, "To Do His Will," and the theme of Psalm 40. A string ensemble will play, and the Association Glee Club will sing.

At this exercise and at the commencement Sunday night, the classes will be led in the march by members of the Class of 1931.

TWO PIERCING RAYS

In a darkened room of the National Academy of Sciences building is an apparatus called the ultra-violet ray. When the ray of light falls upon the human face, decayed teeth, scarred tissue and many other defects can readily be noted by the physician.

There is another kind of ultra-violet of which we know so much and yet regard too lightly. It is the all-seeing eye that watches every action and deed. To his neighbor the character of an individual may have no blemishes or ugly scars. But to the piercing heavenly ray the same individual may be covered with the ugly marks of sin.

Remember, when the day arrives for the Great Physician to examine you with His ultra-violet inspection, your life history will be revealed to all heaven and earth. Get in touch with that Physician now; remedy those defects; spare yourself the unhappy plight of the unconcerned.

ABOUT ORDER

Order and organization are the watchwords of every army and of every progressive body. System is the keyword in the economic world. Ants believe in formation, bees in co-operation.

Jesus organized His disciples into bands to give the gospel. Men have seldom become great until they have learned the art of disciplining their followers to work in harmony with each other and with clock-like regularity.

The sooner in life that college students learn to organize their daily program, the sooner will they learn to live more in less time and to do more in fewer minutes. The quicker they learn to co-operate with others, the quicker they will find life's burdens to be light. Through order and co-operation there is unity and purpose and power.

FAREWELL

It is but three more days and all shall be over. The campus already begins to look deserted and no longer is the buzz of many voices so constant in our dining-hall.

Graduates, remember that although you leave the halls of this school, you are still a part of us. Students, remember that although you have completed the year's work, you still owe your school your allegiance. Let us try one and all to let others see what W. M. C. has done for us. And lastly:

In just a few more hours,
 In just a few short days,
 My friends, there comes the parting,
 The parting of our ways.

'Tis true familiar faces
 Will greet us here again,
 But there are some we're leaving
 To never see again.

And with this thought comes sadness;
 For of all things we prize
 As fairest gifts of heaven,
 Are truest friendships' ties.

Or hearts are warm and kindly,
 Although we may not show
 This always by our actions,
 Because we blunder so.

We're all so full of failures,
 That even at our best
 In daily Christian living,
 We fail to meet the test.

But please forget our defects,
 And try in us to see
 The Christian men and women
 That we have tried to be.

And you, we can't forget you;
 For the kindly deeds you've done
 Will warm our hearts forever,
 As the earth is warmed by the sun.

So as our paths are parting,
 And each must go his way,
 Let's keep the bright of friendship,
 And throw the dark away.

SENIOR OFFICERS GET LOCAL EMPLOYMENT

The officers of the Senior Class have selected their field of service in Takoma Park. During the coming year they plan to labor in the shadow of their Alma Mater.

Walter Crandall, president of the class, will teach here next year while he takes postgraduate work in English, his major study. He will continue to have charge of the laboratory work in Journalism and to assist in teaching the first year of Public Speaking. In North Hall he will be one of the assistants to the dean of men.

Mr. Crandall came to Washington Missionary College from Milton, Wis., in 1927. As valedictorian of Milton High School for 1926, he was awarded one year's scholarship to Milton College, a Seventh Day Baptist institution.

As "jack of all trades" Mr. Crandall has been janitor, printer's devil, bell ringer, mail carrier and doughnut salesman during his college life at W. M. C. Besides pursuing his course of studies, he has devoted much time to school activities, having held the office of associate editor in 1927-1928 and editor-in-chief of The Sligonian during the next two semesters of school. The men of North Hall claim him as a former vice-president of the Famous Fifty.

Stenographic Work Planned

The vice-president of the Senior Class, Miss Ruth Conard, has been a student of W. M. C. for six years. She has worked her way through school by doing stenographic work at the Review and Herald. After her return from the General Conference session in California she will be secretary to Miss Clement, editor of the Youth's Instructor.

Miss Conard majors in English. During the last two years of her college work she proved her interest in this line of work while a reporter and associate editor of The Sligonian. She has also been associate editor of the annual. In 1929 she was vice-president of the Junior Class. In a bashful way she states that her hobby is cooking and sewing.

Hospital Post Accepted

Miss Alice Rampson is the secretary-treasurer of the Senior Class. She will be graduated as a Bachelor of Science. This summer she will assist the director of nurses at the Sanitarium, and in the fall will have charge of the hospital.

For four years Miss Rampson was a law stenographer. In 1924 she finished her academic course at the Clinton Theological Seminary. Then she entered the nurse's course at the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital, and in 1927 was the secretary of her graduating class. At present she is the treasurer of the Sanitarium Alumni Association. Miss Rampson is seeking the experience and training that will help her achieve success as a nurses' instructor.

President and Mrs. Hamilton will entertain the College Seniors at their home after the class night program to be given tonight.

What do you plan to do during the coming summer?

I have definitely decided to canvass in Frederick, Md., during the coming summer.—N. Wardlaw Stone.

During the summer I expect to be busy working with my father in the bakery supply business in Brooklyn, N. Y. I plan to return to W. M. C. in the fall.—Henry Ewald.

I will work for my father. I will travel over many states selling candy at wholesale prices. Most of my time will be spent in delivery work in the Adirondacks and the Catskills. The remainder will be used in making the candy.—Richard Stevens.

After school closes I am going to Santo Domingo, my home country. I will stay there for about a month and then return to W. M. C. It will be a pleasure after being away for almost two years.—John Francisco Gomez.

I will spend almost all of my time in Meridian, Miss., this summer. I will assist my father in his cement and artificial stone works.—August Friberg.

Five Famous Fifty men were among those who saw what is believed to be a giant meteorite descend in a mass of flames last Saturday in a southwest direction. The object has not yet been found.

BIBLE EFFORT CONTINUED

The Gaithersburg effort is the only field endeavor operated by the Theological Department of W. M. C. that is still carrying on work. All others were closed two weeks ago. L. Orville Coon, in charge of the effort, plans to follow up the interest manifested by holding summer lectures. He plans to organize a small church in Gaithersburg.

A new noiseless typewriter has been acquired by the business office.

NURSES' ALUMNI HOLD ANNUAL SAN. BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Alumni Association of the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital was held in the dining room of the Sanitarium last Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The guests of the evening were the members of the graduating class of 1930. The class is the first nurses' class that has ever joined the Association one hundred per cent. Members of the Sanitarium Board were present at the banquet.

Elder O. Montgomery, vice-president of the General Conference, offered thanks for the food as the Association gathered about the tables. Mrs. C. Wood, chairman of the evening, delivered a short introductory speech. Seventeen waitresses served the group of 55 during the five courses. An orchestra composed of eight instruments, directed by Prof. Robert Edwards, played 12 selections during the meal.

Speeches were delivered by Mrs. S. A. James, Miss Kathryn Jensen, the head nurse of Sibley's Children's Hospital of Washington, and Elder J. L. Shaw. Dr. D. Davenport, who is leaving the Sanitarium for work in the western part of the United States, gave a short farewell address.

A large silver windjammer, containing many smaller ships of the same type which in turn contained place cards for each guest with the poem, "The Set of the Sail," was on a stand in the middle of the room.

After several vocal numbers, presented by several graduate nurses, the meeting was closed as the group joined hands and repeated "The Mizpah."

TOAST-- a healthful Food!

You can serve toast every day of the week! Buttered or sprinkled with cinnamon it is delicious for breakfast. French toast or toasted sandwiches for lunch will enable you to prepare "a meal a minute."

Toast, made from white or whole wheat bread, is a recognized healthful food. When made the Electric Way—right at your table—it retains all its flavor and goodness. It comes out of your electric toaster evenly browned and with just the degree of "crunchiness" you like.

ALUMNI

Dear Seniors of '29:

The first day of August, in other words, the next day after summer school closed, we turned our Studebaker southwest, leaving W. M. C. farther and farther behind. We made a short visit with relatives in Keene, Texas, and then we came on back to Huntsville, Ala., where we are connected with the Oakwood Junior College. I have charge of the Woodwork Department of the school, which includes the teaching of the Woodwork classes, the building work, and the mill work. We are at present building quite a large combined mule and hay barn. We went into the woods, cut the logs, hauled them to our saw mill, sawed them up into lumber and made our framing, siding, sheeting, etc., for the barn. About the only thing we are buying is roofing.

Mrs. Dortch is glad that she does not have to hurry up to go to the office to work, and she really acts as if she enjoys housekeeping. She seems to have a little difficulty in keeping out of work around the College, for she has been called upon several times to help out during a rush.

We think often of our associates in the class of last year, as well as many others whom we learned to love in W. M. C. We often speak of the good times we had together while in school. We wish it were possible for us to see all of you again. If any of you ever come South, remember that the latch-string of the Dortch's home is always hanging on the outside.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. C. L. Dortch

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn of Philadelphia, Pa., visited their daughter, Miss Betty Quinn, over the week-end.

CAMPUS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crump and Mr. and Mrs. Brown from Cumberland, Md., were guests of Miss Edna Stoneburner Sunday.

Miss Estelle Wood's sister is spending a week in the school home while her mother is undergoing an operation at the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital. Mrs. Wood is from Baltimore, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Landeen with their three daughters visited the College over the week-end. Mr. Landeen is a returned missionary and is now teaching in the history department of the University of Pennsylvania.

Resurfacing Planned

The business office announces that the campus parking space will be resurfaced this week. The fish for the outdoor aquarium were put in their new home yesterday.

Sleeping quarters will be added to the Home Economics rooms during the summer months. They are for the use of the Home Management class.

Mrs. R. L. Walin and Miss Merzella Julius recently sang several duets before the Federation of Women's clubs at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Albert Dalton, North Hall resident, extinguished a fire in the motor of a Ford truck, Tuesday morning, by quickly securing an extinguisher from one of the buildings.

Parents Visit

Kenneth McElmurry is entertaining his parents this week. They came from Michigan to attend the nurses' and college graduation exercises.

Mr. Edwin Krick spent Sunday at the College as the guest of his son, Russell Krick. Following the nurses' graduation exercises Sunday evening, Mr. Krick, accompanied by Mrs. Krick, who had been visiting here for a week, left for their home in Wyoming, Pa.

Lloyd McClellan, a former student of W. M. C., is visiting at the College. He is accompanied by his mother and sister.

Foreigners Speak

Foreign speaking students of W. M. C. duplicated their performance made in chapel recently by reciting Psalm 117 in 18 languages at the close of the Sabbath school last Sabbath.

Walter Crandall of the Senior Class of '30 is entertaining his mother, Mrs. George Crandall of Milton Junction, Wis.
